Ahavath Torah Congregation 2023 Virtual Annual Meeting Wednesday, June 14, 2023

8:00 PM, immediately following Minyan
The meeting link is www.atorah.org/zoom

Agenda:

I. The election of Officers and Board of Directors for the upcoming term

II. Presentation of the Fiscal 2023 - 2024
Operating Budget

The meeting is scheduled to conclude by 10 PM.
Should there be any unfinished business, the meeting will be continued on Wednesday, June 21, 2023, following Minyan.

In order to vote at the meeting, congregants must be in good financial standing as of June 1, 2023.
Please direct any questions to the synagogue office.

- 1. As we approach the end of our fiscal year, it is more important than ever that your account be kept current. Please help us avoid an end-of-the-year cash crunch, by paying off any past due balances and making your monthly payments in a timely manner.
- 2. Please let us know, as soon as possible, if there will be any change to your dues category for 2023-24. This will help in planning the new budget, and ensure that you are billed correctly, starting July 1.

From our Co-Presidents

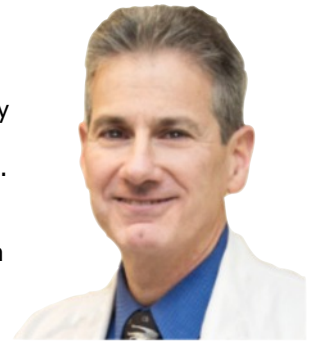

As my and Rob Yunich's term as co-presidents nears its end on June 30, I reflect back on this past 10 months and feel compelled to express to all how very privileged I feel to have served as synagogue president not once but twice.

I want to thank Rob for his stalwart effort in his role as co-president. Truth be told, Rob committed far more time and resources to the position than I did. I feel VERY honored to have served with him.

Arthur Mallock

Co-President

president@atorah.org

Rabbi Abraham Joshua Heschel once said, "Know that every deed counts, that every word is power ...Above all, remember that you must build your life as if it were a work of art."

Every action and every word can harm another person-or make them feel better. Always choose kindness. Finding beauty in everyday life is a great way to approach your daily routines. It is through this lens that I author this final column of my term as ATC co-president.

Arthur and I had four areas of focus this year: membership, communications, events and fundraising. Membership and community provide a great avenue for helping others. Over the last 12 months, ATC welcomed new families of all ages to our building. We exceeded our goal for our High Holiday appeal, held yet another successful raffle and hosted many successful events. These all should be celebrated and certainly are rays of sunshine for the ATC community.

Chapter 1, verse two of Perkei Avot, Chapters of Our Fathers (as translated by Samson Raphael Hirsch) says, quoting Shimon the Just, "The world is based on three things: the Torah, serving G-d and active loving-kindness."

I surmise that this popular quote and Heschel's observation are connected on many levels. Acting righteously every day is incumbent upon synagogue leaders and members. As synagogue co-president, I cannot deny that I made mistakes. I am, after all, human. However, the four guideposts that were laid out on Rosh Hashanah (Listen. Love. Be welcoming. Be present.) always spoke to me and superseded the success or failure of any program. Any organization can sponsor an event. But synagogues have the added responsibility of sticking to Jewish values no matter the circumstance.

Please! No calls or e-mails regarding ATC on Shabbat or holidays.

From the Rabbi's Desk

A businessman, notorious for ruthlessness, once announced to Mark Twain, "Before I die, I mean to make a pilgrimage to the Holy Land. I will climb Mt. Sinai and read the Ten Commandments aloud at the top." "I have a better idea," said Twain, "you could stay home in Boston and keep them." On Shavuot, we recognize that though we personally did not stand at Mt. Sinai with our ancestors, we are still responsible for upholding our end of the covenant they established with G-d. That covenant is everlasting, and no matter where our people have resided, no matter what our predicament may have been, we have understood that the relationship to G-d through the covenant is our eternal responsibility.

Shavuot, of all the pilgrimage festivals, is the least observed. It has very few home rituals and even those rituals that take place at the synagogue are not as engrossing as some of those of the other festivals during the year. Yet, Shavuot dictates the very rationale of the existence of our people. We are a covenanted people and we have a duty to keep, not merely the Ten Commandments but, all our responsibilities to G-d and to humanity.

In the synagogue year, Shavuot always comes towards the end of the calendar year. As our children prepare for the summer recess, and vacation time is planned for all our families, the message of Shavuot is one that should be heard by all of us. Though the synagogue program is nowhere as busy during the summer months, our responsibility to Torah and to the covenant is no less important. I encourage you to put aside some time over Shavuot and join us at shul. Come on Shavuot morning as we read the passage from Exodus 19-20 concerning the Ten Commandments and as we symbolically renew our pledge to keep the covenant. Spend some time reading the book of Ruth, gaining from its wisdom.

With the advent of summer comes with vacations and time outdoors, remember your part in the covenantal relationship. The shul remains open throughout the summer for daily worship (in shul Shabbat and Sunday mornings, virtual all other times unless announced prospectively) and for continued study on Sunday and Tuesday evenings. Spend some of your leisure time reading and studying our tradition and grow in your understanding and observance of our Jewish tradition. You will be enriched by the study.

Shavuot, coming as it does at the end of the school and synagogue programming year, should set a pattern for our summer behavior and activity. Wherever we may be, in the Holy Land, in vacation land, at summer camp, in Boston or elsewhere, it is our responsibility to keep the Ten Commandments and other aspects of Jewish law. We cannot absolve ourselves of that obligation, for the Torah tells us that all of us stood at the foot of Mt. Sinai and were involved in the covenantal process.

Hag Sameach, and have an enjoyable, healthy and relaxing summer.

Women of ATC

Shalom,

Welcome Spring!

Our Women's Seder was well attended and amazing as usual. Thanks to Susan Bernstein and Marge Slotnick for leading us through the Haggadah, and to Diane Goldberg and her team for planning and executing a well-planned event and doing the shopping and setting up. The men who worked in the kitchen and cleaned up helped make this a very special night. Thanks again to all.

For the first time, Brotherhood and Sisterhood will work together at a Sisterhood Brotherhood Shabbat to be held on Saturday, May 6th at 9:30 AM. Please support us by attending or contacting me if you'd like to participate.

Our next Book Club meeting will be held on Wednesday, May 17th, virtually, at 10:00 AM. We will discuss Invisible City, by Julia Dahl.

The Sivan Rosh Chodesh Meeting will be at 10:00 AM May 24th, virtually.

The Spring Rummage Sale will be held on Monday, May 29th. See page 24, for details about dropping off contributions and shopping. Please help make this fundraiser another great success.

The B'not Mitzvah Anniversary Service will be on Saturday, June 17th, at 9:30 AM.

Our virtual exercise classes continue weekdays at 9:30 AM

Please email our Membership Vice President Diane Goldberg at Tuppermom0205@msn.com for information about membership.

Please...if you have not paid your dues for this year, make your $40 check out to Women of ATC All Sisterhood funds go to support our many events in addition to supporting ATC.

Please contact Bev Barbell at bbarbell@aol.com for cards for all occasions.

Please email me with any questions or suggestions.

Looking forward to seeing you soon.

From our Co-Presidents

In "Slip Slidin' Away," Paul Simon sings, "G-d only knows, G-d makes his plan, the information's unavailable to the mortal man." Nobody knows G-d's plan. All we can do is remember that we are a small part of the world. Everything you do matters. Anything you say (or don't say) can change somebody's day.

Dr. Arthur Mallock embodied that principle all year. He always was kind and supportive, ready with a compliment whether or not I felt I deserved it. I could not have held this position alone.

Thank you, Arthur!

I continue to look to Jewish texts and sages for inspiration. The Jewish community would not have survived more than 5,000 years without remaining connected to G-d and the Torah. That is what truly matters.

Moving forward, I hope that you find a way to act with loving-kindness in any way possible. Strive for righteousness in everything you do. Look for new sources of inspiration and paint with brushstrokes, literally or figuratively, every day.

Purim Carnival

"Is this the Hebrew School?," I asked. Why aren't there any desks and chairs? Why is there a Bouncy House in the classroom?

Within a few minutes, I had my answer. First to arrive were Minnie Mouse and a witch. Then a Star Wars character came in. All of these characters had a few things in common. They brought their parents and grandparents. All we were waiting for was the fun to begin.

I had forgotten that we were having a carnival to celebrate Purim. As I gazed around, there were so many games to enjoy. As more groups arrived, the Face Painting table began to have a line. Thanks to Star Wars, Steve, his daughter and his niece enjoyed decorating a lot of shining faces.

Cans were knocked down, dice were thrown, lollipops were picked, and the candy jar drew everyone's attention. Could they guess the amount of candy in the jar and win a nice prize? We took ducks out of their pond and threw rings over cones. Then a rousing game of Musical Chairs took place. In the hallway, Cornhole, was played.

After a delicious Hoodsie, it was time to use all the prize tickets and pick a wonderful prize for playing and having fun.

Chag Purim Sameach!

Marj Slotnick

The ATC Sunday Morning Minyaners

Beginning on June 4, Sunday Minyan will be held in the Lipsky/Levy Chapel. Services to begin at 8:30 am.

Costumes! Snacks! Hamantaschen! Noisemakers to chase the wicked Haman away! Goodie bags to take home! Children of the young families at Ahavath Torah Congregation in Stoughton celebrated Purim at their Purim Carnival.

Religious School News

Shalom,

Happy Spring!

On Sunday, March 12th, we visited the residents at Heights Crossing in Brockton to enjoy Purim with them. They enjoyed seeing our students in costume and hearing the story of Purim.

Everyone was so proud of our students as they led Shabbat services on March 25th.

The Religious School Family Seder was enjoyed by our families and students. Thanks to all who helped make it a success.

On April 30th, we celebrated Yom Ha'atzmaut with pita bread and cookies made by the students and falafel made by Bob. There were crafts, Israeli dancing, and a chance to put a note in the bricks of the Kotel. We were fortunate to have Harris Yoffa, a former ATC congregant who made Aliyah, with us, to talk about his beloved state of Israel. Again, thanks to all who helped.

Our Commencement Service will be on Saturday, May 20th, led by our very capable students.

Please join us to support them and their families.

It is hard to believe that the school year is almost over. All the students have learned so much and made so much progress. We are already planning for next year. If you know anyone who's interested in a great Religious School for their kids, please let me know.

Thanks to our parents for your support and help.

Of course, without the help, knowledge and support of Rabbi J, none of this would be possible.

Thanks to Faith Weiner for her help and being such a great and loving teacher. Thanks to Bob and Lesley Bornstein for all their help and advice. Thanks to Bubbe Rhoda for teaching Yiddish.

Thanks to Arthur Arkanase for working with our kids and for his support.

Please contact me with any questions or suggestions.

ATC's Religious School Purim Visit to Heights Crossing

On March 2, our Religious School students, many in costume, and their families entertained the delighted residents of Heights Crossing in Brockton with our Purim play and gifts.

Our students distributed the Mishloach Manot bags to the residents. The children learned how it feels to perform a mitzvah that makes others so happy and made them feel so good as well.

A Tribute to Ron Gorin

On Shabbat morning, April 25, we at ATC were honored to have Ron in attendance before the plane took off for Florida. Rabbi, Susan Bernstein, and Fred spoke about Ron's life and times at ATC. And, of course, we reminded him, that he will continue to be a part of our 'House' and he already had us in his plans. We all wish Ron the best in the Sunshine State. Mazel Tov!

I wish I could have been there in person for this special tribute for Ronnie. However, I was still in Florida.

Ronnie and I have been friends for over fifty-five years.

We first met in Brighton when we were respectively dating Hinda and Sandy who were roommates at 39 Shepard Street. As time went on after our marriages in 1971 and 1972 we celebrated many good times and not so good times. We always enjoyed each other's company, at least I did with him. We joked, laughed, cried, and celebrated life cycle events together.

We each purchased homes in Stoughton a year apart, Ronnie first. We had many "date nights" together with the Sheff's, Bernstein's and many others in our neighborhood. Every Sunday, Ronnie and I became part of a group of "basketball warriors" and played, or at least showed up, at the Gibbons School for two hours. We participated with neighborhood, Sharon, Canton and Randolph "alta cockers" and played into our fifties.

As time went on, the Gorins and Sussmans went on many fabulous trips together including our wonderful trip to Israel with Rabbi J. However, one of the most memorable events happened on our trip to the Southwest part of the US. When our balloon ride in Sedona was canceled due to high winds, I convinced Ronnie to take a forty-five minute, open cockpit, bi-plane ride through the canyons of Arizona. This was much to the dismay of our wives. We told them it would be ok as our life insurance policies were paid and up to date. To say the least it was an exhilarating ride taking off and landing on a mountaintop in Sedona.

As members of ATC for over forty years we became involved on many different committees together including the Board of Directors. Ronnie always agreed with me to get more involved. He and I participated in ATC events, volunteering for many long hours. One of the last projects we worked on together was with the Rabbi.

We tried to enhance Friday evening and Saturday morning services. We hoped this "new" service would re-energize our Congregation to generate more attendance at both services. We called it "Saturday Morning Live". I would give us an "A" for effort but a "D" for success. We tried and it worked for a while. Anytime you offer great Onegs and Kiddushes it would attract many Jews. Borney did a tremendous job using his talents to provide a wonderful Kiddush.

As a matter of fact, today Bob volunteered his time, once again, in honor of Ron.

We at ATC know that Ronnie will continue to be an active member from afar. This hopefully will include co-chairing the annual Yizkor Book, a major ATC fundraising project.

We owe "RGTOOTALL" a debt of gratitude for all he has done for and at ATC.

Congratulations on this very special tribute to you "Ronaldo"

Our Religious School Pesach Seder Sunday, April 2nd.

Our families gathered to hear the students tell the story of Passover as they all read parts of the Haggadah. We enjoyed the special foods, recited the blessings and four questions, and everyone found the afikomen. Each student received a special gift at Sunday School.
