Dear Graduates – may you all be well and healthy,

It is wonderful to honor such a special group of young men and women upon their graduation. A graduation is a סיוּם, a completion of a book in the life of your education. When one finishes a segment of their education, the term סיוּם is used to highlight this special accomplishment. For some it is the completion of high school and on to a gap year in Israel, and for others it is college. Still, for others it is on to high school. We join in wishing this special group of youngsters much success and Bracha.

It should be noted that upon the completion of an educational milestone, the word used is סיוּם - Siyum and not גמר to finish or conclude. How does the word סיוּם differ from the word גומר? They both seem to be defined as complete.

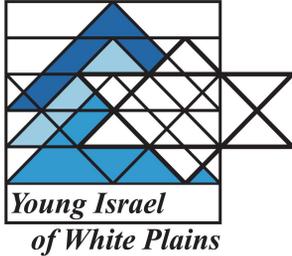

The answer lies in the very letters of the word סיוּם. The two outer letters and the most pronounced are the ו and the מ ( מ' סופית ). Well, what makes the ו and the מ - מ' סופית two special letters? The answer lies in the fact that these two letters are totally connected and thus, never end. The education cycle must be seen as continuous. When one achieves a level of accomplishment, the cycle continues, for our pursuit of Torah and education never ends as גמר would indicate. Rather, the word סיוּם says that our learning continues.

The "י" in this magical word of דיו"ט is raised which represents the elevated holiness of Torah. The "ו" is a letter of connect (and) indicative of extending the "י" and bringing the lessons of the elevated "י" representing the teachings of Torah, down into one's daily life. The "ו" the connecting letter will connect all levels of your studies to the next level. So indeed you are experiencing a דיו"ט and not a גמר . All graduates should go from one level of learning to the next; education should never end.

All the members of the shul and I are very proud of you, our graduates. We have seen how you have developed and grown into such fine young adults. The loving and nurturing environment of our shul has added much to your education and personal development. You are people of stature and we know that you will continue in the spirit of the Mishnah "how good it is the combination of Torah and Derech Eretz."

Mazal Tov and Hatzlacha,

This year we have experienced a pandemic that no one thought possible in the year 2020. Yet we know that life is often unpredictable. The many who have suffered pain, illness, and in many cases, death, itself, will always be remembered. Most importantly, we must acknowledge and not forget the brave first responders who raced into the danger to be of help. In every difficult situation there are people who rise up and sacrifice for others. Their instincts are not about themselves, but rather what could they do for others during a trying time.

The ambulance medics who rush knowingly ill and contagious patients to the hospital. The emergency room doctors and nurses who stand and care for those suffering from the coronavirus knowing full well the risks that are posed to themselves. Yet, they realize they are the only ones who can help the stricken. The technicians who must make certain that x-rays and scans are performed perfectly. The custodians who must clean and sterilize hospital surfaces; the cafeteria workers who must feed the hospital. Tonight we salute these great people and say thank you for your service and sacrifice. We are inspired by your dedication and selflessness. You are a living manifestation of what the Rabbis say, "Saving one person is equivalent to saving the entire world."

May Hashem bless you with good health. With heartfelt sentiments of appreciation, we salute you for your heroism.

It goes without saying that the last few months have been challenging to us all. Despite the fact that for the most part we have not seen each other, we still remain a community that cares for one another.

This week's Parsha, Shlach, talks about sending prominent members ahead of the nation to prepare it for its historical destiny. In that vein we honor our graduates who will be venturing forth into the world to not only blaze their own path, but also blaze a path for the future of Bnei Israel. For inspiration they need look no further than our first responders, whom we are also honoring, as prime examples of how to face adversity and overcome unforeseen challenges.

We are proud of you all, from the kindergarten graduate to the graduate student. From the Emergency Room physician to the person who checks in on their elderly neighbor.

We have a wonderful community that supports each other, and to that we are grateful to Hashem.

I would also like to express my gratitude to the Dinner Committee who put this Virtual Dinner together on short notice, to the members of the Board and the various committees who provide invaluable services to the shul and to Rabbi Greenberg who shepherds us through these difficult times.

MAZEL TOV

To the Hebrew Home at Riverdale

- Mazel Tov for creating weekly webinars to keep family members informed.
- Mazel Tov for hosting 200 FaceTime visits a week for residents and their loved ones.
- Mazel Tov for creating a state-of-the-art COVID testing center to test all staff twice a week.
- Mazel Tov for receiving a clean bill of health from the NYS Department of Health.
- Mazel Tov for providing superior care and compassion to residents at such a crucial time.

For over a century, the Hebrew Home at Riverdale continues to be a pioneer in long term care. Their Jewish roots guide their commitment to every resident, and drive their mission forward. It's why they're at the forefront of implementing best-in-class safety measures, and leading the way, safely.
