

LEARNING. SERVING. BELONGING.

Welcome to Synagogue Emanu-El! We are Charleston's Conservative, egalitarian congregation. Through worship, learning, and social action, we are a community of caring for our congregation and K'lal Yisrael. We hope you enjoy Shabbat services and will make this one of your Charleston homes.

WE'RE GLAD YOU'RE HERE!

- Babysitting: Available Saturdays from 9:00AM-12:30PM
- Religious Garments: As a sign of respect, a kippah (skull-cap) is worn by all males in the Synagogue. A talit (prayer shawl) is worn by adult Jewish males on Sabbath mornings; adult Jewish females are encouraged to wear a talit on Sabbath mornings as well.
- Dress: We ask all who attend to dress modestly, to reflect the sanctity of the Sabbath and the Synagogue. Additionally, everyone accepting honors must have their heads and shoulders covered.
- Books: The blue siddur contains prayers recited during the services. The red chumash contains the Five Books of Moses, with additional readings from the Prophets. Both are written in English and Hebrew and are read right to left. Both books are considered sacred, as they contain God's name.
- Electronics: The use of mobile phones, photographic devices, and writing implements are prohibited in the Synagogue on the Sabbath.

Thank you!

TIKUN OLAM 5780: CIRCLE OF LIFE

December/January/February

FILL THE CRIB

TORAH TIME: VAYEHI

On his deathbed, Jacob blesses Joseph's sons, Menasheh and Ephraim, stating that all of Israel should bless their sons in their names from now on. Jacob offers final words to his 12 sons. Jacob dies, and his sons fulfill his wish to bury him in Canaan. Later, Joseph dies with the promise of being buried there too.
