FROM THE BIMA

Rabbi Randall Mark

A question that has often challenged the Jewish community is “Who is a Jew?” For us at Shomrei Torah it is not a challenging question since we use the halakhic answer – one born of a Jewish mother or converted by a rabbi. A more germane question for us these days is “Who is a Member?” Our bylaws define the qualifications for membership as being 18 years old, of good moral character and of the Jewish faith. This used to be inline with our parent body, the United Synagogue of Conservative Judaism. Conservative Judaism (CJ) is based upon a commitment to tradition combined with a willingness to change with the times. To that end, they changed their bylaws to reflect the changing nature of Conservative congregations.

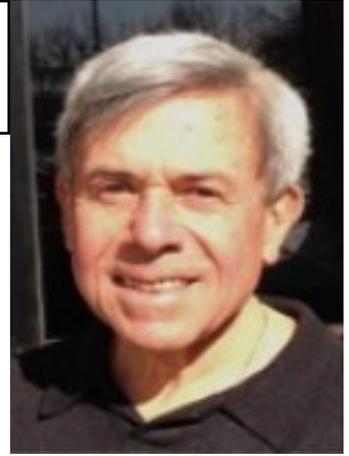

When I came to Wayne 25 years ago, non-Jewish spouses were persona non grata. Their names were not on our membership list and mailings were addressed to only the Jewish partner. Baby Namings for interfaith couples were not done on the bima. Non-Jewish parents had no role at B’nai Mitzvah. I’m happy to say that all of those things have changed over the years. One of my goals as your rabbi has been to make every family feel welcome and that has been true of our interfaith families as well. We think the time has come to take the next step and update our bylaws to welcome the non-Jewish spouse as an official legitimate member of the congregation. Our interfaith families are already socially integrated into the fabric of our community; now we want to make it official in the document that defines us.

So what would this change mean? On an emotional level, it would mean that our non-Jewish members would officially become members in their own right. It would also mean that they could now vote at the annual congregational meeting. Of course, if approved, this leads to the next question – as members, are they entitled to serve in synagogue leadership? After much discussion the recommendation being made to you, our members, is that non-Jewish members can serve as Trustees, but not as Officers of our Board. None of this changes anything religiously. It is strictly about synagogue membership.

If you have questions or concerns, please feel free to be in touch with me or any member our Keruv committee: Barry Blecherman, Linda Gaba, Stacey Maines or Phil Nuccetelli.

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Henry Ramer

Sometimes I wonder if members of our Congregation pay attention to written communications from the synagogue.

I raise this question because often invitations and other information published in L'Chaim goes unnoticed. Occasionally, after an important event passes, I'll ask a member what they thought and hear an answer like "What, how come nobody told me Mr. XYZ was speaking? If only I had known, I for sure would have signed on." Never mind that the event was announced at three weekly services and was published in L'Chaim

Maybe our delivery of information in L'Chaim is ineffective. If that is the case, does anybody have a better idea? The same is true when we send an announcement in a separate emailed flyer. So as not to overload your email inbox, we try to reserve these kinds of communications for more important announcements. So if we send you an email, it's because the content is important enough to merit your attention.

But at least for L'Chaim, there are good reasons why we do not mail a paper copy to all synagogue members. There's an additional cost, demand on volunteer effort and time lag involved with the USPS. We use bulk rate postage, which requires a volunteer to drop off boxes of printed material at the post office in Paterson. When bulk rate mail arrives to it's addressee is a hit or miss proposition, sometimes taking weeks. The printing expense and wear and tear on our copy machine puts a dent in our budget. But if that is the most effective way of reaching you, please request that we send you via mail a paper copy, as we do now for a handful of members.

For spot announcements and occasional events of interest, we may send a printed announcement through regular mail, but because of the cost we will save this format for special purposes and where possible, try to consolidate into the mailings as much information as is possible.

And please let me have your ideas on the best way for us to communicate with you about important information and activities at the shul.

The Annual Congregational Meeting of Shomrei Torah will take place on Tuesday, March 30 at 8:15 p.m. Members of the synagogue can attend virtually by activating the Zoom link below. The agenda and all required notices will be sent to members in a separate communication, as required by our by-laws.

Henry Ramer, President.

Volunteer of the Month, Corie Eisenberg Capodiferro

I grew up in Marlboro, New Jersey. I moved to Wayne about three years ago with my husband, Craig. Growing up, I was a member of the Marlboro Jewish Center where I attended pre-school, Hebrew School and Hebrew High School. I have very fond memories of spending time with the congregation where I celebrated so many holidays with my family.

When we moved to Wayne we wanted to start a family and join a Conservative congregation where we could meet other members of the community, continue my traditions and create new ones. Since joining Shomrei Torah we have found our congregation to be a very warm and supportive community. It's great to know that there is a place we can go to celebrate our happy events, and at the same time, find a peaceful break in our hectic lives when attending services.

In April, my husband Craig and I had our first child, Mason. I hope that as he grows up he will find Shomrei Torah to be a happy, comfortable and peaceful place where he will learn and develop his own connection with Judaism.

I attended Rider University where I earned a BA in business. I currently work for a technology company, Speakap, where I serve as the Head of Performance Marketing. When I have spare time I enjoy cooking, watching movies, and doing home-related projects.

I became very involved with Shomrei Torah during the pandemic when our High Holiday services went remote and virtual. With the help and guidance of David Kleinstein, for which I am very grateful, our make-shift audio-visual team was able to pre-record sessions of Torah readings, prayers, passages, and announcements. I came to shul with my infant son Mason, a few nights prior to the High Holidays to assist the team. It felt really good to be able to help the congregation, and at the same time, meet a lot of really lovely members who were also helping to make the High Holidays special. While I can't say that I am an audiovisual master, I can say that I am really happy that I could contribute. It confirmed my belief that this is the right congregation for us. My involvement made me feel like I was a part of something special.

It was thrilling to be sitting in my home during the holidays, with my small extended family gathered around the TV to go to shul. They were all very impressed with what Shomrei Torah was able to do to make the holidays very special and personal. It was also very special to enjoy the holidays with special people. It was a respite for all of us who have very hectic lives.

What does being Jewish mean to me? Being Jewish is a sense of pride, a gift, a legacy, and a unifying force. It is a set of shared beliefs, shared values, shared holidays and shared rules. It is a connection to my family history, to my community, and to a deeper meaning in the universe. It is a culture, a special sense of humor, a set of recipes that have been passed down from generation to generation. It is a guiding light to my life, and a reason to “connect the dots” and to try to see a larger purpose in everything I do. It is a warmth that lives in my heart.

2021 Garden News

We are beginning to prepare a planting plan for the 2021 season in the Synagogue vegetable garden. We expect that by early June, when our crops are beginning to get ready for picking, we'll be able to resume the use of our pickings as contributions to food pantries and maybe even for use in festive meals at the synagogue itself.

The only thing missing from this picture is you. We need a base of volunteer gardeners so that not too much work falls on any particular individual's shoulders. If we can't get enough volunteer support, maintaining another garden season will be difficult if not impossible, and we be unable to continue to contribute fresh produce to the food pantry.

The volunteer work is satisfying and fun, suitable for families, experienced gardeners and novices alike. For kids, it's a great exposure to "nature" and will teach that vegetables and flowers originate from the earth, not from supermarket shelves. There will always be a more experienced gardener present to teach and supervise. All distancing and masking health requirements will be observed .

If you think you'd like to participate, please contact Henry Ramer at henryramer@optonline.net or 973 460 2375.

MARITZA SHELLEY: A SURVIVOR SHARES HER STORY

Monday, March 8, 2021, 11:00am-12:00pm

(via Zoom)

For the registration link or to learn more, email Dr. Alison Dobrick:
dobricka@wpunj.edu

Maritza Shelley was born in Budapest, Hungary in 1928. After Hungary was invaded in 1944, Maritza was forced to perform forced labor with her sister. Maritza was granted the opportunity to visit her mother in Budapest, at which time they were rounded up and sent on a death march. As they marched, they were reunited with Maritza's sister. They escaped the death march to the Mauthausen concentration camp, passing as non-Jewish Hungarian refugees fleeing the Russian Red Army and pretending to be relating to a farming family. They hitchhiked to Budapest with a convoy of German officers. They survived the rest of the war by hiding in Budapest using false papers. Maritza left Hungary in 1947 and moved to New York, where she has lived ever since. She earned a degree in the Humanities and Art History from NYU, then worked as a photographer, and later as a paralegal. For 18 years, she has been leading tours at the Brooklyn Museum and plans to continue as long as she is able.

WAYNE INTERFAITH NETWORK

Wanting to provide a little more background information on WIN, our President, Henry Ramer, asked me to provide some insight into how I got involved. Here's how the story began, and where Shomrei Torah and WIN stand today.

The date: February 10, 1994

The place: Temple Beth Tikvah

Cast of Characters: Lee Ann Beck/Betty Singer and other Wayne church and synagogue members

The plot: Lee Ann (Secretary of the Wayne Interfaith Network) asks Betty to come to a WIN meeting. She suggests that it fits in well with Betty's interests. Betty, hesitant to commit to anything new but trusting her long friendship with Lee Ann, agrees to attend. Incredibly impressed with the group, Betty agrees to continue coming to meetings and, along with Lee Ann, represent Shomrei Torah at WIN and represent WIN at Shomrei Torah. Eventually Betty succeeds Lee Ann as Secretary.

In 1996 our new rabbi, Rabbi Randall Mark, encouraged us to embrace a new United Synagogue program called Operation Isaiah. It called upon synagogues to support local pantries with a program designed to collect food and basic necessities at the High Holidays. At the same time Temple Beth Tikvah was participating in the Reform movement's High Holiday Food Drive. As both groups were represented at WIN, we decided to pursue our individual Drives in accordance with the needs of our respective houses of worship, tempered by the realities of the WIN Pantry. Eventually Shomrei and TBT decided that TBT would collect food and Shomrei would collect 'basic necessities' (paper products, personal care products, cleaning products). It has been a well oiled, reasonably happy shidduch ever since. For the last two years Sarah Blecherman has chaired the project for Shomrei, this year meeting the challenges of the pandemic which cancelled High Holiday services, closed the synagogue to public access, minimized physical contact among volunteers, and working around the COVID-19 restrictions which affected both the synagogue and the Pantry.

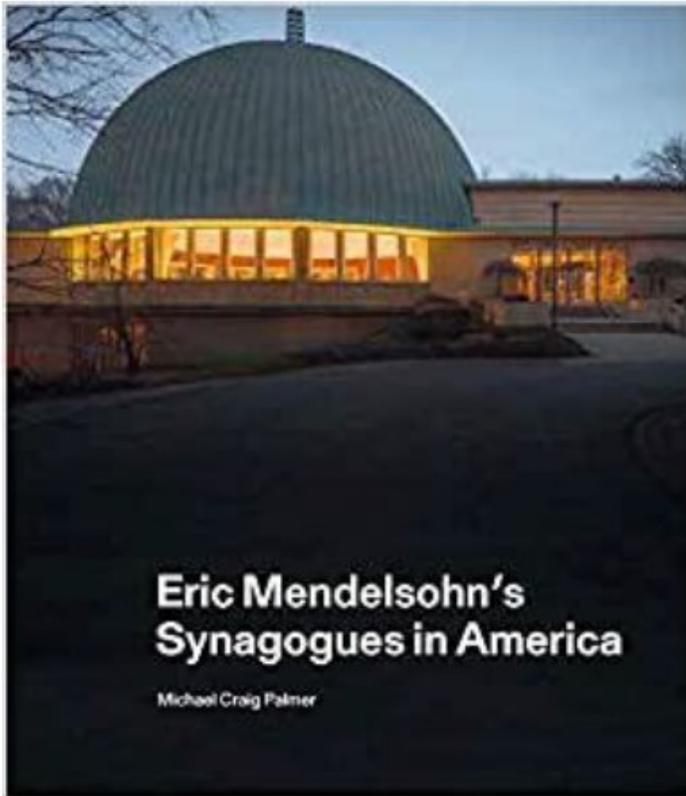

Operation Isaiah made our congregation very aware of needs within the Wayne community. People never knew that there were hungry people in Wayne, people living on the edge. Because Operation Isaiah did exactly what the USCJ hoped, Shomrei Torah became increasingly aware of and helpful to WIN and the Pantry it supports. The WIN Pantry has sustained many Wayne residents (one-time clients; occasional clients; long term clients) through many floods and hurricanes, a Super Storm, The Great Recession, and now a Pandemic. WIN has been the stable on-going resource in town even as other groups have thankfully 'sprung up' to meet emergency needs.

Currently WIN keeps adapting to the ongoing needs and changes which the pandemic has engendered. For a current list of needed items (which you can drop off at the WIN Chest in the lobby of the synagogue) visit our web site (www.winfoodpantry.org). We also accept Shop Rite gift cards which may be purchased as Scrip from the synagogue. Denominations of $50 and $25 are preferred. Personal checks, payable to WIN may be sent to WIN, PO Box 3341, Wayne, NJ 07474-3341. You can also like us on Facebook @winfoodpantry. Every donation counts. We are all-volunteer and we take no government funds.

While WIN continues to provide for those in Wayne who are in need of food and basic necessities as before, we are also updating our procedures, and internal/external communications. Shomrei Torah congregants will be kept informed via L'Chaim, the weekly e-newsletter and/or direct e-mails with any urgent requests.

Thanks so very much for your consistent and enthusiastic support of the Wayne Interfaith Network through this long pandemic and particularly difficult winter. At Shomrei Torah every day is mitzvah day. Todah Rabbah and Yasher Koach.

Betty Singer,
Shomrei Torah Representative to the Wayne Interfaith Network

Eric Mendelsohn’s Synagogues in America

Tuesday, March 9 8:15 pm
following evening minyan.

Eric Mendelsohn designed and built four synagogues in the United States that became benchmarks for modern American synagogue architecture.

The book brings Mendelsohn’s lyrical architecture to the attention of contemporary Jewish communities and to discuss the roots of his Jewish identity, from which his synagogue architecture arose.

Mendelsohn’s first building was a Beit Tahara at the Jewish cemetery in Allenstein, East Prussia (now Olsztyn, Poland), his hometown. His final building was Temple Emanuel in Grand Rapids, Michigan. At the end of the 1920s, Mendelsohn’s Berlin firm was the largest in Germany. During the 1930s, having left Germany for good, he built Hadassah Hospital in Jerusalem, Rambam Hospital in Haifa and the Weizmann House at the Weizmann Institute in Rehovot, Israel. He and his wife, Louise, entered the United States as refugees in 1941. His four American synagogues in their design and siting integrate his personal identity as a Jew with the post-War, post-Holocaust, Zionist identities of the American Jewish community in the late 1940s and early 1950s.
