Another Successful ATC Community Christmas Event

In 2016, Ahavath Torah Congregation was approached by the Stoughton Public School System with a bakasha (request) - to create a space where people within the community could celebrate the Christmas holiday.

Our congregants got to work. The week before Christmas, ATC served a full turkey dinner with all the fixings in the social hall. Our multi-purpose room was filled with donated items for families to take home. The Bimah was decorated and set for pictures with Santa.

Congregants and community members participated in "adopt -a-child", and Santa was able to distribute gift bags to many families.

Over the years, this chessed has grown and shifted to meet the needs of the community. This was year eight, and a year to remember! More than 70 children came through our Christmas drive-thru to see Santa.

The value of chessed is seen by many as Judaism's most important ethical virtue, and it's so much more than just kindness. Chessed is imagination. It's spirit. It's often described as "giving oneself fully, with love and compassion".

Ahavath Torah Congregation is not just a building in the center of town. It's a central part of the village, committed to doing acts of chessed for the surrounding community.

From our President

To everyone, Happy New Year and may 2024 be a year of health and happiness.

So, as we begin a new year together, I started to think about this message: should I look ahead to 2024 or, should I look back through 2023.

Well, it's 2024, and some 10 years ago...maybe a bit more, our Shul was planning to merge with several other synagogues, in order to save this group of synagogues. In the end, this plan did not work out to benefit ATC. To the other synagogues on this committee, ATC gave a visual impression that we occupied a very tiring building, in need of great improvements.

This went on for almost a year, and for the benefit of our members, we decided not to participate. Then, we embarked on a campaign to improve our building.

A very generous donation by the Barry Levy family to honor the memory of Lois, began a process to provide capital funds for the improvement and well being of 1179 Central Street.

From the initial donation, along with many additional, to date, the Levy Capital Improvement Fund for ATC has raised over $90,000.00. 100% of these dollars have been returned to the Shul. You can see the improvements from the curb appeal, with our landscaping and refurbished stairs. On our upper level, our Lipsky/Levy Chapel, and offices, along with the lower level, all have been supported by this fund. Other ATC families provided funds for our lobby, our entry, banquet chairs, social hall floor, and the new entry benches and planters. With the aid of the Homeland Security Grant, we were able to provide a new more secure entry for our members and guests.

Above all is the sweat equity of members to help with all these improvements. All this makes ATC truly "The Building Our Members Built".

For those who may have missed our December 2 Music Fest, it was a great success. (See pics on page 8 & 9)

Thank you to Rabbi J for his assistance in producing this show. This was not a one-time event. Please watch for upcoming music events in 2024.

Then, MARK YOUR CALENDARS. On March 1, ATC once again hosts Shabbat Across America. Our special guests will be Tufts University's Shir Appeal along with a fine dinner to follow. (See page 11)

Then, MARK THOSE SAME CALENDARS, as we are finalizing plans for a PURIM Evening of Comedy.

From our leadership, our staff, our Rabbi J, Temple Bob, and our families, we hope for a healthy and happy 2024.

Temple Bob

From the Rabbi's Desk

Each of the Holy days of the Jewish Year share characteristics and themes with one another. At the same time, each carves out its own space in observance and establishes its own dominant thematic line. Purim calls us to the necessity and vitality in the process of memory. One of the central Mitzvot of the day is "Remembering Amalek" (Deuteronomy 25:17-19) connected as it is to Haman. This Mitzvah serves as the linchpin for the Shabbat preceding Purim - Shabbat Zachor, "The Sabbath of Remembering."

Memory is really an incredible gift bestowed upon mankind. Its use keeps life from becoming a meaningless procession of unconnected events and unrelated episodes. It permits us to take the past and make it part of present reality, and to take the present and anticipate in it the future. All of our experiences - what we see and hear, the joys and the sorrows - would become mere pictures projected upon life's screen for a few fleeting moments which would subsequently fade into oblivion were it not for the recall power of memory.

What is the history of people, nation or family, if not the common memories etched deeply in the collective mind and transmitted from individual to individual! The Jewish person has always understood the need to remember and to transmit to future generations the significance of that memory. With every festival, the Jew was reminded of the past, and called to the impact of that past on present and future.

As individuals, we are fortunate that we can remember the warm, embracing rays of the summer's sun even in the midst of February winds, to hear a melody, to feel the glow of happiness, to relish a moving relationship, long after the actual experience has faded from the scene. It is encouraging memory of the good in life that moves us into tomorrow with a sense of anticipation and excitement rather than dread and apprehension.

It must be admitted; memory does not always bring joy. It frequently serves to illuminate some dark corner of the past that we feel would be the best served by remaining in obscurity. Yet, even under these circumstances memory has its role to play. The mature person develops a sense of humility from the failures of the past, and is made that much more aware of the price the mere act of living demands of us. On Purim, the Jew remembers all the threats to Jewish survival in the past, and is that much more appreciative that the Jewish people still survives.

The letters of the Hebrew word Lishkoach meaning "to forget," can be rearranged to spell Lachashoch "to darken." Forgetfulness is to obliterate the past, losing all the possible joy or growth in what has been; memory is to take those same experiences and illuminate the future. To remember is what marks us as humans beings. May we use that power well.

Chag Purim Sameach.

Rabbi J

Tu B'Shevat

Hillel and his disciples declared the 15th of Shevat/Tu B'Shevat, which falls on January 25 this year, a semi-holiday. It is colloquially known as Rosh HaShana La'Tlanot (New Year for Trees) because, by this day in the land of Israel, the annual rains have ended and a new cycle of tree growth begins.

Tu B'Shevat is celebrated by the eating of various fruits, especially the produce of the land of Israel. In Israel today, schoolchildren plant trees and are treated with bokser (carob) to eat.

Religious School News

Shalom!

Hope you all enjoyed your Chanukah celebrations. Our Chanukah party was enjoyed by all and it was great to see everyone there. We had a candle lighting ceremony and some songs, sang Hatikvah while the children marched with Israeli flags, wonderful food, exciting crafts, a bouncy house, and a basketball game provided by Steve Steinberg.

Thanks to all who helped make this a success and to those who attended.

On Sunday, January 21st, we will hold our Religious School Tu B'Shevat Seder.

Our families will enjoy many fruits that symbolize this holiday.

On February 4th, the children will participate in a scavenger hunt.

Tu BeShevat and its customs will be talked about and explained.

We will begin to learn about Israel after the upcoming break. We will talk about the history of this amazing country and learn about its people, places and events.

The students will continue to learn prayers, Bible history, Hebrew reading and writing and vocabulary. It is such a pleasure to see the progress they are making.

Thank you to our families for their support and cooperation. Thanks to Rabbi J, Faith, Lesley, and Bob for all they do.

Stay safe and be well. Looking forward to seeing you soon.

It Takes a Village

Our 8th annual Community Christmas Festivities event took place on Sunday, December 17th. The drive-thru was a huge success and couldn't have taken place without the amazing support of our congregation. Volunteers helped in a number of ways--by "adopting a child" and purchasing items on their wish list; by bringing about 142 loaded gift bags upstairs and helping to organize them; and by distributing the bags to the families as they drove up. Donations were received not only from ATC members, but from local businesses and non-ATC members as well.

Thank you. Thank you. Thank you for all you have done to make this holiday a wonderful one for many. It truly was a team effort.
