In the Book of Isaiah, the prophet imagines God welcoming the far-flung nations of the world to gather together peacefully in Jerusalem. God emphasizes the openness and accessibility of the great Temple, reassuring the people: “My House shall be called a house of prayer for all people!

Today, in a world that Isaiah could never have imagined, the words of that ancient prophecy return to us with an unexpected ironic reversal: this year, with Shabbat and holiday services being moved from synagogues to live-streams, our houses are the ones being transformed into houses of prayer.

We do not yet know when we will be able to gather physically together again to worship side-by-side in our sacred spaces. Until then, we will be praying, learning, and meditating from our own private family-room couches and dining-room tables; all of us will have to find concrete and achievable ways to turn our everyday living spaces into receptacles of holiness and transcendence.

Where in your house will you be experiencing the High Holy Days this year, and how will you transform those spaces? It is not too soon for us to plan and begin making arrangements.

Holy Days this year, and how will you transform those spaces? It is not too soon for us to plan and begin making arrangements. There are some specific considerations to explore:

Will there be comfortable, spacious seating in your prayer space? Consider routing the livestream to a large television instead of a small laptop or tablet in order to reduce strain on your eyes, and make sure that the screen is placed somewhere that everyone in your household can watch from a comfortable position. You may find it meaningful to orient yourself so that your prayers are directed eastward, toward Jerusalem.

How can you elevate the physical environment in which you will be praying? You can transform the space with candles, family photos, or mementos that will guide your prayer and your reflections. Be sure that your phone will not ring or distract you during services.

What will you wear to make the holidays special? Few of us are dressing in formal attire during these days of working from home, but I encourage you to choose clothing for the High Holy Days that will fit with the mood of this sacred season.

Skip the sweatpants and pajamas for these Days of Awe, and dress in a way that will make you feel special. If wearing a favorite piece of jewelry, or a special cologne, will help make the day more meaningful, go ahead and do it. Any small steps we can take to make imbue these days with an added level of sanctity will make their impact more powerful and long lasting.

As we prepare to enter the High Holy Days together, all of us will need to take personal ownership of our spiritual experiences this season in new ways. We’ll have to personally attend to the way our worship space looks, feels and sounds. But in taking time now, before the first blast of the shofar, for this important preparatory work, we will have made the first important step toward transforming our own dwelling-places into houses of prayer.
CONGREGATION EMANU EL EXTENDS ACCESSIBILITY OF HIGH HOLY DAY WORSHIP TO BROADCAST TELEVISION

“Emanu El has continued to pride itself on how we make our worship services and programming accessible,” said Emanu El Program Director Jason Plotkin. “The current pandemic has only built upon this pursuit, encouraging our team to be more creative in the ways we reach our community.”

“This television accessibility will build upon our traditional means of broadcasting our worship including the synagogue’s website and Facebook page, as well as channels on Roku and YouTube.”

Kid Food: The Challenge of Feeding Children in a Highly Processed World
Thursday, September 3, 7:30 p.m.

Originally scheduled this past spring, the Evelyn Rubenstein Jewish Community Center of Houston (ERJCC) and Congregation Emanu El are proud to host former Becker parent Bettina Elias Siegel, author of Kid Food: The Challenge of Feeding Children in a Highly Processed World via Zoom. Siegel will be in conversation with Zibby Owens, host of the acclaimed podcast Mom’s Don’t Have Time to Read Books.

This program will be available for everyone to enjoy in the safety and comfort of their home. Find the registration link online and in our weekly communications.

As Siegel shares in her book, most parents start out wanting to raise healthy eaters then the world intervenes. In Kid Food, the author explores one of the fundamental challenges of modern parenting: trying to raise healthy eaters in a society intent on pushing children in the opposite direction.

Siegel will delve into the many influences that make feeding children healthfully today so difficult – from the prevailing belief that kids will only eat highly processed “kid food” to the near-constant barrage of “special treats.”

With expert advice, time-tested advocacy tips, and a trove of useful resources, Kid Food offers parents both the knowledge and the tools to navigate their children’s unhealthy food landscape – and change it for the better.

For Siegel, this interested started in 2020 as she sought to improve the food in her children’s school district, Houston ISD, and soon after launched The Lunch Tray, a blog about all things related to “kids and food, in school and out.” In 2015, Family Circle named Siegel one of the country’s “20 Most Influential Moms,” and in 2020, she was named one of “20 Heroines Revolutionizing Food Activism to Improve the Planet” by Food Tank.

Zibby Owens, the interviewer for the evening, is the host of the acclaimed podcast Mom’s Don’t Have Time to Read Books. Zibby’s articles on books and parenting have been published in The Washington Post, The New York Times, Parents, Real Simple, SELF and many other outlets, and she frequently appears on television shows like Good Morning America and Good Day LA.

Learning How Communities Address Homelessness with Thao Costis, CEO of SEARCH Homeless Services
Tuesday, October 6, 7:00 p.m.

As part of our recognition of World Homeless Day, please join us as we learn from Thao Costis, President and CEO of SEARCH Homeless Services, a leading Houston agency helping people move from the streets, into jobs, and safe, stable housing.

During her 23-year tenure, she’s focused on how SEARCH can best help people who are homeless transform their lives, improve their health, and change how the community addresses this problem. Prior to SEARCH, she worked at the Coalition for the Homeless of Houston/Harris County where she brought together 150 not-for-profit agencies to coordinate their efforts.

During the evening’s program, Costis will share how Houston’s model of addressing homelessness compares to those around the world, the role SEARCH plays in the greater Houston area.

This program will be available on the Congregation Emanu El Facebook page and on the Proler Chapel streaming video page.

Guests to the program are strongly encouraged to contribute questions, which will be used with a question and answer portion of the program with Rabbi Oren Hayon.

SEARCH is a not-for-profit agency that pursues a mission of providing hope, creating opportunity, and transforming lives. SEARCH services engage, house, educate, and increase income of individuals and families who are homeless.

Mitzvot: SEARCH Survival Kits

Throughout the month of October, Emanu El will be collecting survival kits during our synagogue’s operating hours. Survival kits are helpful items and information that is distributed to people living on the street. These kits can be kept in your car and distributed to those neighbors in need.

You can create a survival kit at home by placing some or all of the following items in a Ziploc bag: bottled water (high priority), Kleenex, toothbrush, toothpaste, comb, lip balm, socks, rain poncho and/or a SEARCH resource guide (Emanu El will provide the resource guide).

Tzedakah: Emanu El To Give Portion of Hunger Fund to SEARCH Homeless Services Emergency Foods Fund

As part of Emanu El’s ongoing commitment to fight hunger in Houston and longstanding tradition to collect donations for the Hunger Fund during our Yom Kippur services, Emanu El will be sending the traditional Hunger Fund envelope to our congregants in a Yom Kippur-specific delivery prior to the holiday.

This year as part of a week of activities surrounding World Homeless Day in early October, Emanu El will be directing a portion of Hunger Fund donations to the SEARCH Homeless Services’ Emergency Foods Fund. These monies will go to provide travel friendly, shelf stable foods for the SEARCH Mobile Outreach & Housing Navigation team members to distribute to clients as they work to move them from the streets.

In addition to returning your envelope to the synagogue, you may make donations online to the Hunger Fund at emanuelhouston.org.
BOOK REVIEW:
The Song of Jade Lily
by Kirsty Manning
THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 7:00 PM

Emanu'el's Sisterhood hosts bi-monthly book reviews throughout the year. These book reviews are open to the public. September's book review will be led by our congregant, Marilyn Nathan.

PLEASE NOTE: This book review will be held online via Zoom, and the information to access will be emailed ahead of time to those who register.

In September's book, we'll go back to 1939 as two young girls meet in Shanghai: Li Ho, a beautiful, talented Chinese national, and Romy, a Jewish refugee whose family fled Vienna during the Nazi occupation. Li and Romy form a heartfelt friendship that does not survive circumstances arising from the brutal Japanese takeover of Shanghai. Romy ultimately immigrates to Australia, where she marries Wilhelm and adopts a daughter. Fast forward to 2016, when Romy's granddaughter, Alexandra, leaves her job and her lover in London, flies to Australia to be with her grandparents (Romy and Wilhelm), and painstakingly unravels her grandmother's wartime history and her mother's ancestry. Ultimately, Alexandra finds that circumstances wrought by war lead to outcomes as complicated and poignant as the mysterious song of the jade lily.

To help us plan for our book reviews and to receive communications about future book reviews, we ask that you kindly RSVP by Wednesday, September 9, either online or by contacting the Sisterhood at sishood@emanuelhouston.org or 713.529.5771, ext. 233.

Barbara Bush Donor Luncheon Recap: Sisterhood Donor Finally Soars!

After pausing Sisterhood’s annual donor event, “Words Change the World”, a luncheon preceded by a Q & A with Barbara Pierce Bush originally planned for March 26, co-chairs Kathy Parven and Shelley Wisner took a pivot and re-set the date for August 19. Soon realizing an in-person event could not occur, we went virtual and the event soared!

Lunches made by Houston Catering Concepts (dessert from Dessert Gallery) were hand-delivered to guests (some opted to pick up their lunch). Each lunch had a special royal blue napkin roll encircled with a string of “pearls” in a nod to First Lady Barbara Bush! Many guests opted out of lunch and instead chose to donate the value of their meal to Second Servings, a Houston food rescue organization.

The day of the event arrived, and at noon, the pre-recorded program began. Our co-chairs shared that we not only met our goals but surpassed them. Due to the generosity of the guests, 1,000 new books will be donated to the Harris County Public Library’s Curiosity Cruiser, which brings books and videos to underserved children throughout the county, a monetary donation will be made to support the work of Ms. Bush’s Global Health Corps and a monetary donation was made to...
Second Servings.

Neil Bush appeared next to introduce the question and answer moderator – Julie Baker Finch, PhD., president of the Barbara Bush Literacy Foundation, and introduced his niece. Neil did this while singing the praises of the good work of Emanu El’s Sisterhood.

The 45-minute question and answer began, and viewers learned about Ms. Bush’s work, and her stories as the daughter and granddaughter of two presidents of the United States. Her message about her work was inspiring, especially during the pandemic and her personal stories were fun and heartwarming. The program ended with messages of appreciation to our volunteers, underwriters, patrons and vendors, and included photos and videos of some of our Sisterhood members participating in literacy-focused volunteers activities (pre-pandemic).

Visiting the sick and praying for those who are ill are important and meaningful mitzvot.
Emanu El Holds First B’nei Mitzvah in Barish Sanctuary Since March

The weekend of August 7-8 featured Congregation Emanu El’s return to its prayer spaces albeit without the congregation in the pews. The weekend included the first B’nei Mitzvah in the Barish Sanctuary since March 14 as Valerie Turner (left) and Rachel Tobor (second from left) celebrated the simcha of their children Hannah and Benjamin.

Troop 1190 Welcomes New Scouts

Congregation Emanu El’s Boy Scout Troop 1190 has gone virtual and we are welcoming scouts ages 11 and up to join.

While physically distant, Troop 1190 is socially relevant. We’re “zooming” forward: completing badges, hearing from interesting speakers and making a difference in our communities.

Here are some highlights of the summer of 2020:

• A virtual Q&A with Lieutenant Colonel Alexander Vindman
• Completion of 3 merit badges per scout and advancement
• U.S. Flag placement for July 4 in Meyerland
• Individual family camping (e.g. backyard)

Whether it’s high-tech, environmentalism or social engagement, all activities take place with the highest ideals of scouting and Jewish ethics. Pre-COVID-19, we camped several times a year and went to Boy Scout camp every summer. In recent years, we’ve attended camp in California, Colorado and upstate New York.

Neither camping nor scouting experiences are required to join Troop 1190. This is a great opportunity to make new friends, develop leadership skills and have a blast! Scouts of all faiths and all backgrounds are welcome.

Fun fact: 26% of Troop 1190 members reach Eagle compared to 5% nationally.

For more information, contact Scoutmaster Josh Rotenberg pedzzz@gmail.com. You can also visit us on Facebook: facebook.com/Scouts1190/.
Congregation Emanu El's Collaboration Goes Across the Atlantic Ocean

The pandemic and the digital environment have allowed Congregation Emanu El to partner in various ways with synagogues outside the Houston area.

On Friday, July 31, the programmatic wings of the congregation took flight and headed across the Atlantic Ocean as Cantor Rollin Simmons helped lead a Shabbat worship at London's Finchley Reform Synagogue with Cantor Zoe Jacobs.

The two cantors are active members of the American Conference of Cantors and were classmates at Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion.

The service can be found on the Finchley Reform Synagogue's Facebook page.

This out of state partnership is nothing new for Emanu El, which participated in the internet phenomena 'Jewish Geography Zoom Racing' with Stephen Wise Temple in Los Angeles. The friendly competition featured Emanu El's Rabbi Oren Hayon challenging Wise's Rabbi Sari Laufer.

Prior to that, the synagogue simulcast a program hosted by Temple Sinai in Atlanta entitled 'A Timely Discussion About Racism' featuring Reverend Dr. Gerald Durley and Central Conference of American Rabbis (CCAR) president and Houston native Rabbi Ron Segal.
