Rabbinic Reflections

Dear friends,

Shul or School?

Shanah tovah. I hope you all had a spiritually uplifting holy day season and that you will continue celebrating with us as we celebrate the Torah on Simchat Torah on October 6th at 6:30pm.

Each year, as we approach the High Holy Days, many of our young people are faced with a difficult decision: come to services and celebrate two of our tradition's most important days; or go to school so that they do not feel the pressure of missing work and falling behind. While my own children were in services these past two weeks, I do admit that I feel the tension and understand how any individual family or student might choose either option. However, for some of our students, there is a possibility that this dilemma will not exist next year.

Gwinnet Schools has given parents, students, and staff in the district the opportunity to vote on next year's academic calendar. At least one of the options (including option 2), will allow families of Jewish, Muslim, Catholic, Hindu, Sikh, and other faiths to observe some major holidays without the stress of having to miss work or school, assignments/tests, and/or field trips, etc. due to religious observation.

While I am aware that this proposal only has the possibility of affecting a small portion of the CDT community, this is an amazing step forward for religious diversity of acceptance in Georgia, because, if the religiously tolerant option is chosen, our students will be able to attend services and not miss important lessons or homework. Furthermore, it is an important step towards accepting the religious beliefs of many different faith traditions and not just those of the majority.

While I do not often urge you to take political stands, I urge those of you who this does affect to make sure to vote before October 22 to open up your district to more religious tolerance. Furthermore, for those of us who do not live in Gwinnett, I would like to encourage you (whether you have students at home or not) to request that the districts you live in do the same.

Hopefully, we will arrive at a time when our students will no longer have to make the difficult decision of shul or school.

B'ahavah,

Rabbi Jordan

President's Message

Rachel Allen

Shanah tovah! What a wonderful month we have had at Congregation Dor Tamid celebrating the High Holy Days and the New Year. It was such a pleasure and honor to see and hug so many of you at CDT over the last few weeks. As I reflect on the holidays, from the beautiful Selichot service where we had the chance to see the new Torah covers and meet the artist, to our Rosh Hashanah service filled with beautiful music and meaningful teachings, and ending with the ability to meditate, reflect and remember during our meaningful and beautiful Kol Nidre and Yom Kippur services, I was overwhelmed with the warmth, caring and joy that I felt within our home. I hope that you all enjoyed the holidays and were able to spend time with family and/or friends whether it was here at CDT or away. I have heard so many positive comments and thoughts about this year's High Holy day services and would love to hear any thoughts that you might have so please feel free to reach out to me.

Personally, one of my favorite parts of the holiday was hearing our congregants share their CDT stories. It can be so difficult to get up in front of hundreds of people and share very personal and meaningful stories of the impact CDT has had on someone or their family and I think that each and everyone of us can relate, at least in part, to these stories. I want to thank David Pomerantz, Charla Weinsier, Jessica Grabowski, Jack Kingston, Debra Kerr and Landy Gonzalez for being brave and honest and sharing your stories with us. What a family we have here at CDT!!

As you probably know, our High Holy Day Appeal began after Yom Kippur and I hope that you all had the chance to take a look at my e-mail or the website to learn about our appeal and the 10 Mitzvot of Giving. We are so fortunate to have been challenged to match the generous $36,000 donation from the Fox and Skyer families and I know that if we work together we can absolutely make this a reality. I am hoping that each of you will consider making a donation from each side of the 10 Mitzvot of Giving with a gift of time and a financial donation. Remember, no gift is too large or too small. It could be as simple as bringing a friend to a service or making a donation from our giving page. Please make sure to check out www.dortamid.org/giving to learn more about our appeal and the ways that you can make a difference. We are a family and I am positive that we can get 100% participation in whatever way that you feel that you can help out.

There is so much more to celebrate and join us for in the next month. I hope that you are planning to attend our Simchat Torah service on October 6th. It is absolutely my favorite holiday of the year where we get to celebrate the Torah, dance with Torahs, and see the Torah in its entirety (something I never had the chance to personally experience until I was a member at CDT). There are a number of men's club and sisterhood events occurring and an upcoming CDT Trivia Night (more information to come soon) that I am so excited about! Please make sure to check our website, blasts and calendar for all of the upcoming events, dates and times! I hope to see you at CDT soon!!

Rachel

Cantorial Soloist's Message

Mike Zuspan

Shalom chaverim – Hello, my friends!

I hope you and your loved ones are doing well. I so enjoyed celebrating Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur with you. Every year as I am teaching B'nai Mitzvah students during the Aseret Y'mei T'shuvah, the Ten Days of Repentance that occur between Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, I ask those students who are closest to their Shabbat service date if they are going to try and fast for Yom Kippur. Sometimes they reply with a “yes” or a “no”, but usually a discussion ensues reminding me that while most everyone seems to agree that becoming a Bar or Bat Mitzvah is very important, not everyone agrees on why or, for that matter, what becoming a Bar or Bat Mitzvah actually means.

“Bar Mitzvah” means “son of the commandment”. “Bar” is the Aramaic word for “son” (in Hebrew, the word is “Ben”). “Bat” is both Hebrew and Aramaic for “daughter”. The term first appears in the Talmud (compiled during the first millennium of the Common Era), though the modern concept of the term cannot be traced back farther than the 14th century. Some scholars believe a public ceremony began during the middle ages. There are also Talmudic references to celebrating this rite of passage with a religious ceremony. The age of thirteen is mentioned in Mishnah and is also referred to in various Midrashim as the age at which a boy should either study the commandments or is responsible for keeping the commandments. The first Bat Mitzvah ceremony belonged to Judith Kaplan in the 1920s. Until only recently, the age of Bat Mitzvah was recognized as twelve.

One becomes a Bar or Bat Mitzvah at the age of thirteen whether he or she spends their birthday in the synagogue chanting Torah or sitting at home on a couch playing video games. At the age of Bar Mitzvah, children are simply obligated to observe the Commandments. The age of Bar Mitzvah is an age of commencement, where one begins to observe the Commandments due to personal obligation rather than parental direction. No ceremony is required for this to take place. In fact, the current practice of elaborate religious ceremonies and celebrations that are so commonplace today were nonexistent as recently as a century ago.

Contrary to popular notion, Bar Mitzvah is not about reaching full adulthood in every sense of the word. The Talmud states in Pirkei Avot (Wisdom of our Ancestors) that thirteen is the age for fulfillment of the Commandments, while eighteen is the proper age for marriage and twenty is the proper age for earning a living. In other texts, different ages for marriage are indicated. The actual aspects of adulthood that reaching the age of Bar or Bat Mitzvah marks are the obligation to study and observe the Commandments, to count in a Minyan, to form binding contracts, and to testify before religious courts...and fasting (or doing the best that a thirteen year can do!) on Yom Kippur.

L'Shalom,
Mike Zuspan

Interim Director of Jewish Life & Learning

Jessica Grabowski

Shana Tova! We ushered in the New Year by learning new things about Jews all around the world and having a blast with our families and friends. CDT held its first annual Family Learning Day on the 2nd day of Rosh Hashanah for all CDT families. We "travelled" around the world" learning about different Rosh Hashanah customs in countries like; Uganda, India, Israel, Lithuania, Tunisia and more. We learned about some of the oldest Jewish communities in the world. We crafted paper beads from Uganda and we wrote down our prayers and put them in the Wailing Wall in Israel, for real. We created handmade tiles from Tunisia and made candles for our celebration from the USA. We learned about and ate Halwa Milk which a staple food for the Rosh Hashanah seder in India. We had so much fun learning about other Jewish customs around the world and most importantly understanding that we as Jews are everywhere and connected no matter where we live.

Blood Drive – RESCHEDULED until October 15th (9:30-1:30)

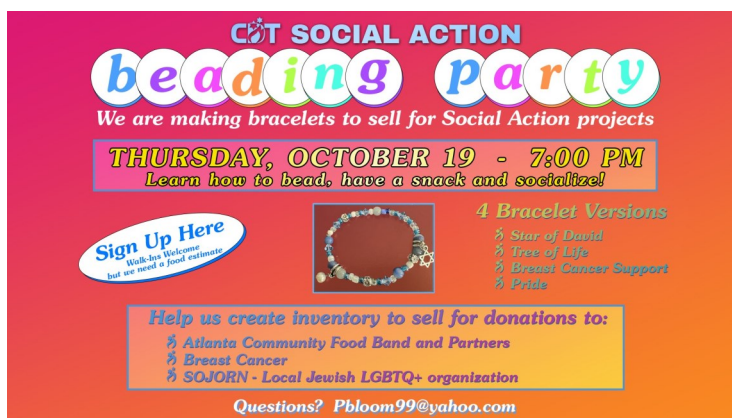

We have rescheduled our Blood Drive for October 15th starting at 9:30 and there are still a number of time slots available. There is a desperate need so please consider joining us. Teens 17 and older (or 16 with a signed permission form from parents) can also donate. Sign up to give blood on October 15th.

High Holiday Food Drive for Kosher Food Bank – until October 10th

JF&CS provided containers for our High Holiday Kosher Food Drive (at front doors). They will pick up the containers on October 10th. The primary goal is to collect Kosher Food, but any food donations will be given to needy people in the area. Thanks to all those who have already donated!

Beading Party – Make Bracelets for Social Action Causes – October 19th at 7:00

We are gathering men and women to make bracelets on October 19th. It will be a fun evening – learn how to bead, have some snacks and socialize with some great people! Bracelets will be sold with all proceeds going to Hunger Walk (Atlanta Community Food Bank and Partners), Breast Cancer and SOJOURN (local Jewish LBGQ+ organization). We will make 4 bracelet versions – Star of David and Hamsa, Tree of Life, Breast Cancer and Pride. Let us know if you plan on coming. (Walk-ins are welcome but we need an idea of how many people are attending for beading supplies and snacks). If you have any questions, please contact Paula Bloom (pbloom99@yahoo.com)/770-570-8059.

October 15th – Atlanta Pride Parade

CDT is proud to sponsor SOJOURN (SOUTHERN JEWISH RESOURCE NETWORK FOR GENDER AND SEXUAL DIVERSITY) at the Atlanta Pride Parade. Come and connect with 40+ Jewish groups from all across Metro Atlanta as we march to show Jewish and LGBTQ+ pride! If you would like to walk, it is a 2.5-mile route (approximately 2 hours). We will meet at the Civic Center Marta Station at 12:00 PM.

Our Mission: The Women of Congregation Dor Tamid's primary function is to support the synagogue through Judaism, Community Service, Friendship & Fundraising.

Finally the weather is beginning to feel like fall... so it's the perfect time to get together and go outside to walk! I'm excited to share with you that CDT Sisterhood will be participating in the Sharsheret Summit for the month of October! Sharsheret is a national non-profit organization, which improves the lives of Jewish women and families living with or at increased genetic risk for breast or ovarian cancer through personalized support and saves lives through educational outreach.

2023 Sharsheret Summit brings together thousands of people virtually and in-person all across the country from October 13th - 31st. Join the national virtual symposiums on the latest hot topics in breast cancer and ovarian cancer, attend awareness-raising programs with community partners, learn about the latest screening guidelines and access the most up-to-date data and materials in the digital resource packet found on their website. <https://summit.sharsheret.org/> Look for emails with links to a variety of virtual events throughout the month!

Here's a few pics from our fun night of bowling with the Men's Club at Main Event in Alpharetta! Thank you to Eric Cole for making this fun event happen for us! We ate! We drank! We laughed! We bowled! and We laughed and laughed and laughed! Some of us bowled like professionals and some of us may have used bumpers, but it didn't matter because we enjoyed every minute of it! Check out the bowling crew!
