Pursuing Justice, Every Day.

Torah compels us: Justice, justice shall you pursue. And we are left wondering: Why do we have to pursue it? Where is it going? We have to pursue justice because it is elusive; even once we find it, we have to be vigilant such that it doesn’t slip away again. The truth is that we humans design systems that are imperfect. Torah, in response, comments on these human tendencies, hoping that through our awareness of the discrepancy between what is and what could be, we can create a society that better protects those who are most vulnerable. This is part of the light that we as Jews are mandated to bring into our world.

Over the past few months, the Rothschild Social Justice Institute (RSJI), the body through which we enliven our commitment to tikkun olam, has been very busy bringing this light into the world. Each of our ten groups is making a difference in our ten focus areas, bringing healing and hope into the hearts of those we serve. Below is just a small sampling of what these groups have been doing:

Our Racial Justice group responded to the call from Proverbs (22:22): "Do not exploit the poor because they are poor and do not crush the needy in court." On November 12th, they convened, facilitated, and executed an unprecedented gathering of justice partners from across Fulton County for a Record Restriction Summit, to address the crisis facing people who have arrests but no convictions on their records. These records, which prevent people from access to good jobs, college scholarships, public housing, and more, hang like a heavy cloud over their heads, essentially charging them as guilty without even having gone to trial. The Racial Justice group was able to: help around 300 individuals gain a new lease on life; create new and deeper partnerships with city, county, and non-profit entities; and establish The Temple as a central voice in the city on this issue.

Our Anti-Domestic Minor Sex Trafficking (Anti-DMST) group kicked off the year with a very successful volunteer drive for our partner organizations, and congregants are baking casseroles regularly for hungry students so that hunger won’t be the factor that drives them towards unnecessary danger. Next, on January 26, the “In Our Backyard” Pre-Super Bowl Outreach group will present a “ Trafficking 101” presentation followed by an opportunity to visit local convenience stores throughout the Atlanta metro which have become a major asset in identifying minors being trafficked.

Our Get Out the Vote work with New Georgia Project was very well attended and our volunteers also went door to door in October with partners from Ebenezer Baptist Church in Old Forth Ward.

Our Environment group did a fantastic presentation for the community called the ”Waste Wise Recycling Workshop” at The Temple on Sunday, October 14th. Presenters from GIPL, CHARM and CompostNow impressed us with their knowledge and tips on how to behave more sustainably. On Monday, January 21st in honor of MLK Day and Tu B’shvat, the group is planning a tree planting effort, in partnership with Ahavat Achim synagogue and Trees Atlanta.

The LGBTQ group had a very successful Pride March, to which every person running for elected office was invited, ten of whom joined our Temple marchers. The work continues this spring with the ACLU’s look at the upcoming legislative agenda with regards to protecting the rights of LGBTQ community members.

There are so many more groups doing incredible work, including the Muslim/Jewish Relationships group which recently showed up with great support for the ISB Gala and which is planning a Jewish/Muslim seder; the Education group which collected school supplies for Toomer Elementary school this fall and gifts for the children to “buy” for their family members this winter with their good citizenship, attendance, and academic achievement; the Women’s Rights group who learned from GA Senator Nikema Williams about the state of women’s health in Georgia today and is planning ways to respond to this health crisis among the poor and rural; the Refugee Resettlement group who is supporting Global Village Project; the Gun Violence Prevention group which is offering the opportunity to all to join a Jewish day of lobbying our legislature on January 13th; and our Ending Homelessness group who continues to support the Zaban-Paradies Couples Center and partner with Partner for Home in their important work.

This month, as we turn our attention towards celebrating the life and work of the Revered Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., we will join in praise and song, and recommit to creating a world of justice and peace. As we do, our pursuit of justice continues undeterred, through the groups of the RSJI and other incredible projects of healing that our community undertakes. Together, we will link arms with one another and with our partners across lines of difference to bring more inspiration and transformation to our world. If you want to join with us in this work, please email Rabbi Lydia.

Temple History Makers and Heroes

January 7, 14 • 7:00-7:55pm • Cost: Free • Taught by Rabbi Peter Berg & Dr. Mark Bauman • Register online at www.the-temple.org/tamid
In this course, we will explore the lives of over 25 Temple members (mostly from our first 100 years) who are recognized by historians for the manner in which they have shaped the city of Atlanta. For each history maker, we will examine his or her contributions to the city of Atlanta, the larger Jewish community and The Temple. Class participants will receive preview copies of Dr. Bauman’s color-coded timeline of The Temple’s first 150 years—with a detailed and annotated biography of our Temple history makers.

WELC CORNER

Chanukah at WELC!
It’s a menorah! It’s a dreidel! It’s a festival of lights! Our little WELC miracles sung and danced their hearts out during their Chanukah performance. Each class spent time learning a special Chanukah song with our amazing music teacher, Ms. Amy. Our fabulous teachers helped the students create all the costumes! Families were invited to a delicious lunch sponsored by the TPA and catered by The General Muir.

A Merry Mitzvah
THANK YOU!
On behalf of the Education Team and all our staff at The Temple, we would like to extend our deepest thanks and appreciation for our students, adult volunteers, and to all those who donated gifts for this year's Project Merry Mitzvah. Without your precious time, generous donations and dedication, this year’s event would not have been the success it was. Each and every one of you played a part in making sure that The Temple community was able to bring the season of joy out and into the lives of our couples at the Zaban Paradies Center. Thank you for doing you part in Tikkun Olam, in helping to repair the world.
Thank you again,
Rabbi Steven Rau, Elizabeth Foster, Marjorie Vaughn, Jacqueline Morris, and Bethany Smith
The Well
Friday, January 11 @ 8 PM
January is a time for new things and for old things to become new again. Who hasn’t made a resolution to be more caring or more patient in the New Year? Who hasn’t promised to go to the gym more often or to try and be more thoughtful, more intentional? We all know that resolutions like that are hard to keep, but that doesn’t stop us from constantly trying to self-improve and redefine ourselves. In a new year we want to keep the best parts of the old, that core which made us who we are, while striving to be something new. Human beings want to grow.

The Well is growing too. The music is new, the food is different, and some of the faces have swapped over- but the core is still the same. We still want to feel the big feelings, get fired up and inspired, and connect to each other as friends and neighbors. We still want to talk about real issues and share our own truths, we’re not afraid to talk about the hard stuff. We’re still finding new ways to connect to our Jewish tradition, making it our own and singing our song, all over again.

The Well has grown a lot in the last 6 months, and we’re going to grow again this year. If you haven’t been recently we hope that on January 11th, at 8pm, you’ll try it anew.

To RSVP or if this is your first time at The Well, please email Summer Jacobs: sjacobs@the-temple.org.

Well Done
At the Well we’ve been asking you to come with spirit and leave with soul. Now we want you to come hungry too!

A renaissance of Jewish cookbooks, restaurants, and food programs has shown us that Jewish cuisine doesn’t have to be just matzah ball soup or hummus. Food tells the story of a people, and Well Done is our hope of sharing that story with you. On January 11th join us at Temple at 6pm to learn to make a unique Jewish meal celebrating Tu’Bishvat, the festival of the trees. Then wash it down with a custom seven species inspired cocktail. Help us make these incredible dishes and then share them with your friends at The Well’s Shabbat service!

To save your spot in the Kitchen, please be in touch with Rabbi Kaye: skaye@the-temple.org

Can’t make it to help us cook? Don’t worry, there will be food and drink for everyone who comes to the Well on the 11th.

Mini Shabbat
Saturday, January 12 • 9:30am: Shabbat Service
10:00am: Coffee and Bagels • 10:30am: Playground
Join us on Saturday, January 12th at 9:30 AM as our puppets welcome us into a beautiful garden and help us celebrate Tu B’Shvat, the holiday of the trees! We begin in Covenant Chapel with our puppets, clergy, and friends for prayers and guitar music. Then, we move to the Motor Lobby for bagels, juice and coffee, followed by playtime on Sonia’s playgroup outside (weather permitting) or WELC indoor playground. Please dress casually. There is no fee or RSVP required.

Questions? As always, please contact Rabbi Lydia Medwin (lmedwin@the-temple.org).

Songs, stories, bagels, coffee & friends? An unbeatable Shabbat combination. We can’t wait to see you there!

Atlanta Jewish Life Festival at the Georgia Aquarium

Together—A Special Day of Service
Community Tree Planting
Monday, January 21, 2019 • 9:00am-12:00pm at Grove Park
Tu B’Shvat and MLK Day are on the same day—Monday January 21, 2019. Please join your Temple Green Team, Ahavath Achim Green Team, Trees Atlanta and the interfaith community to plant trees on this special day. Amazing opportunity to honor the life and memory of Dr. Martin Luther King, and to celebrate the Jewish New Year of the trees—Tu B’Shvat.

Meet at the corner of Grove Park Place and Francis Place NW 30318, close to Proctor Creek and a new section of The Path, with almost no street traffic. We’ll end with a Tu B’Shvat celebration with Special programming for young children and lots of refreshments, including Tu B’Shvat fruit and nuts and hot coffee. To whet your appetite, go to Atlanta Interfaith Broadcasting’s YouTube video—they featured the 2017 planting on their program GROW.

Trading (Holy) Spaces
Join us for this unique interfaith initiative between The Temple and First Presbyterian Church. Throughout 2019 members of both congregations will have four opportunities to experience firsthand the worship and ministry of their Midtown neighbors. Each gathering will be followed by a time of guided reflection and open Q&A over a shared meal or coffee. All are welcome. Cost: $50/person. For more information and to sign up, email Jonya Schmidt at jschmidt@the-temple.org.

Gathering 2 – Community Prayer Breakfast
Sunday, January 27 • 6:00-8:30am • First Presbyterian Church

Gathering 3 – Ash Wednesday Service
Wednesday, March 6 • 6:30-8:30pm • First Presbyterian Church

Gathering 4 – Shabbat Torah Study
Saturday, March 23 • 9:00-11:00am • The Temple

GIP’s Second Annual Green Team Summit
Sunday, January 27 • 2:00-7:00pm at The Temple
All Creation Care champions and environmental stewards from congregations across the state are invited to join us for this interfaith celebration featuring an inspiring keynote address by the Ray C. Anderson Foundation’s Executive Director: John Lanier, educational workshops, and a farm-to-table dinner.

Temple Connect
For a complete listing of Temple Connect groups, visit www.temple-connect.com.

Joining a Temple Connect group is the best way to get to know a small group of people well. Formed around interests, needs, geography, demographic or profession, group meetings take place in the home, in an office, or anywhere in the city. Groups meet regularly (usually monthly), are led by your fellow Temple members, and consist of anywhere between 3-18 people. Temple Connect is designed to inspire us and transform our lives and the world around us. We want to help you get connected!

Did You Know? There are real differences between Chinese and American Mah Jong! The Temple’s Connect groups are doing both. Find out more and sign up at www.temple-connect.com or email Elaine ebclear@bellsouth.net.

Beineinu (The Two of Us): The Temple’s Marriage Retreat
March 1-2 at Chateau Elan
Facilitated by Rabbis Loren and Micah Lapidus and Rabbis Lydia and Dan Medwin, this marriage retreat gives an opportunity to relax and reconnect as a couple, and also to meet other couples from The Temple. Every year, participants leave with new friends and ways to participate in the community. This retreat is primarily designed for those in their first 7 years of marriage. Through the generosity of the Leven Family Jewish Identity Institute, there is a significant discount for the retreat and an additional subsidy for interfaith couples. For more information or to register, please go to www.the-temple.org/marriageretreat or contact Rabbi Lapidus.

RSJI: Women’s Rights

The “Women’s Rights” group of the Rothschild Social Justice Institute has identified three main objectives for 2019. These include health and reproductive rights, pay equity and family leave issues. In dealing with these large themes, we hope to educate, conduct advocacy work, and perform direct service projects.

On October 2nd, the Women’s Rights group hosted Georgia state senator Nikema Williams to speak at the Temple. Ms. Williams provided an intimate look at some of the pressing issues that are facing the woman of Georgia. Her long and dedicated career in service to the woman of this state was of great interest to our group.

On Tuesday, January 29th at 7 pm, the Temple will be hosting Roses for Roe. This annual event celebrates the anniversary of Roe v. Wade and the powerful impact of Planned Parenthood. This event has become the second largest fundraiser for Planned Parenthood SouthEast (PPSE). Last year, we raised a record $30,000 for PPSE in a single night. This year we are hoping to break that record and urge all Temple members to come help us!

On February 10 at 12:30 we will be hosting a special project where we will be making packets containing feminine hygiene products for the homeless and also lower income schools. We will be collecting items during religious school hours for the next few weeks. Please drop off in the bins at the lobby front desk (in order of importance) pantyliners, pads, individually wrapped feminine hygiene wipes (non alcohol), and tampons. To learn more about this project, please visit: https://homelessperiodproject.org/

For more information on the Women’s Rights group, please contact Samantha Schoenbaum at samanthalbs@gmail.com

Annual College Outreach

Sign up your student again!

Do you have a college-age student, a child at college, on a gap year, or pursuing other paths? The Temple would like to reach out, send holiday greetings and gifts, and remind them that they are still part of our Temple family, wherever that may be! Please send us your student’s new mailing address for this year so we can continue to be a part of their life. Contact Jacqueline Morris at jmorris@the-temple.org for questions and more information.

We’re Collecting Things!

Don’t know what to do with those empty plastic medicine bottles? We do!

MedShare, a Mitzvah Day Agency, collects surplus medical supplies and used equipment from U.S. hospitals and manufacturers and sends them to hospitals and clinics in third world countries. Peel or soak off the label and bring the bottles to The Temple. A collection box will be in the motor lobby.

Caring at The Temple

Our Caring at The Temple program reaches out to fellow congregants during times of hardship or pastoral need, providing homemade chicken soup and challah to members who are bereaved, ill, recently discharged from the hospital, or are celebrating the arrival of a new child. We have delivered more than 500 soups, and nearly every step of the program—from soup preparation, to delivery (within your zip code), to letting us know about fellow congregants in need—is led by members of our congregation.

Thank you to our Caring at The Temple volunteers who delivered soup this month: Nancy Apatov, Scott Chalk, Sandy & Duane Cox, Susan Gordon, Ellen Kaplan, Jessica Landsman, Barbara & Ron Lipp, Denny Marcus, Judy Maziar, Shayrin Mulqueen, Cheryl Orinsky, Jennifer Bush Otte, Cheri Restler, Randy Hyman Shapiro & Marc Shapiro, Debbie Shelton, Claudia Shorr, Jill Spasser, Mia Spolan, Shayna Steinfeld, Lisa & Eric Vayle.

To be a part of this program and to fulfill the mitzvah of bikkur cholim (visiting the sick) or to let us know who needs soup, please contact Rabbi Lydia Medwin at Medwin@the-temple.org or 404-873-1731.

Zaban Paradies Center

Thanksgiving support

Zaban Paradies Center is the beneficiary of young attorneys from Greenberg Traurig. Thanks to ZPC Advisory Board member Bethani Oppenheimer, who publicized the Center through the firm’s Thanksgiving potluck dinner, ZPC received a number of donations and created awareness to others that the Center is exists and has ongoing needs of new and donated items. If you or your company would like to learn more, please contact Randy Gorod at randy.gorod@zabanparadiescenter.org.

Holiday cheer

The Temple’s Paideia Small Group had brought the holiday cheer to Zaban Paradies Center. Under the guidance of Deborah Maslia, the group provided decorations for Christmas for the Center’s dining room and for individual rooms and the hallways. Hanukah decorations were also set up in the entrance way.

Additionally, the students put together and delivered gift bags with candy and treats for the Residents. Zaban Paradies Center greatly appreciates the thoughtfulness of this group.
