HAPPY PURIM!

Rabbi Gil Steinlauf

A SYNAGOGUE TRANSFORMED

In just a matter of months, our congregation will begin an amazing transformation. The sanctuary will be updated with a new look. The lobby, and what is now the Gewirz Hall will be very different. There will be a new Beit Midrash (House of Study) in the space where the Kogod Chapel is now. It will look beautiful. But the transformation I'd like to talk about only begins with the physical reconstruction.

The real transformation is the experience that will begin in the new spaces. Picture walking into the entrance on Quebec Street and feeling that you're entering a place of light and air and open space. As soon as you walk in, you're feeling that you're a welcome part of a vibrant community, where many possibilities of connection and meaning are immediately open to you. Everywhere you glance, there are ways into Jewish

New Cantor Selected Cantor Arianne Brown

Dear Friends,

With great excitement I write to inform you of the selection of our new cantor at Adas Israel Congregation. The Board of Directors approved the engagement of Cantor Arianne Brown as our new hazzan based on the unanimous recommendation of the Cantor Search Committee and Executive Committee and the positive comments of the many members who met and heard her during her December visit.

Cantor Brown was invested as a hazzan and received a master of arts in sacred music from the Jewish Theological Seminary in 2005, where she won the Hazzan Max Wohlberg Award and went on to receive a master's degree in Jewish education from JTS in 2006. In addition, she earned a bachelor of music education/ voice degree from Rutgers University and is a graduate of the Hebrew Academy of Atlantic County, NJ.

Since 2006, Cantor Brown has served Sinai Temple in Los Angeles, CA, where she had a large liturgical, educational, and musical portfolio. Fluent in Hebrew and Yiddish, Cantor Brown is an expert Torah and Megillah reader, pianist, composer and arranger, and theater director. She teaches in the Sinai Temple Religious School and Day School, has written and directed children's and adult productions, and has prepared more than 500 students for b'nai mitzvah.

life. There is art and color, there are sacred worship spaces and opportunities just to be—either by yourself or with friends and community members.

Rabbi Gil Steinlauf

As you make your way forward, you're invited into a central hub of glass and light and energy: the Beit Midrash. You walk into that space, and the dynamism of the place strikes you first. There are books everywhere. There's a coffee bar. There are comfortable chairs. There are computer consoles and wi-fi. You see people of many different ages and backgrounds. Parents are catching up with friends over a cup of coffee while their little ones play, or while they're waiting for school dismissal. Individuals are reading books and newspapers and surfing the web. Tables of learners and teachers are discussing substantive issues. You see small study groups of people in pairs or groups of three having deep discussions about texts and ideas.

As you come in, just as you are, you are immediately a part of the "Adas Institute"—a new kind of Jewish think tank and outreach center housed in the Beit Midrash, whose goal is to find new ways into Jewish engagement and meaning in the 21st century. There are several "Adas Fellows," young adults there whose job it is to help you find connection. They welcome you and invite you to some of the programs already happening there, or they're available to answer your questions about anything—Judaism, Israel, spirituality, identity, the arts, and Jewish life. You feel welcome and encouraged. Across the Beit Midrash, you see a beautiful Aron Ha-Kodesh and podium with chairs around it where the Adas daily minyan davens, surrounded by all the learning and creativity going on in that space. If you come in at night, you might find an author or celebrity at that very same podium presenting on his or her works or accomplishments to a packed house. If you come into the Beit Midrash on Shabbat, you may find the Havurah or a Learners' Minyan or Youth Service praying together in the space.

While you could easily spend all your days just in the Beit Midrash, the other spaces beckon as well.

Lifelong Learning

Ayeka: Soulful Jewish Education

Wednesdays, 7:15–8:30 pm; March 14, 21, 28, April 4. *Taught by Rabbi Tamara Miller**

Ayeka is the first question in the Torah: In the Garden of Eden, when God asks Adam, "Where are you?" Adam is hiding. This is an eternal paradigm. We all hide, at times, in different ways. The goal of this new approach, called Ayeka, is to create a venue in which we can stop hiding in order to explore our personal relationship with God, and to see how this relationship can affect our lives. It is possible to imbue our relationships, our work, and our entire lives with a sense of living in the image of God.

Join Ayeka as we explore what traditional Jewish texts and our own personal experience can teach us about our relationship with God and how we can use this relationship to enhance our lives and to bring out the best in ourselves and in all our personal relationships.

Cost: $120 for members and non-members. *Rabbi Miller is the first Ayeka facilitator in the Washington, DC, area. A graduate of the Academy for Jewish Religion in New York City, she is currently spiritual director at the Center for Integrative Medicine in Washington. A CLAL Rabbis Without Borders Fellow, Rabbi Miller also has an independent practice as a Judaics teacher, spiritual counselor, and life cycle ritualist.

Exploring the Mishnah's Perspective on Family Relationships

Wednesdays, 7:30–9:00 pm; March 14, 21, 28; April 4, 11, 18

Taught by Calvin Goldscheider

Register at adasisrael.org/III or call 202-362-4433.

The Mishnah is a third-century set of Jewish texts (Rabbinic Judaism) consisting of 63 volumes organized around the functioning of an imagined and constructed community. One of the divisions of the Mishnah focuses on family issues. This class explores selective Mishnayot to identify core themes associated with family relationships. The key themes will include the process and timing of family formation (marriage); kinship relationships and obligations; the role of fathers; reproduction and the role of children; intermarriage; the role, value, and dependency of women; age-related issues in the life course (who is an adult?); divorce and the dissolution of marriage; and transitions to adulthood and to nonfamilies.

Participants will treat the text as a whole (rather than as commentary on the Biblical text or as preface to the Tal-

Holidays

Eat Drink and Be Holy: The Holiday of Purim

On its surface, the holiday of Purim is fairly straightforward, characterized by an atmosphere of joy and celebration. We are required to eat and to drink; we parade around in outlandish costumes and we make loud noises that can hardly be described as dignified. Not only are children expected to wear costumes; adults as well are very much encouraged to wear costumes and participate in the joyous celebration. Still, beneath its almost too obvious guise of merriment, Purim is marked by a seriousness of purpose equal to that of the most solemn holiday. We are required to perform a variety of mitzvot, and from each, we learn an important lesson.

One of the most important things we learn from Purim is that no person can exist alone. We share with others not only our daily lives, but our hopes and dreams as well. Hillel taught: "Al tifrosh min ha'tzibbur—Do not separate yourself from the community." From each of the mitzvot we perform on Purim, we learn something new about the concept of sharing.

Reading the Megillah

Each year, we are required to listen to the complete reading of Megillat Esther. We are instructed to listen to every word and to do this twice—evening and morning. Perhaps, in attending these public readings, we learn the value of sharing with the entire community recognition and appreciation of our collective triumph over adversity.

Defeating Haman was a shared enterprise. Mordecai and Esther led the way, supported by the prayers of the entire Jewish people. In every generation, there are those like Haman who prey on people's basest fears to maximize their own power. Confronting such evil must be a shared responsibility. While one group may be singled out for harsh treatment, it is the responsibility of all good people to fight against this kind of tyranny.

Making Passover Personal

Sunday, March 25 10:00–11:45 am

Discussion with Rabbi Steinlauf

Mishloach Manot

Each year, increasing numbers of Jews are discovering the wonderful Purim custom of sharing food with friends and neighbors, giving at least two types of food to at least two recipients. The mitzvah of mishloach manot is based on the verse in the megillah instructing us to "send portions one to another" (9:22). Some people bake hamentashen and other goodies, while others send food packages through their synagogue. Use this opportunity to spread Purim cheer to those who might not otherwise receive such gifts. Consider bringing some brightly decorated baskets to seniors, the homebound, or newcomers.

Matanot L'evyonim

Based on the injunction in the megillah that we must "send gifts to the poor," the holiday affords us a special opportunity to share our good fortune with those in need. Gifts can be given directly, for example, bringing food and clothing to a homeless shelter, or indirectly, through an organized charity. It is important to keep in mind that whatever additional tzedakah we give throughout the year, donations must still be given on Purim. How important is this mitzvah? As Maimonides writes in his Mishneh Torah (Hilkhot Megillah 2:17): "It is better for a person to increase gifts to the poor than to increase his feast or the mishloach manot to his neighbors."

Seudat Purim

Few things are more pleasurable than sharing a celebratory meal with our families, and the megillah tells us that Purim should be a time for feasting. This year, approach the Purim seudah with the commitment we bring to preparing the Passover seder. Wear special clothing (off-beat costumes are definitely permitted), prepare special foods, and learn Purim songs.

—Chaq Purim Sameach! •

Edible Groggers will be for "sale" at Purim services.

$1 per box of dried mac and cheese to be used as groggers and donated back to Ezra Pantry for SOME (So Others Might Eat).

Passover Sale of Hametz

During Passover, it is technically forbidden to have any hametz in our possession. Because we cannot finish it all, and it is improper to destroy usable food, the rabbis provided for a symbolic sale of all the hametz to a non-lew who then "sells" it back to us after Pesach. The hametz is then no longer "in our possession." This includes food, dishes, and utensils, which are locked away in storage for the duration of the festival. This year the sale can be done through April 5.

Funds collected through donations and through the "sale" of hametz are used for charitable purposes and to help provide Passover food for those who otherwise might have none. This legal procedure technically transfers ownership of hametz that remains in our pantry during the festival. Technical ownership reverts to us when the festival is over.

Please fill out this form and send it to Marcia Miller (Marcia. Miller@adasisrael.org) by Thursday, April 5

| Dear Rabbi Feinberg: Please sell our hametz so that we have fulfilled our obligation of religious ownership and accept this contribution so that others are assured of a seder . |

Erev Pesach Preparations

Bedikat Hametz Thursday evening, April 5

Bedikat hametz, the lovely home ceremony of searching for leaven with a candle, feather, and wooden spoon as an indication that all other preparations have been made, is carried out on Thursday evening, April 5. The kol hamira formula for nullifying unseen hametz found in the haggadah should be recited at this time and in the morning before 10:00 am, when the hametz is disposed of.

Siyyum for the Firstborn Friday, April 6, 7:15 am

The fast of the firstborn is a time-honored custom that recognizes God's role in history. As do many congregations, we hold a siyyum (the celebration of concluding a section of the Mishna), after which all of the firstborn present may join in the festivities. Our siyyum is Friday, April 6, as part of the morning minyan at 7:15 am, followed by breakfast.

Biur Hametz Friday morning, April 6

This day should be treated as an ordinary Erev Pesach in regard to be'ur hametz (removal of hametz). The burning of the hametz should be completed by about 10:00 am, and the stove should be kashered for Pesach. All cooking should be done in Pesach pots, and only Pesach utensils should be used. Food required for the first seder should be cooked at this time.

Burn your chametz at Adas on Friday, April 6, at 9:15 in the parking lot. O

Taste of Tanach—An Interview with Rabbi Steinlauf

by Joyce Stern

Joyce Stern: Rabbi Steinlauf, each month you offer a lesson for Sisterhood members (and anyone else who drops into the class held in the Sisterhood Library the second Tuesday of each month). The class is called Taste of Tanach. What exactly does the word, Tanach, mean? What are the Hebrew letters from which this anglicized term is derived, and do they stand for something in particular?

Rabbi Steinlauf: Tanach (the Hebrew Bible) is actually an acronym that stands for Torah (the Five Books of Moses), Nevi'im (the Prophets), and Ketuvim (the Writings, i.e., books like the Book of Esther, the Book of Job, etc.). Together these form the canon of the Hebrew Bible. The Tanach forms the foundation for all later Jewish literatures, including the Midrash and other rabbinic texts. The Sefer Torah, or the Torah scroll that we see in synagogue, only contains the first third of the Hebrew Bible—Torah, the Five Books of Moses. Whenever we read the haftarah in synagogue, those readings are taken from Nevi'im. On special occasions and holidays, we read from the Ketuvim. So, for example, on Purim we read the Book of Esther, on Passover, we read from the Song of Songs, and on Sukkot we read from the Book of Ecclesiastes. All of these texts, as well as rabbinic texts and later texts, form the basis of our study in our Sisterhood class.

JS: Is an extensive background in Judaic studies required to appreciate the class? Is one expected to study in advance?

RS: No previous background or knowledge of Hebrew is required at all. The purpose of the class is to open up the world of Jewish study for anyone. We often discuss sections from the Tanach. but very often I also bring in texts from Midrash, the Mishnah, Talmud, the Zohar (Kabbalah), Maimonides, Chasidic writings, etc. The goal is to help everyone, regardless of knowledge level, to find personal meaning, relevance, and inspiration from the texts and ideas of our tradition. This year, I have been experimenting with e-mailing an essay before each class that captures the topic at hand. That has been going very well. People appreciate the advance reading, and it enables them to come to class with some ideas to share in our group. That being said, I also appreciate that people are very busy, and it's not always easy to catch up on reading. So it's important for people to know that if you haven't had a chance to do the advance reading, that's totally fine. I always start the class by summing up everything that was in the essay anyway, and nobody is ever "on the spot" in my classes.

JS: What is a class typically like? Is the format lecture or discussion?

RS: The class is taught in a seminarstyle format. This means that we sit around a table and learn together. My role is to facilitate the discussion. We read the text either together or with study partners, and then we discuss what these texts and ideas mean to us. A phrase I like to use is, "We all learn Torah from one another," and that forms the basis of our classes. Each of us has insight and wisdom to share, that the texts of Torah can bring out. It's when we listen and learn from each other that the learning becomes really exciting and fun.

SAVE THE DATE

Garden of the Righteous Ceremony, Sunday, April 22

Join us Sunday, April 22, at 10:30 am, when Adas Israel honors Dr. Tina Strobos, who saved Jews in Holland during the Holocaust, in our Garden of the Righteous.

Born in Amsterdam in 1920, Dr. Strobos was a medical student there when the Germans invaded Holland in May 1940. From the first days of the Nazi invasion, Dr. Strobos and her family, who were not Jewish, became actively involved in hiding Jews providing them with food, shelter, and forged documents. Dr. Strobos, together with her mother and grandmother, sheltered more than 100 Jewish refugees—four or five at a time—at their boarding house, which was only a 10-minute walk from Anne Frank's house in Amsterdam. Dr. Strobos also carried news and ration stamps to Jews hiding on farms outside the city, as well as radios and firearms for the Dutch resistance. She was seized or questioned nine times by the Gestapo. Her grandmother had a radio transmitter hidden in the house that was used to send clandestine messages from the underground to Britain. Dr. Strobos said of her grandmother, "She is the only person I know who scared the Gestapo."

After the war, Dr. Strobos and her husband immigrated to the United States, where she practiced psychiatry and told how Jews were rescued from the Nazis. In a 2009 interview, she said, "It's just the right thing to do. I believe in heroism, and when you're young, you want to do dangerous things."

The Garden of the Righteous is a reminder of numerous acts of decency and daring many non-Jews performed in the midst of one of the most tragic moments in human history. The entire community is invited to attend. This program is supported in part by the Men's Club of Adas Israel, the Marilyn & Stefan Tucker Program Fund, and the Ryna & Melvin Cohen Senior Rabbi Program Fund.

Please join us Sunday, April 22, as we honor the righteous. •

Tina Strobos, Bram Pais, who was saved by her efforts, and Tina's Mother, Marie Schotte, 1941

Calling ALL Minyanites! Shabbaton Shira V'Kehilla: Building Our Community, April 27–28

The Traditional Egalitarian Minyan is planning a spirited Shabbat experience for the weekend of April 27–28. The Shabbaton Shira V'Kehilla will bring Joey Weisenberg from New York to Adas Israel to share his expertise at bringing people of all ages together with music and melodies, traditional and new, to emphasize the joys and meanings of Shabbat. More information about Joey Weisenberg can be found at mechonhadar.org/buildingsingingcommunities.

Starting on Friday evening, erev Shabbat, we will sing together to welcome Shabbat and share a Shabbat meal in song and melody (and good food). Then we'll spend Shabbat in spirited prayer and joyful singing, followed by kiddush lunch and more Shabbat singing, and concluding with Seudah Shlishit and Havdalah at the end of Shabbat.

Please hold the date to join us in bringing new and inspiring ways to experience the beauty of Shabbat together as a community. It may just change your life! Please contact Ketura Persellin, keturap@aol.com, for more information.

More emotional than I expected. It marked the importance of ritual for these life decisions. I am happy. —Paula C.

It was a nice and comfortable experience. We appreciate everyone's kindness, courtesy, and patient explanations. —Ariel W. (conversion of a child)

Incredible, loved it, very significant, process was like going through heaven. —Jon M.

This mikvah means so much to me and I love that it is accessible to the whole Jewish community. —Miriam G. (transitioning to a new job and city)

Thank you for so generously making the mikvah available to the Jewish community. It was very meaningful for me to have this experience. The mikvah guide made everything very welcoming and I thank her, too. —Dorothy K. (healing from cancer, preparing for more surgery.)

Thank you for your patience and thank you to Adas for leaving room for a wheelchair to enter the area. —Karene G. (bride)

Adas Israel Community Mikvah

Our mikvah is a sacred space where Jews can mark life transitions with powerful physical ritual. Immersing in a mikvah connects the body to the water cycle of our planet and to the sources of life. People visit our mikvah to observe the mitzvah of monthly immersion; to celebrate s'machot; to find strength during a difficult time; to pray for healing; to reflect on the meaning of becoming a bride, groom, or bar or bat mitzvah; to convert to Judaism; and to prepare physically and spiritually for chagim.

To learn more about our mikvah or to schedule an appointment, contact Naomi Malka, 202-841-8776 or mikvah@adasis-rael.org. For more information, visit adasisrael.org/mikvah. •

CANTOR SELECTION CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

A renowned specialist in Yiddish music, Cantor Brown performed in off-Broadway productions of the Folksbiene Yiddish Theater, and has appeared at Carnegie Hall, Safra Hall, Disney Hall, the Krakow Jewish Music Festival, and Warsaw's Ida Kaminska State Theatre. She is the author of the biweekly "Dear Cantor" advice column in the Yiddish Forverts and has been published in the Journal of Synagogue Music. She is also conversant in Farsi and has sung the National Anthem at Dodger Stadium.

Cantor Brown is married to Rabbi Randy Brown, who currently serves as director of interreligious affairs for the American Jewish Committee in Los Angeles. They are expecting their first child in March.

The Cantor Search Committee, under the leadership of Melanie Nussdorf, has spent nearly two years searching for the right hazzan for our congregation. The committee reviewed 68 applications, listened to hundreds of music selections from the applicants, held phone interviews with almost 20 applicants, hosted on-site interviews with seven applicants, checked references, posted updates on our website and in the Chronicle, and spent hundreds of hours meeting to evaluate and discuss candidates based on the congregational surveys and input from over 675 Adas members. Our deepest thanks to the members of the search committee: Dirk Aardsma, Patricia Andringa, David Bickart, Jamie Butler, Glenn Easton, David Edelstein, Joel Fischman, Arlette Jassel, Rae Grad, Mark Gross, Andrew Lipps, Melanie Nussdorf, Robert Peck, Edna Povich, Gabriela Rubin, David Schorr, Shelley Schonberger, Judith Bartnoff, Rabbi Gil Steinlauf, and the entire Adas Israel staff, who assisted during the search process.

Cantor Brown is moving to our community during the summer and will begin officially on August 1. A series of opportunities to meet Cantor Brown, both formal and informal, large and small, is being planned to welcome and integrate Cantor Brown and her family into our congregation and community. Please watch for these opportunities to join us.

Ľshalom,

Johanna Chanin President

Education

Gan HaYeled

Sweet Summertime Registration

Along with summer comes Sweet Summertime, the Gan's summer camp. This year Sweet Summertime begins June 20 and runs through July 29. Throughout the six weeks of Sweet Summertime, you will see smiles and hear laughter from our campers and staff alike.

Our many activities range from cooling off in wading pools to creating special art projects to going on field trips to places such as the Puppet Company at Glen Echo and the National Aquarium. Most important, Sweet Summertime is a time to connect with former classmates, meet new people, and form new friendships.

Our very special Gan teachers work in the summer and make Sweet Summertime a wonderful experience. We are very fortunate to have a number of terrific teenagers as well, many of whom are Adas Israel members, join our summer staff and add energy and excitement to the camp. Sweet Summertime registration has begun. For more information call the Gan office, 202-362-4491.

'Exploring Reggio Through a Jewish Perspective'

"That which is far off, and exceedingly deep, who can find it out?"—Ecclesiastes 7.24

For the past two decades, educators from around the world have been flocking to the small town of Reggio Emilia, Italy, to witness first-hand the work that takes place in the municipal early childhood centers. The Reggio Emilia Approach to Early Childhood education, which takes its name from the city, has been recognized all over the world as the most exceptional example of the highest-quality early education that the world has eve seen.

The Reggio philosophy of early education has been a strong inspiration for the Partnership for Jewish Life and Learning's Early Childhood community. It provokes us to think about what it means to educate nowadays. Reggio envisions the school as a place of culture, where each one's identity can be renewed and new thinking can take place. The Reggio Emilia Approach, hailed as an "exemplary model" of early childhood education, is committed to the creation of conditions for learning to enhance and facilitate relationships that focus on children's powers for thinking and learning. To that end, The Partnership has announced its participation in the second Reggio Study Institute, March 15–25, in Reggio Emilia.

"Exploring Reggio Through a Jewish Perspective" will focus on increasing each participant's knowledge and understanding of the Reggio Emilia Approach as well as providing skills to enhance abilities that will infuse our Jewish early childhood classrooms with this world-renowned philosophy.

During this professional development program, participants from Washington, Baltimore, and Israel will study and learn the philosophy from Reggio Emilia's lead educators and have the opportunity to observe the early childhood centers of Reggio Emilia. They will also attend workshops and interactive sessions to learn, discuss, and share both connections between this educational philosophy and Jewish thinking and specific ways to bring this into our Jewish early childhood programs.

Before, during, and after the week-long intensive study in Italy, these three groups will come together for a unique tricommunity learning opportunity to study and collaborate on their learning of the Reggio philosophy and its relationship to Jewish teaching and Judaic curriculum. The Gan is fortunate to have three participants in this program: Marsha Pinson, Liza Kurtz Bragin, and Brenda Footer. •

8th-Grade Family Tikkun Olam Project at A Wider Circle, March 18

On Sunday, March 18, 1–3 pm, eighth-grade families will return to A Wider Circle (awidercircle.org), a Silver Spring, MD, organization that provides needed items to families transitioning out of shelters or simply living without life's necessities. Participants will begin with learning, led by Director of Education Josh Bender, and then proceed to help at the facility by sorting donations (linens, baby clothes, kitchen items, toys, books, etc.) and maintaining the warehouse. Plan to join us on May

Shabbat Unplugged, a musical family service for families with children in elementary school, meets Saturday, March 24, at 10:45 am. Older children are welcome and are encouraged take on leadership roles. Shabbat Unplugged is led by Josh Bender, director of education, and Elie Greenberg, director of informal programming.

The service seeks to build a fun, interactive, and spirited prayer experience. This is also an opportunity for families to explore some of the key concepts and themes in Jewish prayer. Guitars and other instruments are used to enhance the experience and to teach Jewish and Israeli songs. In addition, the Torah portion comes alive through the art of Jewish storytelling with Jennifer Rudick Zunikoff. Families are invited to join the congregational kiddush following the service.

Jewish Value for March-April: Leket

Leket (agricultural provisions for the poor) were a series of ancient agricultural laws that guaranteed that a portion of food products was left untouched in the fields for the poor to gather. In a modern context, this may mean collecting a portion of the harvest and donating it to the poor or collecting food and donating it to a shelter or soup kitchen.

Our students will participate in a mitzvah project with Adas Israel's own Ezra Pantry, which partners with SOME (So Others Might Eat), that will involve a food collection drive. Some of our students will learn about an organization in Israel, called Leket, that uses volunteers to glean the fields in Israel and donates the produce to poor families throughout the nation.

Shabbat Unplugged Musical Family Service, Feb. 11, 10:45 am

Shabbat Unplugged, a musical family service for families with children in elementary school, meets Saturday, Feb. 11, at 10:45 am. Older children are welcome and are encouraged take on leadership roles. Shabbat Unplugged is led by Josh Bender, director of education, and Elie Greenberg, director of informal programming.

Modeled on Shacharit Live, a Sunday morning musical service for K-2 students in the religious school, the service seeks to build a fun, interactive, and spirited prayer experience. This is also an opportunity for families to explore some of the key concepts and themes in Jewish prayer. Guitars and other instruments are used to enhance the experience and to teach Jewish and Israeli songs. In addition, the Torah portion comes alive through the art of Jewish storytelling with Jennifer Rudick Zunikoff. Families are invited to join the congregational kiddush following the service. •

New Head of Security

We are pleased to welcome Lieutenant Leonard Taylor, new head of security for Adas Israel Congregation through our security consultant, ICS Protective Services. Officer Taylor is replacing Capt. Rease whom we all miss but who set a high standard for care, service, and concern for our children, members, and guests.

Continuing on our security detail are officers Sean Wormsley, Jason Torrez, James Moore, Kenneth Oliver, and Robert Aikens, and we continue to benefit from the security expertise of Carl Williams, president of ICS. Please see Glenn Easton or Randy Asbury with any questions, suggestions, or concerns about our synagogue security. O

Library Corner The King's Edict

by Robin Jacobson

Many centuries ago, a mighty king issued an evil edict against the Jews in his realm. This sounds like the Purim story, only the king was not Ahasuerus of Persia, but Edward I of England. In 1290, Edward signed the notorious Edict of Expulsion, earning for England the sorry distinction of being the first nation to expel its Jews. Three and a half centuries would pass before England allowed the Jews to return. For history buffs (as well as fans of PBS's English-accented Masterpiece Theatre), we recommend some new books in our library on Anglo-Jewish history: The King's Jews by Robin Mundill (medieval history) and The People of the Book by Gertrude Himmelfarb (17th-century and subsequent history). Here are some highlights from the Jews' early years in England, which began in prosperity and ended in poverty and peril.

Jews in Medieval England

After William the Conqueror seized England in 1066, a wave of adventurous Jews followed him across the Channel from northern France. William granted them the King's protection, a mixed blessing for the Jews, since it meant that the "king would treat both their persons and property as his own."

The Jews filled an economic need in medieval England for moneylenders. Kings wanted to erect grand buildings and fight wars; they needed capital and could not obtain it from Christians, who were forbidden by the Church from practicing usury, considered a grievous sin. Despite spasms of anti-Jewish violence, the Jewish community thrived. One fabulously wealthy Jewish financier was Aaron of Lincoln (c.1125–1186), who advanced funds for the construction of English cathedrals and abbeys and built himself an elegant stone mansion (see illustration). When he died, the Crown seized his estate, establishing an entire department, the Exchequer of Aaron, to sort through his assets.

Death and Taxes

During the Crusades, the fanatical preaching against the faraway Moslem infidels in the Holy Land mutated to cover condemnations of the local infidels—the Jews. At the coronation of Richard I in 1189, a Jewish delegation, bearing congratulations and costly gifts, was massacred by a London mob.

The violence spread throughout England, reaching a horrific climax at York. Trapped in the castle where they had sought refuge, the York Jews made a Masada-like decision to commit suicide rather than be killed by the bloodthirsty mob. In the meantime, nobles who owed money to the Jews seized and burned the records of their indebtedness.

Enraged, King Richard punished those who had destroyed the king's property (the Jews and their possessions) and established a system for safeguarding royal rights in the future. Copies of all Jewish transactions were deposited in specially designed royal chests secured with three locks and three seals. Thus, no matter what harm befell the Jews, the royal Treasury would suffer no loss. (An unintended but far-reaching benefit of this meticulous documentation was to illuminate for historians medieval Anglo-Jewish life; no such records exist for ordinary medieval Christians.)

As time passed, the Crown turned to a new revenue-raising measure: the repeated extortion of huge sums from the Jewish community. One historian wryly observed that in Egypt, Pharaoh merely required the Jews to make bricks, whereas in England, the king demanded that the Jews make gold. Eventually broken by ruthless taxation, the impoverished Jews could no longer enrich the royal treasury. At that point, Edward I gave in to popular clamor and expelled them from England.

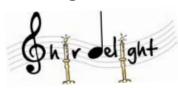

To read about the Jews' readmission to England in 1656 and their subsequent challenges and triumphs, please visit our library.

Youth @ AI Youth

Adas Israel Youth had some awesome events in January!

Machar had a blast rock climbing at Sportrock Gym! It was great to eat, travel, and climb together! Everyone was so good at it!

Kadima had a really fun regional event—
Saturday Night Live, where they jumped on all kinds of moon bounces and enjoyed snacks and dancing, video games, and just being with their friends!

Our USYers looked beautiful at the Regional USY Formal. We enjoyed dinner together and took a super-cool limo all the way to Olney, where we danced the night away.

Here's what to look for in March:

Chaverim (K-grade 2): March 18 we'll get ready for Passover by watching A Rugrat's Passover and making pillows to lean on at our sedarim!

Machar (grades 3–5): March 24, we'll enjoy a kiddush lunch together, followed by lots of fun games, from Uno to Jeopardy! Kadima (grades 6–8): Regional Kadima Kallah, March 2–4 at Capital Camps! In addition to all of the awesome spy-themed regional programming, we'll snow tube Saturday night! USY (grades 9–12): March 25, we'll have an exciting costume-themed event to celebrate a belated Purim! Who doesn't like Purim after Purim? •

Memorial Plaques

New Memorial Plaques Dedication, April 26

Dedication of new memorial plaques will take place during the Passover Yizkor Service, Tuesday, April 26 (the service begins at 9:15 am; Yizkor is at 11:00 am). We will formally dedicate all new memorial nameplates installed since last Passover.

In loving remembrance these names have been recently inscribed on the Memorial Boards in the Charles E. Smith Sanctuary:

Hilda Aks Norton Ansher Benjamin Eli Becker Lillian N. Becker Herbert Marshall Birtha Benjamin "Jamie" Cecil Jason P. Green
Jeanette L. Hornstein
Ruthe T. Katz
Philip Rosenbloom
Darvis H. Savadow
Dr. Norman Schlesinger

May their memory be a blessing.

Memorial plaques are a traditional and dignified way of honoring your dear departed. Each memorial plaque bears the name and yahrzeit date of a loved one. The memorial light adjoining the plaque is illuminated on every yahrzeit and for every Yizkor service. These plaques are truly perpetual memorials.

The cost is $750 per nameplate. If you are interested, please call Elinor Tattar at the synagogue office, 202-362-4433.

We have a permanent yahrzeit listing at the entrance of the Smith Sanctuary.

Monthly we will display the names, locations, and corresponding English date of yahrzeit for all who have plaques on the Memorial Boards in the back of the Sanctuary.

Ruach Minyan

The Ruach Minyan invites the DC-area Jewish community, including those new to the area, visitors, and those looking for a new Shabbat experience to join us at Adas Israel on the second and fourth Friday of each month for a spirited and engaging Erev Shabbat experience. The lay-led, egalitarian Kabbalat Shabbat and Maariv service, combining song and soulfulness, is followed by a tasty catered Shabbat dinner at Adas Israel or a potluck at a nearby home.

We welcome people from all backgrounds and of all ages, and we provide a warm environment for prayer, study, growth, and getting to know each other. If you're looking for an engaging and fun Shabbat experience, please join us for Shabbat evening services and dinner at the Ruach Minyan!

For more information about upcoming events, or to receive our weekly e-mail announcements, visit adasisrael.org/ruachminyan. Join our Facebook group at tinyurl.com/322fej or e-mail ruachminyan@adasisrael.org.

Nominating Committee Selected

In accordance with the Adas Israel bylaws, synagogue President Johanna Chanin has appointed Susan Kay and Margaret Siegel to co-chair the Nominating Committee. Members of the committee are Jacob Bardin, Johanna Chanin, Glenn Easton, Beth Heifetz, Susan Kay, Amy Golen, Harriet Isack, Brian Schwalb, Margaret Siegel, Eugene Sofer, and David Strouse. Recommendations for Board members and officers are welcomed and should be sent to the synagogue office (adasoffice@ adasisrael.org), Attention: Nominating Committee.

- The Nominating Committee, shall, not later than the third Monday in April, prepare and present to the Secretary a list of candidates for each of the offices of the Congregation, the Trustees, and the Board of Directors. (Bylaws Article VIII, Sec. 4)
- Additional nominations for any of the offices of the Congregation, the Trustees, and the Board of Directors may be made by petition signed by not less than twenty-five (25) members of the Congregation in good standing, providing that the petition shall be filed in the office of the Executive Director of the Congregation by May 15th. (Bylaws Article VIII Sec. 5)

Synagogue elections will be held at the Congregational Annual Meeting on June 6. •

Alan Gross Vigil

On the third Monday of every month, from noon to 1:00 pm, join other Adas members and the Jewish Community Relations Council (JCRC) in a vigil to free Alan Gross. This month's vigil takes place Monday, March 19, in front of the Cuban Interests Section (2630 16th Street, NW).

Alan Gross and his family

Alan Gross, a local resident, has been held by the Cuban government since December 2009. Charged with "acts to undermine the integrity and independence" of Cuba, he went to Cuba to do humanitarian work on behalf of USAID with the peaceful, nondissident, Jewish community. •

Adas Israel Volunteers for DC Housing Renovation, May 6

Join the Adas Israel–Yachad team to assist with prep, painting, and other badly needed repairs to the home of a 61-year-old DC neighbor who has lived there for 26 years and takes care of her six-year-old granddaughter. Her cousin, 64, recently moved in after surgery and is living in the basement. No special skills are necessary, only the desire to help improve the lives of others in a lasting and tangible way! Volunteers are asked to commit to working at the house from approximately 8:00 am to 5:00 pm, or for at least half a day (a four- or five-hour morning or afternoon shift).

Plan to volunteer on May 6 as we work side-by-side with the family to make the home safer and more habitable for all three members of the family; contact Ed Kopf, ej@kopf.com or 301-907-9174, to sign up. Don't have house repair experience? Don't worry! Our very own Ethan Landesman is leading the volunteers and teaching you whatever needs to be done.

We can truly share the experience of tikkun olam (repairing the world) and gemilut hasidim (acts of lovingkindness). •

purchasing food for the Pantry shelves. Needed pantry items include:

- canned meats, fish, peanut butter and beans (low sodium)
- pastas, macaroni and cheese, grains
- canned soups, vegetables, fruits and juices (low sodium and low sugar)
- cereals and snacks
- coffee
- condiments: oils, sauces, dressings (low sodium and sugar)

Ezra Pantry Passover Food Drive will be collecting food until April 1.

To make your contributions go even further all year long, Ezra Pantry suggests you put a milk crate in the back of your car and fill it with Pantry staples. Each time you come to the synagogue for an event or a child's drop-off, grab (or have your child grab) one of the items and place it on the Pantry shelf in the coat room. What a great way to meet our obligations and make them a part of our family's everyday life! • mud) guided by questions such as: What emerges from the text that informs us about the Mishnaic notion of family structure, formation, transitions and change? What are the roles of parents, extended relatives, children, grandparents, and other relatives? What are the relationships and obligations between men and women? Throughout participants will study the Mishnah together, in Hebrew and English, and struggle to clarify core family themes. (No prior knowledge of the text or of Hebrew is assumed.)

Anne Frank House Update

As we start 2012, Anne Frank House will be 25 years old! We want to give special thanks for all the support we have received from Adas Israel Congregation clergy, officers, staff, and members, and the many people who gave so generously in 2011.

We are very excited about a new initiative: in cooperation with the Community Council for the Homeless at Friendship Place, we have created the Rent Subsidy Fund with a $12,000 annual budget. This program will provide a three- to six-month rent subsidy for individuals who have been living in shelters and are looking for jobs and affordable housing. This program will help ease their transition from the shelters to permanent housing. Our history and accomplishments were highlighted in a recent article in the Washington Jewish Week. You can read it on our website: theannefrankhouse.org/news.html.

If you have questions about AFH, or want to get more involved in our work, please contact Sue Ducat, stansue@verizon.net.

To learn more about AFH, or to make an online contribution, visit our website, theannefrankhouse.org, or send your check to Anne Frank House, Inc., c/o Adas Israel Congregation.

Thank you.
