by Kate Jessica Raphael

Tuesday, January 15, 7:00 pm

When Rania--the only female Palestinian police detective in the northern West Bank --discovers the body of a foreign woman on the edge of her village, no one seems to want her look too deeply into what's happened. But she finds an ally in Chloe--a gay, Jewish-American peace worker with a camera and a big attitude--and together, with the help of an annoying Israeli policeman, they work to solve the murder.

Shabbat Shirah Kumsitz

Saturday, January 19, 4:00 pm - 7:00 pm

The TBH choir, Kol Neshama, invites you to the 4th annual Shabbat Shirah kumsitz! The day marks Shabbat Shirah, the Sabbath of Song, when we read Parshat Beshalach (Exodus 13:17-17:16), the Torah portion that includes the Song at the Sea. A kumsitz (from the Yiddish "come sit") describes gathering together to sing and socialize, either on the floor, in chairs, or around a campfire. Download the PDF flyer for more information.

Tu Bishvat Tisch (and Potluck)!

Friday, January 25, 6:00 pm

It's the New Year of the Trees! Join us as we celebrate Shabbat and another new year. Rather than a regular service, we will gather in the Social Hall for a tisch ("table") with song and story to celebrate these two events. For Tu Bishvat we will have a Seder full of symbolic foods as we connect with the natural world and different layers of mystical understanding. Please bring some dairy/vegetarian food to share! 6:00 pm. (Note earlier than normal service start time!)

Registration is open for the Earth/Assiyah: Embodying the Tree of Life Workshop

Saturday, January 26, 2:00 pm

Join Kohanot Nomy Lamm and Rebekah Erev in an ongoing series to cultivate a relationship with the elements through a Jewish lens. In this workshop we will explore the roots of Judaism through embodying the archetypes of trees in Jewish teachings. We'll pay reverence to the sacred tree of life explored in the Kabbalah, relate to the physical body of the Torah made of animal skin and plant matter, and create art that explores our commitment to taking care of the earth and trees we love. We'll sing, pray, eat, tend our bodies and plant seeds. No Hebrew or Singing Experience required. Beginners welcome. Learn more and find out how to register on our website.
