AN ATTITUDE OF GRATITUDE

Have you ever heard the one about the fellow who is looking for a parking space in a crowded lot? He offers up a prayer to God: "God, if only you could help me find a parking spot, I'll pray every day, I'll light the candles, I'll even go to temple...." Suddenly a spot opens up right in front of him, and he cries out: "Oh never mind God, here's one!"

While the joke always gets a chuckle, it has a serious side—reminding us to be grateful for the good things that happen in our lives. Whether or not you attribute them to God—that's for another article—but the awareness of the good, appreciation for what we have, that is serious business. In Judaism, we are commanded to say blessings—over practically everything—from the most ordinary, day-to-day activities, like eating or washing hands, to the most extraordinary ones—like seeing a rainbow or hearing thunder (which depending on the season might either be ordinary or extraordinary). It's hard to say blessings consciously every day, but I believe that reciting a blessing does three things:

1. Transforms ordinary behaviors into something special—a rabbi might call it sacred
2. Creates appreciation for daily miracles
3. Helps us turn our attitude toward the positive.

While I've never recited a blessing over a parking spot, it sure feels miraculous when I find one, and even that small recognition, changes my overall attitude; and attitude is everything. I think of the wedding guest who sits at the dinner table saying, "This chicken sure is dry," versus the one who says, "Isn't it nice to be celebrating with such a beautiful couple?" If we can find the good in every situation, if we can articulate our gratitude each day by just saying thank you to the kind stranger for opening the door, to the clerk who greets you with a smile, to the driver who lets you in when you're merging into traffic, it makes all the difference. Moreover, saying blessings, along with an appreciative mindset, requires us to be aware of our surroundings rather than walking through life blindly, as they literally awaken us to what is in front of us, making us aware of the good in our lives.

When you next come to temple, flip to page 162 in our Shema Yisrael prayer book to find one of my favorite sayings from Reb Nachman of Bratslav:

Gratitude rejoices with her sister joy and is always ready to light a candle and have a party.

Gratitude does not much like the old cronies of boredom, despair and taking life for granted.

At this season as we approach the Thanksgiving holiday, let's take the time to count our blessings, to recognize the good of each day and the miracles of our lives. Let's invite Gratitude and Joy to our table, not just on Thanksgiving day, but every day, realizing that when we're appreciative and approach life from a positive outlook, it's a lot more meaningful and let's be honest, it's also a lot more fun.

Goodman Family Judaic & Archival MUSEUM at Temple Israel

Temple Israel's Goodman Family Judaic & Archival is pleased to highlight one of the newest additions to our permanent collection.

Mi Polin Mezuzot

Our three new mezuzot, made by Anna Morawiec and Pawet Jozwicki, are created from the traces taken by the artists from homes where Jews had formerly lived in Eastern Europe. Each mezuzah reminds us of a family, who when walking in the door of their home, placed a kiss on this sacred object.

The artist has linked together the past and present.

On the side of each mezuzah there is an address engraved.

Poland had 3.5 million Jewish inhabitants before World War II.

In almost all Jewish houses, there was at least one mezuzah.

During the war almost all Jews perished and with them their mezuzot. Only empty holes are left in the doorposts of the Jewish homes. The traces are cast in bronze creating new trace-based mezuzot.

Are you looking for a special way to honor someone you love? Consider dedicating a beautiful piece of Judaic artwork. By making a gift to the Museum in honor or in memory of a loved one, or in honor of a life cycle event, you will be part of the continuing legacy of a permanent Judaic collection, which will be enjoyed by Temple Israel for generations to come.

For more information, please contact Tracie Fienman at 248-661-5700 or tracie@temple-israel.org.

IRA DISTRIBUTIONS

If you are over 70 ½, the IRS requires that you withdraw money out of your IRA. This increases your taxable income and may put you in a higher tax bracket. To lessen your tax liability, consider donating your IRA distribution to Temple Israel. Your gift will help fulfill your required minimum distribution and may reduce your taxes. Please note, the donation cannot exceed $100,000 in 2018 (spouses can combine gifts and contribute up to $200,000), and the distribution must be paid directly from your IRA to Temple Israel. Consult your tax advisor before taking action. Contact David Tisdale at 248-661-5700 for information on directing your distribution to Temple Israel.

SUPPORT TEMPLE ISRAEL IN YOUR WILL

If you believe in the power of Temple Israel's services, whether spiritual, education or social, but you are unable to donate now, a gift in your will or living trust is a smart and caring charitable solution to consider.

It has these benefits:

- Simplicity. Just a few sentences in your will or trust are all that is needed.
- Flexibility. Because you are not actually making a gift until after your lifetime, you can change your mind at any time.
- Versatility. You can structure the gift to leave a specific item or amount of money, make it contingent on certain events or leave a percentage of your estate to Temple Israel.

If you have already included a gift to Temple Israel in your will, please let David Tisdale know at (248) 661-5700 or dtisdale@temple-israel.org so we can ensure that your gift will be used exactly as you intend. Get started by visiting temple-israel.planmygift.org today.

FUNDS IN ACTION

LINDA & MARK JACOBS FAMILY FUND

NEW FUND: Supports Israel Scholarships and audio-visual technology for the Temple

Earlier this year, Linda and Mark Jacobs took a life-changing trip to Israel and returned with the desire to provide the same transformational opportunity to students at Temple Israel. Knowing that children who travel to Israel are more Jewishly engaged and more likely to maintain a strong presence in the Jewish community, the Jacobs created a fund to offer that significant connection. Additionally, the Jacobs are impressed with the recent technological improvements at Temple and want their fund to help provide members with the most cutting edge advantages possible.

DONNA & ALAN ASP EMERGENCY ASSISTANCE FUND

NEW FUND: Provides emergency assistance to families in crisis

Not long ago, Donna and Alan Asp sadly discovered that someone they knew was homeless. Knowing that this tragedy happens considerably more than they are aware, they felt compelled to create a fund that would help people in emergency situations. The fund provides time-sensitive assistance to help members with housing, safety, food and utilities. With this short-term assistance, Donna and Alan hope their fund can be a difference maker and help provide hope to those experiencing difficult challenges.

BARBAS FAMILY FUND

Provides programming for empty nester adults

A few years ago, Lisa and Andy Barbas found themselves with an empty nest and extra time on their hands. Remembering how it affected their lives, they generously created a fund that supports social, educational and engaging events for others going through the same transition. The Barbas Family Fund has provided exceptional programming for the empty nest age group including Bocce Ball, Detroit River Cruise, Dancing Through Time, Road Rally, Detroit Bus Tour, Detroit Strolling Supper, Sukkah Schmooze and Shabbat dinners in members' homes.

BARBARA & DOUGLAS BLOOM SPECIAL NEEDS FUND FOR SINGLE MOTHERS

Provides assistance to single mothers in crisis

Barbara and Douglas Bloom understand the difficult challenges of single mothers and have always appreciated the critical role they hold in the development, education and wellbeing of healthy children and stable families. For this important reason, the Blooms created a fund to help families led by single moms during times of crisis with temporary help such as a housing payment, automobile repairs, food, medical bills, utilities and legal fees.

These are only a few of more than 150 special funds that help Temple Israel achieve its mission. The funds engage our members and connect with the community through creative outreach, compassionate assistance and meaningful celebration. The impact from these funds is remarkable, allowing children to learn, families to heal and people to grow. Many thanks to our fund grantors who recognized a need - and to our donors who continually support Temple's efforts to reach those in need.
