RR 1)..... What in the World am I Praying?

Want to better understand the meaning of what we are saying during services? We'll discuss the order, flow, and significance of our services and how we might derive more meaning from them.

RR 2)..... Jewish Perspectives on Life After Death

Without question, one of the most common questions rabbis are asked is "What do Jews believe happens after we die?" If only the answer were a simple one... This course will introduce participants to various authentic Jewish understandings.

RR 3)..... Biblical Humor

Using audiovisual and written materials, we'll explore a variety of approaches to the comedic material – both old and contemporary -- found in the Bible and together try to determine, "Funny or not?"

RR 4)..... Pearls of Jewish Wisdom

Participants might be surprised to learn how much of the wisdom we apply to daily life comes from Jewish tradition. Sources such as Pirkei Avot, Ecclesiastes and more will help shape our discussion, and perhaps even provide new pearls of wisdom to carry through the day.

RR 5). What Should We Do When the Answer isn't Clear?

Jewish communities have dealt with this reality for centuries. When questions arise regarding today's challenges and most complex issues, Jews have turned to "Responsa" literature to help provide guidance. We'll engage in the same process as our rabbinic sages in order to come up with answers to some contemporary issues confronting communities.

Rabbi Bradley Levenberg
Blevenberg@templesinaiatlanta.org

RB 1)..... How do Jews Understand Jesus?

We will explore the culture and religious texts to help us understand the Jewish approach to Jesus, and in the process learn how we are more closely connected to our Christian neighbors than we ever imagined!

RB 2)..... Where in the World is Mount Sinai?

Through maps and archeology and passages from the Torah, we will try to identify which of the 24 Mount Sinais in the Sinai desert is OUR Mount Sinai.

RB 3)..... The Secret of Life

This course will explore and sift through the dimensions and discussions of life...and how to unlock its secrets.

RB 4)..... Rock & Torah

Rabbi Brad will bring music, from the 60s-today, to help us better understand the Torah and some of the more popular teachings.

Rabbi Sam

RS 1)..... Is Buddhism Kosher?

Many concepts that we traditionally think are Buddhist (Yoga, Meditation, etc) have deep roots and relevance in Jewish tradition as well. In what way do Buddhism and Judaism intersect? We will participate in some of these Buddhist traditions, and study how they can enhance and bolster our Jewish lives, spirituality and understanding.

RS 2)..... Israel 101 Crash Course

Years of turmoil, strife and pain, how did the Arab- Israeli conflict even start? What have been key turning points in the Arab-Israel Conflict? What are important terms and dates we need to know in order to have a meaningful and nuanced conversation about Israel? Join me for a refresher and crash course on the Arab-Israeli Conflict.

RS 3)..... A Poet's View of Modern Israel

A Poet's View of Modern Israel History books and newspaper articles may teach us about events taking place in Israel, but can they adequately convey the emotions of the Israeli people as they navigate the modern Israeli experience? Yehuda Amichai (1924-2000), perhaps the greatest modern Israeli poet, gives voice to those emotions. This poetic exploration will not only give us a true taste of Israeli life, but it will also inspire us to find deeper connections to Israel, Judaism and language itself.

RS 4)..... The Sacred Challah

Bake Challah with Rabbi Sam as she shares with you her favorite challah recipe and learn about some of the Biblical and Midrashic Texts relating to the sacred act of making challah.
