

Doing Jewish at Home

Here are some ideas, but feel free to come up with your own. After you learn something, show us what you've learned by making something creative. It could be a song, poem, video, game, collage, drawing, or anything else. We can share it with the community if you want. You can also keep a family journal. Use the family discussion and journal-keeping guide to help.

Torah • תּוֹרָה

All kinds of Jewish learning counts under Torah.

- Watch a BimBam video.
- Study the Torah portion each week using BimBam, the Reform Judaism site, or Covenant and Conversation.
- Learn the Torah portion and paint your nails at the same time with Midrash Manicures!
- Read a Jewish story or novel. Sign up for PJ Library or PJ Our Way.
- Learn 10 facts about your family history.
- Learn about how COVID-19 is affecting a group of people; study a Jewish text as part of the project.
- Learn the Four Questions for Passover.
- Rewrite one part of the Haggadah and put your own spin on it.
- Create a Jewish jeopardy game.

Avodah • עֲבוּדָה

Avodah in the broadest sense includes prayer, ritual, and culture.

- Bake challah for Shabbat.
- Make charoset. Find a recipe from a different part of the world and learn about Jewish culture from that place.
- Join a Shabbat gathering on Zoom.
- Attend a Passover seder on Zoom.
- Take advantage of Camp Havaya's online offerings.
- Create a family Shabbat ritual. Use this video from Moishe house and show your parents this video from BimBam to help.
- Learn the Jewish hand washing blessing.
- Sing Modeh Ani when you wake up in the morning and the Shema when you go to sleep.

Gemilut Chasadim • גְּמִילוּת חֶסֶדִים

Tikkun Olam • תִּיקּוּן עוֹלָם

Gemilut Chasadim means acts of caring. Tikkun Olam means repair of the world or social action.

- Every Friday evening, give tzedakah. Discuss as a family where to give it.
- Make postcards and put them in your neighbors' mailboxes. Offer to help run errands.
- Write encouraging messages with sidewalk chalk in your neighborhood.
- Make Passover boxes for people who are isolated.
- Write a letter to your elected officials calling on them to pass fair legislation.
- Make a meal for people who are homeless.
- Check out volunteer needs through United Way.
