President's Message

Shalom everyone!

On behalf of the Executive Board, Board of Directors, Rabbi J, and my family, we wish you a happy, healthy New Year, and a hearty welcome to our new members!

Have you been by the synagogue in the past few weeks? Well, let me tell you, our Ahavath Torah is looking Marvelous...Yes, marvelous. The greenery surrounding the building has been styled, the beds made; the weeds gone. Our ATC's "Garden To Be Named Someday" is clean and crisp, with apples ripening to be picked for Sukkot.

When we began to discuss the High Holidays back in May, we assembled members for our NEW High Holiday Team. Members of Ritual, Buildings and Grounds, Communications, Yizkor Book, Rabbi J, Dan Bauman, and myself Zoomed weekly with the hope to make our observances unique and wanted all to leave the High Holidays "recharged and refreshed" and "more serene and kinder"... from a distance.

These were, to be sure, beautiful goals. But after much consideration, it is clear that we cannot safely accomplish these goals via our normal, in-person High Holiday services this year. There is no way around the realization. The inability to be together in shared prayer and celebration and community is a profound loss.

And yet, moments of loss also provide opportunity for rebirth. We have spent the past several months planning how to re-imagine the High Holidays at Ahavath Torah in a hybrid virtual world, creating an on-line experience, along with a small sanctuary presence of members.

Here is an update on the current plans. This is a quick snapshot of our upcoming events, and certainly more information will be provided to all. As a result of extensive

From the Rabbi's Desk

On Rosh HaShanah, we read verses of sovereignty, memory and music - the shofar blast. Each is a pastiche of biblical verses that teaches lessons of psychology and soul.

Sovereignty is not only about G-d but also about us. By emphasizing G-d's majesty, the verse reminds us that each human being is frail and foolish, but still loved and unique. And, it recalls us to the reality that there are powerful ethical expectations for people in this world. We will fall short, of course, but we are obligated to keep trying.

The verses of memory speak to the fear of being forgotten. G-d is called "Zochair Kol Hanishkachot," the One who remembers all things forgotten - including all of us. It reinforces the majesty verses - we are ephemeral, but also eternal.

Finally, the verses of the shofar remind us of the rhythms of our lives. This is the punctuation at the end and beginning of the year, recalling everything that has happened and all we dream for the year to come. The shofar stirs us like military music, to straighten our spine and set us on the path to a better life in the New Year.

This yuntif season will be unlike any that we all have experienced. Most will participate by way of livestream and virtual efforts, safely ensconced in our homes so that we are not exposed nor do we expose others to the virus dangers that lurk silently. However, it is vitally important to reinforce that which we recite so often in the liturgy for this season - though life is fragile, we matter, life is meaningful and G-d does watch over us.

L'shana tova u'metukah

May we all have a joyous and sweet 5781.

Rabbi J

Selichot

September 12 at 9 PM (speaker). Recitation of Selichot at 10 PM
In conjunction with Temple B'nai Tikvah of Canton, by way of Zoom

Selichot are special prayers for forgiveness recited on fast days and during the period preceding Yom Kippur. It is by way of the recitation of Selichot through and by which we begin to examine our actions of the past year, seek forgiveness from G-d and promise to improve our behavior in the New Year. The prayers are specifically tailored to help us direct our hearts and minds to the process of teshuvah (Hebrew for return or repentance).

Ashkenazi tradition holds that Selichot are recited from the Sunday (often the Saturday night) before Rosh HaShanah until Yom Kippur unless Rosh HaShanah begins on a Monday or Tuesday (we would then begin to recite Selichot the week before Rosh HaShanah as that must be a minimum of 3 days of Selichot before Rosh HaShanah arrives). Sephardic tradition begin reciting Selichot at Rosh Hodesh Elul

The fundamental part of Selichot is the repeated recitation of the Thirteen Divine Attributes as described in Exodus 34:6-7 following the Golden Calf apostasy. G-d's name is said twice at the beginning of this section to remind us that G-d is merciful before and after a person sins. According to tradition, G-d taught these 13 attributes to Moses directly as a way for the entire assembly to appeal to G-d's mercy and reassurance that repentance is always possible, along with the fact that G-d always awaits our return to Him. If we emulate G-d's merciful ways, G-d will treat us mercifully in return.

Lulav and Etrog Purchases

If you would like to purchase a lulav and Etrog set for use during Sukkot, please place your paid order with Rabbi J no later than Tuesday, September 15. Cost is $43 for a standard set, $50 for an intermediate set, $60 for the best set. All orders must be prepaid, no exceptions.

Join with Zoom at ATC

Follow these instructions

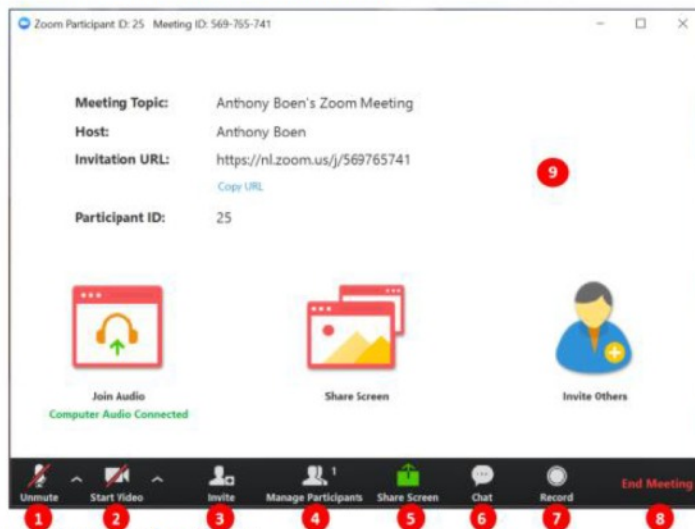

If you were sent a link to join a Zoom meeting, or if you found it posted online, just click the link and follow the on-screen instructions to join the meeting.

Quick Tips for Using Zoom

- If you are using an external camera and/or microphone, be sure to plug them in before opening the Zoom application. We recommend using a headset if possible.
- Only 1 microphone and speaker system should be active per physical location. Otherwise, the 2 systems may cause a loud screeching sound.
- Be sure to mute yourself when you are not speaking.
- Use the Chat feature to ask questions without interrupting the speaker.
- You cannot record unless you are the meeting host, or the meeting host allows you permission to record.
- Zoom sessions without a Zoom Pro user signed in will be limited to 40 minutes for meetings with 3 or more participants.

Zoom User Interface

Here are the features of the Zoom user interface.

1. Mute or unmute your microphone
2. Start or stop your video feed
3. Invite participants to the meeting
4. Manage or view a list of meeting participants
5. Share your screen
6. Open the Chat window
7. Record the meeting
8. Leave the meeting
9. Video Area

Women of ATC

Shalom!

The Women of ATC group is alive and well.

Join us for exercise class each morning, Koffee Klatch, Rosh Chodesh Group meetings and our book club.

Check your email for dates and times and please email Lewis.madeleine@

gmail.com for the links.

Support Sisterhood and ATC by purchasing our High Holiday in a Box. You will receive a round challah, a jar of honey, and two apples from a local orchard. Place your order by emailing Madeleine at Lewis.madeleine@gmail.com. The cost is $18 per box. All checks should be made out to Sisterhood and mailed to the ATC office addressed to Sisterhood. Thank you.

Dues are only $25 this year. Follow the same instructions as for the box. There will be a virtual breakfast. Ingredients will be distributed at ATC. We hope that we will be able to have our Seder this year, which members may attend for free.

New ATC members are given free membership for their first year at ATC. Welcome Lynn Rawlings and Miriam Stoll.

High Holiday Honors 5781

To say the High Holidays services will be a little bit different might be the biggest understatement of 5780. The way we do honors will also be quite different.

Those who have been given honors will be announced before they happen in the service but except for the aliyot they will be in name only. Those with aliyot will be present in the synagogue but all other honors will be done by the Rabbi and the Hazzan.

We won't be calling you for carrying, lifting, or dressing the Torah. We won't be calling you for readings or ark openings. We will be assigning honors like we always do. We will be publishing the list of honors in the next couple of weeks.

Thank you for understanding.

ATC Launches New Website

ATC launched a new website (www.atorah.org) in early August, publishing an attractive and easy-to-navigate site that is full of useful content for current members and potential congregants.

"We hope our new website becomes a resource and your personal calendar to the happenings each and every day at ATC," President Bob Bornstein wrote in an email to the congregation.

The new site will provide information on upcoming events, ATC's community and groups, spiritual life, and holidays. It was designed by Rob Yunich, with the help of Emily Prigot, Rabbi J, Bob Bornstein, and board members.

"I want to take a moment and give my personal thank you to Rob and Emily, who have both invested hundreds of hours to develop our new site," Bornstein wrote. "The new ATC website brings a new level of service to our members, our event participants, and the community."

ATC's long-running website was most capably managed and maintained by David Steinberg for many years.

"We are grateful to David for the many, many hours he spent on it, and the fine work he did keep everyone up to date with it," Bornstein wrote.

Most of the new website is visible to everyone. The one exception is labeled My Account, where you can view your billing information, manage your profile, update any yahrzeit information, register for events, and make payments or donations securely.

work, and I do mean extensive, we have mapped out a High Holiday experience that we expect to include the following:

Special online classes to prepare our hearts and minds throughout the month of Elul leading up to the holidays.

Online resources for home observance and celebration. More information will follow in the next weeks.

A brief online Rosh Hashanah evening service to begin the holidays with Rabbi J and Hazzan Dan Bauman.

Our services will be live-streamed, none of which individually will last more than an hour and forty-five minutes.

A variety of age-appropriate experiences designed for families with children.

If deemed safe, each service will host members with Aliyot and Torah readings, and physical distancing requirements will be enforced.

Planning for these holidays has come together through the tireless efforts of so many. A heartfelt thank you goes out to our leadership in helping us to re-imagine and provide services for all. A special word of appreciation to Larry Barbell heading up the High Holiday Honors Team, and David Schulze, who is coordinating the logistical aspects of this plan and the technical and audio-visual work. This simply would not be possible without their wisdom, skill, and much dedication.

Throughout our history, the Jewish people have endured moments of crisis and deep sadness. And yet, despite formidable challenges, we are known for our ability to endure, to adapt, and to thrive. We call upon the spirit of our ancestors in forging a path toward renewal and rebirth, both personally and collectively. That is, after all, what the High Holidays are all about.

As always, feel free to be in touch me with any questions or suggestions.

May all our members, families, and friends have a wonderful and healthy 5781.

Rabbi Gerson South Area Religious School News

L'shanah Tovah to all!

We are looking forward to the new school year which begins on September 9th.

Classes will be held virtually on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, and Sunday morning.

There will be a full curriculum with lessons and activities to keep the students interested and learning.

There will be a Rosh Hashanah Seder on Sunday evening, September 13th preceding Minyan. Our students will be participating. More details will follow.

Students will be attending Friday night Kabbalat Shabbat Services once a month as part of their Religious School experience.

Remember that we are always looking for new students. Please send the names of anyone who might be interested to me.

I wish you a meaningful, healthy and happy New Year.
