It is said that President Abraham Lincoln often slipped out of the White House on Wednesday evenings to listen to the sermons of Dr. Phineas Gurley at New York Avenue Presbyterian Church. He generally preferred to come and go unnoticed, so when Dr. Gurley knew the president was coming, he left his study door open.

On one of those occasions, the president quietly entered through a side door of the church, took a seat in the Minister’s study, located just off the sanctuary, and propped the door open just wide enough to hear the preacher. During the walk home one Wednesday evening, an aide asked Mr. Lincoln his appraisal of the sermon. The president thoughtfully replied, “The content was excellent… he delivered with eloquence… he had put work into the message…”

“Then you thought it was an excellent sermon?” questioned the aide.

“No,” Lincoln answered.

“But you said that the content was excellent, it was delivered with eloquence and it showed much work,” the aide pressed.

“That’s true,” Lincoln said. “But Dr. Gurley forgot the most important ingredient. He forgot to ask us to do something great.”

What does it mean to do something great? To some people it refers to acts of heroism on battlefields or in life threatening situations. To others greatness is found in the gathering of material wealth or in climbing the ladder of success in business. However, I am going to ask you to do something really great. I’m going to ask you to do something that is great Jewishly. I’m going to ask you to do something that is so great it can change your life, the lives of your family members and the entire Jewish community.

Many of us ended our Jewish education as 13 year olds. Every so often we may dabble in trying a class offered for adults at Temple Israel or elsewhere in the Jewish community. But Jewish education, the community’s need for each and every adult to have a mature understanding of what Judaism requests of us, is a requirement that we are in desperate need of rediscovering for the future of Judaism in America.

So if you want to do something great that will not only improve your life but the lives of those around you, your progeny, and all those who will live in Charlotte in the future, accept my challenge to find a Jewish educational opportunity to expand your mind, your knowledge and your understanding of our religious culture, of our religion and of our history. Temple Israel’s adult education offerings can be found after this article.* The Florence Melton Adult School is available to every member of the Jewish community. Rabbis Raucher, Klirs, and I, along with my wife Barbara, are all teachers in the Melton program.

We look forward to the exciting journey towards greatness as together we seek to create a great synagogue, a great Jewish community, and a meaningful life for ourselves and our families. May the coming year be one of great growth for all of us.

May you be inscribed for a good 5774.
Rabbi Murray Ezring

On Kol Nidre, I spoke about my desire for Temple Israel to be a great Kehillah; a great Jewish community. Being great is a lofty and sometimes hard to describe goal. But we all understand greatness when we experience it, and it is more than just a little bit better than simply good. A great synagogue establishes relationships so special that we want our children and our grandchildren to have the same experiences we had. Greatness can be rare and elusive. It can be difficult to maintain even when achieved. These difficulties do not diminish the value of greatness, as greatness is something truly special.

If greatness is a genuinely worthy goal, then to achieve it we all need to commit to finding time to be here, at Temple Israel, and invest in building our relationships with each other. Whether you come here for traditional or alternative services, committee meetings, adult education or just plain schmoozing, for Temple Israel to be great we need to commit to finding ourselves here a little more often.

As President, I hear people often begin their conversations by saying – with a tinge of guilt – they haven’t been very active recently. Please believe me, when I tell you that every time you step into this building, every time you say a kind word to your fellow members, or help with a community activity, you are doing something active and essential – something sacred. If we eliminate the guilt, and focus on the important business of building relationships and community – we will be well on our way to greatness.

We also need to try to find ourselves spiritually at Temple Israel. If we find ways to participate in our religious and educational activities, we can better understand ourselves, and our world. If we find ourselves at Temple Israel more often, we will find ways to understand how Jewish teachings and identity can give purpose and enrichment to our lives. We can find better connections with our fellow members, building the kind of relationships that will help us in our time of greatest need.

So that’s it really – find yourself at Temple Israel – physically and spiritually. Help us be a great community by making a personal commitment to greatness. This is my greatest hope and prayer for Temple Israel – one I have personally committed my time and energy to. If you share that vision, then please join me. Let’s be great – together.

NC HOLOCAUST FOUNDATION LETTER

NORTH CAROLINA HOLOCAUST FOUNDATION
Announces Challenge Grant from Greenspon Foundation

The North Carolina Holocaust Foundation is pleased to announce that the Greenspon Foundation of Charlotte has generously provided the Holocaust Foundation with a $10,000.00 challenge grant. Stan Greenspon offered his support to the Holocaust Foundation after learning of the Holocaust Council’s work providing Holocaust education to schools across the state. The North Carolina Council on the Holocaust, a state agency in the N.C. Department of Public Instruction, is directed to teach and enlighten North Carolinians on the atrocities of the Holocaust.

In addition to supporting the mission and work of the Council, an additional motive for the Greenspon Foundation’s support of the Holocaust Council is the significant funding challenges facing the N.C. Council on the Holocaust due to state funding cuts. The Greenspon challenge grant will provide a much-needed infusion of funds to offset state funding cuts.

The N.C. Holocaust Foundation supports the work of the North Carolina Council on the Holocaust. The crowning achievement of the Holocaust Council is its free one-day teacher workshops on the Holocaust, through which teachers learn essential background about the Holocaust and learn how to teach the Holocaust to their students. The Council presents eight to nine workshops each school year, with an average of seventy teachers attending each workshop. The workshops are conducted throughout the state, often in rural areas where information on the Holocaust is less accessible. Since the Council began the workshops in 1990, the workshops have provided instruction and resources to more than 8,000 teachers and have impacted up to five million students.

The teacher workshops are also a valuable “first responder” to instances of bullying, anti-Semitism, or acts of intolerance in the schools.

The Holocaust Foundation hopes to raise $10,000.00 to meet the challenge from the Greenspon Foundation. Donations from the community will enable the Holocaust Council to maximize the Greenspon Foundations’ full challenge grant, resulting in $20,000.00 of financial support. The additional $20,000.00, if raised, will enable the Council to provide more teacher workshops around the state and pay the cost of substitute teachers in the schools, making it possible for more teachers to attend workshops.

Please consider donating to the cause of Holocaust education in North Carolina. Mail your tax-deductible donation to the North Carolina Holocaust Foundation, 5704 Crooked Stick Trail, Raleigh, NC 27612. The Foundation is a non-profit 501c (3) organization. Please visit the Council’s website, http://www.ncpublicschools.org/holocaust_council. (Unfortunately, donations cannot be made online.)

TEMPLE ISRAEL BOOK CLUB MEETING

Monday, November 11, 2013
7:30 PM at Temple Israel

BEN-GURION:
A Political Life

By Shimon Peres and David Landau

* available at the Levine-Sklut Judaic Library, public library, retail or on-line for about $25.

Shimon Peres was in his early twenties when he first met David Ben-Gurion. Peres came of age in the cabinets of Ben-Gurion and is uniquely placed to evoke this figure of stirring contradictions – a prophetic visionary and a canny pragmatist who early grasped the necessity of compromise for national survival.

A protégé of Ben Gurion and himself a legendary figure on the international political stage, in Ben Gurion: A Political Life “Peres brings to his account of Ben-Gurion’s life and towering achievements the profound insight of a statesman who shares Ben-Gurion’s dream of a modern, democratic Jewish nation-state that lives in peace and security alongside its Arab neighbors.”

Ben Gurion: A political life is available at the Levine-Sklut Judaic Library, the public library and at bookstores or on-line for about $25.

The November 11 Temple Israel book club meeting is open to the entire community. Feel free to attend even if you haven’t read the book! For additional information contact Linda Levy at 704/366-6362 or levyollie@aol.com.

Temple Israel will commemorate the 75th anniversary of Kristallnacht
NIGHT of the
BROKEN GLASS
November 10, 2013
7pm at Temple Israel

On this date, in 1938, Nazi Germany co-oriented an attack on the Jewish people in Germany and German controlled countries. Kristallnacht was the beginning of Hitler’s effort to rid Europe of all Jews.

Throughout the night, we will explore the theme “Keeping the Message Alive”

Our honorees are five survivors and one liberator who have dedicated many hours to telling their stories at schools, churches and civic groups throughout North Carolina:

Irving Bienstock
Suly Chenkin
Susan Cernyak-Spatz
Henry Hirschman
Jessie Oxendine

Our speakers will include Rabbi Murray Ezring, Reverend Dr. Russ Dean and Reverend Amy Dean, Ministers of Park Road Baptist Church. A video, produced by Steve Kahn, will profile our honorees. Eugene Kavadlo (principal clarinetist) & Ali Kavadlo (principal violist, emeritus) of the Charlotte Symphony will perform music of the Holocaust.

The commemoration will honor those who perished in the Holocaust and those members of our community who survived. In an effort to help underwrite the cost of this important commemorative, we are asking for your financial support.

The suggested levels of giving are as follows:

Grand Benefactor $2,500
Benefactor $1,500
Sustainer $1,000
Donor $500
Patron $180
Sponsor $100
Friend $54

All contributions are greatly appreciated. Please make checks payable to: Temple Israel and in the memo line, write ”Kristallnacht Commemorative.” Deadline for inclusion in our program is October 10, 2013.

Adult Education

Temple Israel is bringing you some thought provoking and soul stirring classes every Sunday in October and November. FREE TO ALL TEMPLE ISRAEL MEMBERS. Supplies needed: Questions and an open mind.

Sundays, October 6 - October 27

10am-10:50am – Pirkei Avot - Ethics of our Fathers
(Taught by Rabbi Noam Raucher)

Some of the best advice we've gotten from our parents. In this class we'll study sagely wisdom from as far back as 200 CE! Even though this wisdom may be old its message has real relevance in our lives. Let's study the same texts that gave us “If I am not for myself, who will be for me? If I am only for myself, what am I? And if not now, when?” (Hillel – Pirkei Avot)

10am-10:50am – Synagogue Skills*
(Taught by Cantor Elias Roochvarg)

Looking to pick up some of those vital skills necessary to participate in our Shabbat and holiday services? Cantor Roochvarg will help you with the necessary words, pronunciations, tunes, and even choreography that make Jewish prayer come alive!

*Only offered 4 weeks out of the semester

11am-11:50am – Sandwich Generation Issues*
(Taught by Rabbi Murray Ezring)

Is your life being squeezed? Being a “Sandwich Generation” - an elder/parent caregiver when you also have kids of your own- is a new role on the stage of life for which no one can ever rehearse. Becoming a parent to an aging parent presents extraordinary challenges. As we study the guidance that Judaism offers on this complex stage of life don't forget to share your own stories and thoughts.

*Sponsored by LoveSpeaksOut, Jewish Family Services and Jewish Partner agencies to offer opportunities for all of us to learn about protecting and helping ourselves and our loved ones.

*description is adapted from http://www.sandwichgeneration.com/

Sundays, November 3 - November 24

10am-10:50am – God! (Taught by Rabbi Noam Raucher)

The name and title “Israel” means to “wrestle with God”. In this class we get to know God a little better. We’ll explore God’s different personalities, characterizations and the big questions surrounding God’s place in our lives. We’ll cover ancient as well as modern approaches to understand the God of Israel. Stretch your soul with this class and rest assured that Rabbi Noam Raucher is a certified referee in God Wrestling.

11am-11:50am – Jewish Myths and Urban Legends
(Taught by Rabbi Murray Ezring)

Can Jews with tattoos get buried in a Jewish cemetery? Why do Jews spit three times when communicating important information? In this class we explore all those odd tidbits about Judaism that beg the question, “why?”

Domestic Violence Awareness Month

“I BELIEVE YOU” - Words to Help and Heal

“I believe you” are the words that can begin the journey of healing for a battered person. During October, which is Domestic Violence Awareness Month, Temple Israel is working in partnership with our Jewish Partner agencies to offer opportunities for all of us to learn more and how to help. With abuse occurring in nearly one in four homes and, shockingly, in one in three teen relationships, educating ourselves is critical to keeping ourselves and our loved ones safe. We will also continue the dialogue on Domestic Violence Awareness at Temple Israel on Sunday November 30, 2013.

Learn more about protecting and helping yourself and your loved ones by taking advantage of these special programs in October:

Sunday, October 6, 2013

“I BELIEVE YOU:
Faith’s Response to Intimate Partner Violence”
Sam Lerner Center for Cultural Arts, Shalom Park
5:00 PM

Nationally acclaimed documentary that explores the stories of survivors of abuse and the response of faith groups to address their needs. Followed by discussion with clergy. Both Rabbi Ezring and Rabbi Raucher will be sitting on the film discussion panel. Sponsored by Levine-Sklut Judaic Library, Charlotte Jewish Film Festival, Jewish Family Services, Mecklenburg Ministries, and ShalomBayit. Free to the general public. For more information, contact info@jfscharlotte.org or 704-364-6594.

Sunday, October 27, 2013

“Help Your Tween/Teen Feel Safe”
(Parent Workshop)
Sam Lerner Center for Cultural Arts, Shalom Park
1:30 PM

Learn about prevention; familiarize yourself with the world of cyberabuse/textual harassment and the red flags of abuse; and learn what you can do to help. A must for any parent. Sponsored by LoveSpeaksOut, Jewish Family Services and ShalomBayit. Free admission, but space is limited. Please RSVP info@jfscharlotte.org or 704-364-6594.
