

LEARNING. SERVING. BELONGING.

Welcome to Synagogue Emanu-El! We are Charleston's Conservative, egalitarian congregation. Through worship, learning, and social action, we are a community of caring for our congregation and K'lal Yisrael. We hope you enjoy Shabbat services and will make this one of your Charleston homes.

Shabbat Shalom

HAGAFEN IS IN HONOR OF SUNNY AND SAMUEL
STEINBERG'S WEDDING ANNIVERSARY, WITH ALL
OUR LOVE FROM JILL AND CHUCK DEICH

WE'RE GLAD YOU'RE HERE!

- Babysitting: Available Saturdays from 9:00AM-12:30PM
- Religious Garments: As a sign of respect, a kippah (skull-cap) is worn by all males in the Synagogue. A talit (prayer shawl) is worn by adult Jewish males on Sabbath mornings; adult Jewish females are encouraged to wear a talit on Sabbath mornings as well.
- Dress: We ask all who attend to dress modestly, to reflect the sanctity of the Sabbath and the Synagogue. Additionally, everyone accepting honors must have their heads and shoulders covered.
- Books: The blue siddur contains prayers recited during the services. The red chumash contains the Five Books of Moses, with additional readings from the Prophets. Both are written in English and Hebrew and are read right to left. Both books are considered sacred, as they contain God's name.
- Electronics: The use of mobile phones, photographic devices, and writing implements are prohibited in the Synagogue on the Sabbath.

Thank you!

PURIM

We are collecting food for the Kosher Food Bank. For each non-perishable food item you bring, you will receive a ticket. After each chapter of the Megillah reading, one lucky ticket will be drawn, and you could win one of many fabulous prizes! Helpful Hint: Bring a box of pasta to use as a gragger (noisemaker) and donate it afterward.

TORAH TIME: MISHPATIM

The civil laws, along with moral and religious precepts, are discussed. These laws involve such topics as slavery, property rights, and dietary laws. The Israelites accept the Torah wholeheartedly: "All that Adonai has commanded we will do."
