PRIORITIES FOR THE NEW YEAR

by Rabbi Alon Levkovitz

Once there was an emperor. The emperor had an absolutely magnificent vase that was ancient and intricately beautiful. One day someone let the vase fall, and it split into millions of fragments. The fragments were gathered up, and the best potter in the land was called to reassemble the vase. He tried but failed. He paid for his failure by losing his head. The emperor ordered the next-best potter, and he also failed. This continued for weeks, until finally all the best artists in the land had died, having failed to reassemble the broken, beautiful vase. There was only one artist left, an old Zen monk who lived in a cave in the mountains. He had a young apprentice. The monk came and collected all the fragments himself and brought them back to his work shed. For weeks and weeks he worked until finally the vase was whole again. The apprentice looked at it and thought how beautiful it was. The two of them made the journey to the city and brought the vase into the palace. The emperor and all his courtesans beamed in admiration at the beauty of the reassembled vase. The old Zen monk was graciously rewarded. He and his young apprentice went back to their cave in the mountains. Then, one day, the young apprentice was looking for something and unexpectedly came upon the fragments of the vase. He ran in to his master: "Look at all the fragments of the vase, you never assembled them all. How did you make a vase as beautiful as the ancient one that was broken?" The old master said, "If you do the work that you do from a loving heart, then you will always be able to make something beautiful."

You probably heard a Jewish version of the story from your mother or grandmother. After complimenting her for the out-of-this-world challah she baked, her reply was, "You know my secret ingredient, don't you?" and without waiting for a response, she answered her own question, "Love, pure love". It is true. When we love what we do, we do it beautifully. But can we love everything we do? Is it possible for every task we perform to get the same attention? I don't think so.

When the story was written, potters used all their time and energy to make pottery, and shoemakers gave it all to their craft. Imagine yourself as one of these shoemakers today. On top of making shoes, you have to deal with marketing, cash flow, staff management, and your shoes' ranking on Amazon. At 4:00pm you need to take your daughter to soccer practice, and at 5:00pm your son's Bar Mitzvah lesson starts at Temple. At 7:00pm everyone is expecting a gourmet gluten-free and mostly-vegan dinner. And unlike the Zen monk in the story who lived in a cave, you live in a highly mortgaged house and need to take care of it. Can you really perform every task with love and dignity?

I can get anywhere without help, except when they change the roads and give streets new names (which apparently happens all the time). At that point, I open the GPS app in my phone, feeling only slightly less humiliated asking her, rather than a human being, for directions. She always begins the same way "when it's safe make a U-turn", which is the GPS polite way of saying: "You just spent 15 minutes driving in the wrong direction". Redirection is also the message of the High Holy Days. We are told to stop feeling guilty for not doing everything wholeheartedly. We need to sort from our cluttered life the components that we want to give our full love and attention to and make them beautiful. And what about the rest? Either make peace with yourself that they will only be done in a good enough way or find a way to outsource them. Fake it with dinner (it has never been your thing anyway), but shoot more hoops with the kids (you all love it so much). Leave the finances to the accountant and put all the love into making the best shoes.

Shanah Tovah from my family to yours!

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

by Bruce Cohen

As I begin to write this article it is August 19 and I am at the Temple for the first day of HaMakom, our religious school. It's great to see so many families that I know returning as well as many new families whose children are joining us for the first time. I am always happy to see the excitement among the children, parents, teachers, staff, and clergy for the new school year. While learning is one of the cornerstones of our Jewish faith, as a parent with a child in high school and one about to become a bat mitzvah, I see that religious school at Temple Beth Am is so much more than that. It is a connection for parents just as much as for the children. I am proud to see the commitment of our families as well as the dedication of our teachers and staff.

This reminded me that as the summer winds down, the High Holy Days are right around the corner. Your Temple Beth Am Board of Directors is busy again helping to make things run as smoothly as possible. Feel free to reach out to me or any of our directors if you have questions or comments for us.

This year the High Holy Days are quite early. If you haven't rejoined Temple Beth Am or you haven't received your High Holy Days tickets yet, please stop by the Temple or call Carol, Debbie, or Margot at the Temple office at 561.747.1109. See page 6 for the High Holy Days Schedule.

Thank you and I look forward to seeing you soon. L'shanah Tovah!

SISTERHOOD SCOOP

by Lois Remick

As the High Holy Days approach, my thoughts turn to how my friends and I, as teenagers, celebrated the holidays. Because there was no special Service for teens in either the Conservative or Orthodox temples (there was no Reform temple in my city), we would congregate on the steps of the temples until told by an usher to continue our conversations “around the corner”. When that happened, we would then take our “High Holy Days ritual” to another synagogue in the city until another usher again would tell us to move on. In retrospect, I like to think of this as my “wondering Jewess” phase of religious education.

I have shared this story with you because I am so very proud of TBA's outreach to youngsters and teens during the High Holy Days. By providing meaningful Services to our next generation of Jewish parents, TBA is preserving the importance of Jewish ritual and its observance.

Speaking of a welcoming tradition in our Temple community, Sisterhood is grateful to Gali Levkovitz for opening her home and “kitchen” to all members of Sisterhood for a most enjoyable and delicious luncheon. Thank you, Gali, and we did hear you say that this may very well be a “tradition”. The delicious array of foods you cooked and baked was enjoyed by 45 of our members. For those who attended and want some of the recipes that Gali used, please contact Sue Freedland at suef43@gmail.com.

While there will be no Third Tuesday Lunch in September due to the Yom Kippur holiday, we are having a special event on Tuesday, September 25. We have reserved tables at the Colony Club of Palm Beach for lunch. While this restaurant is usually “pricey”, there is a September price reduction, and a two-course lunch is $20 plus tax and tip. You must RSVP to Carole Levine at jptrcaro@comcast.net or 561.339.3909 on or before September 20. Carole will then email all those who RSVP with their addresses in case you wish to carpool. Carole WILL NOT be the contact for carpooling... she will only send you the RSVPs, and if you wish to carpool you will need to contact someone in your area on that list.

There will be a Third Tuesday Lunch on October 16 at The Avocado Grill in Downtown at the Gardens in Palm Beach Gardens. Those Sisterhood members who celebrate their birthdays in September and October will be treated to lunch at the Avocado Grill. RSVP is necessary so either call or email Carole Levine at jptrcaro@comcast.net, or 561.339.3909.

Save the Date: On Sunday, October 21, the Men's Club will hold a breakfast, and their guest speaker will be a representative of the League of Women Voters who will speak about the upcoming election and the questions that will be on the ballot (see page 26 for details).

Other Dates to Save: Sunday, November 4 from 2:00pm to 5:00pm for another Painting with Deb party, and Sunday, December 9 from 1:00pm-2:30pm for a fantastic Drum Circle.

Immediate Needs: Sisterhood needs your help during the High Holy Days! We need a few good women to hand out tzedakah cans at the conclusion of Services on Erev Rosh Hashanah and the Rosh Hashanah morning Service. We also need helpers to hand out honey sticks to children at the conclusion of the Children's Service at approximately 2:45pm and the Family Service at 3:45pm. Please email Maril Levy at maril@family-levy.com to volunteer.

The Sisterhood and Men's Club August 13 Dinner and Trivia Night at Burger Bar was fun and our trivia teams were keen on winning prizes for their knowledge. This event will be a “keeper” in our summer programming.

As we head on into autumn, (hmm... autumn in Florida means the high 80's) please remember to send your Sisterhood Membership dues to Maril Levy, c/o Temple Beth Am. Membership in Sisterhood is needed in order to take advantage of the membership price for certain events and attend the paid-up Membership Luncheon. As a value-added incentive to join Sisterhood, your annual dues are used to provide scholarships to the children of TBA who will be attending Camp Coleman. Because of our 2017-2018 Sisterhood Scholarships, many more children who needed this assistance were able to attend this Jewish camping experience. We also sponsored many other social and educational experiences for our Temple youth throughout the year. Your dues will not only be supporting your Sisterhood; they will also be helping the growth of our TBA teens who will be tomorrow's Jewish leaders. An easy way of rejoining (or if you are joining for the first time) is to pay your dues by credit card. Please note that option on the Membership form. If you did not receive the mailing, contact Maril Levy at maril@family-levy.com. The form can also be found on the Temple website on the Sisterhood page.

Last, being over 65, and needing at least two other people in my age group to remember a name...I inadvertently left out Rita Silverman's name in the last Scribe to thank her for helping with the June Membership mailing. Sisterhood values those members who volunteer to help for our events, etc.

MEN'S CLUB HAPPENINGS

by Jack Tenenbaum and Harvey Silverman

It's September, and the start of a new year is at hand. The Men's Club wishes all congregants, members, and friends L'Shanah Tovah—a happy, healthy, and prosperous 5779.

Men's Club is active all year. This summer, when everything is supposed to come to a standstill, we co-sponsored a trivia night with the Sisterhood at the Burger Bar, sponsored monthly dinners at local restaurants, and had a baseball outing to see the Yankees at the Marlins. After the High Holy Days, on September 30, we are planning an NFL game tailgate party at 12:00pm (see page 24 for details).

Our August 28 monthly dinner will be held at Le Metro in Abacoa with schmoozing at 6:00pm and dinner at 6:30pm. RSVP to TBAMensClub2@gmail.com or call Harvey at 561.758.1293. Separate checks; pay only for what you order.

On Sunday, October 21, at 9:30am, breakfast will be followed by a League of Women Voters Presentation and Discussion (see page 26 for details).

The Men's Club works hard to plan and offer events for the congregation that have both social and educational value. There are events at least monthly that we hope appeal to various segments of the congregation. However, the Men's Club is not just about the events that we offer. It is about why we offer those events. It is about what the Men's Club is, and why it is. We provide and promote meaningful activities and events within TBA and the community to strengthen, promote, and advance the objectives and activities of TBA.

In addition, we support numerous TBA programs and events. The Men's Club has made significant financial contributions to the Chidush project, built and removed the Sukkah, assisted in cooking, provided serving and "set up" help for numerous Temple events, and supported The One School and TBA events with volunteers.

The funds we generate go directly to support TBA and our congregants. None of this would be possible without the generous support and assistance of our volunteer members who give their time and professional expertise. In addition, Men's Club fosters camaraderie and close friendships that develop among its members while participating in these events.

A great big "shout out" to our TBA office staff whose patience, understanding, advice, and assistance during the year makes our jobs so much easier. Thank you Carol Sleeper, Margot Hauser, Debbie Baseman, Meredith Goodman, and Carolyn Tierney for your most capable assistance in helping us manage Men's Club over the past 12 months.

During this period of reflection and rededication as the New Year of 5779 begins, we urge you to join Men's Club and participate in our activities. We know you are busy. We know that life makes many demands on your time, but we don't ask much. One evening a month, a little help on a project or two a year. That's not so much to ask to help ensure that our children and grandchildren continue in our tradition. We need your help, your participation, and your membership in Men's Club.

The 2019 SaveAround Palm Beach coupon books are here!

Each contains at least $1,000 in coupons from local businesses. The coupons are good through December 31, 2019. Tell your friends... these coupon books make great gifts!

Books cost $25 each and are available for purchase in the Temple office or by contacting Harvey Silverman at 561.758.1293 or TBAMensClub2@gmail.com.

HAMAKOM IS LOOKING FOR OUR BEST AND BRIGHTEST TEEN LEADERS!

Teens who join this year's cohort of Madrichim, Teaching Assistants, will gain new leadership abilities and strengthen their connection to Judaism and Temple Beth Am. Some of the responsibilities of Madrichim are to assist with administrative tasks such as taking attendance, collecting tzedakah, passing out flyers, assisting with snacks, and preparing supplies. Some of the more interactive tasks may include helping students with projects, leading groups during small group activities, creating teacher mini-lessons, reading stories, and working one-on-one with students who may need extra assistance.

Please contact Elana Beame, Youth Engagement Director, at ebeame@templebetham.com for more info.

STEPPING INTO THE NEW YEAR

by Danna Cohen, Jewish Life Activities Director

I love a lot about the Jewish holidays—handing out baskets on Purim, watching the flickering flames on Hanukkah, retelling the story every Passover—but my absolute favorite holiday is Rosh Hashanah. While Purim, Hanukkah, and especially Passover make me feel connected to the history and long-ago generations of the Jewish people, Rosh Hashanah is more personal.

I didn't realize it for a long time, but Rosh Hashanah is the holiday that makes me feel most connected to my family, such that I have become almost obstinate about preserving the traditions each year. When I was little, my grandparents would take my siblings and me to buy new shoes before the New Year. After we moved to the United States, and then when my grandparents passed away, my parents continued the tradition. There were sneakers for school, winter boots, sandals, water shoes, and other necessary shoe purchases throughout the year, but dress shoes were always, "from saba and savta," and always bought right before the holiday. As a kid this felt pretty special, putting on the ruffled socks and patent leather Mary Janes was something tangible I could do to connect to the people I loved who were no longer around.

Once I was in college, I decided to carry on the tradition for myself. The thing is, as a kid you obviously need new shoes because your feet grow each year, but as an adult, well...you begin to accrue a lot of shoes. Still, no matter how many shoes may already be in my closet, come two weeks before the New Year, I start to feel a sense of urgency to go shopping; the holiday just wouldn't be the same without a new pair of shoes from my grandparents, like I would be tarnishing their memory by forsaking this ritual.

This year, my family and I will be apart for the Holy Days, so preserving this tradition feels all the more precious, but recently, as I was thinking of driving to the shoe store, I felt a sense of guilt. I couldn't think of what shoes to get because truly I have enough, there was nothing I needed. I considered purchasing shoes to donate instead, but I felt like if my grandparents were watching they would feel I had missed the point. My grandparents greatly valued charity, generosity, kindness, and helping others, but the shoes are about something else. Like many of their generation, my grandparents were Holocaust survivors, and before the war they were also, each, one of eight or nine siblings; as such, having something new, all to yourself, happened rarely. Buying us new shoes for the holiday was about all this—the joy of being able to give your grandkids more than you had, the specialness of something new for a new year, the freedom to observe Jewishly, and the celebration of having three generations of family again. Donating shoes wouldn't really encapsulate that in the same way.

Luckily fate stepped in, and a favorite pair of shoes was ruined beyond repair a couple of days ago. As soon as I submit this article I can close the computer and go to the shoe store. I decided my grandparents would approve of a compromise: one pair of shoes for myself, and one pair for someone else for the New Year.

Whether you are a grandparent or grandchild, I hope that this Rosh Hashanah finds you engaging in your own traditions and making wonderful memories with your family and loved ones. I wish you a very happy and healthy new year.

Shanah Tovah!

COLLEGE CONNECTION:

We need your college student's address!

The College Connection program gives Temple Beth Am the opportunity to send out holiday surprise packages throughout the year to our college students. This is a wonderful way to let them know that their family and congregation are thinking of them and allows the students to maintain a strong connection to their Judaism. If you would like to participate, please email Elana Beame at ebeame@templebetham.com for more information.

THE ONE SCHOOL NEWS FOR SEPTEMBER

by Patty McCaulley, Early Childhood Director

Celebrating the High Holy Days at The One School

Although we have barely finished the summer season, we find ourselves not only at the beginning of our school year, but preparing for the celebration of the High Holy Days as well. Since the Jewish Holidays are based upon the lunar calendar, sometimes they don't appear until later in the fall, or sometimes, like this year, they happen all at once with the start of the school year and Labor Day. Rosh Hashanah is the perfect holiday to occur at the beginning of the school year. Celebrating the Jewish New Year gives us an excellent framework in which to study beginnings, to take a discerning look at how we have grown, and to reflect on where we will be going this year. We believe in the importance of traditions and rituals in order to strengthen the connection between home and school, and our learning activities at school prepare our children to discover and explore the rituals associated with celebration of the holiday at home.

Here are some questions that our children may ask and how we should respond:

Why is the Jewish New Year called Rosh Hashanah?

In Hebrew, the word "Rosh" means head and the word "Hashanah" means (of) the year. We celebrate the New Year on the first day of the Hebrew month of Tishrei. To some people, we are celebrating the birthday of the world on Rosh Hashanah.

What is a shofar and why do we blow it on Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur?

Thousands of years ago, the shofar was used to signal that the Jewish year was beginning, and it was time for everyone to come to the Temple. It is the horn of a ram that is hollowed out, allowing deep, rich sounds to pass through when blown. The shofar is also blown at the end of the observance of Yom Kippur to indicate the end of the Day of Atonement.

Why do we eat apples and honey on Rosh Hashanah?

We eat apples and honey, as well as other sweet treats, to symbolize our hope for a sweet year; a year of good things to come until we celebrate next year.

Why do we say we're sorry on Yom Kippur?

Repentance, or "Teshuvah" in Hebrew, is an important way that we acknowledge that we are not perfect beings. We say we are sorry for actions for which we are not proud because we knew they were wrong, but also for the things we may have said that hurt someone else, even if that was not our intention. Once we ask for forgiveness, we may be sealed in the Book of Life for another year.

At school, our children learn about these important values that every family may reinforce at home as well. We wish everyone a "Shanah Tovah Umetukah" (may you have a good and sweet year).

RECIPE FOR A SWEET NEW YEAR

by Marcy Morris, Cantorial Soloist

As our High Holy Days approach once again, I always reflect back on some of my most cherished childhood memories during Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur.

Before these holidays, my mother would take my two sisters and me shopping for our new shul clothes and we would also shop together for the special holiday food. We'd spend hours together laughing and noshing as we prepared our holiday favorites. What I remember most was coming home from synagogue and having my entire family gathered together around our beautifully set dinner table with our best dishes and silverware, beautiful flowers, round challot, and sweet honey.

What made these yearly traditions so memorable and so special for me? The main thing was that we were able to celebrate them year after year, something I always looked forward to. These beautiful and rich traditions also taught me some life lessons.

Shopping for new holiday clothes each year reminds me of the importance of a fresh start, something that these holidays are truly all about. I also learned that the most important ingredient in any recipe is actually the "love". These dishes feed our hearts and our souls. But the best part of the holidays for me has always been the opportunity to stop, and take the time to appreciate the blessing of having such wonderful family and friends in my life—and nothing is more important than that.

I wish you all very sweet, healthy, meaningful, and memorable New Year, and I look forward to spending the holidays together.

L'shanah Tovah!

SOCIAL ACTION

at St. George's Soup Kitchen by John Baldwin

We had another extremely successful and rewarding experience serving the less fortunate in our community on July 16. Servitude to our neighbors should be a pillar for all of us. I can say personally, it is so rewarding to hear the heartfelt thanks and gratitude we receive from those we serve. I hope all who read this will come to feel that joy, whether with us at St. George's or anywhere else where you can make a positive difference in the lives of those who need your support and kindness.

Please consider joining us in our monthly mission to remember our neighbors with a good meal and a friendly smile. We need just 10-12 volunteers each month to serve dinners. We provide meals on the 3rd Monday of each month, 5:00pm-6:30pm. Just 90 minutes of your time to make a real difference. And remember, high school students looking to get some community service time won't find a more rewarding way to get them.

I'd like to acknowledge and thank the wonderful volunteers we had in July. My deepest apologies if I missed anyone (if you didn't sign in) or if I butchered your name (you did sign in, but I couldn't read your signature properly).

We also could really use 1-2 volunteers to help with the food preparation monthly. Obviously, it is extremely important to get your assistance as we have nothing to serve without the prior preparation. Rich Remick and Jerry Rosman are doing such great work here, but they could use a few extra hands. Please contact Rich Remick at 561.389.9396 if you would like to help with their efforts. If you can't volunteer your time, we are always in need of donations of boxes of penne pasta. Please drop them off at the Temple.

Contact me, John Baldwin (john@responsegenius.com) if you have any interest in joining us in the coming months. We'd love to be with you side-by-side in this important act of service and giving.

Mark your Calendars! Our next Soup Kitchen night is Monday, September 17 starting at 5:00pm at St. George's Center, 21 W. 22nd St., Riviera Beach. This is the evening before Yom Kippur. Could there be a better way to begin your preparations of atonement?

HAVE YOU RENEWED YOUR MEMBERSHIP YET?

Our new membership year started July 1, 2018. If you haven't renewed your TBA membership for 2018-2019, now's the time!

Your Voluntary Financial Commitment (VFC) for membership renewal packet was mailed in early June and again in August. Please be sure to fill out the VFC card and send it back to us. If you need a replacement VFC packet or have any questions, please contact Carol Sleeper, Director of Engagement, Programming & Membership, at csleeper@templebetham.com.

Remember, as a benefit of membership, High Holy Days tickets are free to Temple members who have renewed and are current with their Voluntary Financial Commitment for the 2018-2019 fiscal year. Also, anyone wishing to enroll their child(ren) in Religious School must be current with their membership.
