UPCOMING EVENTS

SHABBAT WEEKEND WITH VISITING RRC STUDENT MICAH GEURIN WEISS

FRI. JANUARY 13:
6:30PM Kabbalat Shabbat service
7:30PM Adult Program: Toward Mutual Liberation

A Jewish ally seeks to stand in solidarity against the forces of white supremacy, islamophobia, racism, misogyny, nativism, ableism, and other systems of oppression. But where does the work to fight anti-Jewish oppression (aka anti-semitism) fit into this picture? Through text study and discussion, we will explore the false distinction of standing up for Jews or standing up Others, and how Jewish liberation can be inextricably tied to our work as allies.

SAT. JANUARY 14
> 10AM Shabbat Morning Service

> 12PM Bagels & Text Study

Description: When is it time to hold on and when is it time to let go? Luckily we are not the first generations to struggle with the difficult questions of end-of-life decision making for our loved ones. Through a close-reading of the Talmudic story of the death of the great Rabbi, Yehuda HaNasi, we will explore the ethical and emotional dimensions of death and dying in our contemporary medical system. The class is designed to be an accessible learning environment for all, regardless of personal experiences of loss.

We are thrilled to announce that Congregation Bet Haverim has been selected to participate in the Better Together Program. The Better Together Program is a two-year program designed to encourage meaningful interaction between young and old. Over the course of this year, CBH teens under the direction of Alisa Buer and Ori Salzberg will be working with community members at the Cohen Home and with the Breman Museum to build relationships and document the life stories of our elders.

Over the course of the program, which we have named Next Dor, our teen/senior pairs will meet nine times, during which our teens will begin to really learn their elder’s story in considerable depth as they create a strong relationship. At the end of the year, we will have a video short showing the relationships blossoming over the course of the year and highlighting the stories of the seniors, which will be showcased at the Breman Museum at a gala event celebrating the seniors and teens.

Next Dor met three times this fall, and our teens have had experiences ranging from a behind-the-scenes tour of the artifacts at the Breman and Torah study focused on how one decides what to highlight in a story, to introductions and singing with the seniors at the Cohen Home. We cannot wait to see how these relationships bloom over the course of the year, and look forward to reporting back.

WISE AGING CLASS

Wise Aging: Writing Your Third Chapter with Rabbi Judith Beiner

Are you an empty nester wondering about the next phase of your life? Have you decided to retire and are uncertain how that might feel? Are you experiencing the unfolding of life moving at a faster and faster pace? If you answered yes to any of these questions, then you are invited to join other Bet Haverim members in a program specifically designed to meet the social, emotional and spiritual needs of Boomers & Gen Xers.

Explore the opportunities and challenges of this unique stage of life within the context of a trusted peer group. Combining study of Jewish texts with contemplative practice, topics include: becoming one’s authentic self; life review; relationship to our bodies; revitalizing and nourishing healthy relationships; cultivating qualities of soul; practicing forgiveness; learning to live with loss, change, and death; creating relevant rituals; cultivating wisdom; and leaving a legacy. Session content will be based on the text Wise Aging: Living with Joy, Resilience and Spirit by Rabbi Rachel Cowan and Dr. Linda Thal.

Tuesdays, 7:30-9pm
Jan 24, 31, Feb 7, 14, 21, 28, Mar 7, 14

Cost (includes a copy of Wise Aging):
Members $115 / $200 for two
Non-members $200 / $375 for two

TO REGISTER please contact the CBH office or go to http://www.congregationbethaverim.org/event/wise-aging.html
7 Steps To Balancing Urgency & Compassion in Times of Moral Courage

When we feel endangered, or an urgency for justice, it is so tempting to vent about what others may not be doing to exemplify moral courage and enact social justice. While urging others can inspire or agitate others towards change, let us remember a few things:

1. People are likely engaged in ways we cannot see or do not know. Don’t make snap judgments. Be curious. Extend a sense of goodwill when you can.

2. Take stock if you need something specific or feeling a particular emotion. Make the request to others. Yes, it would be ideal if people were intuitive, but there’s no shame in guiding others help you or help the cause and issue you care about.

3. Sometimes we deflect our own overwhelm, helplessness and despair by pointing to what others are not doing. Make room for your response and continue to assess if you are doing all that you can and think you should.

4. Leading by example is one of the most effective ways of encouraging others. Commit to your path and embody it and others will take note.

5. The more you discern and focus on your path then the less critiquing others matters. It can diffuse your energy if you are judging others. Blaming can create defensiveness and lead to counterproductivity -- even if blame is apt.

6. Offering clarity about issues over personalities can engage people productively.

7. There is a spectrum of growth of people’s ability to take stands and moral courage. Encourage growth by offering support.
