Rabbi's Message

Leap Year Unites Thanksgiving and Hanukkah

By Rabbi David Lerner

This year, 5782 on the Jewish calendar, is a leap year. And, no, this does not mean that one of the months gets an additional day as would occur during a secular leap year. Rather, when this occurs on the Hebrew calendar, we add an entire month: a second Adar, which is one of the traditionally joyous months, of course.

This phenomenon, while being incredibly interesting, especially if you are born during a leap month, effectively ensures that all of the holidays are quite early when juxtaposed onto the civic calendar. Indeed, this year the first night of Hanukkah does not fall near the end of December as it sometimes does. Rather, it falls on Thanksgiving weekend at the end of November.

I always love when deeply symbolic Jewish holidays coincide and overlap with those on the civic calendar or those of other faiths because they can engage in beautiful and enriching dialogue. Jewish tradition doesn't believe much in coincidence. (I once read that coincidences were G-d's way of waving hello!) So, when holidays coincide, it should spur us to take notice and act.

Thanksgiving and Hanukkah, if I may, Thanksgiving, encourage a look at our present with an appreciation and critical understanding of our past.

Let us learn a bit more this week of our Jewish and American history. Both holidays urge us to be grateful for the gifts in our lives. We are able to celebrate a bit more openly with family this year. Let us embrace our loved ones a bit more this week.

Both holidays call for an unfathomable amount of caloric intake, with Hanukkah including foods fried in oil to commemorate the sole remaining flask of undesecrated oil found in the Temple. Let us give tzedakah or donate food this week to care for those who may be food insecure.

Lastly, these holidays are about perspective. In our Hanukkah liturgy we pray and rejoice in gratitude: "al hanisim, v'al hapurkan, v'al hag'vurot... bayamim haheim bazman hazeh." – As we gather this year with our family and friends, may G-d grant us the strength to see the miracles all around us, to see the light each of us has in ourselves, and all the goodness, all the chessed, in the world.

Chag Hanukkat Sameach – A Happy Hanukkah, and Happy Thanksgiving, to you and your family!

Rabbi Lerner

Bringing Our Community Together

By Marty Skolnick, President

Now that the High Holidays are in the rear-view mirror and we approach Hanukkah, along with Thanksgiving, we look forward to gathering with our temple family to celebrate. Our committees: Fund Raising, Religious Life and Practices, along with JLC and Sisterhood, are working diligently to bring our community together.

As events start to pop up on the calendar, we should remember the protocols to keep our families safe and well. Currently, masks are still required to be worn in the building. Leadership, along with our task force, keeps an eye on the stats related to COVID/ Delta cases here in Nassau County and the rest of Long Island. We look forward to the day when we can take off the masks but until that day arrives, we must stick to the policies that have kept our community healthy.

Looking back on the High Holidays, it was a pleasure we were able to come together and celebrate in the sanctuary once again. Though we were still Zooming, and will continue to Zoom, the turnout at the shul was great. Additionally, we were glad to have congregants, who usually have honors, back on the bima again.

For Sukkot, Rabbi Lerner had his “Rap with the Rabbi in the Sukkah,” always a pleasure when we can meet one-on-one with the Rabbi. Simchat Torah was special, as well. We were able to dance with the Torahs in the parking lot along with honoring Larry Levy and Ellis Simon for their work in our community. Our success this year can be attributed to the Religious Life and Practices committee, Kiddish committee, our office staff, and everyone who pitched in to make our holidays special. During Kol Nidre, our Treasurer, Michael Shenker, eloquently spoke about this year’s Kol Nidre Pledge Drive. Thank you to everyone who has given. Fortunately, we have received many generous donations, and several members have increased their giving from last year. As always, we look to 100% participation from our community.

Though this pledge drive has been very important to our shul in the past, this is an extremely important year for us. These funds are vital, particularly now, for operations as well as programs and other important aspects that strengthens our community. Dues, assessments, and fundraising, along with our Kol Nidre funds, keep us functioning during the year. Please be as generous as you possibly can; your gift is so important.

Finally, we hope in the weeks and months to come there will be more programming and events that will keep everyone engaged with CBS-BD. Our community, like many others, has been starved of personal contact because of the pandemic. Zoom has been an important tool but contact as a group is very important to our well-being in every aspect. Shimon Peres said, “...And yet, without knowing the future, I remain a hopeful man.” Let’s look forward to a future that puts COVID behind us as hope becomes reality and a normal way of life returns.

JLC Report

Rekindling Our Menorah, Rekindling Our Friendships

By Principal Dan Seid

As we move into the holiday season, the importance of rekindling our menorah and our old friendships is equally important. In the JLC this fall we focused on the Jewish value of b'tzelem elohim, the idea that all people were created equally in G-d's image. This Jewish value infuses the work and celebrations we encounter over the Hanukkah season.

As the world reopens from the COVID pandemic, it is important that this Hanukkah we come together as a synagogue to experience the importance of personal friendships both with our families, temple families, and friends from the outside world. Understanding that all people are created equal is a key part of the Hanukkah story.

Jews from all over the world celebrate Hanukkah differently, whether eating sufganiyot, latkes, or other treats from our tradition. JLC students are exploring these differences and celebrating the diversity within the Jewish people.

We will gather on Zoom Wednesday, December 1, for a latke-making event and in person Sunday, December 5, for sufganiyot decorating and a Hanukkah shpiel with JLC families. We look forward to celebrating this joyous and bright holiday together again.

A Season of Joy in a Time of Hatred

By Jonathan Winderman

We live in a time of increased hatred and bigotry. Anti-semitic incidents reached an all-time high in 2019 before dipping very slightly in 2020, according to the Anti-Defamation League, which has been tracking these incidents since 1979. As the Hanukkah season approaches, I can't help but be reminded of a story from 25 years ago of a community banding together to stand up to hatred.

In December 1996 Judith and Martin Markowitz of Newtown, Pennsylvania, were awoken by the sound of breaking glass. When they went downstairs to investigate, they found their living room window broken and the electric menorah that was placed there in pieces on the floor.

While this incident brought pain to the Markowitz's, what happened next is the real story. Neighbors started to hear about what happened and wanted to help. One of their Catholic neighbors decided to put a menorah in her window in solidarity with the Markowitz's. Others followed suit. Soon most of the town was displaying menorahs. It may have spread to the entire town and neighboring communities had the local stores not run out of electric menorahs.

This was, of course, in the days before Amazon. The town collectively took a stand that hate has no place here. The incident was similar, but unbeknownst to them, to one that occurred in Billings, Montana, in 1993, where 10,000 Christians put printed pictures of a menorah in their windows to support the local Jewish community.

Between November 1 and mid-January there are approximately 25 religious holidays celebrated by people throughout the world. While we often think the "holiday season" is about Christmas and, to a lesser extent, Hanukkah, it is important to remember it is a special time to everyone. As we enter this time of year, my wish is that we, as a people, learn from the communities in Newtown and Billings and perform tikkun olam: heal the world.
