When you look around at racial injustice, what specific problems give you pause?

What does it mean to be an ally? When it comes to racial justice, when should we lead and when should we listen?

What resources (books, movies, podcasts) have you encountered over these past months that have shaped your view on race and why?

What can we do as a community to make TNT the most embracing and open to Jews of Color in and around our community?

As Rabbi Katz reminds us, we own this problem. What role do you play in creating a world of justice and safety for all?
