Rabbi's Ramblings

Rabbi Bennett Greenspon

Let me begin by wishing all of you and all of us a Happy New Year. I hope, as do we all, that 2022 will be a year of joy, a year where we can go back to shaking hands and giving hugs, a year where we can all gather without fear of illness, and a year where we all respect each other.

Last week we read in the Torah about the death of Jacob. As Jacob prepared to die he taught us an important lesson and left us with a mitzvah to do for our kids. He taught us that we all need to bless those that we love: our kids, our friends, our significant others and even our co-workers.

But the way that Jacob did his blessings led to a dispute among the sages. You see, Jacob didn't just bless his sons, he also in some ways castigated them. He pointed out their strengths and also their weaknesses as well as their misdeeds.

In looking at the portion, the House of Shammai said that we "should describe the bride as she truly is" while the House of Hillel said that we "should describe the bride as beautiful." What are they saying? Shammai is saying that we should be brutally honest and tell the truth no matter the consequences. Hillel is saying something different i.e. that we should worry about people's feelings.

Here are some questions for you to ponder:

How does this translate into our day and age? Is it okay to lie? Have you ever lied? Do we tell the truth differently face to face than we do on social media? What other questions does this elicit? Are all brides beautiful? Are all grandchildren geniuses?

Again, have a great year and continue to be safe.

Rabbi Bennett Greenspon

When you celebrate an event, how do you do so? Is it marked alone, with a small group or with the world?

When we commemorate the Jewish New Year we often celebrate with family or our greater Jewish community. We sing, pray and eat. Sometimes when we ring in the secular New Year, we do so with a group of friends or family. We have silly rituals, like staying awake until midnight to see a ball drop and kissing a loved one at midnight. If you have ever observed the new year of the trees, Tu B'shevat, we often take time out in nature, plant trees, eat food that comes from trees and take part in other outdoor activities. We will be hosting a Tu B'shevat Palooza on January 23. It will be an amazing experience for you to join together to mark the holiday. More details about this event can be found on page 10.

When we celebrate life cycle events we do so with food, blessings, reflection and community gathering. These might include a baby naming, circumcision, consecration/ta'am shel d'vash (beginning of formal learning/a taste of honey), a bar/bat mitzvah, confirmation, a wedding and even a funeral. Most of these celebrations are positive, significant moments in one's life. A funeral, while sad, is still a celebration of one's life.

While we continue to experience a global pandemic, we work hard to find ways to celebrate everything and anything...and it is hard. This challenge goes for every family celebrating any life cycle event and for all of us celebrating some kind of holiday or new year.

Sarah and I are blessed that our daughters are becoming b'not mitzvah at the end of January. While we were able to celebrate in person with so many of you at our son's bar mitzvah service, at this time we have to celebrate with our Temple family digitally and not in person. We are fortunate that we have the technology to make this happen. While we are sad that we are not able to all be together in person, we hope that you are able to join in this virtual communal celebration of our daughters becoming adults in their Jewish experience.

One day, post pandemic, wouldn't it be great to attend a huge gala with a theme of life celebration? For now, we appreciate the scaled down festivities as we continue to live each moment, being a part of the holy community of Temple Beth Emet, working hard to celebrate with you for so many events.

Please be safe,

Rabbi Frank DeWoskin

As I write these words, it is the first day of Chanukah. Although I know you will be reading this a few weeks from now, I believe these thoughts on the importance of true freedom in Jewish life and history are meaningful to us every day of our lives. The Maccabees had the bravery and commitment to fight for freedom when all truly seemed lost. Our struggles seem to come in different packages these days, but the lesson of knowing and acting on what is truly important remains the same.

"If I am not for myself, then who will be for me? If I am only for myself... then what am I? And if not now... when?" (Hillel)

"There are no problems...only opportunities for growth." (D. Weinberg)

"Who is wise? One who learns from everyone. Who is strong? One who overpowers his negative inclinations. Who is rich? One who is happy with what one has. Who is honorable? One who honors his fellows." (Ben Zoma)

"If you are not a better person tomorrow than you are today... what need have of you for a tomorrow?" (Reb Nachman of Bratslav)

"Gam zu l'tovah. This too is for the good." (Nachum Ish Gamzu)

"If you don't know what you're living for, you haven't yet lived." (Rabbi Noah Weinberg)

"Freedom is not only about 'freedom from'. It is about our having the freedom to make the world a more sacred place by expanding the sense of God's presence in it." (Anonymous)

May we all live every moment given to us in this upcoming year as if it were indeed the precious gift of God that one day, we will realize it is.

Love, Blessings and Shalom,

Cantor Jan

Why does “Art” matter?

Art is crucial to our individual growth and development. Creative expression lowers stress, improves our memory, and makes us feel happier.

The artist Wassily Kandinsky said, “Everything starts from a dot.” So that is where we began. As we learned about the artist and his work, we were inspired by circles and dots, and made incredible creations. Next, we examined large clusters of dots and studied the art of Georges Seurat, the genius behind pointillism. Amazing landscapes came to life using Q-tips as paint brushes and lots and lots of dots. What about lines? The art of Piet Mondrian was our next featured artist and inspired bold, beautiful abstract works of bright colors set in bold, black lines. Amazing! We are starting a unit on “Pop Art” with colorful paper tiles emulating the works of Pablo Picasso.

As students learn about Agronomy and become caretakers of our garden space, our art projects reflected their enthusiasm. Kindergarten created sun catchers, first grade made awesome pink flamingos and second grade created beautiful birds. Third grade showed us the beauty of butterflies and fourth grade made hydroponics come to life in fabulous water-colored vases with plants. The fifth-grade owls are unique and gorgeous. Their “Save the Ocean” drawings will be outstanding when completed.

All will soon be on display outside the Agronomy area. So, keep a look out for your child’s creative inspirations.

At Beth Emet school “Art” matters.

Miss Joan's Chanukah Legacy Lives On

There are many important concepts we teach throughout the course of a Pre-K year. Staying true to our Reggio-inspired philosophy, these lessons often evolve naturally. Chanukah was quickly approaching, so we created a Chanukah-inspired invitation and asked the children what they know about this Jewish holiday. They excitedly began talking all about the eight nights of presents they would receive. I posed the question, "How would it make you feel to give a gift instead of get one during one of the nights?" Not a single child could articulate that feeling and most had a look of surprise on their faces at the prospect of missing out on a Chanukah present. I told them about a family tradition we had in my house that was inspired by Miss Joan and her JAFCO dreidel board. Each year, my three children would pick a dreidel that had a child's name, age, and gift they wanted written on it. We would shop for the gifts together and, as we lit the Chanukah candles on the night that coincided with Shabbat, our kids did not receive a Chanukah gift. Instead, we thought about the mitzvah of bringing happiness to others.

A few hours later, I found myself sitting in our weekly PreK Team meeting with Miss Robin and Miss Dina. They posed the question, "What do you want your focus to be during Thanksgiving and Chanukah?" I immediately had my answer! We were going to do a Chanukah Mitzvah project in our class that would not only allow them to experience the joy of giving to others but would help Miss Joan's JAFCO Chanukah drive live on! When I returned from my meeting, I gathered the children together to tell them about the idea. We would collect tzedakah over the next few weeks and then shop on Amazon to pick out presents that the children in JAFCO hoped to receive. The cheers that erupted from this amazing group of children let me know immediately that this project would be a huge success because it was something that interested them greatly.

Our class parents, and even grandparents, were excited to help us with this mitzvah project. They could see how important it was to their children. Over the next several days, the children proudly began filling our tzedakah box with coins and bills of various denominations. We quickly got to work sorting and counting the change. It was easy to identify the coins by name and recall the value of each coin because it was so meaningful to the children. We sorted the quarters into groups of four to make a dollar. Dimes were stacked into groups of ten to make a dollar. We counted by fives and learned that 20 nickels equal one dollar. Pennies were also placed into stacks of ten and we counted ten groups of ten pennies, or 100 pennies, to equal to one dollar. Likewise, when counting the paper money, we learned about equivalent amounts and how to add them up. In the end, the class had donated so much tzedakah, we needed a calculator to find the sum. To our absolute joy and amazement, we had collected a total of $267.57! Best of all, our other PreK classes began collecting for the JAFCO drive, too!

The children thought carefully about which gifts to purchase from the JAFCO wish list. Since they love to locate countries on our classroom globe, they put a globe in the Amazon shopping cart. One child picked out a tree lamp thinking it would be helpful if someone is afraid of the dark. Many of them love video games so they bought one of those too. They also purchased pajamas and toys for children of various ages and genders. Many parents expressed their gratitude for doing this Mitzvah project and let us know that our focus on giving back had already made a huge impact on their children. We observed a similar change in our classroom climate, as sweet acts kindness towards one another increased.

After the first night of Chanukah, I asked the children how it made them feel when they imagined the JAFCO kids opening the presents we bought for them. Their answers were similar, "It made my heart feel warm and happy!" I know Miss Joan would be so proud!

WHAT IS LIFE & LEGACY?

LIFE & LEGACY is a partnership of the Harold Grinspoon Foundation (HGF) and Jewish Federation of Broward County that promotes after-lifetime giving to benefit Temple Beth Emet and the local Jewish community. Through training, support and monetary incentives, LIFE & LEGACY motivates Jewish organizations to integrate legacy giving into their philanthropic culture in order to assure Jewish tomorrows.

WHY LEAVE A LEGACY GIFT?

In one way or another your life is rooted in Jewish experiences connecting you to Temple Beth Emet and the Jewish community. Have you included us in your will or estate plan? ## Lindsay Brasner

Lindsay Wynne Brasner will be called to the Torah as a Bat Mitzvah on Saturday, January 8, 2022. Lindsay began her Jewish education at Temple Beth Emet's Early Childhood Center in 2009. She is currently an 8th grade student at Indian Ridge Middle School. She is an excellent student and is actively involved in her school. She is President of the National Junior Honor Society, a member of Student Council, a member of the debate team and a peer counselor.

Lindsay is a kind and compassionate young woman who loves her family, her friends and, of course, her three puppies. She loves spending her summers in Massachusetts at summer camp surrounded by friends. She also enjoys playing golf and has been on her middle school team for the past three years, serving as captain of her team this year.

Lindsay had two Mitzvah projects. The first one is especially close to her heart. She collected hundreds of books and donated them to a local dialysis center so that the patients have reading material while they receive treatment. She also collaborated with school friends for her second project to collect and organize PPE baskets for her entire middle school staff and administration.

Lindsay would like to thank Rabbi Greenspon, Rabbi DeWoskin, Cantor Jan Sheer, Paula Bergman and all her teachers from Temple Beth Emet for their mentoring and guidance over the years to prepare her for this milestone occasion. Temple Beth Emet holds a special place in Lindsay's heart.

Sydni Quittner

Sydni Hunter Quittner will be called to the Torah as a Bat Mitzvah on Saturday, January 15, 2022. Sydni began her Jewish education at a young age, building a strong foundation focused on Jewish values and traditions. She is currently a conscientious 7th grader at American Heritage School, Plantation where her favorite subjects are math and science. She is a member of the American Heritage Tennis Team and plays violin in the American Heritage Orchestra.

Sydni is an amazing daughter, sister and granddaughter. She is a generous and compassionate young lady who cherishes spending time with her family and friends. She enjoys traveling and playing both tennis and golf and given the opportunity, going whitewater rafting, hiking, and horseback riding.

Sydni's mitzvah project incorporated her flare for fashion with a desire to help other teenage girls. She partnered with JAFCO undertaking a special tzedakah project called Sydni's Style Spree. This project focused on raising money to help provide clothes for teenage girls. Sydni's goal was to collect fashion gift cards from various stores. After she collected the gift cards, she delivered them to the JAFCO campus where they were distributed. This enabled those teenage girls the opportunity to participate in their own shopping spree.

Sydni would like to thank Rabbi Greenspon, Rabbi DeWoskin, and Cantor Jan for their support. She would like to give a special thanks to Paula Bergman for not only tutoring her for her Bat Mitzvah but the laughs along the way. Sydni dedicated time and effort to reach this special moment and is looking forward to sharing this wonderful simcha with her family and friends.

Hayley Horowitz

Hayley Horowitz will be called to the Torah as a Bat Mitzvah on Saturday, January 15, 2022. Hayley began her Jewish education at TBE Religious School when she was in kindergarten. She is currently a 7th grade A Honor Roll student at Pioneer Middle School. She is happy to be sharing this special day with her cousin Ben.

...Girls' Volleyball Team. She hopes to one-day play on a college team. Hayley also loves music. She enjoys playing her clarinet and being a member of the Pioneer Middle School Wind Ensemble.

Hayley loves animals. Her Bat Mitzvah project is collecting much needed supplies and donations for the Broward County Humane Society. She feels extremely connected to this ever since she rescued her own dog from the Humane Society.

We would like to thank Cantor Jan Sheer for her many hours of teaching, preparing, and encouraging Hayley for her Bat Mitzvah. We would also like to thank Rabbi Greenspon, Rabbi DeWoskin, and the TBE Religious school staff who have mentored and guided Hayley through the years.

Benjamin Zuckerman

Benjamin Hunter Zuckerman will be called to the Torah for his Bar Mitzvah on Saturday, January 15, 2022. He is a 7th grade gifted honor roll student at Pioneer Middle School. Benjamin has been attending Merkaz Limud since Kindergarten. He has enjoyed his time at Temple Beth Emet and has learned so much from every one of his teachers.

Benjamin is an excellent baseball player and has been playing since he was four years old. His favorite position to play is catcher. He has played at Cooper City Optimist and Plantation Athletic League. Benjamin also enjoys spending time with his friends online playing video games. He also enjoys playing with his two cats, Ariel and Kasey, and dog, Daisy.

For Benjamin's Mitzvah Project, he has been collecting school supplies for Kids In Distress. He decided that he wanted to help children that are his age, and that are less fortunate than he is. He wanted to make sure that they had all that they needed to be prepared to learn at school.

Benjamin is very excited to share this special day with his cousin, Hayley. They will be sharing the bima together as cousins and best friends. Benjamin would like to thank Rabbi Greenspon, Rabbi DeWoskin, Cantor Jan and his tutor Paula Bergman for all of their support and guidance in preparing him for this special day. He would also like to thank his parents and his sister, Rebekah for all of their support and love along the way.

Chloe Oppenheimer

Chloe Oppenheimer will be called to the Torah for her Bat Mitzvah on Saturday, January 22, 2022. Chloe is a 7th grade honor roll student at Falcon Cove Middle School in Weston. There she is taking several high school classes including Mandarin, a very challenging yet exciting foreign language program.

Chloe has been a part of the TBE family since beginning at the early childhood center at TBE at a mere 18 months old. Upon graduation of preschool at TBE she continued her Jewish education in the Merkaz Limud program.

Chloe is passionate about many things including volleyball, writing, and caring for others. Through her work as a Peer Counselor, she has worked to help tutor students in their mathematics courses, organize events for the faculty and staff and work with special needs students to help provide assistance. For her mitzvah project, Chloe worked to organize a gift collection at school with her peer counselor advisor and she has also worked to provide food and supplies to those less fortunate. She organized multiple food preparation days where she gathered friends and family to donate their time and supplies to help feed those in need throughout the community.

Chloe has worked hard to prepare for her Bat Mitzvah during a challenging time in the world. We would like to thank everyone at Temple Beth Emet for preparing Chloe for this milestone. Special thanks to her patient and understanding tutor, Paula as we struggled through some of the unprecedented challenges that came from this past year. A special thank you to Paula for helping to instill the confidence Chloe needed to help her prepare for her upcoming Bat Mitzvah.

Heather & Andrew Rzepko

Heather Olivia and Andrew Ryan Rzepko will be called to the Torah as b'nai mitzvah on January 22, 2022.

Heather is a freshman at Cooper City High School. She has a passion for helping out at the school. Her latest endeavor includes her being on the sidelines of the sporting events and helping the athletic trainers for the school sports.

When not in school Heather is extremely passionate about her travel soccer team. She plays for the Cooper City Cobras. Her team is currently ranked fourth in the state and she continues to grow its success, through a lot of hard work and perseverance.

Andrew is an 8th grader at Pioneer Middle School. He is a consistent honor roll student and a true overachiever. The future is very bright for this go-getter.

When not in school Andrew is a really fun kid. He likes to laugh and make others laugh too. He is loved by all his friends. He's quite knowledgeable about many things. He's also a gifted athlete on the soccer field. Andrew plays soccer for the Cooper City Optimist.

Mia & Livia DeWoskin

Mia and Livia will be called to the Torah as B'not Mitzvah on Saturday, January 29, 2022. Both girls are 7th grade students at Silver Trail Middle School, where they have enjoyed immersing themselves in a variety of extracurriculars and making many new friends.

Outside of school, Mia and Livia spend their time hanging out with friends and taking part in activities they love including, of course, youth group at TBE.

Mia takes dance during the week and diving on the weekends. She loves being busy, so when she is not in one of her classes, she can often be found swimming, baking or making TikToks with friends. Mia adores little kids and is excited to take the safe sitter's course and start to babysit. In the meantime, she chose The Jack and Jill Center as her mitzvah project. With this choice, she combined two of her passions...helping young children and baking delicious desserts. Mia is selling homemade cookies and cupcakes, collecting the proceeds to send to the children and families helped by the Jack and Jill Center. She also spent time with the organization, volunteering at their 5k and Trunk or Treat events.

Livia is very passionate about gymnastics. She takes classes and uses the trampoline to practice skills when she's home. Beyond her flips and backbends, Livia loves doing crafts of all kinds, making TikToks, exercising, laughing and spending time with people and pets. She, too, loves little kids and can't wait to start babysitting. Livia chose to combine two of her passions in her mitzvah project. She has been selling handmade jewelry to collect money for Paws to Care in order to help pups taken in off the street. Livia also spent some time volunteering at the organization, playing with the dogs and cleaning up their crates.

Beth Emet has been a second home for Mia and Livia since we moved here when they were just two. They went through the ECC and Elementary School, spent summers at TBE's day camp and now attend Merkaz Limud and continue to participate in youth group. Through Camp Beth Emet, Mia and Livia found their newest summer home at Camp Kinder Ring. They can't wait to get back there for a full 7 weeks this coming summer!

We would like to thank all of Mia's and Livia's teachers, staff and counselors over the years who have helped, and continue to help, shape them into the caring, kind, fun-loving people they are. We are grateful to the clergy team – Rabbi Greenspon; Mia's and Livia's dad, Rabbi DeWoskin; and a special thank you to Cantor Jan, who has guided Mia and Livia with patience, humor and support through this year of preparation. We feel beyond blessed to call TBE home and to be part of this special community. With pride and excitement, we look forward to this very special milestone in our daughters' lives.
