CBY Rookies & Vets To Join for Welcome Lunch & Dessert

The Gemara (Shabbat 127a) declares that גדולה הכנסת אורחין מקבלת פני השכינה- Welcoming guests is greater than welcoming the presence of the Shechinah. Under the leadership of Miriam Tennenbaum, Becca Shor, and Rachel Schilowitz, CBY's Welcoming Committee is putting that declaration into practice with its First Annual Mix and Match Rookies & Vets Shabbat lunch scheduled for Shabbat, May 20th. The goal of the event is to encourage meaningful relationships between CBY families and to foster a closer, more united community. Participants will be matched using a range of factors including age, interests, and children.

The combination of "rookie" and "veteran" members is a concept that is sure to benefit both groups. In one of Rabbi Schrier's inaugural Bulletin articles, he discusses the excitement inherent in joining a new community as well as the inevitable point where people take what was once new and special for granted. While the "Vets" have experience regarding the ins and outs of Bnai Yeshurun (Rabbinic staff, variety of minyanim, youth groups, etc.), the "Rookies" are sure to reinvigorate the enthusiasm we all hope to maintain for everything that our Kehillah has to offer (meaningful tefillah, shiurim, chesed opportunities, , and so much more).

Please sign up for this unique event, either as a host or as a guest (the registration deadline is May 15th) at www.bnaiyeshurun.org/welcome.

Shabbat lunch at the assigned homes begins at 12:30 pm. The entire Kehillah is invited to a communal dessert at 3:00 in the CBY Social Hall.

What's an Omer?
Message from Sabbi Zahtz

Already for several weeks we've been counting ספירת העומר, and yet if we pause to think about it, the text that we use, the language in which we count, is somewhat surprising. Each day when we count ספירה we say "היום יום ... לעומר - today is the ... day of the עומר." But what is the עומר? It seems to be referring to the קרבן העומר, but that too needs to be understood. The Torah tells us elsewhere that עומר is really just a measurement. It would be equivalent to saying "today is the first day to the pound, or the mile," or some other specific measurement. The question therefore begs, what are we trying to accomplish in ספירת העומר by counting towards the עומר? And why is this particular קרבן identified by the measurement of the קרבן? And all of this somehow culminates with שבועות. שבועות means weeks; so what weeks are we referring to? Clearly, we are referring to the weeks in between פסח and שבועות, but why is it that the essence of the holiday, שבועות, is reflected in this count that we have already performed?

I saw suggested that the Torah here is trying to teach us a fundamental lesson in our relationship to our money, our relationship with what it is that we produce. The Torah tells us "והבאתם את עֹמֶר ראשית קצירכם אל הכֹּהֵן" we must bring the beginning of the עומר, the first amount that we harvest to the כהן. This is the introduction that the Torah has to the הקרבה, the offering, of the קרבן העומר. The focus seems to be that we have to take the beginning of our new crops, and that has to be given to the כהן. Why? Because that is a way of showing that it wasn't just what we did, it wasn't just our own power, it wasn't כֹּחִי וְעֹצֶם יָדִי עשה לי את החיל הזה. Rather, it was a gift we had from Hashem that allowed us to produce the crops.

Right after פסח we begin a journey. We celebrate יציאת מצרים and then try to prepare ourselves for מתן תורה. That journey necessitates working on our faith in Hashem, and the realization that we are only free, the exodus from מצרים is only complete, if we realize that we are עבדי ה', servants of Hashem. The way to do that is by taking the first product we now produce, that which we are now harvesting from the field, and giving it to Hashem.

That is why this קרבן in particular is named for its measurement. It's by taking that amount, the first little bit that we produce, and giving it as a קרבן, as a gift to Hashem that we show we recognize its true source. It's not going to be that dollar that's hung up on our wall in our store, but it's going to be given to Hakadosh Baruch Hu. With that we can understand why the holiday that comes at the end is called שבועות. Because שבועות does not stand alone. It requires preparation; It is the weeks of preparation, it is the time that we count towards that עומר, where each and every day we remember that we have to work on internalizing the lesson of the קרבן העומר, that helps us internalize the necessary faith in Hashem. Once we are able to attribute our success in life to Hashem, we are ready for the holiday of שבועות, for מתן תורה.

As we count the last few weeks of ספירה, this is what our focus should be on. To realize that in order to prepare ourselves for מתן תורה, the יום טוב of שבועות, we need to connect it back to פסח. It shouldn't just be an independent holiday. Rather it requires us to strengthen our אמונה, our faith in Hashem. Every time we count and recall and cite the measure of the קרבן העומר, that is our reminder that Hashem provides us with what we need in this world and whatever success we have and are going to have, is only because of the continued blessings of Hashem. Please G-d, may those blessings be in abundance!

Parshat Emor in "Hashtag" Form

- Parshas Emor begins with a discussion about the Kohanim, their roles in the Beis HaMikdash, and various halachos about their lifestyle (who they can marry, who they can become tamei for, who may eat terumah, etc.). #PriestOfThePeople #CohanicCaliber #CaringCohort
- We then learn a little more about korbanos. We can't shecht a mother and its child on the same day, we can't shecht an animal which is younger than eight days old, and we can't hurt animals in general. #SensitiveSentiments #EatingWithEmpathy #EatEmDontBeEm. We are also commanded to make a kiddush HaShem, #BeIt #LiveIt #MerkavaMamish.
- The remainder of the parsha discusses the chagim and relevant laws which relate to them, #WeKnowHowToHoliday #SpirituallySpeaking. Shabbos, Pesach, Sefiras Ha'Omer, Shavuos, etc.
- We are then told to leave certain gifts from our fields for the poor, #LovingIsGiving #GivingIsLife. Afterward, we learn about the Yomim Noraim, Sukkos, and Shemini Atzeres. These are days of #Awwwww and joy.
- We are instructed to procure Shemen Zayis Zach for the daily, continual, menorah lighting, #FillTheWorldWithLight, as well as to set up the 12 Lechem HaPanim, which were kept on the Shulchan, #ChallahAtMe #MiracleBread #CuzHaShemLovesYou #Chagiga26bYoma21bMenachot29a.
- Finally, Parshas Emor relays the story of the infamous "Mekalel," the person who cursed God, #FindYourPlace #HakarasHaTov #WatchYourMouth. The parsha concludes with the punishments for the murderer, the thief, and the person who injures another: respect your #Brothas&Sistas.

A Mini-Vort from the Szafranski Table to Yours!

When an ox or a sheep or a goat is born... (Emor, 22:27)

Did you ever wonder why the שׁוֹר, the ox, is always listed first regarding mitzvos and korbanos? The Baalei HaTasofos sure did! One answer brought down in the Hadar Zekeinim (22:27) has to do with the Cheit Ha'Eigel, the sin with the golden calf.

After this infamous episode, the nations of the world started ridiculing and lambasting the Jewish people, making fun of them, telling them that they were no better than the other nations! Therefore, HaShem always lists the ox –an adult calf– first, to inform the world that He knows who really did the severe aveiros during Cheit Ha'Eigel. Believe it or not, it wasn't the Jewish people, it was the eruv rav, the Egyptians who came out with us, who performed the most heinous sins during Cheit Ha'Eigel (for more on this, see the Ramban's interpretation in Ki Sisa).

Have you ever falsely accused someone else of doing something? Or have you, yourself, ever been falsely accused, like Bnai Yisroel? Sefiras Ha'Omer is a time when we must be extra careful with our speech and recognize the immense power our words have. As the Ohr HaChaim writes (Metzorah 14:2): "Nothing separates a person from God more than evil speech."
