GBIO House Meetings

We're off to a great start. The 1st TBZ /GBIO House meeting was called a 'valuable experience' by all who were there!

We're excited to tell you about what GBIO (Greater Boston Interfaith Organization) is doing at TBZ and all of its 40 member institutions.

GBIO is dedicated to helping organize diverse communities to work for justice and wants to learn what we care about at TBZ. Through a series of House Meetings, we want to find out what matters to you. Our TBZ/GBIO core team will share the broad themes with GBIO leadership. Just as importantly, experience shows that House Meetings

Mindfulness

From Passover to Shavuot: Leave-taking and Revelation

"Leave-taking—home-leaving—always precedes the Divine Encounter, because...when we leave everything that is familiar to us, we leave convention, and most significantly, we leave habit... [For] God is encountered in reality..., the ground of being—the present moment reality that convention and habit obscure. When we leave...our habitual relationship to the world, we see things freshly..., we see reality and not the habitual idea of reality we have settled into at home. We see the thing itself and not the idea of the thing."
