

Youth Coordinator

Ohev Sholom- The National Synagogue, a vibrant 300-member Modern Orthodox congregation in Washington, DC, is seeking a part-time youth program coordinator to oversee the design, implementation, and delivery of religious and social programming for one or more designated age ranges (0-5, grades k-5, grades 6-8, grades 9-12).

In this position the coordinator will work with clergy, the youth director, youth educator, and leadership to design and implement programming.

Responsibilities:

- With support from the youth director, create and implement programming for one or more designated age ranges (0-5, grades k-5, grades 6-8, grades 9-12)
- Engage with parents and kids to identify needs and create programs to address
- Develop and lead social and religious programs across the week, including one off and recurring programs
- May be required to help with Shabbat programming

Qualifications:

- Bachelors degree or current college student
- Experience working in Jewish programming whether camp, school, or synagogue setting
- Experience working with kids of the applicable age range

To apply, send resume and cover letter to youthcommittee@ostns.org.