Torah Portions March 2019

March 2—25 Adar1

Vayakhel (And He Assembled)

Exodus 35:1—38:20

God commands the Israelites not to do any work in the sanctuary on Shabbat. The Israelites gather gifts for God, gathering so many that they are restrained from searching for more.

March 9—2 Adar II

Pekudei (Accountings Of)

Exodus 38:21—40:38

Aaron and the priests are given their clothing for work in the Sanctuary. This marks the completion of the Tabernacle construction.

March 16—9 Adar II

Vayikra (And He Called)

Leviticus 1:1—5:26

G-d describes the laws of animal sacrifice. and explains the different sacrifices that atone for guilt or sins, and distinguishes between sins committed inadvertently and sins committed on purpose.

March 23—16 Adar II

Tzav (Command)

Leviticus 6:1—8:36

G-d continues to describe the different laws of sacrifices. A distinction is made between sin offerings, burnt offerings, and homage offerings, with each following its own process.

March 30—23 AdarII

Shemini (Eighth)

God commands Aaron and his sons to make the burnt and sin offerings at the Tabernacle. God describes to Moses the laws of kashrut.

President's Message

Thanks to Terrie Turner, Ann Miller and Micki Greenspan for getting four new Chavurot started. Terrie is the new chair of this group with support from our Membership Chair, Ann Miller and our Ambassador Chair, Mickie Greenspan. Would you like to be part of a Chavurah? Contact Terrie Turner or the temple office to get started.

Special thanks goes out to our three auxiliary organizations:

Women of Sinai - Led by Reesa Manning with Michelle Hoffman as Board Representative. Please attend their March meeting to help determine future activities. Thanks to WOS members.

Brotherhood - Led by Gary Kreger with support from past lifetime President Gordon Poster. As our longest running auxiliary Brotherhood is very active in supporting Temple Sinai. Thanks.

PTO - Led by Lily Mazet. This is probably the toughest job in the Temple. Everyone wants the best for their kids. Lily maintains a balance for both the PTO and the Temple. Thanks.

Biggest thanks go out to our Sinai members. Thanks for your suggestions and input. We live in a time of change. We know most people prefer to stay in their personal comfort zone. So your Board of Trustees investigates, debates and make the best decisions for our members for a simple reason. It's the right thing to do.

Thanks for your support,

Bob Glast. President

Purim – Hidden In Plain Sight

Purim, while considered a minor Jewish Holiday, remains relevant and important today. Celebrated exactly a month before Pesach, Purim is based on the Book of Esther, or Megillat Esther, and tells how Queen Esther and her uncle, Mordechai, uncover a murderous plot by Haman, viceroy to the king in ancient Persia.

After this victory, it was established that each year Jews commemorate by enjoying a festive meal involving drinking enough to not know the difference between the evil Haman, and the heroes, Mordechai/Esther, as well as giving gift baskets to friends and the poor. This tradition has evolved to include adults and children dressing up in costumes to act out the story, in what's called the Purim Spiel.

Beyond this frivolity, there is a serious message that is as especially pertinent today in light of current events.

The story of Purim is only one of two books in the Hebrew Bible that does not mention the name of God. While the other book, the Song of Songs (read on Passover), is about God's love for Israel, the Book of Esther is a terrifying tale of impending genocide that takes place in exile. In fact, Purim is the only Jewish festival set entirely outside of the land of Israel.

The challenges in the book of Esther and the inability to immediately see the hand of God is similar to our modern world, where it is often difficult to see God intervening to end suffering. However, within the Megillah, there are glimpses of God presenting us with opportunities and choices: "If you are silent and you do nothing at this time, somebody else will save the Jewish people. But who knows, was it not for just this moment that you became Queen, with access to King Achashverosh in the royal palace? (Esther 4:14)

This is the essence of divine providence. Even though it is not apparent, God remains by our side, even in the darkest depths of our despair. If one listens carefully, he/she can hear God calling. Challenge often makes us stronger, forcing us to rise to the occasion.

As Esther, hiding her true identity, found herself in a position to save the Jews of Persia, we may also find ourselves in the right place at the right time. It is for us to recognize these opportunities as God given and act. That is why we dress up as someone else on Purim, to reveal the hidden truths both about and within ourselves.

Rabbi Andrew Bentley

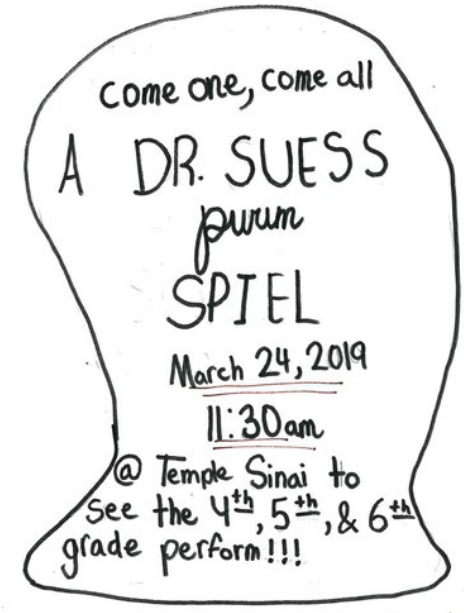
RELIGIOUS SCHOOL



Leslie Pepper

Director of Education

We had such fun on Super Bowl Sunday with our Maccabiah games. Many thanks to our PTO, who did a fabulous job adding to our fun time!

Our teens from Kitah Zayin, Hebrew Chai and Confirmation participated in a wonderful car wash fundraiser to raise money for the Confirmation class's Legacy gift to the Temple.

We ended the day with a Tu B'Shevat celebration, a short Seder and then planting watermelon seeds! What a great way to celebrate the birthday of the Trees and honoring taking care of our environment!

Our Kitah Zayin B'nai Mitzvah students are working hard on learning the Friday night service, which they will be leading on May 24th. You will be dazzled at how well they are doing. Please mark your calendars to join us that Friday evening for Shabbat Services.

Our younger classes are all continuing their Hebrew studies and creatively learning the Purim story. Our 4th, 5th and 6th graders have been perfecting their storytelling skills while working on their Purim Spiel that will be presented to the school and parents on Sunday, March 24th at 11:30 in the main Sanctuary before the end of the Sunday School day!

On the first of March our Teens and our Temple's Melamedet, Arava will be leaving the warmth of the California winter to travel to Washington, DC for their L'taken Social Justice Shabbaton weekend. Every year, nearly 2,000 high school students from across North America arrive in Washington, D.C. for a L'Taken Social Justice Seminar, an intense four-day study kallah on Jewish values, social justice, and public policy. The program empowers emerging young leaders to be effective advocates at all levels of government, and strengthens Jewish communities by challenging participants to approach important contemporary issues through a Jewish lens.

During the Shabbaton seminar weekend, students will have the opportunity to engage with policy experts and one another, meet with their elected officials on Capitol Hill, tour the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum, and celebrate a memorable Havdalah service at the Jefferson Memorial.

Our Hebrew Chai students had a guest teacher, Dr. Nesa Bland, getting them ready for their Washington L'Taken adventures.

How is Justice Accountable?

Our Hebrew Chai students Ethan, Charlotte, Matthew, Sienna, and Lexi, who are engaged in their schools' Mock Trials this year or next -– found at least one answer to that question in Mishnah Sanhedrin, Chapter Five! How does Judaism go the extra mile to assure that an accused person of a capital offense is truly deserving of their punishment? Who is allowed to say what, when, and why? When must (what we would call today) a jury extend deliberations over into the next day? The class sought out, shared, and argued their points of view in true yeshiva style – passion ruled this active discussion!

One student made the important connection of a witness statement being factually true or only an opinion based on Judaism's lunar calendar, Rosh Chodesh, and basic astronomy, with a little help from Rabbi Yehudah.

One student called our attention to the important concept of reasonable doubt as evidenced in Bamidbar 35:30, as we learned when, where, and how students in a courtroom may, or may not speak/offer an opinion.

One student helped bring the whole discussion to a close with her careful observation of how precious life itself is to Judaism. She pointed out that the class really was talking about one thing, that no detail is too small or too insignificant to overlook when a person's life is in judgement.

As these five young adults soon travel to our nation's capital, we pointed out how deeply the legal system today – practiced by Jews and non-Jews – has its roots in Talmud Torah. Am Yisrael Chai!

WOMEN OF SINAI by Reesa Manning, President

We've now been a "new" auxiliary at Temple Sinai for almost 3 years and our future is YOU!!!

Please come to a celebration of our 3rd birthday on Sunday, March 17, starting at 9:30 a.m. at the Temple to review our past and discuss our future. We will of course dazzle you with a bonanza of bagels and goodies as we seek your input.

Help us build on our 3-year foundation and move forward in support of the Rabbi Avi Levine Religious School to perpetuate Judaism through our youth.

There is no charge for this celebration but we do ask for your reservation to the Temple office (760-568-9699) so we can be sure to have enough food.

Whether you have or have not paid dues to Women of Sinai this year, we'd love to see you and greet you at this special event. Please join us.

Women of Sinai
Community-Connections-Contributions

Celebrate Women of Sinai's 3rd Birthday with a Complimentary Bagel Bonanza Sunday, March 17 at 9:30 in the Social Hall

Join Women of Sinai for a town hall meeting where we will hear your ideas on creating Women of Sinai events that work best for you.

It's time to prepare next season's calendar and we need your input.

Our goal is to build on our mission of perpetuating Judaism through financial support of the Rabbi Avi Levine Religious School.

RSVP to the Temple, 760-568-9699, so we know how much food to prepare.

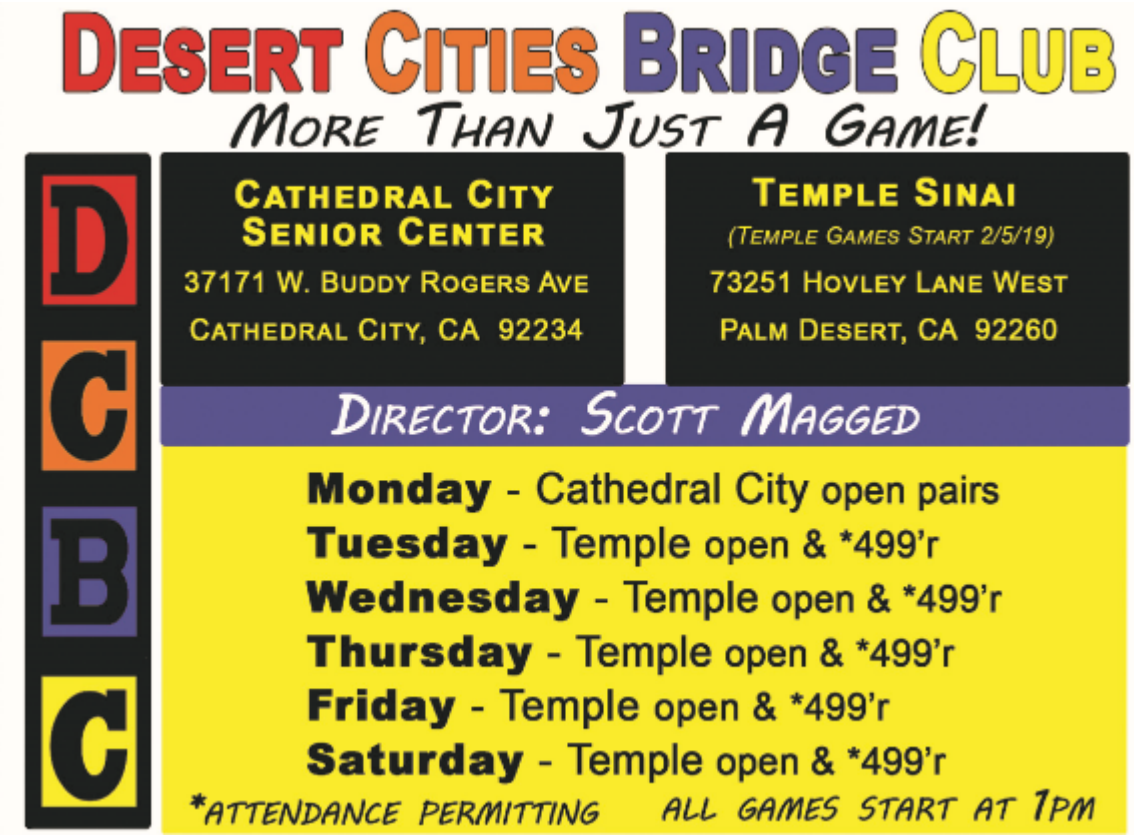
With the rain and cold, we weren't able to have our family Tu B'Shevat planting day. However we were able to plant the strawberry starts we had on a warmer day. We have been eating veggies from our garden and hope to have some strawberries soon. Our garden is such a huge success that even our resident gopher is having a lettuce salad several times a day. The children are so excited when they see the lettuce leaves shaking, because they know the gopher is going to pop up and eat the lettuce leaves.

We have had several new children join our preschool. Two of their favorite days are Music with Mr. David (made possible with the support of the Jewish Federation Grant) and Shabbat .

Bridge comes to Temple Sinai!



From the Melamedet, Arava Talve

Life-long Jewish learning keeps our community vibrant and strong, and honors our past and future. Temple Sinai offers a variety of opportunities for learning at every age.

Our Avi Levine Religious school gives our youth the tools they need to understand their history, holidays and liturgy. We have a wonderful slate of teachers that give your children a solid curriculum that fosters their understanding and learning from ages 4 to 16. Our madrichim (teen helpers) give our younger children excellent role models and assist our teachers with every fun learning adventure. Our Kitah Zayin students lead t'fillah every Sunday at 11:30am. All are welcome to join us and witness the next generation of Jewish educators.

The rabbi is teaching two classes this year. Ten Paths to God is a wonderful weekly journey in exploring the meaning of life and where we find holiness in the world. The "God talk" is fascinating and the curriculum used is from Rabbi Jonathan Sacks, who was one of Rabbi Bentley's teachers. This class meets Tuesdays at 1:15pm in the Chapel. Rabbi Bentley also facilitates Lunch & 21st Century Judaism which focuses on current events and how they effect the Jewish community. Class meets Wednesdays at noon.

On the first Wednesday of the month at 6:00 PM, Nesa Bland and I facilitate Perkei Imahot. In this gathering, we bring the teaching of the avot (the fathers) and comment on them as women. We keep a written history of our gatherings and so far have focused on Ethical behavior, Leadership, teaching values, and pursuing justice.

Nesa also taught a mini-series class on ethical wills in February. We hope to offer more "mini class series" next year, and if you have any ideas for classes you would like to see us offer, please email me at aravatalve17@gmail.com.

Other ongoing classes are:

Torah Study with Rabbi Bentley meets every Shabbat morning at 8:45am in the "cave". This is a wonderful way to explore the stories and mitzvot contained in our Torah. Come and add your voice to the ongoing dialogue.

Bnot Mitzvah, Wednesdays at 2pm. You won't want to miss this celebration! Four amazing women will lead us in prayer and teach us Torah! SAVE THE DATE- December 14th, 2019.

Intro to Judaism meets the 2nd 3rd and 4th Tuesday of the month at 2:30 in the chapel. It's never too late to learn, and the class is open to anyone who would like to explore the rituals, liturgy, holidays and history of the Jewish people.

Adult Bnai Mitzvah meet at 1pm on Wednesdays. This class is designed for anyone seeking to be called to Torah for the first time or the second time as an adult.

Please let us know what you would like to see offered.
