SPECIAL EDITION!

TEMPLE BETH AM

All of us together.

Elul 5782/Tishrei 5783

In This Issue...

Do you ever find yourself asking if time is speeding up? I certainly do, especially this time of year when Temple Beth Am is at its busiest preparing for the High Holy Days. Where did summer go? School has begun, Service preparations are underway, and everything is buzzing. The energy is like no other and the excitement and anticipation is infectious—we cannot wait to welcome the new Jewish Year with you, which begins on September 25 this year.

Speaking of new, you may notice some new features in this special High Holy Days edition of The Scribe, including an upgraded calendar, full-color photos, and community volunteer opportunities. We hope these make for a more user-friendly experience and we are looking forward to unveiling some additional enhancements in the future.

Enclosed in this edition you will find all the information you need in order to join us and participate in the High Holy Days including guest tickets, children's programming, and Service times, as well as some amazing Temple, Men's Club, and Sisterhood activities coming up through October. Also in this edition is an update on our campaign to pay for the new roof. Check out how much we have raised, how much we still need, and how you can contribute on page 12-13. While you are at it, please don't forget to renew your membership if you have not done so already by mailing back your VFC cards, and keep an eye out for the next edition kicking off our season of adult programming including classes, special events, and daytime activities.

There's a lot going on, and like I said, we are excited...but more than that, we are grateful. None of our Services, programs, initiatives, or activities would be possible without you. As we go into a new year, I want to thank you for enriching the Temple Beth Am community, and look forward to seeing you very soon.

I wish you a happy, healthy, and prosperous new year filled with new blessings and happy memories.

SUMMER DAYS

A MESSAGE FROM RABBI ALON

WHY SOME PEOPLE CANNOT SEE THE GOOD IN THEIR LIVES

The 19th century Rabbi, Yehudah Aryeh Leib Alter, offers an astonishing insight into the mysteries of the human psyche in his commentary on the prelude to the romantic meeting between Jacob and Rachel. On his escape from his brother, Esau, Jacob stopped by the local well, and to his dismay he sees the local shepherds standing idly instead of watering their flock. When he asked the reason for their bizarre behavior, they pointed at a big stone covering the well. They couldn't move the stone until more shepherds arrived, they told him. Despite their claim, Jacob tried and ultimately succeeded in removing the huge rock all by himself.

Rabbi Alter reads the story metaphorically. The concept of a well, a source of life in the midst of a barren field, exists in all aspects of the universe. Everything and everyone contains a life-giving element that sustains it. Even that which appears to be as deserted as a field has such a hidden place, a well, within it.

As for humans, the well represents the source of what enables life and makes it worth living. The boulder symbolizes what obscures our vision and obstructs our access to the spring of life. Life is God's most cherished gift to which we must show eternal gratitude, but too often the stone muddles our reality and instead of life, we feel despair. While the shepherds succumbed to the boulder, Jacob used his mental and physical strength to overcome the obstacle.

So often we are like the shepherds. We stand at the mouth of the well, knowing what's inside and how much we can benefit from it, but we perceive the stone to be too heavy for us to lift and keep waiting for the right time (that may never arrive).

The stone is the negative emotions we harbor. It is our anger at life that didn't unfold the way we envisioned it in our youth; it is our disappointment with our children who failed to provide us the future we always dreamed of; it is our fury at friends who didn't live up to our lofty standards of loyalty and support or our envy of their success, and the rock is blaming God for allowing the world to be so far removed from perfection.

The High Holy Days give us the opportunity to identify the forces that pull the stone down and make it unmovable, and when we muster the strength to begin to move the stone, God, just like He did for Jacob, will push it with us, until the lifegiving water of the well is fully exposed and we are able to quench our spiritual thirst.

This past spring, Temple Beth Am was forced to replace our entire roof and most of our air conditioners, and this summer we kicked off the capital campaign to pay for it. We were lucky to have been saving for this occasion for years but the timing came sooner than expected and the bill larger than expected, so we turned to you for help. THANK YOU to everyone who has given so far. Due to your generosity we are halfway there!

But we still need your help to get us the rest of the way. Your gift to the roof campaign ensures the stability and safety of our beautiful building for years to come, and we are so grateful. All donations are tax-deductible (and can have valuable tax benefits). If you have not yet given or would like to make an additional contribution, please call the Temple to discuss payment options and ways to give.
