

Nuclear Weapons: What's Happening? What Can We Do?

Temple Beth Hatfiloh and the Olympia Coalition to Abolish Nuclear Weapons invite you to learn about very significant new dangers – and also ways that we can protect humanity from those worsening dangers.

Sunday July 19, 2020, from 6:30 to 8:00 pm by Zoom video. (You may sign in as early as 6:15.)

This art work above ("Break Free" was created by Anjali Chandrashekar from New York. It was published on a calendar produced by the United Nations Office for Disarmament Affairs.

After the Cold War ended 30 years ago, some things got better, but in the past few years Trump and Congress have seriously escalated the dangers of nuclear war. Mainstream media have not informed the public, so well-informed people are publicizing information and helping people solve the problems.

Three members of the Olympia Coalition Against Nuclear Weapons (see below) will present information on the threats posed by of nuclear weapons nowadays – and information on how people can organize at the grassroots and urge Congress to prevent nuclear war.

Tonight's Zoom video presentation will include surprising, alarming news about the escalating nuclear policies and weapons – including Trump's rejection of treaties that have been working – but also some positive opportunities in Congress and the United Nations Treaty on the Prohibition of Nuclear Weapons – and much more!

Tonight's presenters are well informed about nuclear weapons:

- Joanne Dufour has experience with the United Nations and the Unitarian-Universalist church's efforts for disarmament.
- Glen Anderson has long experience working on these issues and founded the Olympia Coalition to Abolish Nuclear Weapons.
- Mark Fleming is a leader in Olympia's chapter of Veterans for Peace and has studied nuclear policies.

We invite you to participate in this Zoom video event. You may sign in as early as 6:15 pm for this 6:30-8:00 session. Please register in advance, so we can provide the link and password for joining.
