FROM THE DESK OF RABBI RAVSKI

One of the greatest Jewish thinkers once said "There's rocks, there's trees, there's birds, there's squirrels. Come on, we'll bless them all until we get vashnick-ard!" Mel Brooks may have been poking fun at himself and his coreligionists, but he wasn't far off from the truth- We bless God as a way of saying Thank You, not just for our own personal fortunes, but for the world around us, for everything in our lives.

Giving thanks, affirmation of the moments that bring us together in joy, excitement and gratitude are not just events in Judaism, those moments, through the year are ritualized in our holidays. November is the start of my favorite time of year. Not just because the temperature cools off or that the High Holidays are behind us, but it is the start of the season when we begin to feel thankful, regardless of our religion, as we approach Thanksgiving and the Winter holidays, something about us changes. Then, just days after we give thanks as Americans we will give thanks to God for the Miracle of the Maccabees victory and the restoration of our Temple in Jerusalem. Each and every holiday we have marks a moment when we are thankful for some aspect of our lives, our history and our tradition: in the Spring we will give thanks for our liberation from slavery, in the Summer for receiving the Torah at Mount Sinai and once again in the fall we will give thanks for God's mercy and granting us another opportunity to do better. These moments of gratitude are so important, so holy, that we are actually commanded to celebrate and give thanks. We are told in Deuteronomy Ve-Samachta B'Chagecha Ve-Ha-yeetah ach sameach... You will rejoice on the Festivals and you will be happy. That is the command, the mitzvah, that we are given for the three pilgrimage holidays, Passover, Shavuot and Sukkot, when our ancestor would ascend to the Temple in Jerusalem to give thanks to God. Three times a year, we are commanded to give thanks and each time it must be with joy and happiness.

It is often asked, how can God command us to "be happy," to give thanks is one thing, but to command an emotion is more difficult, if it is commanded, how can it be authentic? The answer, I believe, harkens back to the Mel Brooks quote from Robin Hood: Men in Tights. So often we find our world so busy that we forget to stop and look around and be amazed and awestruck by the beauty and power of Creation. The only time our world seems to stop, when we will at a moment's notice cancel everything and rush to be somewhere is in times of tragedy, illness, death, funerals. Those are moments when we are thankful for the effort of doctors, the support of friends and family and for so many other things, but the emotion behind it is one of sadness. The words of Mel Brooks, and the Mitzvah of the Torah- which carries a bit more weight to them- seek to remind us that we should treat those joyous moments with the same importance, that we should drop everything to attend a wedding, a birth, to celebrate a holiday. Slowing our lives down, taking time to notice the birds and rocks and squirrels, to give thanks at joyous occasions, be them sacred religious moments or sacred national holidays, is, in the Torah's eyes, is not just something that we should do, it is something that we must do so that there is joy, and balance in our lives. Psalm 92 tells us, Tov Le-Hodot La-Adonai u'li-zah-mer Le-Shimcha Elyon- It is good to give thanks to God, to sing Your praise exhausted God, to speak of Your love each morning and Your faithfulness each night. We give thanks to God from the time when we wake up until the time we go to sleep, knowing that Samachta B'Chagecha, giving thanks in joy is one of the greatest obligations, the greatest Mitzvot, that we can fulfill. This is how we understand what it means to give thanks in Judaism, that we show our gratitude to God and each other, with joy and happiness.

SISTERHOOD-LINDA KRAWCHECK

First let me thank all who participated in Tikkun Olam events this past month. The Marsh Cleanup in West Ashley, the monthly food distribution at Neighbors Together, formerly Tri-County Family Ministries, and the Period Project packing event, and our weekly food packaging at James Island Outreach. I will say we need more volunteers ! Sandra Brett is working very hard to get a visual presence for Tikkun Olam. Most events simply take a couple hours max.

GOBBEL GOBBEL.. It's Back.. Sisterhood Thanksgiving Dinner !! It will be with all the trimmings and sides and packaged to go ! See the invitation in the the front page and make your reservation now ! Limited reservations available. Make your reservations HERE or go to www.emanu-el.com.

The Sisterhood book club is now taking invitations for the 2022 books to read list, you can send your picks to Patti Bagg for consideration. The book for November is "Florence Adler Swims Forever" by Rachel Beanland, discussion led by Linda Heller-Lynn. Decembers book club will be a zoom interview led by Marsha Gewirtzman, with Lori Banov Kaufmann on her new book, Rebel Daughter. Lori is the daughter of Dr. Charles and Nancy Banov, long time Emanu-El members. Date to be announced as well as time and zoom info.

Just a reminder to please send in your Sisterhood Dues for 2021-2022 year. All dues go to our Treasurer Karen Pinosky. Thank you

Hope everyone is enjoying the cooler weather and lack of humidity, it is so nice to be outside with out the effects the heat and humidity have on us. Plant flowers !! A Happy Thanksgiving for all, key word here is Thanksgiving, be thankful for all we have and can give !

Linda Krawcheck
Sisterhood President

SISTERHOOD BOOK CLUB

This month's book discussion was "Their Eyes Were Watching God" by Zora Hurston. Discussion was led by Ijo Toporek.

We all agreed that it was a wonderful story and she was certainly a forerunner of Women's Lib. Ijo led a very interesting discussion for a timely book.

For information on the November book, please contact Lisa Isaacson at lisajanetisaacson@gmail.com

MEN'S CLUB-HOWARD SNOW

In October, Men's Club held a session of Hearing Men's Voices. We discussed how relations between fathers and children have changed over the years.

On Saturday, November 13th, Men's Club will sponsor Men's Club/Veterans Appreciation Shabbat. Men's Club members and any veteran are invited to help conduct the service. Signups for an honor is still underway, and as of this writing, there are still plenty of honors available. As an added bonus, Men's Club is sponsoring Kiddush lunch following the service. More details are on this page.

On Friday, December 3rd, Men's Club will prepare a baked potato bar dinner for Chanukah, following the shabbat evening service. We will need volunteers to prepare and serve.

Men's Club wishes everyone a happy Thanksgiving, and a special thanks to all our veterans on Veterans Day.

CALLING ALL VETERANS BACK TO DUTY. VETERAN APPRECIATION SHABBAT SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 13TH

You will have priority for an Aliyah, carry the Torah, an English reading, prayer for the State of Israel in Hebrew, leading a Service or giving the Da'var Torah. You also may wear your military ribbon's.

To participate: email hrsnow21@gmail.com, state the honor you would like.

Thank you for your military service.

LIGHTS UP Israel!

DECEMBER 18-29, 2022

We are headed for Israel on a community journey designed to inspire, illuminate, and delight! Together, we will spend ten special days on a classic trip traveling throughout the Land of Israel - discovering the richness of Jewish history, going on daily adventures, celebrating Chanukah(!), and enjoying the many cultural and culinary delights that Israel has to offer.

ADULT EDUCATION

Adult Education

Life-long learning begins here

The Prophets of Ancient Israel with Dr. Michael Kogan, Mondays at 7:30PM

Join Dr. Kogan as he leads this on-going class in a study of the prophets. with a deep dive into the prophet Ezekiel. Texts are examined from a scholarly point of view, asking when, where and why these immortal texts were written, and engaging in a close reading of the contents. With both Jewish and Christian students enrolled, interpretations of these shared texts are presented from both faiths, encouraging students to come to their own conclusions as to their ultimate meaning.

Danish and Drash: with Rabbi Ravski Wednesdays at 1:00PM

Come and study some of the highlights of this week's parsha and the commentary. Rabbi Ravski will bring the Torah, you bring the Danish!

Talmud: with Rabbi Ravski Thursdays at 7:00PM

The Babylonian Talmud is the foundation on which the understanding and interpretation of our Religious Laws, Rituals, Customs and Traditions are based. It has its own terminology, logic and structure. Join Rabbi Ravski in exploring all that the Talmud has to teach us in this weekly Talmud Class. We will be studying the 10th chapter of Tractate Pesachim, one of the most well-known chapters in the entire Talmud. It defines what a Passover Seder looks like, the order, the four questions, how much wine to drink and so much more!
