

Tot Shabbat

I like to count the omer. There are other Jewish practices I get more excited about - the Pesach Seder, hearing the shofar, complaining about the chazan. I like to count the omer. I do. But you know who REALLY likes to count the omer? Introducing Ohev's new Omer enthusiast, Count von Count the Omer! He LOVES to count. He counts every day; in fact, he loves to count so much he dedicates a Number of the Day every day. Sound familiar? He counts cars, sheep, dafs, mistakes by the ba'al koreh, but his favorite thing to count? THE OMER!

Fun Fact Number One: It's pronounced de Oh-mèr (get it?)

Fun Fact Number Two: Count von Count the Omer miscounted the Omer and baked 2 and 8 cookies for Tot Shabbat tomorrow. Day of the Omer tomorrow - 27! HA HA HA HA
