

A MESSAGE FROM THE

Rabbi

This issue of the Kol Tikvah is focused on the November-December holidays and events, but before we dive into that, I want to take a pause to thank all who helped to make our holy day season so powerful.

It takes a Village to Raise Holy Sparks!

Pull back the curtain in the life of a synagogue, and you will find that there is a great time warp. We plan for the Chagim, the Holy Days, just after Passover.

While people are packing their children off for summer camp, we are planning for Hanukkah, and Passover plans get made days after the fall festival of Sukkot. With these past few years and the ever-changing landscape from COVID surges, we haven't had the opportunity to properly reflect on all our holiday experiences, and thank all who worked tirelessly behind the scenes.

In preparation for and all through the holidays, beginning with the 1 of Elul and continuing through the 22 of Tishrei, we offered programs for our TBT community. 52 days of worship moments, full holiday t'fillah services, teachings, cooking and musical offerings, and soul-awakening practices for every individual, from our senior-most adults, all the way down to the toddlers.

Please indulge me as I offer my most sincere thanks to ALL who gave of themselves to elevate and animate these chagim and this Holy Congregation. At the risk of leaving a name off should I even attempt at listing all who have given of themselves, great and small, I offer this collective statement of gratitude.

To you all, you who cared, you who shared your time and precious gifts to raise up the sparks of holiness here in our wonderful Temple Beth Tikvah community during these chagim, you are what makes TBT the special place that it is every day. You know who you are, and we are most grateful to YOU! :)

From the letter-stuffers, to those who polish the silver. The flower arrangers and shoppers, the people who made sure seniors could access the streaming service from their homes, to those who distributed and gathered up the Machzorim between services.

Programmatically, we are grateful to those who curated and provided beautiful moving music, facilitated meaningful yoga sessions and mindfulness meditations, all of which opened hearts and minds.

To the builders and hosts of fantastic magical evenings in the Sukkah, and those who DJ'd the glow-stick dance party, helping to raise holy pandemonium on Simchat Torah, we are most grateful. Thanks to those who made it possible for us to bring Rise Against Hunger back to TBT, and the close to 100 souls who came and packaged over 10,000 meals! To the cooks and the story tellers, the givers of tzedakah and the rollers of Torah, together we created a beautiful and meaningful season of chagim. Many incredibly special moments came to fruition because of YOU!

To this entire congregational family, may we all take the joy of this season with us, even when times seems tough. May we carry with us the images we have in our minds from the chagim into this new year of 5783, and allow them to keep raising us higher and higher!

Presenting “Tsvey Brider”
Saturday, December 10 at 8:00 PM
Temple Beth Tikvah

Free to TBT members! $18 for non-members
Reserve tickets here

From Berlin to Weimar, Warsaw, Krakow, Mexico City, New York, San Francisco and Boston – to Roswell, GA!

Experience Tsvey Brider (vocalist Anthony Mordechai Tzvi Russell and accordion/keyboardsist Dmitri Gaskin) as they present a world of new and traditional Jewish music of diverse genres, times and places. The sold-out hit at Berlin's Radical Jewish Culture Festival, Carnegie Hall's Migrations Festival and The Yiddish Book Center's annual festival of new music, Yidstock, Tsvey Brider is a duo you will not want to miss.

Diverse idioms, styles and periods contrast and combine in Tsvey Brider (meaning “two brothers,” in Yiddish) creating contemporary and unique interpretations of music in the Yiddish language. Winners of Mexico City's Concurso Internacional de Canciones en Idish (Der Idisher Idol), the members of Tsvey Brider have performed and recorded both nationally and internationally with such noted artists as Anthony Coleman, Daniel Kahn, Michael Winograd, Michael Alpert, Alan Bern, Yale Strom & Hot Pstromi and Veretski Pass.

Anthony Russell is a performer, composer and arranger, specializing in music in the Yiddish language. His work in traditional Ashkenazi Jewish musical forms led to a musical exploration of his own ethnic roots through the research, arrangement and performance of African American folk music, resulting in the EP Convergence (2018), a collaboration with klezmer consort Veretski Pass, exploring the sounds and themes of 100 years of African American and Ashkenazi Jewish music. Inspired by an ethnographic trip to Belarus and Poland as a Wallis Annenberg Helix Fellow, Anthony formed the duo, Tsvey Brider, with accordionist and pianist Dmitri Gaskin for the creation of new music set to modernist Yiddish poetry of the 20th century. Their new album, Kosmopolitn, was released in August on the Borscht Beat label. A Hadar Rising Song Fellow (2021-22), Anthony is also an essayist on music and culture in a number of publications including Jewish Currents and Moment Magazine. Anthony lives in Atlanta with his husband of six years, Rabbi Michael Rothbaum.

Dmitri Gaskin is an accomplished accordion player, composer, and arranger, specializing in Klezmer and Romanian folk music. He performs with several Klezmer bands throughout California, most notably with Saul Goodman's Klezmer Band. Dmitri has also performed and taught at several music festivals, including KlezKalifornia. Outside of klezmer music, Dmitri won the ASCAP Morton Gould Young Composer Award for a contemporary classical composition. He also formed Harmonikos, a performing collective of young composers and musicians. Dmitri studied accordion with Josh Horowitz and Alan Ber. He lives in California with his wife and their three accordions.

And now, on to Hanukkah!
This year, we are bringing Hanukkah candle lighting to your neighborhood! We are looking for four host families, to invite us onto your driveway or neighborhood clubhouse parking lot for celebration. Intrigued? Want to know more? Call the TBT office 770-642-0434 or julie@bethtikvah.com. More details and a list of neighborhoods will be shared shortly.

Our Preschool students learned so much these past months about Rosh Hashanah, Yom Kippur, Sukkot and Simchat Torah. Of course, they loved eating apples and honey, round challah and edible sukkahs. They also created some terrific decorations for the Sukkah. It was so nice to see many of our families at Tot Services. Rabbi Shuval-Weiner and Cantor Kassel are wonderful, and our families truly enjoyed their time together.

Thanksgiving and Chanukah are right around the corner! We are looking forward to our Family Thanksgiving Show. These past few years—due to Covid—we have not been able to invite everyone into the building. This year, we are looking forward to watching the children sing and share a “Thanksgiving Meal” with our families.

Chanukah is always a fun time. This year, we are excited to have our preschoolers pick a day and give back to our community. Each will choose a gently used toy from home, bring it in to preschool, wash it, and write or draw a card. We will then deliver the toys to a charity. It’s great to give back, and this is an excellent way for our preschoolers to get involved.

TBT Preschool is sponsoring the Chanukah Bazaar, to be held in the Social Hall on Sunday, December 4th at 10:00 AM. Please let your friends and family know about it! Many vendors will have unique items for you to purchase as Chanukah gifts.

Thanksgiving and Chanukah is a time for us to be thankful, and to give back. I would like to tell you all how thankful and grateful I am, especially for all of the wonderful Preschool teachers at TBT! They are amazing people to work with, and we are so lucky to have them teaching our children.

Introducing Lia Zakai!

Temple Beth Tikvah is excited to welcome Lia Zakai, our Shinshinit from Israel! Lia is doing a gap year in the United States between the completion of high school and her enlistment in the Israeli army. She is a part of the Jewish Federation of Atlanta's Schoenbaum Shinshinim Program. These teen ambassadors spend a year in Atlanta teaching about Israeli culture all over the Jewish community – in schools, synagogues, camps, and community organizations.

Lia comes to us from Kibbutz Dalia, where she lives with her parents and two sisters. She loves arts and crafts, dancing, fitness, and being outside. Her favorite holiday is Shavuot, and she is an expert challah baker! While in Atlanta, Lia is living with a host family in Dunwoody.

We are so lucky to have Lia with us every Sunday morning for Religious School as well as on Monday evenings for Keshet, Confirmation and Kivunim. She has already run programs with many of our students, teaching them a song and dance for Rosh Hashanah and helping our middle schoolers connect with their goals and aspirations for the New Year and beyond!

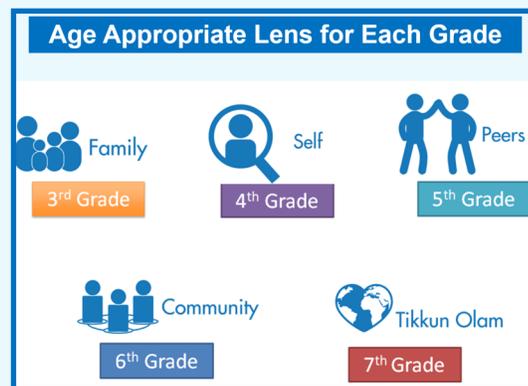

When Lia is not here at TBT, she can be found at The Davis Academy, The Friendship Circle, Jewish Kids Group of Decatur, and The Weber School. Check out her bulletin board in the Religious School lobby, or better yet, stop by and meet her in person!

News from the Religious School

Did you know? Temple Beth Tikvah's Sunday classes utilize Shalom Learning, an award-winning values-based curriculum developed by a team of Jewish and secular educators. Our school is among 120 partner synagogues using this program to make Jewish education more engaging and relevant for our students. Lessons are based around seven core values and their connection to our everyday lives. Jewish history, culture, holidays, text, and traditions are integrated into the values concepts, helping students to learn how to build positive relationships and make responsible decisions. Shalom Learning includes multiple modalities – reading, singing, projects and activities, video clips, discussion, and more – to ensure that every student can find an avenue for accessing content and internalizing meaning.

TESHUVAH Taking responsibility for your actions.	ACHRAYUT Doing what you can to make the world a better place.
B'TZELEM ELOHIM Honoring the image of God in ourselves and others.	HAKARAT HATOV Seeking joy and being grateful.
GEVURAH Using one's inner strength to do what's right.	KOACH HADIBBUR Understanding the power of words.
SHALOM Helping to create a calmer, more peaceful world.

We have also re-introduced community t'fillah, encouraging our entire student body to come together each week, and regular shira (music/song) with Cantor Kassel. These segments of Sunday morning mix grade levels so that younger students and older students can learn from each other, and expose students to prayer and song outside of the classroom setting.

As we re-envision our learning programs, your feedback is crucial! Please don't hesitate to reach out with questions or concerns.

YOUTH PROGRAMS

During one of our annual Confirmation trips to Washington D.C., Rabbi Shuval-Weiner and I started dreaming. After many years of taking teens on this trip, we had seen the impact that this experience had on the participants and the class. We would leave Atlanta on Friday morning with a group of teens who were, to varying degrees, engaged at TBT (after all, they were signed up for Confirmation), and were peers and classmates, some friends. We returned on Monday evening with a completely different group: a group of new friends, with inside jokes and a shared experience. They were now a group that wanted to be together, and together at our synagogue. Really, this wasn't a surprise. Having been myself a teen who was involved in a Jewish youth group, and now after 20 years as a professional in the field, I know the impact that an immersive Jewish experience can have on both the individual and the group.

“There is something different about a program that doesn't end after a few hours—waking up surrounded by your peers, sharing meals together, learning through a variety of shared experiences over the course of multiple days. Immersive experiences deepen identity, friendships, and connection to your Jewish community (San Francisco, Jewish Federation website).”

Rabbi Shuval-Weiner and I knew that we needed to bring more of these experiences to our students. And so, I am excited to announce the launch of our experiential grade trips for each class (starting in 5th grade). Each trip will include an age-appropriate meaningful educational element, as well as a Tikkun Olam (repairing the world), or service component. And of course, fun and social time. Some of the trips will be local or day trips, and some will be full weekend experiences in other places. The goal of these trips is to foster bonds between the students, helping them grow and learn, and feel connected to one another as well as to their TBT and larger Jewish community. We want students to realize that their Jewish educational experience doesn't end with their Bar or Bat Mitzvah. In fact, research has shown that immersive Jewish experiences for adolescents have a lasting impact on their long-term involvement in their Jewish community as adults. Steven Bayme, director of Contemporary Jewish Life at the American Jewish Committee, noted that for “many years the best predictors of long-term Jewish involvement has been the adolescent teen experience. The problem with Jewish education is that it has become a pre-Bar Mitzvah affair. And so just when Jewish experiences will matter the most in terms of long-term Jewish involvement, that is the moment we lose the kids. Adolescence is the most critical time for communal programming and intervention. If the community provides serious programming, that is where we get the most rewards in terms of long-term Jewish involvement.”

We hope that you will partner with us and encourage your young adolescents and teens to stay engaged and come on these experiences with their TBT peers. We know that these trips will be rewarding for the participants and that the impact will be long-lasting. Check out the flyer in this month's newsletter to see the trips that are planned for each grade!

October was our first Parent to Parent Session, and we got together to discuss how to set limits on our teens' cell phone and technology usage, as well as how to keep them safe and protect them when they are using technology. It was an incredibly informative session, and one where parents were able to share with one another, offer support and suggestions. We hope that it will be the start to more conversations in the future. One parent who attended said, "Thanks again for planning the recent parent session on technology. The expert from Bark was a great resource to talk to, and it was also helpful to hear how other TBT families have approached certain challenges in this area."

Our next session is on November 14, and we'll be discussing Academic Pressure and Stress. Joining us is Drew Glover, a guidance counselor from Roswell High School. Hope you are able to join us!

Noah Isaac Hartog will be called to the Torah as a Bar Mitzvah on November 5. He is the son of Peter and Traci Hartog, and brother to Ben. He is also the grandson of Marlene and Arlen Zinn, Len Hartog, and the late Linda Strachman, of blessed memory. He shares his Bar Mitzvah date with the birth date of his late great-grandmother, Ida Jacoby, after whom he was named.

Noah is in seventh grade at Crabapple Middle School in Roswell, where he is in the AVID program, and the honor roll, since he started there in 2021. Noah loves traveling to new places, watching anime and Stranger Things, playing video games, and Dungeons and Dragons. He also loves playing piano. He can't wait to return to Camp Coleman next summer. Noah is happiest when he's trying new dishes, especially if it involves sugar and chocolate, or is the most expensive thing on the menu.

For his Mitzvah Project, Noah has chosen The Sandwich Project, and has been making sandwiches weekly to help feed those who are food insecure. He has also cooked and served meals at the Zaban Paradies Center.

Noah would like to thank Rabbi Shuval-Weiner, Cantor Kassel, Jay Weiner, and Rachel Wilson for helping him prepare for his Bar Mitzvah as well as all his teachers at TBT for helping him reach this milestone.

Lillian Zlotnick will be called to the Torah as a Bat Mitzvah on November 12. She is an eighth grader at Crabapple Middle School in Roswell, and enjoys writing, shooting hoops, practicing her violin, and spending time with her brother, Simon and her friends. Lillian is a madricha and attends Keshet class weekly here at TBT. She is enthusiastic about this milestone, and credits that enthusiasm to Rabbi Shuval-Weiner, Jay Weiner, Cantor Kassel and Amy Peskin.

Lillian and her family appreciate the support of the entire congregation, and look forward to celebrating this, and future simchas.

Abigail Futoran will be called to the Torah as a Bat Mitzvah on November 19. Abigail is an eighth grader at Northwestern Middle School. Her hobbies include volleyball, shopping, makeup, and staying connected to friends near and far. Abigail enjoys spending time with her family while traveling, dining out, and watching hockey. She also enjoys children and chose to work with Creating Connected Communities as her Mitzvah Project. At the end of October, she will organize a dessert booth and assist young children as they create an edible masterpiece. Abigail looks forward to celebrating this milestone with friends and family.

The Futoran family would like to thank Rabbi Shuval-Weiner, Cantor Kassel, and Jay Weiner who have helped prepare Abigail for this special day.

Lila Bernstein will be called to the Torah as a Bat Mitzvah on December 3. Lila is the youngest child of Michael and Jeannine, and sister to Ben and Nate. She is in the 7th grade at Crabapple Middle School in Roswell, where she really enjoys producing and editing Tik Tok videos with her friends. Her other interests include dominating as a lacrosse goalie, playing tenacious defense on the basketball court and being the co-CEO of Wined-Up candle making business. On her Bat Mitzvah journey, Lila opted to work on 13 mitzvah projects to support organizations such as Blessings in A Backpack, The Drake House, Pleasant Hill Food Pantry, Jewish National Fund Trees and the Zaban Shelter. She is excited to take her place on the Bima as her first steps into Jewish adulthood.

Congregant Susan Berman has written a book about her mother. “Challenging Faith” is a compelling read of a beautiful Jewish family’s true story in Germany before, during and after the Holocaust. The Simon’s family legacy is revealed by their second oldest daughter, Ruth Simon Heinemann, now its sole survivor at nearly 98 years of age.

Come journey with Ruth and her sister to England on the Kindertransport, share her family’s near escape to freedom in Cuba on the MS St. Louis and learn how their Jewish faith helps sustain each of them.

Discover how, through the compassion of others, Ruth and two of her sisters are saved to become proud American citizens who impart the values of their beloved parents to the generations that follow. And, finally, join Ruth and other family members as they return to their hometown in Germany years later, to honor those that were lost so tragically so their precious family could prevail.

“Challenging Faith,” Susan’s first book, will soon be available wherever books are sold. Susan enjoys many hobbies, including writing, reading, creating and meeting new people. She strives to give back to her community. Susan her husband, Steve, have been TBT members since 2016, and enjoy attending services.

The author, Susan (Heinemann) Berman and her mother, Ruth (Simon) Heinemann, as they celebrated Passover in the Berman home, this past Spring, 2022.

Upcoming calendar event: A TBT Adult Education program featuring Susan Berman will be scheduled in the months ahead.

ANNUAL CAMPAIGN

Happy 5783 to all of you! As we approach and celebrate our 36th year at TBT, we are blessed in so many ways to be part of this community. Our clergy, staff and volunteers are committed to enrich our lives through a rich diversity of spiritual, educational, cultural, musical and social offerings. Financially, in a perfect world, we wouldn't need the Annual Campaign – but it's part of being fiscally responsible, and few congregations can do without it. Last year's campaign raised over $120,000 with a 35% participation rate. Again this year our stretch goal is to achieve a 50% participation rate. Our goal for 2022-23 is $120,000 and $7,500 from our 2nd Annual TBT Golf Tournament.

Thank you to all of our members for your commitment to dues, building fund, religious school and other fees. Please consider a meaningful gift to the Annual Campaign in our Double Chai year. It takes a village.

STUDIES IN GENESIS with Rabbi Donald Tam

Seven Sessions—Mondays at Noon, on Zoom

We will study sections from the Book of Bereishit (Genesis) taken from The Creation of Reality through the depiction of Adam and Eve in "The Garden of Eden," and their expulsion from Paradise. Are these stories metaphors of something larger than merely a "tall tale," difficult for us to make sense of in today's world? How do our Rabbinic commentators interpret these sections of Genesis? Did they see this early part of Genesis as Natural and early human history, or something deeper than a simple descriptive story of God, Creation, and primitive humanity? What can we learn about the rabbis understanding of human nature, the Natural environment, and how the two are meant to function together? Did they see humankind as dominators of Nature, or as caretakers of our world and its species? If such questions intrigue you, join us!

Backpack Buddies: Grateful for YOU!

Celebrating three years of TBT's Backpack Buddies!

What we do:

TBT currently serves about 25 students at 2 schools (Esther Jackson Elementary in Roswell and Sawyer Road Elementary in Marietta)

BPB provides weekend meals and snacks for kids facing food insecurity

We support reducing the stigma of hunger by sending food home with students in plain black backpacks

For students living in long-term hotels without access to cooking facilities, we provide packs with snacks, fruit, cereal and boxed milk

How you can help - we always need the following:

- ◆ Individually wrapped snacks
- ◆ Applesauce
- ◆ Boxed milk (individual cartons)
- ◆ Tuna
- ◆ Canned beans

And volunteers!
