Marking the Sacred:
The Temple Mount/Haram al-Sharif in Jerusalem

Providence College
June 5-7, 2017

This collaborative and ecumenical conference provides a common forum for leading international scholars to address the history and archaeology of this extraordinary 35-acre platform and its sacred status. The project seeks to be an agent of dialogue by bringing together diverse scholars in the humanities whose research furthers our understanding of the site and its historical context. Marking the Sacred is an opportunity for experts on the Jewish, Christian, and Muslim traditions to engage in unique and fruitful discussions leading to a scholarly publication that will reach a worldwide academic audience in multiple disciplines.

The Temple Emanu-El Library invites you to a community-wide book show and tell. Just show up with a book in hand and we will go around the room, one person at a time, and tell each other what our books are about and why we care about them.

Is there a Jewish book that inspired you? A good beach novel? A work of poetry? One that you read to your kids? Or maybe that your parents read to you? An author that provoked you? One you think someone else might enjoy?

Come share your book with us & participate in a Jewish book show & tell!

Saturday, June 10 after kiddush in the Bohnen Vestry

"We may have the same books, but we highlight entirely different passages."

The Temple Emanu-El Library invites you to a community-wide book show and tell. Just show up with a book in hand and we will go around the room, one person at a time, and tell each other what our books are about and why we care about them.

Refreshments will be served. RSVPs are not required. However, if you would like to ensure that the library has a copy of your book, or if you would like to donate a gift copy of your book to the library, please email Temple Librarian Joshua Jasper: jjjasper@teprov.org
There are so many new children’s books at the Rosen Library. Just since the start of May, almost ONE HUNDRED books have been added to the Children’s book section of the Rosen Library, both in the children’s book cart as well as the Juvenile bookcase. These new books include holiday books for throughout the Jewish year, in addition to Folktales and other general books on Jewish themes.

If you haven’t visited the Rosen Library Children’s section in a long time, it’s about time that you and your children take a visit to see the new books to discover. There are just so many books, that they’ll be mixed in with the old favorites. As always, some of the Rosen Library’s children’s book collection can be read in the downstairs playroom as well as the back of the main sanctuary, on a rotational basis. But along with the rest of the library, the entire Rosen Library is open every day to check these new books out!
Prospective Family Day at Camp Ramah

July 16 & July 30
10:30 AM - 2:00 PM

Join us this summer at Camp Ramah in New England for our Prospective Family Day from 10:30 am to 2:00 pm on Sunday, July 16 OR Sunday, July 30, 2017.

Come see for yourself where all of the Ramah magic happens! Check out our beautiful lake, refurbished tennis courts and sports fields, newly designed arts and crafts and woodworking studios, our thrilling ropes and adventure course and so much more. Tour our spacious bunks and see where our campers eat, pray and play! Learn about the unique Jewish education program which enables our campers to learn Hebrew and study their Jewish heritage in an informal setting. Meet the Director, Assistant Director and other key staff who will be there to answer questions and tell you about the extraordinary opportunities that await your child at Camp Ramah.

Camp Ramah offers two-week sessions for children currently in grades 2-3 and four or eight-week sessions for children in grades 3-10.

To learn more or to RSVP, contact Lori Fish Bard at: lorib@campramahne.org.
YETZIB PITHGAM

The following hymn is chanted on the second day of Shavuoth after the first verse of the Haphtarot.

True and firm are the words and symbols of praise to God uttered by the myriads of angels.
I sing His praise by the number of His laws carved in rows four.¹
Toward the expanse of water before Him floweth and issueth a river of fire;
In a mountain of snow there shineth a light, and sparks and flames are there.
He createth and seeth what is in the darkness, and the light dwelleth with Him;
He seeth far without hindrance and the hidden things are open to Him.
Permission for my prayer I ask of Him and of the men of learning
Versed in the Halakhah, Mishnah, Tosephta, Saphra and Siphre.²
May the King who liveth for ever protect His people who seek Him,
Whom He destined to be as the sand of the sea and countless as the dust of the earth.
May their valleys be white with flocks of sheep and their presses flow with wine.
Grant their desires and make their countenances shine as the light of day-break.
Give me strength, I pray, and lift up Thine eyes and see Thine enemies who deny Thee;
Let them be dumb as brick or stone, let them be put to shame.
Thanks are due to the meekest man to whom the Lord gave His Laws.³

¹ Allusion to the four parts of the code of R. Jacob ben Asher which are called “Turim” (“rows”).
² Rabbinic lore.
³ Moses,
The following hymn is chanted on the Second Day after the first verse of the Haphtarot.
