Shabbat Emor

שבת אמור

Prepare for Matan Torah with Rabbi Schrier

It is but a few short weeks until we celebrate Shavuot and mark the anniversary of the greatest moment in Jewish history – the receiving of the Torah. While it is customary to commemorate that event by learning Torah throughout the night, many seek additional ways to spiritually prepare themselves for this momentous chag. This year, the community is invited to begin its spiritual preparation together with Rabbi Schrier when he delivers a three-part lecture series on the Aseret HaDibrot.

Over the course of the series, Rabbi Schrier will delve into and explore the first of the Aseret HaDibrot - 'אנכי ה' אלוקיך אשר הוצאתיך מארץ מצרים מבית "עבדים" "I am the Lord, your G-d, Who took you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage" and enable us to think deeply about our connection to Hashem.

The three segments will include:

- Monday, May 16th: Is There a Mitzvah to Believe in G-d?
- Tuesday, May 24th: "But Can You Prove It?" On Ration, Reason, and Faith
- Wednesday, June 1st: Transmitting Faith to Our Youth: How Do We Succeed and Why Do We Sometimes Fail?

Each lecture will take place at 8:30 pm in the CBY Social Hall and refreshments will be served. The series will serve as an opportunity for members of all ages to learn and grow as we seek connection with Hashem (and each other) in advance of Matan Torah.

The pre-Shavuot lecture series has been sponsored in commemoration of the yahrzeit of Rochelle Shoretz a"h by Jennifer and David Miller. To learn about co-sponsorship opportunities please contact office@bnaiyeshurun.org.

Are We There Yet?

Message from Rabbi Weinberger

Among the many seasonal mitzvos discussed in this week's Sedrah is the mitzvah of Sefiras Ha'Omer. The pasuk says, וּסְפַרְתֶּם לָכֵן מִמַּחֲרַת הַשַּׁבָּת מִיּוֹם הַבֵּיאֲכֶם אֶת עֹמֶר הַתְּנוּפֶה לָכֵן מִמַּחֲרַת הַשַּׁבָּת מִיּוֹם הַבֵּיאֲכֶם אֶת עֹמֶר הַתְּנוּפֶה, You shall count for yourselves- from the day after the rest day, from the day when you bring the Omer of waving- seven weeks, they shall be complete.

At first glance, counting the Omer would appear to be like any other Yom Tov oriented mitzvah. However, the Baal Ha'Maor (in his commentary on Maseches Pesachim) points out a fundamental difference between Sefiras Ha'Omer and the others: that being the bracha of Shehechyanu. Before we eat matzah on Pesach, blow the shofar on Rosh Ha'Shanah or shake a lulav on Sukkos we recite a Shehechyanu. (The same is true for rabbinic mitzvos such as reading the Megillah and lighting Chanukah candles). We thank Hashem for bringing us to this moment and giving us the opportunity to fulfill the special mitzvah at hand. Why then, asks the Baal Ha'Maor, do we not recite a Shehechyanu on the mitzvah of counting the Omer?

He suggests that the lack of Shehechyanu is not a reflection on the mitzvah of Sefiras Ha'Omer, but on the time period we are living in. Nowadays, our counting of the Omer is merely a commemorative act. As a result of our collective sins, we are missing the central component: the קרבן העומר. Every night we count the "Omer" we are reminded of the very Korban (and by extension, the Beis Hamikdash) we no longer have. If that's the case, can we really thank Hashem for bringing us to this moment?

Rav Soloveitchick, based on the opinion of the Rambam, goes in a different direction. Our omitting Shehechyanu has nothing to do with Korbanos or the Beis Hamikdash. Nor is it related to the exile we currently find ourselves in. Rather, he suggests that the very nature of this mitzvah does not lend itself to the bracha of Shehechyanu. The essence of Sefiras Ha'Omer is the anticipation of a future event. It's counting towards something bigger that's around the bend (i.e. Matan Torah). The very fact that we are still counting, indicates that we have not yet reached our goal. Accordingly, it would not make sense to recite a Shehechyanu, in which we thank Hashem for bringing us to this moment. We are simply not there yet.

This is one of the reasons given for why a Chosson and Kallah do not recite a Shehechyanu under the Chuppah. The Rambam maintains that getting married is a full-fledged mitzvah. Moreover, it is a mitzvah that the Chosson and Kallah have probably not performed in the past year. So, why no Shehechyanu? Perhaps the answer is in line with the suggestion of the Rav. While getting married is an incredible milestone and certainly a reason for celebration (hence the wedding), we want the couple to realize that the greatness of this moment lies in the potential of what is yet to come; of what they can one day build together. Reciting a Shehechyanu under the Chuppah- viewing this moment as an endgame of sorts- is antithetical to that message.

This idea of the Rav highlights one of the most difficult- yet critical- challenges we all face. Namely, the balance between appreciating how far we have come while still recognizing how far there is to go. Knowing when to give ourselves a pat on the back and when to tell ourselves “I’m not there yet”. May we be zoche to strike that balance in our journey forward, until the coming of Mashiach, when we will all undoubtedly recite שְׂדַחֲיִינוּ וְקִיַּמְנוּ וְהִגִּיעֵנוּ לְזִמְנָהּ הַזֶּה.

SPRING PIRKEI AVOT SHIUR FOR WOMEN

Rebbetzin Michal Zahtz

Pirkei Avot can be literally translated to mean “Chapters of the Fathers”, but it is more commonly and appropriately known as “Ethics of the Fathers” for its spiritual quotes and its guide to ethical behavior. Shabbat afternoon, particularly in the weeks linking Pesach and Shavuot, has historically been considered the ideal time to gather together to reflect on our ethical lives.

Rebbetzin Michal Zahtz is presenting a four-part shiur for women on Pirkei Avot at 6:00 on May 7, May 14, May 21, and May 28 (see flyer on pg. 7 for locations.) The first installment of the series was a huge success in spite of the inclement weather, with approximately 45 women attending at the home of Micol Katz.

Rebbetzin Zahtz uses a variety of commentaries beginning with the Rishonim to encourage lively discussion among all attendees. There is no set curriculum; rather, Michal began with Chapter Aleph and will continue each week where she left off the previous Shabbat, with an emphasis on the specific mishnayot that speak to her.

Thank you to Micol Katz, Naomi Schiff, Arianne Weinberger, and Tamar Rothenberg for opening their homes for these events. Interested in sponsoring the series? Please contact office@bnaiyeshurun.org.

Beis Medrash Committee

- Manny Freed z”l Parent Child Learning takes place Shabbat afternoons at 4:45 pm. Thank you to our Spring/Summer sponsors, Rebecca & Sandy Fischman, with thanks to everyone who makes Parent Child Learning great, and the Sheinfeld Family, for a continued Refuah Shelaimah of Etai Yaakov Ben Tzipora.

Inspirational Author to Address “Reincarnation in Judaism”

On מוצאי שבת as we transition from חול to קודש some recite ויתן לך (and may Hashem give you) a litany of blessings to get the new week off to an auspicious beginning. On מוצאי שבת May 14 at 9:45 pm in the Old Main Shul, an exceptional personality and prolific speaker and writer, Sara Yoheved Rigler, will bring in the new week with an inspiring discussion on the topic of “Reincarnation in Judaism.”

Sara Yoheved Rigler’s personal journey is a fascinating one, taking her from India to Israel. She currently lives in the Old City of Jerusalem and lectures internationally, both in person and on Zoom. Ms. Rigler is one of the most popular writers on Aish.com and gives a weekly Marriage Webinar for Jewish women on a spiritual approach to marriage. She has published seven books on Jewish spirituality and practical tools for spiritual growth.

Sara Yoheved Rigler’s most recent book, the product of eight years of research, is entitled “I’ve Been Here Before; When Souls of the Holocaust Return” and contains personal accounts of those who have recollections of past lives linked to Holocaust victims. Rabbi Moshe Weinberger describes the book as an “incredibly eye-opening and inspiring journey into one of the greatest mysteries of our time.” Yossi Klein Halevi, in his review of the book, states that this “groundbreaking book is a significant contribution to our understanding of how the Holocaust continues to impact on the Jewish psyche and soul.”

Special thanks to the Adult Education Committee for arranging this unique event. Thank you to Sorah & Howard Birnbaum for sponsoring the lecture. Additional sponsorships are available. Please contact the Shul office at office@bnaiyeshurun.org for more information.

Emor in “Hashtag” Form

- Parshas Emor begins with a discussion about the Kohanim, their roles in the Beis HaMikdash, and various halachos about their lifestyle (who they can marry, who they can become tamei for, who may eat terumah, etc.). #PriestOfThePeople #CohanicCaliber #CaringCohort
- We then learn a little more about korbanos. We can't shecht a mother and its child on the same day, we can't shecht an animal which is younger than eight days old, and we can't hurt animals in general. #SensitiveSentiments #EatingWithEmpathy #EatEmDontBeEm. We are also commanded to make a kiddush HaShem, #BeIt #LiveIt #MerkavaMamish.
- The remainder of the parsha discusses the chagim and relevant laws which relate to them, #WeKnowHowToHoliday #SpirituallySpeaking. Shabbos, Pesach, Sefiras Ha'Omer, Shavuot, etc.
- We are then told to leave certain gifts from our fields for the poor, #LovingIsGiving #GivingIsLife. Afterward, we learn about the Yomim Noraim, Sukkos, and Shemini Atzeres. These are days of #Awwwww and joy.
- We are instructed to procure Shemen Zayis Zach for the daily, continual, menorah lighting, #FillTheWorldWithLight, as well as to set up the 12 Lechem HaPanim, which were kept on the Shulchan, #ChallahAtMe #MiracleBread #CuzHaShemLovesYou #Chagiga26bYoma21bMenachot29a.
- Finally, Parshas Emor relays the story of the infamous “Mekalel,” the person who cursed God, #FindYourPlace #HakaratHaTov #WatchYourMouth. The parsha concludes with the punishments for the murderer, the thief, and the person who injures another: respect your #Brothas&Sistas.

A Mini-Vort from the Szafranski Table to Yours!

In Emor, we learn about the mitzvah of Sefiras Ha'Omer, the time period we are in right now. The Baalei Chassidus teach us that the word Sefirah, counting, is related to the word Sapir, which means to illuminate. As we progress through Sefiras Ha'Omer, we are meant to grow as people, enabling our truest selves, our neshamos, to shine bright. What a beautiful way to enter Zman Matan Toraseinu!

For additional mar'eih mekomos on this topic, please reach out to Yehoshua and Rivka Szafranski at youth@bnaiyeshurun.org.
