YIZKOR: A SERVICE OF MEMORY

May the work of our hands endure.

Establish the work of our hands.

-Psalm 90

When we ask God to remember the souls of our departed at Yizkor, we request more than a mere mental act. We pray implicitly that by focusing on our loved ones' souls, God will take action on their behalf and save them from whatever pain they may be suffering, wherever they may be. At the same time, the implication is that this act of remembrance also constitutes a guarantee of Jewish community - well beyond just those we remember, and far beyond us as well. In remembering and in asking for God's remembrance, we request divine help in continuing our people's trajectory beyond ourselves, to achieve the ultimate aims of our people's history. Yizkor is, in the end, not a prayer for the dead, but a promise by the living.

-Rabbi Aaron Panken

Yizkor Reflections

When I cry my voice trembles with fear

When I call out it cracks with anger

How can I greet the dawn with song

When darkness eclipses the rising sun

To whom shall I turn

When the clouds of the present eclipse the rays of tomorrow

Turn me around to yesterday

That I may be consoled by its memories

Were not the seas split asunder

Did we not once walk together through the waters to the dry side

Did we not bless the bread

That came forth from the heavens

Did your voice not reach my ears

And direct my wanderings

The water, the lightning, the thunder

Remind me of yesterday's triumphs

Let the past offer proof of tomorrow

Let it be my comforter and guarantor

I have been here before

Known the fright and found your companionship

I enter the sanctuary again

To await the echo of your promise

-Rabbi Harold Shulweis

If some messenger were to come to us with the offer that death should be overthrown with the one inseparable condition that birth should also cease; if the existing generation were given the chance to live forever, but on the clear understanding that never again would there be a child, or a youth, or first love, never again new persons with new hopes, new ideas achievements; ourselves for always and never any others - could the answer be in doubt?

-Herbert Louis Samuel

This is the hour of memory -
And this is our house of comfort.
Wounded by loss, we retreat from life;
Our synagogue gathers us in.
Into this place we bring stories and prayers,
Unanswered questions,
Tears that need to be shed.
Lives recollected and carried within us -
Moments of courage and laughter and pain -
This day embraces them all;
This place embraces us all.
Now the heart opens in sorrow,
For we are time's subjects.
As all that we love we must lose.
So let us hold fast to the love that remains,
And cherish the light of the sun.
Today all of us walk the mourner's path;
Together may we find strength.

Psalm 90

Adonai, through all generations, we have found our home in You.
Before the mountains rose up, before the world came into being,
You alone have been with us, steadfast and constant for all time.

In the end You return us to dust, saying: "Come home now, Daughters and sons of Adam and Eve - you are mortal!"
In Your sight a thousand years pass in an instant,
Like a fleeting watch in the night. But how brief the span of our lives!
Our years flow by in a dream; we sleep away our days.
In the morning we blossom in beauty; in the evening we wither away.
Burnt like grass in the blasting heat of summer,
We perish like chaff on the wind.

A human life may be three score years and ten;
Or four score years, for those who are blessed with strength.
So many days consumed by toil and troubles -
Then our time is cut short; and too soon we go into the dark.
So teach us to number our days,
That we may bring home a heart of wisdom.
Give us a sense of Your presence; nourish us with Your compassion.
Knowing Your love at the dawn of our life, let us live our days in contentment.
May our moments of joy surpass the times of struggle.
May we taste the sweetness of each precious day.
May the work of our hands endure.
Establish the work of our hands.

From Psalm 16

*I have set You before me always;
With You beside me I cannot fail.
So my heart is glad, my soul rejoices,
And all of me can rest secure:
For You will not abandon me in death.
You show me the path of life,
And Your presence is fullness of joy.*

The death of a loved one is the most profound of all sorrows. The grief that comes with such a loss is intense and multi-faceted, affecting our emotions, our bodies and our lives...Grief invades our daily lives in many sudden gaps and changes, like that empty place at the dinner table, or the sudden loss of affection and companionship, as well as in many new apprehensions, adjustments, and uncertainties.

The loss of a loved one throws every aspect of our lives out of balance. The closer we were to the person who died, the more havoc the loss creates. Love does not die quickly. Hence to grieve is also "to celebrate the depth of the union. Tears are then the jewels of remembrance, sad but glistening with the beauty of the past. So grief in its bitterness marks the end...but it also is praise to the one who is gone."

-Judy Tatelbaum

Blessed are those who give meaning to our lives;
Holy and precious is the example they leave behind.
We pray:
May our sorrows diminish as we recall their strength.
May their wisdom protect us and help us to live.
Let our grief be transformed into tenderness toward those who are still with us.

בְּרוּךְ אַתָּה, יְיָ, מְקוֹר הַחַיִּים.

Baruch Atah Adonai, M'kor HaChayim.
Blessed are You, Holy One, who gives and renews life.

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures;
He leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul. He guideth me in straight paths for His name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for Thou art with me. Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies; Thou hast anointed my head with oil; my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; And I shall dwell in the house of the Lord forever.

Birth is a beginning
And death a destination.
And life is a journey:
From childhood to maturity
And youth to age;
From innocence to awareness
And ignorance to knowing;
From foolishness to discretion
 And then perhaps, to wisdom;
From weakness to strength
Or strength to weakness-
 And, often, back again;
From health to sickness
And back, we pray, to health again;
From offense to forgiveness,
From loneliness to love,
From joy to gratitude,
From pain to compassion,
From grief to understanding-
 From fear to faith;
From defeat to defeat to defeat-
Until, looking backward or ahead,
We see that victory lies
Not at some high place along the way,
But in having made the journey, stage by stage,
 A sacred pilgrimage.
Birth is a beginning
And death a destination;
But life is a journey,
A sacred pilgrimage-
 To life everlasting.

-Alvin Fine

Our loved ones live in our broken hearts - and, at times, that brings some measure of healing. Their acts of kindness and generosity are the inheritance they leave behind. We feel their absence; but the beauty of their lives abides among us....Our loved ones' names - and their memories - will endure among us. And these are the names - on our lips and in our hearts.

May God remember for ever our dear ones.....who have gone to their eternal rest. May they be at one with the One who is their eternal rest. May the beauty of their lives shine for evermore, and may our lives always bring honor to their memories.

Silent Reflection

Prayer for the Dead

The light snow started late last night and continued all night long while I slept and could hear it occasionally enter my sleep, where I dreamed my brother was alive again and possessing the beauty of youth, aware that he would be leaving again shortly and that is the lesson of the snow falling and of the seeds of death that are in everything that is born: we are here for a moment of a story that is longer than all of us and few of us remember, the wind is blowing out of someplace
we don't know, and each moment contains rhythms within rhythms, and if you discover some old piece of your own writing, or an old photograph, you may not remember that it was you and even if it was once you, it's not you now, not this moment that the synapses fire and your hands move to cover your face in a gesture of grief and remembrance.

- Stuart Kestenbaum

The Death of a Parent

Move to the front of the line
a voice says, and suddenly there is nobody left standing between you and the world, to take the first blows
on their shoulders.

Where part one ends,
and part two begins,
and there is no part three.
the slate is wiped not clean but like a canvas painted over in white
so that a whole new landscape must be started, bits of the old still showing underneath -- those colors of sadness lends to a certain hour of evening.
Now the line of light
at the horizon
is the hinge between earth and heaven, only visible
a few moments
as the sun drops
its rusted padlock
into place.

- Linda Pastan

In Memory of a Parent Who Was Hurtful

Dear God,

You know my heart. Indeed, You know me better than I know myself, so I turn to You in these quiet moments of Yizkor.

My emotions swirl as I recite this prayer. The parent I remember was not kind to me. His/her death left me with a legacy of unhealed wounds, of anger and of dismay that a parent could hurt a child as I was hurt.

I do not want to pretend to love, or to feel grief that I do not feel, but I do want to do what is right as a Jew and as a son/daughter.

Help me, God, to subdue my bitter emotions that do me no good, and to find that place in myself where happier memories may lie hidden, and where grief for all that could have been, all that should have been, may be calmed by forgiveness, or at least soothed by the passage of time.

I pray that You, who raise up slaves to freedom, will liberate me from the oppression of my hurt and anger, and that You will lead me from this desert to Your holy place.

- Rabbi Robert Saks

Grieving for a Spouse or Partner

I miss you every day. I miss your smile and your company and the way you held my hand. I miss the smell of your hair on my pillow and the sound of your voice. I miss our conversations and even our arguments. I miss taking care of you. Of holding you in my arms so tight that you almost seemed like part of me.

The best part of me is gone. It's like a limb that's been amputated, and I keep reaching out to touch it, but all I feel is the cold air rushing between my fingers. And it hurts so much.

But death cannot extinguish your memory, my love. I thank God for the life we shared. I will always treasure our days together. Your abiding love is my blessing and my comfort.

May God take care of you and watch over you, with gentleness and with love, as you took care of me. May God guard you and protect you until that day when I at last find myself beside you once more.

For a Child

God of hope, God of strength --
As my heart aches in silence
I turn to you on this holy day for healing and comfort.
I pray to You, God of life, for renewal of spirit.
I long for the shelter of Your love.

May the soul of my beloved --
Be embraced by You forever with love and tenderness.
May the promise of this innocent young life
Teach me to cherish sweetness and beauty,
And not give in to the bitterness I have tasted.
May the gift of memory bless each of my days.

Weep with me, God, Creator of life,
For the precious life whose songs were left unsung.
Weep with me, God, for the loss of my child -- a loss that is like no other.
Shelter me,
that I may be a source of care and shelter for those who need me.
Strengthen me,
that I may be a source of strength.
Be with me
in sorrow and joy, in moments of emptiness, and in the fullness of life.

Remembering a Brother or Sister

With your death
I lost my history,
a voice of memory of people no longer
of clothes and songs and holiday meals of another time.
With your death
I lost a conversation
of laughter and wrestling celebration and tears.
With your death
I lost those momentary exchanges:
Remember that house?
The neighborhood?
I long for our conversations, even the tough ones.
I want to remember, together.

Loss of a Dear Friend

May these moments of meditation link me more strongly with my closest companion in life -- my soulmate, my friend, my confidant, my helping hand, my listening heart, my compass, my shining light.

In spite of death, our deep bonds of love are strong.
May I always be worthy of that love.
May the memory of our companionship lead me out of loneliness;
may it awaken in me gratitude for that which still endures.
And may you rest forever in dignity and peace.

A Prayer When a Loved One's Life is Cut Short by Tragedy

I can't believe I will never see your sweet face again. I am shattered. I keep thinking I'll wake up from this cruel nightmare. But day after day I find myself alone with my pain and my tears.

I wish I could make sense of the senselessness of your death. I wish I could understand God's silence. I wish I could have done something to save you, to protect you from harm. I feel so helpless and so alone.

I pray that you are at peace now, far away from this world's horror. Your life ended in tragedy, but that's not how I will remember you. I will remember your smile, your wisdom, your touch. I will remember your laughter, your kindness, your generosity, your determination, your love.

I know that you wouldn't want me to sink into despair. You always taught me to live up to the best in myself. And that's what I will try to do. I will strive to search for the goodness in every soul, and to live up to the goodness inside my own soul.

Your life was extinguished, but your light can never be extinguished. It continues to shine upon me even in the darkest nights and illuminates my way. You are with me always.

May God watch over you and bless you with peace and eternal love.

A Prayer for Those Who Mourn a Traumatic Death...

Let there be rest.
And let it be, at last, the perfect rest --
Oh, Merciful God Most High.

Let there be light:
heaven's radiance, gleaming light of the holy and pure for my holy and pure one whose corner was lit only by broken shards of light -- not nearly enough to see by.

Let there be, in my life, a shelter against the storms of guilt, anger, grief and pain.
When dark clouds gather above me --
May I find a warm shelter of peace.

And let there be a circle of souls around me -- patient, persistent, filled with Your compassion;
and let us be bound up in a loving bond that will not break.

Rest.
Light.
Shelter of peace.
Circle of souls.

And give me the strength to praise.

For Those Who Died for Our Country

Merciful God, God Most High,
May there be perfect rest in Your presence for all who placed themselves in peril and died protecting our country, our citizens, and our highest principles.
With gratitude we honor their bravery and devotion.
With love we pray:
hold them close to You forever among the holy and pure whose light shines like the radiance of heaven.

Merciful God,
shelter those who served and died for the sake of peace;
shelter them forever among the souls of the righteous.

For the Six Million and for All Who Died in the Shoah

Avinu Malkeinu:
Let there be perfect rest for the souls of the six million who died as Jews in the flames of the Shoah.
Let there be perfect rest for the countless millions who died because of race, religion, or nationality, political affiliation or sexual orientation.
Hold them close to You forever.
Seal their souls for everlasting life in the shelter of Your presence, for You are their eternal home.

Facing Life Changes

Help me, O God, to find still moments,
Quiet spaces within to refresh my soul;
Calm my questions, my inner debates,
And let me meditate on Your goodness.

Help me, O God, to nurture my courage,
Recalling moments of strength,
Remembering days of fortitude,
The certainty of Your regard.

Help me, O God, to grasp changed visions,
Filmy curtains to blur my unhappiness
And wrap my tears with radiance,
Your hand upon my face.

Help me, O God, to turn to the light,
Warmed face, fingers outstretched,
Alive, alive in Your sight.
- Debbie Perlman

Journeying On...

One morning shortly after my mother died, a hesitant tap on the shoulder stopped me as I left the synagogue where I had just finished saying the Mourner's Kaddish. I turned to face a fellow morning-service "regular" -- a tall, gray-haired gentleman with a football player's thick build. "I don't mean to be presumptuous," he said in a soft voice. "I know you're very sad right now. But I wanted to tell you that I went through that too, when my father died several years ago. And here's the thing: Believe it or not, I am as close to my father now as when he was alive! Maybe even closer, because I have come to understand him better. He is inside me, I hear his voice. We are still that close." Then he smiled and waved goodbye, leaving me to ponder words that I began to understand only years later.

What he meant, I think, was that our dead inhabit us like ghosts. The trick, as he knew then and I have learned since, is to befriend them rather than have them haunt us. They will greet us on sad anniversaries as well as in joy. We will imagine a deceased parent's response to her grandchild's arrival; or we will call back from memory the words or actions of the one person to whom we would have turned were he or she still there. And eventually, when we hear that voice again, it will bring not just pain but comfort and resolution.

- Diane Cole

When I die give what's left of me away
To children and old men who wait to die.
And if you need to cry, cry for your brother walking the street beside you.
And when you need me put your arm around anyone
And give them what you need to give to me.
I want to leave you something,
Something better than words or sounds.
Look for me in the people I've known or loved
And if you cannot give me away
At least let me live in your eyes and not in your mind.
You can love me best by letting hands touch hands
And letting go of children that need to be free.
Love doesn't die, people do.
So, when all that's left of me is love,
Give me away.

-Merrit Malloy

At the rising of the sun and at its going down,
we remember them.

At the blowing of the wind and in the chill of winter,
we remember them.

At the opening of the buds and in the rebirth of spring,
we remember them.

At the time of blue skies, bright sun, and warm breezes,
we remember them.

At the rustling of the leaves and in the beauty of autumn,
we remember them.

At the beginning of the year and when it ends,
we remember them.

When we are weary and in need of strength,
we remember them.

When we are lost and sick at heart,
we remember them.

When we have joy we want to share,
we remember them.

When we have decisions that are difficult to make,
we remember them.

When we have achievements that are based on theirs,
we remember them.

As long as we live, they too will live;
For they are now a part of us,
As we remember them.

Compassionate God, Eternal Spirit of the universe, grant perfect rest in Your sheltering presence to our dear ones who have entered eternity. O God of mercy, let them find refuge in the shadow of Your wings, and let their souls be bound up in the bond of everlasting life. God is their inheritance. May they always rest in peace. Amen.

We miss them at celebrations,
When there's an empty seat at the table.
We miss them when the community gathers,
And there's an empty place beside us.
We miss them today and every day,
With every year that passes,
As our life goes on without them.
Their faces, their voices, the feel of our arms around them -
These are with us forever.
For so it is written:
Love is stronger than death.
The love that we gave, the love we received -
These endure among the pain of loss.

Each of Us Has a Name

Each of us has a name
given by God
and given by our parents

Each of us has a name
given by our stature and our smile and given by what we wear

Each of us has a name
given by the mountains and given by our walls

Each of us has a name
given by the stars
and given by our neighbors

Each of us has a name
given by our sins
and given by our longing

Each of us has a name
given by our enemies
and given by our love

Each of us has a name
given by our celebrations
and given by our work

Each of us has a name
given by the seasons and given by our blindness

Each of us has a name
given by the sea and given by our death.

CREATE A JEWISH LEGACY

During Yizkor, we remember our loved ones who provided so much for us in so many different ways. In our tradition we honor their memory and influence through gifts that preserve our heritage and values for the generations that will follow us.

As we look back in gratitude, we also look ahead. Please consider a legacy gift to ensure that the things you value about North Shore Congregation Israel will continue after your lifetime. The North Shore Congregation Israel Legacy Circle recognizes all donors who have arranged for a gift to NSCI of any size in their will or estate plan.

For information about The North Shore Congregation Israel Legacy Circle or any donation please contact Sheryl Cohen Solomon at 847-835-0724 or sheryls@nsci.org
