

Exciting Changes at Weinberg Early Learning Center!

It is a great joy to announce that the refreshed and expanded Weinberg Early Learning Center (WELC) is ready for even more families to join our community! Our wonderful preschool has a fresh look, state-of-the-art academic centers and a brand new infant room to accommodate babies as young as 3 months of age. We are enrolling now for the 2019-2020 school year!

For the past fifteen years, parents both within and outside The Temple have entrusted us with their most special people - their children. Parents rely on us to help instill Jewish values while preparing their children socially, academically and emotionally for Kindergarten and beyond. This is a responsibility we celebrate!

We also wish to acknowledge and thank the Schwartz and Weinberg families for their steadfast support of The Temple as a whole and the Weinberg Early Learning Center in particular.

New Infant Program

Parents told us they wanted ALL their children under one roof. We listened! Now, parents can rest easy knowing all their young children are thriving in a warm and safe environment while receiving a wonderful Jewish and secular education.

WELC's new infant room features a 3:1 child-teacher ratio. The developing minds of our infants will be stimulated through music, art, science and motion and activities such as sign language and baby yoga.

Updated Classrooms

WELC's fresh new look and improved academic centers enhance our play-based learning environment. Our classrooms are designed with centers where children learn through a mix of preschool learning styles and education methods including Reggio and Montessori.

Ready for the World

WELC's acclaimed curriculum is unique in that we prepare our children for elementary school while bestowing upon them an education rich with Judaic studies and Jewish values. Education is more than learning A, B, C's. Our children enter the community with a solid foundation built on Jewish values like yad b'yad (working together hand in hand), community, social justice, tikkun olam (repairing the world) and more.

The Best Staff in Town

Our teachers bring decades of experience into the classroom and an unrivaled passion for teaching young minds. WELC's teachers are prepared to meet the individual needs of every child in a nurturing and inspiring environment. Together, staff, children and families become a single, loving community investing in the future of each child.
