BNOT Chanukah Concert Extravaganza Draws Huge Turnout and Rave Reviews

Everyone attending Tuesday evening's BNOT Chanukah Concert Extravaganza had great expectations. But all those expectations were surpassed as an incredible evening unfolded, attended by over 500 people - a treat for all the senses.

As you entered the building, you were beckoned by the aroma of fresh latkes. You followed your nose to the Social Hall where your sense of taste was treated to crisp latkes and a variety of sufganiyot (doughnuts).

Pre-concert latkes & sufganiyot were plentiful & delicious

Then, up to the New Main where you were entertained by the sight of children, parents and grandparents enjoying each other's company and excitedly awaiting the appearance of The Maccabeats. And then the sounds of the premier modern Orthodox a cappella male singing group of our time! And if you were "touched" by any of their songs, all your senses had a wonderful evening.

The Maccabeats performing to a packed house

Organized by BNOT president Chaya Schwartz and her team of Sari Sheinfeld, Sora Grunstein, Sara Grinfeld, Aviva Vogel and Miriam Kopel, the event was sponsored by Estelle & Lenny Glass, Chaya & Joseph Schwartz, Doris & Leo Brandstatter, Ayala & David Levine, Ruth M & Michael S Rosen, and Pesi & Aaron Simon.

Maccabeats enhancing the Chanukah celebration at CBY

Originally formed in 2007 as Yeshiva University's student vocal group, The Maccabeats have recently gained popularity among lovers of Jewish music and aficionados of a cappella singing groups. They have a large fan base, as evidenced by more than 20 million views on YouTube, numerous TV appearances, and proven success with four albums. As they noted during their performance, "Between us and Simon and Garfunkel, we've sold over 100,000,000 albums." Early in the program, they performed their breakthrough piece, Lecha Dodi, combining some of the most beloved words of Jewish liturgy with Leonard Cohen's meaningful and melodic composition. They went on to entertain the audience with a wide variety of contemporary Jewish music and traditional Chanukah songs.

This week's Manny Freed z"l Parent Child Learning is sponsored by Elana & Judah Rosenbaum in honor of their parents, Susan & David Rosenbaum and Blimie & Joel Strauss, as well as all of the dedicated volunteers at CBY!

If you are interested in sponsoring a future week's PCL, visit www.bnaiyeshurun.org/PCL or contact the shul office.

- Musical IQ will be coming to BMOB on Sunday morning, December 16th @ 10:30 AM. $7 a child. "Drum Tales is a live & interactive musical program for children. Set in the vast majestic plains of Africa, this program resembles the traditional drum-circle, combining storytelling, musical instrumentation, & song. Each participant is given an African drum, which becomes their medium of transportation as we rhythmically traverse through the royal territory of the Lion King of Africa. Wild animals, a rolling African thunderstorm, deserts & jungles, make this an unforgettable experience. Through an engaging, hands-on & interactive rapport, the facilitators guide the group, step by step, through a fun & insightful journey. On the way, participants will learn the basics behind the African Djembe drum & take away the skills to make some of their own music & rhythms."
