“And now, write down for yourselves this song: teach it to the people of Israel; place it in their mouths; in order that this song become a witness against the people of Israel” (Deuteronomy 31:19).

In this concluding scene from the Torah, God instructs Moses and Joshua to record the epic poem—which God is about to dictate—foretelling Israel’s fate as a sovereign people in the Promised Land. It describes a people cared for by God from their birth, beautiful and glorious in its appearance, rebellious in its youth, punished by enemies from within and without, and ultimately freed from misfortune by God’s miraculous power.

Is this ultimate glory and success to be ours, in our day? If our past actions have written our history, then we must compose new and forward-thinking songs if we wish to mend the ways we live and to forge a new future, both for ourselves and for our community. May this work of renewal be earnest and sincere.

Our worship this year will reflect this solemn responsibility. It will be serious and joyous, earnest and hopeful, intense and optimistic. Let us, thereby, support one another throughout these Days of Awe.
Vibrant and enduring—two words that describe this congregation’s past and future.

Nothing shows our vibrancy more than being with our community, both online and in person, at the holiest time of year. It’s always wonderful to see old friends and make new ones as we come together to start the Jewish new year. Enduring characterizes our strength as we face challenges together and come out as a stronger community. We look forward to once again fusing two modes of worship for the High Holy Days. A few reminders as we enter this season:

- Our most recent renovation included the installation of t-coil hearing loop technology. If you have not done so already, please check with your audiologist on how to connect your hearing aid to our assisted listening technology.

- Our chairs are placed to ensure adequate and safe spacing. Please do not move the chairs from the rows they are in or into any aisles.

IF YOU ARE ATTENDING IN PERSON, PLEASE FOLLOW THESE GUIDELINES:

- We strongly encourage masks in the building for all worship, events, and meetings.

- We ask that everyone continue to be honest about your personal needs and be respectful of the needs and preferences of others in our congregation.

IF YOU ARE WORSHIPING WITH US AT HOME:

- To view our High Holy Day worship online, please refer to your email for the link to our livestream.

- You can follow along with the text on the screen.

I am grateful for all the time and passion our staff and volunteers dedicate to make the High Holy Day experience meaningful for the Temple Beth El community. Thank you for joining, whether in person or online. I wish you all a happy, healthy, and sweet new year.

ACHOT K’TANAH

text by Avraham Chazan Girundi (Spain, ca. 13th century CE)

Achot k’tanah t’filoteha.
Orchah v’ona’ah t’hiloteha.
Eil na f’fa na l’machaloteha.
Tichleh shanah v’kil’loteha.

B’noam milim l’cha tikra’eh.
V’shir v’hilulim ki l’cha na’eh.
Al mah ta’alim einecha. V’tir’eh, zarim ochlim nachaloteha.
Tichleh shanah v’kil’loteha.

Chizku v’gilu, ki shod gamar.
L’tzur hochilu, b’rito shamar
lachem, v’ta’aleh l’Tziyon, v’amar:
“Solu! Solu m’siloteha!”
Tacheil shanah uvirchoteha.

Translation:
The “Little Sister”—her prayers she does arrange, and she recites her praises.
O God, please, heal her illnesses now. May the year and its curses come to an end!
With pleasant words she calls out to You, and with song and praises, as befits You.
How long will You hide Your eyes? Look! Strangers are consuming her possessions!
When will You raise Your daughter up from the pit and from the house of imprisonment; [will You] break her yoke?
May You perform wonders when You go forth as a mighty one, to bring an end and conclusion to that which would destroy her.
Be strong and rejoice, for the devastation has ended.
Place your hope in the Rock, for God keeps God’s covenant with you, and you shall ascend to Zion, and God shall declare:
“Make way! Make a path for her!” Let the [new] year and its blessings begin!
At the start of this new year, we tremble in awe and wonder as we answer the call to t’shuvah, repentance. Despite the difficulty, we yearn to become better than we have been, for we possess the great ability to atone and return to righteous ways of living.

Hin’ni is a prayer of great humility. Offered by the cantor near the inauguration of our worship, it petitions God to accept the leader’s entreaties on behalf of the congregation even if the prayers themselves are less than perfect. Eschewing pride and embracing a sense of resolute commitment, the cantor says, “Although unworthy, I rise to pray and seek favor for Your people Israel, for they have entrusted me with this task.” This year, as a response to the humble words of the cantor, we invite the congregation to offer similar hopes for their own words of repentance and forgiveness. A translation of the cantor’s Hin’ni can be found on pages 17 and 18 of the Rosh Hashanah volume of Mishkan HaNefesh.

We resolve to mend our ways, but do not always succeed. Our confessions of wrongdoing do not come easily to us. Our pride is as tall as the mountains, our vanity is as wide as the sea, and excuses abound. We travel aimlessly through our lives, and we sometimes neglect those people and matters closest to us.
But there are no secrets, especially to us. We know our faults, and we cannot ignore them. Therefore, let us open our hearts to the call of this sacred season, so that the words of our prayers may serve to renew us and refine us. May we achieve the strength to say to another person, “I am sorry.” And may our deeds of goodness—in the year to come—make us worthy to hear the divine assurance of “salachti”—“I have forgiven.”

WE WANT TO HEAR FROM YOU!

Please plan to participate in a Town Hall meeting focusing on our congregation.

These facilitated conversations, led by chairs Ann Imig and Sarah Byer, are an opportunity for us, as a community, to reflect on our congregational strengths, aspirations, and opportunities as we embark on the transition to our next rabbi, who will begin in July 2024.

Three Town Hall dates are offered:

- Sunday, November 20, 3:00 pm • TBE
- Monday, December 12, 12:00 pm • Zoom
- Thursday, January 19, 7:00 pm • TBE

Please go to tbemadison.org/event/townhall to RSVP for one of these dates or to express interest in alternative ways to give feedback if you cannot attend.

We sincerely hope to hear from every member of our community at this time of transformation.

Please contact Leslie Coff, president of the TBE Board of Trustees, at president@tbemadison.org with any questions.
From Generation to Generation

Recognizing the enormous value of our spiritual leaders, Temple Beth El members have been inspired to support our newly formed Endowment for Spiritual Leadership, a resource that will ensure our ability to sustain a vibrant Temple community, led by clergy who will continue to inspire and energize our congregation.

Generous lead donors have contributed over $4 million toward our aspiration of an $8 million endowment, which will fund the costs of providing spiritual leadership for the foreseeable future. These inspirational donations are the sparks that helped kindle this important endeavor. We are seeking the active participation of every member of Temple Beth El to help us reach our goal.

Your donation will allow the Temple Beth El clergy to continue to enrich our Jewish experiences.

Your gift will transform our future.
Go to tbemadison.org/spiritualleadership to learn more, or contact Stefanie Kushner at exec@tbemadison.org or 608-238-3123.

SWARSENSKY MEMORIAL WEEKEND: CELEBRATING MADISON’S WOMEN RABBIS
Thursday, November 10–Sunday, November 13

The events begin on Thursday evening with a video viewing and discussion of the play "Stories from the Fringe," based on the experiences of women rabbis. The Shabbat d’var Torah on Friday evening and Torah Study on Saturday will be offered by Madison women rabbis. In the Saturday afternoon panel, “Beyond the Bimah,” local women rabbis will describe their professional work in roles outside of leading a congregation. At the Sunday morning keynote, “American Judaism’s Greatest Challenges,” several invited women rabbis will present their perspectives on the challenges we face in the American Jewish community.

FAMILY HANUKKAH PARTY
Sunday, December 18, 4:00–6:00 pm

We’re planning for a fun, festive, and family-oriented Hanukkah party. Bring your own hanukkiyah to light. Would you like to help plan this event? Contact Aleeza at engage@tbemadison.org to join the planning team!

TBE CONGREGATIONAL ADVENTURE TO ISRAEL
June 12–June 23, 2023

Led by Rabbi Jonathan Biatch and Cantor Jacob Niemi, this will be a fun, engaging, and energetic tour, including historically traditional and newly important sites, discussions of crucial issues currently facing the Jewish state, visits with movers and shakers involved in these issues, special programming for kids ages 8–14, free time to explore on your own, and a TBE community experience to create relationships and memories for us all. To learn more, join us for an information session on October 20 or 23 or contact Rabbi Biatch.
GET INVOLVED

SOCIAL ACTION INITIATIVES

High Holy Day Food Drive

Yom Kippur involves fasting for one day, yet millions of Americans feel this hunger regularly. Every year at this time, we ask the congregation to honor our fast by making a monetary contribution to hunger relief.

Last year Temple Beth El was recognized as a bronze level sponsor of Second Harvest Foodbank and NBC15 Share Your Holidays Food Drive. Second Harvest Foodbank distributes millions of pounds of food each year in southern Wisconsin. Our goal is to reach that level again this year with a $10,000 contribution. Additional funds raised will also support our other hunger relief efforts through our ongoing partnerships with food pantries, community centers, and schools.

We hope you will be able to give generously to support these hunger relief initiatives. Any amount you can give is greatly appreciated.

You can donate online at tbemadison.org/donate by choosing “High Holy Day Food Drive” as the payment type. Or you can send a check to the Temple office using the envelope in your High Holy Day mailing. Please make checks payable to Temple Beth El and include “Food Drive” on the memo line.

Mitzvah Day Returns!

“Mitzvot” means “commandments,” the ritual or ethical acts a Jew is supposed to do.

For many years, Mitzvah Day was a signature event for Temple Beth El. On one day, congregants of all ages came together to do work needed by others in Dane County. It was an opportunity to serve our community, model Jewish values for our children, and strengthen our congregation by working together.

By popular demand, Mitzvah Day is coming back in April 2023. We will offer a wide range of projects suitable for all ages and abilities, such as cooking, sewing, painting, and planting. We will work both at Temple and out in the community, with a community meal before or after. Everyone is welcome and everyone is needed.

Planning for Mitzvah Day is now underway. If you would like to captain a project or help in some other way, please contact one of our co-chairs: Lynn Renner, Linda Reivitz, and Staci Rieder, or Aleeza A. Hoffert, program coordinator. Come join us as we have fun by doing good!

Save the date: Sunday, April 23, 2023!
LIFELONG LEARNING OPPORTUNITIES

Adult B’nai Mitzvah

Did you miss out on the b’nai mitzvah experience when you were 13? Want to improve your Hebrew and learn how to chant prayers and Torah? Would you like to join a small cohort working toward a meaningful ceremony? Temple Beth El is starting Adult B’nai Mitzvah Prep after the High Holy Days! Join us from October 2022 through April 2023 for Hebrew, prayer, and Torah studies, culminating in the group Adult B’nai Mitzvah service in June 2023.

For more information, contact Director of Lifelong Learning Nicole A. Jahr, RJE, at learn@tbemadison.org.

Chai Mitzvah

Take a personal Jewish journey with a small group of (new) friends. This nine-month engagement is created to enhance or ignite individual Jewish practice, study, and community. The Chai Mitzvah group meets with Director of Lifelong Learning Nicole A. Jahr, RJE, for text-based conversations, guidance on adopting or deepening a ritual or spiritual practice, and a social action project. We celebrate our completion of the Chai Mitzvah journey with a certificate and ceremony. Classes begin in October 2022 with dates and times to be determined by participants.

Share your interest with Nicole Jahr at learn@tbemadison.org. We look forward to you joining Temple Beth El’s 18 past Chai Mitzvah graduates!

Jewish Identity Series

We are pleased to introduce a new Jewish Identity Series starting in 2023. Through unique and exciting sessions, we will explore Jewish identities across many ages and stages. You are welcome to attend all sessions or choose those that connect most closely to where you are in your Jewish journey.

February 19: introduction to the series

March 12: session for parents/guardians of children of all ages

March 19: session for teenagers and college-aged students

March 26: session for Soaring Eagles (empty nesters)

Our Heartfelt Thanks

The High Holy Days at Temple Beth El are made possible through the efforts of many volunteers, staff, and lay leadership.

We are grateful to all who gave their time and talent to make this a meaningful High Holy Day experience for our congregation.

SPECIAL THANKS TO

Our anonymous donor for the beautiful flowers
The Religious Practices Committee for coordinating our honors
The Social Action Committee for organizing food drive donations
Sisterhood for organizing the High Holy Day greetings
Men’s Club for ushering and building our sukkah
The Communications Committee for their input and assistance in creating our High Holy Day materials
Our facilities and administrative teams for their tremendous efforts in preparing for this holiday season
