WHEN TO CALL...AND NOT TO CALL...YOUR RABBI

"I was going to call, rabbi, but I know how busy you are..."

This is one of my least favorite sentences. And my response is usually: "Don't be silly; that is why God created rabbis." So, I thought that it might be helpful, to re-publish this handy-dandy guide to "When to Call, Email, Text or Instant Message Your Rabbi or Cantor" which was originally published back in 2012.

First and foremost, call your rabbi whenever you or a family member is in personal, physical, emotional or even financial distress. We want to be there for you in times of difficulty and, with the assistance of our amazing Sosnick Family Life Center, we can often be of more than just spiritual assistance.

Most especially call us when you or a loved one is in the hospital, nursing home or hospice. We have rabbis assigned to each of these situations and we sincerely want to visit you. We are generally in the hospital several times per week and in the nursing homes monthly anyway and thus may be walking unknowingly right past your room! Please note, the hospital most definitely does NOT provide us with a list of Jewish patients; we rely on you to keep us informed as to your medical status. That includes hospice or long-term care situations in the home as well.

At the exact moment of death, however, it is often more prudent to contact the funeral home directly. We are blessed with three fabulous Jewish funeral homes here in Metropolitan Detroit and they will take care of contacting the clergy, making arrangements with the cemetery, guarding, transporting and cleansing the body and placing obituary notices.

Please DO call your rabbi when you are in need of spiritual or emotional counsel. That, after all, is why God really did make rabbis.

However, you may not want to call your rabbi if your main goal is to be assured that you are "right" and that the schnook with whom you are in conflict is "wrong" and thus will most surely burn for all eternity in the fiery pits of geheim. Rabbis, you see, are trained in peace making; we have a natural bias towards "shalom bayit," peace in the home and in the family. That often involves introspection, the re-thinking of one's own position and compromise. It is the same perspective that we would bring to that "schnook" if s/he were the one sitting there in front of us. So, if that kind of objectivity is not what you are seeking at the moment, it might be better to turn to a loyal friend or spouse, or better yet, a pet. Dogs especially love to tell you that you are right; cats, on the other hand, can sometimes be a bit snarky.

Please do call your rabbi when your children have questions about their religion, their God, anti-Semitism or the afterlife that you cannot answer. We used to offer to take them out to ice cream to discuss their questions; now they seem to prefer coffee or yogurt. So, if your Bar/Bat Mitzvah student is questioning the meaning of this ritual in his or her life...call us. If, like my parents, you are suddenly dealing with a "teenaged atheist"...call us. If you are having other types of tension at home please feel free to call on us as well.

You probably should not call us, however, to find out the times of services or other temple programs. Thankfully, all of that information is found on our amazing website temple-israel.org or you can always call the temple office at 248-661-5700.

Oh, and by all means, call your rabbi if something at Temple Israel is not working for you. Most of our best innovations have arisen from just such communications. In a similar vein, call us if you have a good idea, a program that you have seen work successfully elsewhere or just a desire to volunteer and get involved. Those are among our favorite phone calls and emails.

And finally, call your rabbi when you have family simchas or good news to share. We do spend a great deal of our time dealing with tzurris as you can see, so it always makes our day to hear of your joys.

So, call us...we are here for you!

Rabbi Paul Yedwab

TIKKUN OLAM HELPING OTHERS

Welcome to the new Tov Teams corner of the Messenger. Here, you will find volunteer opportunities happening at Temple Israel, led by your fellow members. If something interests you, contact Rabbi Jennifer Kaluzny (jkaluzny@temple-israel.org or 248-661-5700) and she will tell you more about that particular Tov Team. If you're really interested, maybe you could even lead the Team!

Crazy for Cars? Temple Member Ari Katz is revving up a new group for car enthusiasts called Cars & Kibitz. The excitement begins on April 16th with a late night talk show style interview of David Zenlea, deputy editor of Road and Track Magazine. On June 23, save the date for Cars & Coffee right here in Temple Israel's parking lot. Every event will have a nominal entrance fee that will support our transportation fund that brings seniors for Shabbat services.

Babies and Bubbies- If you'd like to play with your baby and do a mitzvah at the same time, join temple member Amy Ostroff for a play group at the Fleischman residence the first Monday of the month at 10:30am, beginning on March 4. The residents get so much joy from seeing and interacting with the babies and you will walk away feeling like your play group was so much more than just blocks and balls.

Rabbi Jennifer Kaluzny is currently working on a team that brings families together for neighborhood Shabbat dinners, another that offers families with children of all ages opportunities to work with inner city families as well as adults with special needs. Stay tuned—we are doing so much TOV! If you have any questions or any ideas, please contact Rabbi Jen at jkaluzny@temple-israel.org.

A BEAUTIFUL THOUGHT, A BEAUTIFUL GIFT

Creating your legacy is empowering, and it enables you to change lives for the better. You, too, can make a difference at Temple Israel by including a gift in your estate plan. This allows you to support your congregation and serve as an inspiration for others to follow.

If you are like many women who make a difference through gifts of time, talent and money, providing support through your will allows you to continue that tradition while offering potential tax benefits. Certain gifts even allow you to pass an income to loved ones for life or a period of years before passing to Temple Israel.

Reflections

I do not write in the Messenger often, but I felt the need to express my reflections about an admired past president and treasured friend who passed away late last year. When I first became involved on Temple Israel's board, many more years ago than I am willing to readily admit, Fred Keywell was the president. He was an ardent fiscal conservative, and I was, well, young.

Although we had differing opinions on monetary matters, we shared the same vision for Temple Israel. Fred taught me about being mindful, not just of Temple's immediate needs, but also of the legacy we will leave for future leaders of Temple. He provided this congregation with significantly more than financial oversight. He protected and invested in Temple's mission and never strayed from that calling.

Fred helped me understand the financial journey of a non-profit that had withstood many ebbs and flows over its lifetime. His advice was always guided by a laser sharp understanding of finances. He was a consummate professional who listened to others, and I always knew we would move forward together with the best possible plan for Temple Israel.

Fred helped me develop a philosophy of management and leadership that I hold dear to this day. I was fortunate to learn from him. More importantly, I was blessed to become his friend through the work we accomplished together – for the place that we both loved so much. Thank you, Fred, for your guidance, your friendship and your devotion to Temple Israel.

Goodman Family Judaic & Archival MUSEUM at Temple Israel

Beginning this winter, Temple Israel's Goodman Family Judaic & Archival Museum is pleased to feature a beautiful exhibit

Kabbalat Shabbat: The Grand Unification by artist, Debra Band

Her work is an illuminated manuscript of the Kabbalat Shabbat liturgy and rituals, a fusion of words and artwork, to interpret and enlighten the beloved traditions in the light of both Jewish mysticism, our understanding of the cosmos and contemporary social awareness. The paintings were done on kosher slunk vellum (calfskin), in ink, gouache and gold in leaf and powder form. This exhibit presents limited edition prints of a portion of the more than 90 original illuminated paintings and paper-cuts at the heart of the forthcoming book, Kabbalat Shabbat: The Grand Unification, the first illuminated book presenting the entire traditional liturgy for synagogue and home.

Are you looking for a special way to honor someone you love? Consider dedicating a beautiful piece of Judaic artwork. By making a gift to the Museum in honor or in memory of a loved one, or in honor of a life cycle event, you will be part of the continuing legacy of a permanent Judaic collection, which will be enjoyed by Temple Israel for generations to come.

For more information, please contact Tracie Fienman at 248-661-5700 or tracie@temple-israel.org.

FUNDS IN ACTION

MARY LOU & GARY BERNDT MINYAN FUND

NEW FUND: Supports Minyans at Temple Israel

Deeply moved by the sacred importance of daily minyan, Mary Lou and Gary Berndt recently started a fund that supports morning services for those who have lost a loved one or are observing a yahrzeit. Each minyan service provides an opportunity for those who are mourning and remembering to be embraced with solace and support. Breakfast is provided, but more importantly, hearts are comforted, and hope is renewed as old and new friends navigate through the many emotions of loss.

ZACHARY M. TALAN EDELSON MACCABI SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Provides scholarships for Temple Israel Maccabi participants

Wendy Talan created this scholarship fund to help defray the cost of participation in the life-changing Maccabi Games and Artfest. For many years, children have been receiving assistance from this fund to compete in the games, strengthen Jewish bonds and create a heightened awareness of their Jewish identity. Children make life-long friends and develop a deep and lasting connection to the values that have shaped Jewish culture throughout history.

MARLENE BUDMAN REMEMBRANCE GARDEN FUND

Plants spring flowers annually on the grounds of Temple Israel

As a touching memorial to his loving wife, Robert Budman created this fund to beautify Temple Israel's gardens. Each spring, the Temple grounds are graced with magnificent flowers, welcoming the new season and painting the gardens with gorgeous color and calming fragrance. Not only do Temple members regularly enjoy this gorgeous display, visitors often come with cameras in hand to capture its beauty.

HUTTON FAMILY YOUTH GROUP FUND

Funds high school activities

Realizing the importance of strong, engaging programming for teenagers, Shelley and Lenny Hutton created this fund to help provide compelling and fun reasons for high school students to stay connected to Temple Israel. The fund supports entertaining programming such as trips to Cedar Point, organized kickball games and food truck events. It also helps provide goods, services and equipment for Temple Israel's high school youth activities.

These special funds, along with more than 150 others, help Temple Israel achieve its mission. The funds engage our members and connect with the community through creative outreach, compassionate assistance and meaningful celebration. The impact from these funds is remarkable, allowing children to learn, families to heal and people to grow. Many thanks to our fund grantors who recognized a need - and to our donors who continually support Temple's efforts to reach those in need.

To learn more about Temple's funds and other giving opportunities, go to temple-israel.org and click on GIVING.

Temple Israel Sisterhood invites you to our

Women's FREEDOM Seder

Led by Temple Israel Clergy and Members of our Sisterhood

Tuesday, April 9, 2019 • 6 pm at Temple Israel

Our Passover Seder explores the ancient story of the Israelites exodus from slavery in Egypt. Its message of freedom speaks to people of all faiths. Most importantly, the seder acknowledges that in many ways, we are still not free. Each year, we have chosen a theme to explore along these lines. This year, we hope you will join us for a thought-provoking exploration of how so many of our brothers and sisters are slaves to opioid addiction. We will hear from an expert in the field of addiction and recovery, a personal account, and move through the seder holding onto the hope that just as our ancestors journeyed from slavery to freedom, those struggling today, we pray, will also make their way to freedom from the affliction of addiction.
