TRANSACTIONAL MEMORY & THE GENIUS OF YIZKOR

by Rabbi Alon Levkovitz

As we started planning the High Holy Days many months ago, I was reminded of the late Harvard psychologist Daniel Wegner's theory of transactional memory. He explains that:

People in close relationships know many things about each other's memories. One partner may not know where to find candles around the house, for instance, but may still be able to find them in a blackout by asking the other partner where the candles are. Each partner can enjoy the benefits of the pair's memory by assuming responsibility for remembering just those items that fall clearly to him or to her and then by attending to the categories of knowledge encoded by the partner so that items within those categories can be retrieved from the partner when they are needed. Such knowledge of one another's memory areas takes time and practice to develop, but the result is that close couples have an implicit structure for carrying out the pair's memory tasks. With this structure in place, couples in close relationships have a transactional memory that is greater than either of their individual memories.

Here he talks about couples, but the same idea is applicable to families and people who work together for some time. Without ever verbally acknowledging it, different people have a unique knowledge of how to perform certain tasks and the rest of the team rely on these memories. I can hear Mark Slifkin's voice in my head telling me "that's why you need to have good written procedures". He is right, of course, and we have them, but...every year I'm amazed when Debbie Baseman opens the High Holy Days binder that contains a detailed timeline and specific tasks for each one of us to perform by a certain deadline. But there are always things that even the best written document cannot replace the transactional memory of (like, how to find this binder without Debbie).

When we are in a long relationship, everyone becomes specialized in different functions. We use each other's memories as our own. I realized that as our children grew older, they took over larger parts of our family's virtual shared hard drive. It started with them being the only ones who possess the knowledge of operating the TV remote control and gradually spread to cell phones and other electronic gadgets. I'm the only one who knows how to decalcify the coffee machine and, unsurprisingly, Gali knows the rest.

When a person dies, I often hear the bereaved spouse says, "something within me died with her/him". I used to understand it figuratively, but in light of Wegner's theory, I understand how the loss of our loved one is at the same time, literally, a loss of a part of us. The knowledge that we "stored" in their mind is lost to us. The person we loved was part of our external memory system; their experiences were our experiences and ours were theirs. Some of these things are mundane, but some are crucial and touch on the core of who we are. They were the only ones who knew certain things about us. It is this loss of our "self" in losing a loved one that makes us "no longer, literally, wholly ourselves".

But at the same time, we must remember that the memories that our loved ones stored within us are still there even after they are gone. The genius of Yizkor is the setting it creates to call on these memories, to bring to the surface the knowledge that only we have of them.

May we all have a wonderful year with many meaningful memories.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

by Bruce Cohen

I am writing this article between Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur while also working on my High Holy Days Appeal speech. My family and I attended Rosh Hashanah Services and Tashlich at the Beach, where we just barely beat the rain as we threw away our sins for the year. Many of you commented (as I hear every year) that I didn't have enough bread for all my sins but I feel since mine is gluten-free, it all evens out.

Many of you have told me how much you enjoyed the Rosh Hashanah Services and how meaningful they were to you and your family. It is always nice to hear these comments and I, of course, pass them on to our clergy and staff.

I woke up around 4:00am this morning, turned the television on, and watched a documentary called Hava Nagila. The movie is a documentary that goes through the history and meaning of the 1915 Hebrew folk song we have sung and danced the hora to all our lives. It highlighted this party song from the shtetls to kibbutzim before Israel was a nation to its universality today. I didn't realize that a song about us rejoicing and being happy that encapsulated the Jewish journey over the past 150 years has also bridged cultural divides. It has been sung by people around the world, not only by artists in America such as Harry Belafonte, Connie Francis, and Glen Campbell—none of whom were Jewish—but by many others as well. I also didn't know that the civil rights anthem "Now" by Lena Horn, and Allan Sherman's parody "Harvey and Sheila", were also set to the tune of Hava Nagila.

Around 30 years ago while I was visiting my dad in San Miguel de Allende in Mexico, I attended a wedding of a friend of a friend in town. Since my Spanish was very limited, I was lost quite a bit until at this Catholic, Mexican wedding party, the band started playing Hava Nagila and everyone started to dance. This was the first song I knew so I joined in singing and watched in amazement as over 500 guests were having a wonderful time dancing and clapping to what I had presumed was a solely Jewish tradition.

It's always nice when something from our Jewish culture transcends the Jewish community. It reminds us how important our traditions are as they're passed down through the years, and that we all have more in common than we sometimes think.

I want to wish all of you the happiest of new years and look forward to seeing you soon.
Shalom!

Bruce Cohen

P.S. I'd like to extend a warm welcome to C'est Si Bon Catering, who will serve as Temple Beth Am's exclusive caterer moving forward.

SISTERHOOD SCOOP

by Lois Remick

The other day I received one of those emails that lists famous people who were Jewish. Having been a History teacher, I usually take these lists with a large grain of kosher salt. However, on this list it mentions that two Jewish Conversos, members of Ferdinand and Isabella's Court, as having financed Columbus' voyages as well as Jews in Italy helping with financing the trip. Further, there was some possibility that Columbus may have had Jewish roots. So what to do with this interesting piece of news?

First, being used to theories about famous people possibly being Jewish, I embarked upon some research hoping to find that respected historians had looked into these two ideas. What I found would send laughter amongst serious historians.

I came across two books whose authors were not only not historians, but whose veracity on the subject of Columbus would, most likely, never be used in a scholarly paper.

There was Dr. Mike Evans, a Christian Zionist with questionable motives for his theories, and the other was Simon Wiesenthal, the famous Nazi hunter, who died in 2005. They both claim to have completed vast research and say that there is some reason to assume, however no written evidence, that not only did Jews help to underwrite Columbus' first trip to our side of the pond, but that there was also reason to assume, no evidence once again, that Columbus had Jewish roots.

So, for any of you who get that infamous email of which I speak:

1. Columbus was a semi-mench from Genoa, Italy, who was a lousy administrator of the islands he landed upon and was basically ignored by the Spanish Governor-Generals, sent to those islands to turn the natives into slaves for the benefit of Queen Isabella and King Ferdinand (they were a nasty piece of business).
2. I say that he was a lousy administrator and semi-mench because he was against treating the natives so cruelly and were he a better administrator, perhaps he would not have been replaced to govern the islands.

3. There is no written evidence that either Italian Jews or Conversos in the Spanish court gave Chris money for his adventure.

Unless you have Columbus' Bar Mitzvah certificate buried in a vault, I would not claim him as mishpucha. Also, as to why Izzy, as she is known to my history students, gave money for the trip, it was twofold. She lost too many shekels driving the Moors (Muslims) out of the Iberian Peninsula, as well as seeking to unify her control of Spain. She was a Catholic proselytizer and thought that it would be lovely to convert the peoples of the East (remember, that was where Chris was originally headed) to the "true faith". So once again, greed and religion are the basis of history.

Oh, by the way, happy Columbus Day!

Now more for October. Please get your RSVP in to Carole Levine for our Third Tuesday Lunch at Avocado Grill in Downtown at the Gardens on Tuesday, October 16 at noon. The restaurant is located near the Yard House Restaurant and the Gardens parking lot. If you have a birthday in either September or October, you will be our guest at lunch. Contact Carole at 561.339.3909 or jptrcaro@comcast.net.

On November 20, lunch will be at the Shipwreck Restaurant in a private room. The Shipwreck Restaurant is located at the corner of A1A and US1.

On December 18, our Third Tuesday Lunch will be at Casa Mia at 337 E.

Indiantown Road, across from The Fresh Market. All Third Tuesday lunches start at noon, and require an RSVP to Carole Levine at jptrcaro@comcast.net.

Please mark this date on your calendars: Sunday, October 21, at 9:30am. The Men's Club will have a breakfast followed by a presentation by the League of Women Voters. I highly encourage everyone to attend this informative program. See page 20 for more information.

A Painting with Debbie Party will be held on Sunday, November, 4, from 2:00pm to 5:00pm. See page 24 for all the details.

Looking toward the future, Sisterhood Paid Up Luncheon is set for Sunday, January 27, 2019, at 1:00pm. We are announcing this event earlier in the year than usual so that, should you have tickets for any of the area's entertainment venues, you might want to exchange any tickets you have so that you might attend our terrific annual event.

Sisterhood would like to thank the many volunteers who helped hand out Tzedakah cans at Rosh Hashanah. Thank you to volunteers who helped hand out shofars and honey sticks during the Family Service and the Children's Service. With your help, we were able to continue this tradition at Rosh Hashanah.

On October 2, at 1:00pm, Sisterhood has its next Open Board Meeting and we hope you will join us. Your ideas are greatly needed to help Sisterhood provide for an expansion of both social and cultural opportunities for its members.

Looking forward to seeing you at our October meeting.

Let's Go to the Movies!

On Tuesday, October 9, we're going to the movies! A Star is Born, starring Lady Gaga, is coming to the Cobb Theatre at Downtown at the Gardens.

Showtime will be sometime after 11:00am (exact time TBD on October 2). We'll meet at the box office when we purchase our tickets, and please stay for lunch at TooJays after the movie. RSVP to Carole Levine (jptrcaro@comcast.net or 561.339.3909) by October 5.

MEN'S CLUB HAPPENINGS

by Bob Hochman, Barry Ogrin, Jack Tenenbaum, and Harvey Silverman

Rabbi Alon, with the support of Gali, hosted a dinner for current members of Men's Club on September 4. As is well known in culinary circles and at Temple Beth Am, Rabbi and Gali are excellent chefs and most gracious hosts. The food and drinks were exceptional and received many kudos from the 40 Men's Club members in attendance. It was a wonderful evening enjoyed by all. The dinner really started the new year off on the proper note of conviviality, camaraderie, and friendship, while reinforcing our role in the TBA and Jewish community. The Men's Club wishes to thank Rabbi Alon and Gali for opening their home and taking time from their busy schedules to provide the wonderful food and drinks for this occasion.

On Sunday afternoon, September 30, the TBA Men's Club is planning a football party. We welcome you to join us to watch the Miami Dolphins vs. New England Patriots football game on the big screen. The event will start with a punt/pass/kick contest for kids outside at noon (right after Religious School). At 1:00pm, the football game will be shown on the big screen inside TBA. We are charging a nominal price of $10 per adult and $7 per child to cover food costs which will include subs, snacks, and non-alcoholic beverages. It should be a fun afternoon. To help us plan for our food needs, please RSVP to Bob Hochman at nabobone@comcast.net or 917.807.8086. We encourage you to pay in advance when making your reservation.

On Sunday, October 21, at 9:30am, we are planning a bagels and lox with all the trimmings breakfast at a cost of $10 per person, to be followed at 10:00am by a League of Women Voters representative discussing the Florida Constitutional Amendments that will appear on this November's ballot. No candidate for public office will be discussed, since this is a nonpartisan event. Discussion will be strictly limited to the Florida Constitutional Amendments. It is important to understand the proposed amendments as many of the amendments are worded in ways that are convoluted and difficult to follow. Several proposed amendments have been deleted as a result of Court challenges. A number of proposed amendments are "bundled"; that is, two amendments are combined into one that must be voted on without separation. An example is banning offshore drilling as well as banning indoor vaping. It's complicated. Please join us for this informative breakfast presentation, which we are confident will assist you to vote wisely. See page 20 for more details.

On Saturday evening, October 27, at 6:30pm, we are planning dinner for all TBA members (male and female) at Brio Restaurant in the Gardens Mall. Dinner will be preceded by 30 minutes of cocktails and schmoozing. Separate checks, open menu, pay only for what you order; non-alcoholic drinks and dessert gratis. Planned by Nanci and Bob Hochman. Respond to Bob Hochman at 917.807.8086 or nabobone@comcast.net.

Now that the new year has begun, we ask all our Brother Members of TBA to look ahead to the new year and make a commitment to become just a little more active at the Temple and in the Jewish community. We ask you to become just a bit more of a role model for your children and your grandchildren. We ask you to become just a bit more active in helping the Men's Club advance the objectives of the Temple and the Jewish community. Not every meeting, not every activity, not every event—just a few. Please help us keep our traditions alive.

The TBA Discussion Group will resume on Wednesday, October 24 at 7:00pm

Topics for discussion:

- How should families deal with Death with Dignity (assisted suicide) with elderly parents?
- Is a sitting president subject to a subpoena and the rule of law?

All welcome. Bring a guest. RSVP to Alan Morganstein at alto60@gmail.com

HAMAKOM HAPPENINGS

by Alissa Frankel, Education Director

Even though we have had days off scattered throughout the new school year, there's already been a strong sense of community among our students and families. Now that we have school consistently the next couple of months, you will find yourself asking your child, "How was your day?" As this is a very legitimate question, you will most likely end up with the answers of "fine" or "good", which doesn't really tell you a whole lot. And there is a whole lot going on in our school!

So, let's try to at least get to a full sentence. Here are some potential thought-provoking questions that may lead to some insightful details of their day:

Tell me one thing you learned today.

When were you the happiest today?

What is something new you learned today?

What challenged you today?

What is one thing you hope to learn before the year is over?

The answers you get may surprise you. Our students work hard while they are with us. We truly enjoy when we see things "click" and hope we can foster your children sharing their experiences they enjoyed at Temple Beth Am with you at home as well.

MITZVAH OF THE MONTH: TOGETHER WE RISE

Most children entering foster care receive just two trash bags for their belongings. Together We Rise provides sweet cases (duffel bags with teddy bears, hygiene kits, and a blanket) as well as birthday boxes (with candy, party supplies, and gift cards) to foster kids. Help local children feel cared about by making a financial contribution throughout the month of October.

Every $250 collected will allow us to purchase and put together 20 bags/boxes.

TWO WAYS YOU CAN PARTICIPATE:

1. Call the Temple office to donate via credit card.
2. Drop your cash donation into the box in the Temple lobby.

At 12:00pm on Sunday, October 21, The One School and HaMakom families will work together to decorate and assemble the sweet cases and birthday boxes.

BOOK CLUB (SUMMER 2018)

by CK Tenenbaum

MEETING: Monday, October 8 at 10:30am at Temple Beth Am

LUNCH: Cafe des Artistes,
318 South US Highway 1, Jupiter

LITTLE FIRES EVERYWHERE by Celeste Ng — In Shaker Heights, a placid, progressive suburb of Cleveland, everything is planned – from the layout of the winding roads, to the colors of the houses, to the successful lives its residents will go on to lead. And no one embodies this spirit more than Elena Richardson, whose guiding principle is playing by the rules. Enter Mia Warren, an enigmatic artist and single mother, who arrives in this idyllic bubble with her teenaged daughter Pearl, and rents a house from the Richardsons. Soon Mia and Pearl become more than tenants: all four Richardson children are drawn to the mother-daughter pair. But Mia carries with her a mysterious past and a disregard for the status quo that threatens to upend this carefully ordered community.

When old family friends of the Richardsons attempt to adopt a Chinese-American baby, a custody battle erupts that dramatically divides the town—and puts Mia and Elena on opposing sides. Suspicious of Mia and her motives, Elena is determined to uncover the secrets in Mia's past. But her obsession will come at unexpected and devastating costs.

Please RSVP to me at 561.744.3010 or cktenenbaum@gmail.com to let me know if you are coming to the meeting and/or to lunch.

BOOK CLUB

by Edie Wolf

Please join us for the start of the 2018-2019 Temple Beth Am Book Club season on Monday, November 5. We will meet at 10:30am at the Temple and discuss our book selection for 60-90 minutes. Then those who are interested will have lunch together at a local restaurant.

The first book is WHEN BREATH BECOMES AIR by Paul Kalanithi – At the age of 36, on the verge of completing a decade's worth of training as a neurosurgeon, Paul Kalanithi was diagnosed with stage IV lung cancer. One day he was a doctor treating the dying, and the next he was a patient struggling to live. And just like that, the future he and his wife had imagined evaporated. When Breath Becomes Air chronicles Kalanithi's transformation from a naïve medical student "possessed," as he wrote, "by the question of what, given that all organisms die, makes a virtuous and meaningful life" into a neurosurgeon at Stanford working in the brain, the most critical place for human identity, and finally into a patient and new father confronting his own mortality.

We will have lunch at Berry Fresh, 3755 Military Trail, Jupiter.

Upcoming books:

December 3, 2018: WAR BRIDES – Helen Bryan

January 7, 2019: THE DEVIL IN JERUSALEM – Naomi Ragen

February 4, 2019: PACHINKO – Min Jin Lee

March 4, 2019: BEFORE WE WERE YOURS – Lisa Wingate

April 1, 2019: WE WERE THE LUCKY ONES – George Hunter

Please let me know if you are planning on coming to the book discussion and/or the lunch on November 5 (ediewolf@gmail.com or 443.223.9729).

I look forward to seeing you!

SOCIAL ACTION

at St. George's Soup Kitchen by John Baldwin

Remember how I say we look for 10-12 volunteers each month to serve the less-fortunate in our community? Well, in August we found out we could do it with 8! I'm not saying I'd want to do it again, but now we know we can get it done if necessary.

The summer months are tougher to "staff" because folks are on vacation or snow-birding. We also lost a few in August to last minute "life-happens" moments. For example, my lovely wife Cheryl had to miss in order to tend to my father-in-law and fellow Temple Beth Am member, Herb Gildenhorn. He was having unexpected foot surgery that day. FYI – Herb is doing great and recovering well!

Anyway, our intrepid and undaunted band of August volunteers included: Myrna Abramowitz, Murry Abramowitz, Jerry Rosman, Fred Lissauer, Audrey Ades, Howard Fox, and Richard Remick.

The team included Murry and Audrey doing double-duty at times on floor/kitchen service, while Myrna, Fred, Howard, Jerry, and Richard worked double-time to keep the kitchen humming. Great teamwork and very fulfilling as we respectfully served over 150 meals in an hour.

As always, a special thanks to Jerry and Richard for all the food ordering and prep work they do behind the scenes. Rich, being such a mensch, pulled me aside at the Rosh Hashanah evening service to make sure I knew to thank Stacy Reich for her ongoing help in the food preparation as well.

Finally, I'd like to acknowledge one of our usually unsung heroes, Marsha Levinson, for being so generous with her donations of penne pasta. I know there are probably many others who donate, so thank you, too. The pasta is the main staple of our meals, so if you can't help on our monthly Monday nights, please join with Marsha in donating boxes of the penne. Please drop them off at the Temple at your convenience. I promise your kind donations will help feed a needy fellow human being.

I hope you will consider joining us in our monthly mission in the future. It's a joy to remember our neighbors with a good meal and a friendly smile. We "need" (want!) just 10-12 volunteers each month to serve dinners. Temple Beth Am provides meals on the third Monday of each month from 5:00pm to 6:30pm.

Our next Soup Kitchens will be on Monday, October 15 and Monday, November 19 starting at 5:00pm at St. George's Center, 21 W. 22nd St., Riviera Beach.

Contact me, John Baldwin (john@responsegenius.com) if you have any interest in joining us in the coming months. We'd love to be with you side-by-side in this important act of service and giving.

THE ONE SCHOOL NEWS FOR OCTOBER

by Paula Deakter, Judaic Consultant at The One School

Creating Community Through Holiday Celebration

Holiday celebrations create a lasting link to Judaism. Because of the natural positive feelings in families, holidays become remembrances both at home and within the school community. It is important to create holiday customs to repeat each year, giving children a sense of continuity. A child learns interesting facts about the rituals and symbols of each festival, which then sparks their interest anew each year.

Group festivities help build relationships, friendships, and a sense of community as we celebrate together. Celebrations together bring warmth and happiness into our hearts. These feelings of comfort satisfy this emotional need as we celebrate each holiday. For very young children, the most important emotion is joy—having fun as we engage in the rituals associated with each holiday and connecting to our religious belief system. Children will remember these good times later and will turn to spirituality when they need comfort.

I want to thank you for celebrating the High Holy Days with us. We were so happy to have 120 parents and children join us for our Young Families “Apples and Honey” program on September 6. Both Yael and I enjoyed celebrating the holiday of Rosh Hashanah with all of you. We thank Mr. Brett and Ms. Marcy for our wonderful holiday sing-alongs and Rabbi Alon for blowing the shofar. We enjoyed creating holiday crafts, making a honey jar, baking challah, and decorating greeting cards.

The Rosh Hashanah Children’s Service on September 10 was so meaningful and joyful, with a great mix of prayer, story, and song. Rabbi Alon shared with us prolific words that we not only enjoy apples and honey in order for us to have a sweet New Year, but that this ritual also reminds us to be sweet for the coming year!

At our Young Families program on September 26, we joyfully celebrated the holiday of Sukkot, as we learned about the importance of the Harvest and visited the Sukkah.

Please join the Temple congregation for a special Simchat Torah celebration on Tuesday, October 2. We’ll begin at 5:00pm with a pizza dinner followed by a 6:00pm Service including unrolling the Torah and a 7:00pm ice cream oneg with a Jugglemaniacs performance and balloon twister.

And our first Kid’s Shabbat of the school year will take place on Friday, October 12 at 5:30pm with a Noah’s Ark theme (see next page for details). Please join us as our Shining Stars will sing a song about Noah’s Ark. All One School families, including siblings, are invited to join us for this fun Shabbat celebration.

A MESSAGE FROM THE ONE SCHOOL PTO

by Ariel Dlugasch, PTO Secretary

Save the date for our Annual Night Out Gala on Saturday, March 9, 2019. This is our biggest fundraiser of the year and we are excited to announce that the theme will be a masquerade ball! More details to follow!

Our next PTO meeting will be held in the early evening at 5:15pm on October 15. We scattered the days and times of PTO meetings this year in hopes that more parents will be able to attend. You are welcome to bring your children. There will be snacks and refreshments.

Our first Wacky Wednesday of the school year is October 24 at 5:30pm. Please join us in the garden for pizza, beer, and wine. Wacky Wednesdays are an excellent opportunity to get to know other parents while the children play on the playground.

Please see page 11 for more information about Temple Beth Am's "Mitzvah of the Month". There will be an opportunity for The One School families to work together with Religious School families to benefit Together We Rise, an organization that helps foster kids.

Thank you to everyone for volunteering your time to our wonderful school.

Bar Mitzvah and Bat Mitzvah Announcements

Bar Mitzvah of Jacob Mishelevich (October 6, 2018)

It is with great pride and joy that we announce our son, Jacob Mishelevich, will be called to the Torah as a Bar Mitzvah on October 6, 2018 at Temple Beth Am.

We are very proud parents and excited to celebrate this wonderful day with Jacob.

Jacob has been an honor roll student throughout his academic years and is currently attending Martin County High School. His interests include CrossFit and karate in which he is training for his black belt. We are very proud of him and all his accomplishments both academic and athletic. Jacob also had an opportunity this summer to visit Israel, which was an amazing learning, yet spiritual experience and proved to be very enlightening regarding his Bar Mitzvah.

We wish to thank Rabbi Alon, Ronit Meirom, Brett Tancer, and Marcy Morris for their time and support in helping Jacob prepare for this happy occasion.

Luda & Dmitry Mishelevich

Bar Mitzvah of Kevin Russell (October 13, 2018)

With happiness and love, our son, Kevin Ethan Russell, will be called to the Torah as a Bar Mitzvah on October 13, 2018 at Temple Beth Am.

Kevin started his Jewish education, before he was 2 years old, at Temple Beth Am in the preschool's gradual separation class. Our family sends a very special thank you to Paula Deakter, Carol Sleeper, Debbie Baseman, and Margot Hauser for always making Kevin and our entire family feel comfortable at Temple Beth Am.

Currently, Kevin is in 7th grade at Independence Middle School where he is in the Pre-Law Academy. When Kevin is not in school, you will find him on the tennis courts where he dedicates most of his free time. He also makes time to be an entertaining brother to his younger sisters, Hannah and Sydney, and enjoys spending time with his friends, swimming, fishing, and traveling. Kevin is always smiling and likes to make others laugh even though he usually laughs before he finishes the joke.

Kevin has been working hard, most of the time, to prepare for his Bar Mitzvah. Thank you to Rabbi Alon, Mr. Brett, Marcy Morris, Alissa Frankel, Ms. Ronit, and Kevin's former teachers for all of their patience and guidance to ensure Kevin is ready for his Bar Mitzvah. We look forward to celebrating with our family and friends.

— BIMA FLOWERS ORDERING INFO —

Sisterhood continues to be your in-house service for ordering beautiful flowers to grace our bima. Ordering flowers is as simple as calling our Flower Fund maven, Sharon Rosen. Sharon will take your order for flowers to celebrate your simcha, whether it be a birthday, anniversary, baby naming, celebrating a new job, or retirement from an old job. Flowers are a wonderful way for grandparents to kvell about a grandchild's accomplishment as well as welcoming a new grandchild. Sisterhood accepts Visa and MasterCard so your celebration is just a phone call away.

Bar Mitzvah and Bat Mitzvah Announcements

Bat Mitzvah of Makena Senzon (October 20, 2018)

It is with tremendous pride and joy that we announce that our daughter, Makena Beth Senzon, will be called to the Torah as a Bat Mitzvah on October 20, 2018.

Makena is an extremely talented, warm and inquisitive young lady. She passionately enjoys reading, formulating creative solutions to problems, and helping the environment. Her other hobbies include blowing tunes on the saxophone, dancing, playing soccer, and cooking.

Makena has been going to Temple Beth Am since Kindergarten. There, she has been inspired by her teachers and has made special bonds with many friends. Currently, Makena excels in school as an honor roll student in seventh grade at Independence Middle School.

Without even knowing it, Makena has been doing her Mitzvah Project for years. She has always enjoyed helping her younger peers. Thus, she decided to incorporate that interest into her official Mitzvah Project. Now Makena is using her own talents and volunteering her time to tutor younger students. If you know anyone who would benefit from Makena's free tutoring, please call the Temple office for more information.

We would like to express our appreciation and gratitude to all her teachers throughout the years, the Temple staff, Rabbi Alon, Rabbinic Intern Brett Tancer, and Cantorial Soloist Marcy Morris for helping Makena reach this special day and embracing her Jewish values for a lifetime to come. Along with her siblings, Aviva and Trevor, and her grandparents we are all extremely proud of Makena's accomplishments and reaching this exciting milestone in her life. We look forward to many more adventures, travels, and laughter together. We are excited for her upcoming Bat Mitzvah and watching Makena continue to grow and hope she will always be a lifelong learner.

Marci & Craig Senzon

Bat Mitzvah of Anna Miller (October 27, 2018)

With great pride and loads of love, we are pleased to announce the Bat Mitzvah of our daughter Anna on Saturday, October 27, 2018.

Anna is a seventh grade visual arts student at Bak Middle School of the Arts. She works hard in all of her academic endeavors but is most grateful for the opportunity to explore and express her more creative side in her art classes. In her spare time, Anna can be found spending time with her friends, hanging out with her dogs, engrossed in a fantasy fiction book series, watching movies, on the soccer field or listening to music while filling up her sketchpad. Of course, her iPhone finds its way into every day too!

Recently, Anna combined two of her passions—her love of animals and art—by completing a painting that will be sold to benefit Furry Friends, a no-kill rescue organization. This fall Anna is also serving as the student leader of Temple Beth Am's holiday drive to benefit Back to Basics, an organization that provides underprivileged children in Palm Beach County schools with the basic necessities of shoes, socks, and underwear.

We commend and would like to thank the staff and clergy at Temple Beth Am for all they do on a regular basis. We are particularly appreciative of the time Rabbi Alon, Brett, and Marcy have devoted to supporting Anna throughout this past year to prepare her for this very special day.

WHAT NOW?

by Danna Cohen, Jewish Life Activities Director

Were you here for Rabbi Alon's sermon on Rosh Hashanah morning? It got me thinking.

I've always relished a good argument, and I naturally work through things by playing devil's advocate, sometimes to the vexation of my opponent—I mean person with whom I am conversing. I don't necessarily need to win, but I need the "fight" in order to understand the other person's and my own viewpoint more thoroughly.

And for a good amount of years my surroundings validated me on this matter.

As a student, I participated in debate tournaments all through high school, and in my senior year had my first internship, at a law firm that at the time was representing Firestone in a lawsuit about flipping vehicles. My most vivid memory from this case was the week before it went to trial: one entire floor of the firm came to a standstill to conduct a mock trial for two days, one in which my supervising attorney, who had been working for months to represent Firestone, now had to present the plaintiff's side. This seemed like the craziest, albeit brilliant, thing to me at the time. As she explained to us, the best way to be prepared is to research, know, and understand the other side.

In college I fell in love with Jewish text and took as many classes in Talmudic law as I could, poring over the nuanced arguments presented. It was like the most exciting show you've ever seen, except it was unfolding in tiny font on giant pages, and the plot was essentially about splitting hairs.

Sure, in all of these experiences, someone always won, but the road there was painstakingly paved with respect for the other side, both the person and the value of their differing conclusion. Much of our sense of justice is built on this, right? The Supreme Court publishes minority dissenting opinions, and even though they don't prevail, those opinions are often used as the basis of future arguments. In international law, you'd be shocked to read the amount of debate time allocated to choosing a single, seemingly inconsequential, word in a treaty. While entirely different from our American legal system, this debate is preserved and utilized later on to discern the intent of the parties that drafted it. Its value is not just theoretical but practical.

And today? Well turn on the news, go to a dinner party, browse through social media, and see that this is no longer the case—at least it doesn't feel like it. We not only shut out opposing viewpoints and refuse respect to those that have them, we flee from anything controversial... except at the same time we have created a society where everything political is controversial, and everything is political. But as Rabbi Alon pointed out, we share many of the same goals and find many of the same issues important. We want to get to the same place; we just want to take different routes to get there.

You've probably heard of Hillel and Shammai, the famous Rabbis and contemporaries whose schools of thought notoriously disagreed on almost everything. What you probably don't know is how that story ends. One day violence erupted and...well, to hear what happened you'll have to join us for Temple Beth Am's Day of Learning: Arguing to Learn vs. Arguing to Win, on Sunday, November 4, 2018 at 10:00am. We've partnered with The 9ofAdar organization to tackle constructive disagreement. We will explore how Judaism did it historically and strategies for doing it today, in the hopes of moving out of the echo chamber, backing away from the powder keg, and being able to once again engage in "arguments for the sake of heaven."

We will hear from and learn with Rabbi Alon, as well as experts in our congregation before enjoying lunch together. Adults will have a choice of three breakout sessions, and separate sessions for kids and teens will be held by Alissa Frankel and Elana Beame.

Please see the flyer on the next page, and for more details or to RSVP contact the Temple Office.

Arguing to Win

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 2018

10:00AM-1:00PM

A morning of challenging how we engage with each other. Together we will explore how contradictory opinions in Jewish history and texts can empower us to engage more constructively in the ideological and political conflicts we encounter today.

10:00am– 10:30am: Opening Keynote by Rabbi Alon

10:40am – 11:10am: Choice of Sessions

11:15am-12:00pm: Group Learning with Rabbi Alon

12:00 pm: Lunch

No Cost. Open to All.

There will be separate sessions offered for Adults, Teens, and Kids.
