

Press Release: Kehilat HaNahar Prominent at the Bucks County Jewish Festival

May 16, 2022

Kehilat HaNahar (KHN), The Little Shul by the River in New Hope, was one of many organizations promoting the importance of Jewish community at the Jewish Festival at Bucks County Community College on Sunday, May 15th.

KHN is a Reconstructionist congregation that promotes an egalitarian, interfaith, LGBTQ-friendly community. Its programs are designed to educate the KHN community and beyond in the key areas of Jewish history, philosophy, values, art, music, and culture.

The Jewish Festival, attended by hundreds of adults and children, was hosted by Bucks County Kehillah of the Jewish Federation of Greater Philadelphia.

Contact: Gerry Bogatz (gbogatz@marketingworks.com), Chair of KHN's Communications Committee

Kehilat HaNahar
85 West Mechanic Street
New Hope, PA 18938
215-862-1912

PHOTO CAPTIONS:

1. Rabbi Diana Miller of Kehilat HaNahar, incoming President Lynne Goldman, and Membership Chair Geoff Wyckoff at the Bucks County Jewish Festival.
2. Steve Fox, current President of Kehilat HaNahar, with his wife Sue at the Bucks County Jewish Festival.

