The Daffodil Project:

Commemorating the 1.5 million children lost in the Holocaust

With many thanks to Floyd Geller for sponsoring this project on behalf of his late-beloved wife, Ethel, and to

Asher Reynolds for adopting this project as part of his Bar Mitzvah Tikkun Olam work:

We will be participating in the worldwide daffodil project which builds and maintains living and ever-renewing Holocaust Memorials to specifically remember the lost children.

Please read about the daffodil project on their website: www.daffodilproject.net

Please view Asher's PowerPoint presentation about his work.

Why daffodils? You may have noticed the six daffodils imprinted in the upper left panel of the Arc, in the sanctuary. These six flowers represent the estimated six million Jewish souls lost in the Holocaust. Daffodils were chosen because the flower has six petals and are reminiscent of the yellow stars that Jews were required to buy and wear.

How can you participate?

Details such as monetary and material donations and the actual planting site are still pending. Please be patient as these unfold. Planting the bulbs will occur in the fall – likely in late October 2023.

If you have ideas for this project, please bring them forward!
