President’s Message

Summer is often a quiet time in Temple Israel, when both our members and our clergy take their vacations, religious school is out for the summer, and the main activity for our staff is making plans for the High Holidays that begin in September. Despite this seeming lack of activity, I wanted to share with you three inspiring events that occurred at Temple Israel in the past few weeks.

The first was how well you responded to our congregational survey. We had over 300 respondents, an outstanding response rate. That so many of you chose to participate tells me how much you all care, and how much you want to play a role in strengthening our temple. We’ve just begun analyzing the results, and I plan to discuss them with you further in the near future. Many of you contacted me regarding your interest in providing more detailed and qualitative responses. We will be taking additional steps to hear what you have to say, and to learn more about what engages you.

The second inspiring event of the past few weeks was the success we had in finding a new Education Director for Temple Israel Religious School. I will confess to you that I was very nervous about our ability to fill this position, particularly given the short time frame until school begins. There are very few things we do at Temple Israel that are as important as educating our children. Finding the right leader for our school was my highest priority these past two months. Finding someone as experienced and as compatible with our Temple as Rabbi Tracy Klirs was great fortune for us. I spent a great deal of time with her throughout the search process, and I came away truly inspired by the vision and energy she brings to our school. Thanks again to Alison Lerner and the search committee for taking time during your summer vacation to help us find the right person to lead TIRS.

Lastly, for those of you that missed it, July 7 was an amazing Shabbat experience. On that day we helped celebrate the 90th birthday of one of our stalwart members, Julius Goldman. Julius has been one of our most active and influential members since moving to Charlotte and joining Temple Israel in 1975. For over 35 years he has been involved in every facet of temple life, serving on our board of trustees, leading our minyanim, and being there to support us as we have celebrated our simchas. July 7th was the day on which we had an opportunity to celebrate him.

Julius was joined on the Bimah by his wife Mae, his son Bruce Goldman and his daughter Pam Silberman, and a representative sampling of his 57 grand and great grandchildren. He chanted a flawless Haftorah, and invited everyone for a wonderful kiddush luncheon after services. Julius epitomizes all that is good about Temple Israel. I was truly honored and inspired to have a front row seat from the Bimah for this wonderful moment in Temple Israel’s long history.

I hope your summer is as inspiring as mine, and I look forward to seeing you all soon for the High Holy Days.

Barry Bobrow, President

Welcome to Rabbi Tracy Klirs

We are extremely pleased to announce that we have a new Director for Temple Israel Religious School, Rabbi Tracy Klirs. Rabbi Klirs and her family will be relocating to Charlotte from Great Neck, New York, and will officially join our professional staff August 1. We hope you all take the opportunity to welcome them to Charlotte and to the Temple Israel Family.

Rabbi Klirs is known for her ability to form strong personal connections to religious school students, and for mentoring and developing teachers. She is also known for taking a family oriented perspective on religious education. Rabbi Tracy Klirs received a bachelor's degree in Yiddish literature from the University of Chicago and attended the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion’s rabbinical school in Cincinnati where she was ordained in 1984. Rabbi Klirs was the first woman rabbi to lead a congregation in Canada and served congregations and Jewish educational organizations in Texas, California, Virginia and Maryland. She recently served as the Director of the Religious School of Temple Israel of Great Neck, New York.

Rabbi Klirs is the primary author of The Merit of Our Mothers: A Bilingual Anthology of Jewish Women’s Prayers and has published a number of articles, primarily on Yiddish literature, including a chapter entitled “Tkhines for Rosh Chodesh: Women’s Prayers of Devotion” in Celebrating the New Moon: A Rosh Chodesh Anthology.

Rabbi Klirs is a member of the Central Conference of American Rabbis, the Jewish Educators’ Assembly, and the Women’s Rabbinic Network, and recently served as Co-president of the Conservative Principals’ Council of Queens and Long Island. She has participated in Jewish choruses and played cello in an amateur klezmer band called Shores.

Rabbi Klirs and her husband, Elisha, have three children: Lior and his wife Ariella, of Nashville, TN; Carni of Washington, DC and Talya, who is moving to Charlotte along with her daughter, Callie (Rabbi Klirs’ granddaughter).

The search committee, Executive Committee, and Board of Trustees are very excited about having Rabbi Klirs join our community and our staff. As we pray at the conclusion of every book of the Torah: Hazak Hazak V’Nithazek! May our congregation continue to go from strength to strength under the educational leadership of Rabbi Tracy Klirs.

Welcome Back to Schul Picnic in honor of Rabbi Klirs!

Lake Norman Jewish Congregations Merge

After 6 years of having 2 Jewish congregations in the Lake Norman area, the boards of Lake Norman Jewish Congregation and Beth Shalom of Lake Norman have decided to merge into a single congregation. The merger reflects the community’s desire to be unified, pool resources and combine religious schools.

The transition will include developing a new name and branding, merging community-wide programming, increasing the graduation rate in all schools and all groups of students. He holds a Bachelor’s degree from the College of William and Mary and a Master’s and a Ph.D. in Educational Leadership from the University of Maryland. Recently, the American Association of School Administrators named Dr. Morrison the 2012 National Superintendent of the Year.

Please join us as he shares his vision for CMS and explains why partnerships like ours with Huntingtowne Farms Elementary is so important to the success of our public schools. Learn about why volunteers are so needed in the schools and how Temple Israel can make a difference in the lives of students.

Carolyn Rodd, Principal of Huntingtowne Farms Elementary, will also be attending along with some of her staff. Following services, she will speak with us regarding her vision and goals for the upcoming year and how we, as volunteers, can best help the students and support the teachers.

Calendar Notice

Temple Israel strives to ensure that the calendar information is complete and accurate. However, event information may change. For up to date information, please visit our online calendar on our website. Thank you.
As a congregational Rabbi, I have spent the past 34 years of my life trying to provide for the ever changing spiritual needs of Jews in a world that is forever evolving. It is as if every decade brings new challenges to the spiritual and religious life of the Jewish People. One of the ways we respond to the changing times and needs of our congregants is to provide alternative prayer opportunities throughout the year. Hundreds of you have tasted the flavors of our service options. Whether our members are comfortable with our traditional Shabbat Services, Java ‘n Jeans—an entryway into the world of Jewish prayer, Kavannah, a return to the ancient and modern forms of meditation and spiritual self examination of the early Kabbalists, Torah Tots—a family experience for parents with their pre-school and primary grade children, or Rock HaShabbat—greeting the Shabbat with the most modern style of Jewish liturgical music, there is a place for all of us.

It is interesting that many view alternatives as less than traditional. Yet the Kavannah Service returns us to fundamental meditative and study practices from the beginnings of Rabbinic Jewish experience. Rock HaShabbat actually adds not only music, but prayers into our service, some of which have already infiltrated our weekly services. Our offerings of services provide us different gateways to express our spiritual connections with God. In a world in which many people are turning away from religious life we are offering multiple pathways to connect with God and our Temple Israel Family.

Temple Israel welcomes all area college students for the High Holy Days and year round.

Once again this year, Temple Israel will welcome area college students for all of our High Holiday services and activities by offering them complimentary seats/tickets.

Each year, we seek to reach out to students in the Charlotte area to include them in our High Holiday celebrations and to help them connect to our local community. All Jewish students at Charlotte area colleges and Universities are invited to join us for all of our various services for the High Holiday season. We will also help to arrange transportation to services for any students who need it. We would also like to extend an open invitation to students who would like to join us for all of our Shabbat services, weekly activities, and our Social Action programs all during the year. If you are an interested student, or know of an out of town student that would like High Holiday hospitality, please contact:

Introducing a Special Needs High Holy Day Service

Temple Israel will be introducing a new service on Rosh Hashanah for people with special needs lead by Cantor Elias Roochvarg. This Ma’ariv Service will take place on Monday evening, September 17, 2012 at 6:15pm in the Morris & Sylvia Speizman Sanctuary.

Temple Israel is planning a service that is accessible and interactive, in an environment that is safe, respectful and comfortable for all. It will be livelier than most Rosh Hashanah services, with a much higher energy level. It will be spiritual and inspiring.

Our goal is to raise Temple Israel congregants’ awareness to the presence and needs of people with autistic spectrum disorders and other developmental disabilities, ensuring that all feel that their spiritual home is at Temple Israel.

Please plan to attend a service which we hope will engage, empower and inspire.

There will also be a simultaneous traditional Ma’ariv Service in the Mindy Ellen Levine Chapel at 6:15pm.
Men’s Club News

News & Notes from Men’s Club President, Nicholas Rose

I am composing this now in the hot and lazy dog days of July after having just returned from a two week trip to a rather wet and congested London which is girding itself for the challenges of the Olympics. By the time you will be reading this it will be August and the games will be in full swing. As 5772 winds down, we will begin to contemplate the meaning and relevance of the forthcoming High Holidays to our lives and wondering whether perhaps we deserve any medals. The summer is the perfect time to get contemplative and take stock of our lives, where we have been, where we are going, and to think about any changes we may want to make. So here are a few thoughts:

Whether you support the Mens Club by “just” paying dues, or if you attend an event occasionally, or if you are more involved in club leadership and making our programs happen, we value and have a place for all our members.

It has been my experience that the more involved with Men’s Club I have been, the more I have gotten out of my membership. Friends, positive feelings from accomplishing good deeds, and closer ties to my Jewish Faith have grown along with my Men’s Club involvement.

Men’s Club are a group of guys or maybe a band of brothers…who get together to help Temple Israel and the greater community of whom we are a part, make new friends and have fun in the process…It provides a sense of community, an ability to influence events, and live Jewishly.

So as we approach the Days of Awe and contemplate the changes we might wish to make in our lives, I ask the question “…Will you join us?” Just tick the box in the Men’s Club membership form and for the bargain rate of $36, your name and contact details will be added to the list and we will keep you posted with details of our many events planned for the year. You can be assured of a warm welcome. And who knows, maybe you might win a medal next year…Unlike the Olympics, the Men’s Club is here every year!

Next up for the Mens Club:

• TIRS First Day Breakfast-Sunday, September 9: Volunteers needed to shop for breakfast, set up the Social Hall, serve TIRS families, and help clean up.
• Temple Sukkah Building and Schach Harvest-Sunday, September 30: “Jewish Men with Chain Saws” will venture out to cut down Sukkah greenery while others will quickly erect the Temple Sukkah so it can be decorated for the Festival. Drivers with pick-up trucks, guys with ladders, and tall men are needed. We will be working with the TIRS 6th grade families on this project, but all are welcome.
• Membership drive: If you didn’t check off the Mens Club box on your TI membership form, please send your check for $36 (or more) to TI Mens Club to the Temple Office.

Thanks in advance for all your participation and help in making 5773 another “Gold Medal” year for Temple Israel and the Mens Club!

Sisterhood News

President’s Column, Teresa Brenner

Successful leaders include individuals with many different styles of leadership. Some are command leaders; some, consensus building leaders. Some are effervescent and charming; some, quiet and intently listening. And a few are “behind-the-scenes” leaders. Barbara Ezring is one of the few. Barbara is a kind and gentle soul, a smart and dedicated teacher, and a patient and calm leader. She has been a member of Sisterhood for 34 years. She has served, among many other roles, as a Board member of Women’s League, President of the Southern Region, and an Executive Board member of Temple Israel’s Sisterhood. She currently serves as a Board member of Masorti. She has also taught at Temple Israel’s Religious School and volunteered as a tutor at Huntingtowne Farms Elementary. Barbara has created opportunities for women to come together to worship, to express themselves, and to work for the betterment of their children, families and community.

Temple Israel’s Sisterhood nominated Barbara Ezring for Women’s League’s “Light of the Torah” Award, its highest individual honor. During Women’s League’s Southern Region Spring meeting in Atlanta, I had the privilege of presenting this award to Barbara, and Rabbi Ezring had the pleasure of seeing her receive this award. Barbara joins a long list of distinguished recipients, including Rhoda Gleberman, Lois Benjamin, Audrey Madans, Rose Luski, Judy Miller, Marcy Mehlmam, Rose Weisman, Lorrie Klemmons and Tess Berger. Please join me in extending Mazel Tov to Barbara and her family, and to expressing our thanks to her for all she does for our synagogue family, Women’s League and our community.

No matter what your leadership style is, Women’s League provides leadership opportunities for all Sisterhood members of Conservative synagogues, including twenty-four synagogues in the Southern Region, of which ours is one. An exciting opportunity for leadership training and other seminars will occur at Women’s Leagues’ National Convention to be held in early December in Las Vegas, Nevada. If you are interested in possibly attending this convention, please feel free to contact Barbara Ezring or me for more information.

As always, please contact me at any time with ideas, inquiries or opportunities. We warmly welcome your involvement and hope you can discover or refine your leadership style while becoming involved in Sisterhood events and activities, whether locally, regionally or nationally.
