TEMPLE SHOLOM JOINS NEW ADL COHORT AGAINST ANTISEMITISM

Temple Sholom is proud to announce its selection by the Anti-Defamation League as one of 113 synagogues across the United States to participate in their inaugural program Kulanu: Synagogues in Action Against Antisemitism.

Rabbi Mitch shared the synagogue's acceptance into the 8-month program during his second day of Rosh Hashanah sermon on combatting antisemitism.

"Temple Sholom has joined a new ADL initiative called Kulanu. Let's remember it's not our ideas, but our behaviors that count the most. I'm asking you to join me in becoming an advocate."

Through Kulanu - meaning "all of us" in Hebrew - Temple Sholom will have exclusive access to experts and resources from ADL on how to have critical conversations about antisemitism and other forms of bigotry, and how to properly cultivate the tools to respond through education, community engagement and advocacy. Over the next few months, the synagogue will also participate in a series of interactive webinars designed to build meaningful connections between congregations and to pilot new initiatives for engaging external audiences in broader communities.

"Fighting antisemitism takes a whole of society approach, and we are committed to working with Jewish congregations from all denominations as we expand our work in response to the historically high level of antisemitic incidents we've witnessed in the past few years," shared Jonathan Greenblatt, ADL CEO, in a press release about the program's launch. "Our Kulanu network brings together congregations across the nation to engage in critical conversations about antisemitism and hate, as well as implement initiatives engaging audiences beyond the Jewish community."

Upon completion of the program in June 2023, Temple Sholom will receive a Kulanu designation for its leadership and commitment to fighting antisemitism.

Temple Sholom is currently forming a Kulanu committee to support this effort. If you would like to get involved, please contact Gina Cristino, Manager of Communications and Community Relations, at gina.cristino@templesholom.com or 203-542-7169.

GROWING OUR CONGREGATION: MEMBERSHIP UPDATE

Temple Sholom is continuing to attract new members to our growing and vibrant congregation. Since July 1, (the beginning of the fiscal year), Temple Sholom has welcomed 56 new households from an array of demographics including: empty nesters; families with school-aged children; families with babies; and single adults.

"We continue to see a steady flow of people moving out of New York City into the suburbs," said Lori Baden, Associate Executive Director. "While the mad rush has slowed, Temple Sholom has definitely benefited from those seeking a change from city life".

Temple Sholom is also seeing a number of young adults who grew up at the synagogue, returning and joining with their own families. Included in this next generation of new members are the Ivanhoes; the Fishers; the Keiters; and the Lagers.

Temple Sholom's reputation as a warm, welcoming and inclusive synagogue continues to draw interest from the surrounding areas. A number of new members who have joined are living in Rye Brook. The majority of new families are coming to Temple Sholom from Greenwich and all zip codes are represented, but with an increase of new members from Old Greenwich, Riverside and Cos Cob.

All new member households receive a custom Shabbat tote bag containing a fresh challah, grape juice, a Kiddush cup, Shabbat candles, and a copy of Rabbi Mitch's book. Temple Sholom's dedicated volunteers enjoy delivering these bags as a way to welcome new members into the community and to begin forming life-long connections. If you would like to help deliver the next batch of new member welcome bags, please contact Lori Baden at lori.baden@templesholom.com or 203-542-7172.

FROM OUR RABBI

This December, along with 34 participants of our extended Temple Sholom family, I leave for Israel on our 10-day mission.

I have visited Israel over 30 times and led many temple missions. Because of Covid-19, we needed to delay this upcoming trip several times, and I am thrilled to be returning to our Promised Land.

Our fantastic adventure begins as soon as we land at Ben Gurion Airport. We immediately get our bearings, prepare for walking tours, and grow through inspired experiences.

Our guide for every mission is my dear friend, David Keren. David, recently-retired, was the Director of the Conservative Movement's Youth Programs in Israel for over twenty years. He spent his entire career on how best to build ties with Israel and strengthen our commitment to Jewish life.

Everyone who tours Israel with David creates meaningful and lasting experiences. He narrates history at historical sites with great interest and insights while weaving in contemporary issues and hopes. Along the way, we enjoy good weather and delicious and plentiful food.

From experience, our Temple group will gel quickly and become deeply engaged. Together, we discover the power of HaAretz (The Land), HaAm (The People), and HaTikvah (The Hope).

Each traveler will find moments along the way that will be unique to them. We will laugh, and we will cry. We will experience the awe and feel the power of what it means for a Jew to make a sacred pilgrimage to our Homeland.

Each traveler becomes a more significant part of our sacred People's unfolding story. We better prepare to build our Jewish future founded on the foundation stones of our ancestors, literally and figuratively. We become better enabled to feel optimistic and be faithful Jews.

I encourage you to examine an abridged summary of our itinerary on page 6. And if you are interested in a personal trip to Israel or a future congregational trip, don't hesitate to get in touch with me so that I can assist with this rewarding experience.

B'Shalom,

Rabbi Mitch

A NOTE FROM OUR PRESIDENT

As the Temple's Historian, I am privileged to have heard the firsthand accounts of our shul's history from our beloved elders when they were interviewed in 2015 for the Centennial celebration. Sadly, many of those friends have passed away, and some who are still with us are no longer able to come to the building as regularly as they used to. To prevent these wonderful stories from being forgotten, I dedicated my Yom Kippur address to sharing a piece of the story with the congregation. I'd like to do the same thing here in the hopes that our proud history will be preserved if it is shared and passed on.

Back in the early 1900's, Jewish merchants who owned stores on Greenwich Avenue were not permitted to purchase land for private home ownership in the town of Greenwich. The social policy of the time was to prohibit the settling of Jews in our town. These merchant families were only able to reside in the apartments above their store fronts.

The small number of Jewish families who settled in Greenwich were devout and wanted to have ritual gatherings and Jewish education for their children. The nearest Temple was in Port Chester, which was too far a distance to travel to regularly. Ten families (making a minyan) organized themselves and created a Jewish community of their own, to provide their children religious education, and to pray together here in Greenwich.

The limitation of not possessing a proper spiritual home motivated our founders to work together and purchase their own building. In 1921, they bought 23 East Elm Street and incorporated the Greenwich Hebrew Institute (the precursor to our Temple Sholom).

The Greenwich Hebrew Institute was not a temple because it lacked a proper sanctuary, but this modest facility allowed these families to have a gathering place of their own. One couple shared in their interview that they didn't get married at the Greenwich Hebrew Institute because of the lack of sanctuary and they chose to wed in Stamford instead.

In 1955, something really important happened. The "next generation" of leaders stepped up. They were the adult children of the founders; who had more financial success and more social influence than their parents and grandparents had ever had. On their burgeoning strength as a community, fueled by their deeply-held devotion to their faith and Jewish heritage, they recognized the need for an actual synagogue. They organized a movement within the congregation to acquire sufficient land on which to build a temple. The comment shared about this from the interviews was that the choice was specifically made to be on the Post Road to show that the Jewish community was now both legitimate and a permanent part of Greenwich. The option to buy more land or more "discrete" land was debated, but the decision was made by the group's leader to be centrally located and to be highly visible.

In the 1950's, Jewish people were still limited in their access to private home ownership. Real estate brokers were instructed by their employers to not sell private land to Jews. There was rampant anti-semitism and discrimination. Many of our elders shared stories about how challenging it was to buy their first home here in Greenwich.

Temple Sholom's community steadily grew over the next three decades. And in the 80's, Rabbi Silverman had a realization. He saw the potential for even greater growth of the Jewish community of Greenwich, and he believed that if we built a bigger house, more Jews would come. And despite the feathers that this idea ruffled – to tear down the original house and rebuild it – he understood our potential and garnered support from the leadership at the time to do so.

The most interesting note is this: the new building was built with ZERO debt! Our community raised all the funds necessary to build our current building we inhabit today. They understood that we could grow to fill this space, but that we would be forever hamstrung if we had large financing to pay down.

We have these amazing leaders and groundbreakers to thank for our strength and success as an organization. We need to know these stories, AND we should honor them by dedicating ourselves to carrying on the proud tradition of caring for, and preserving, our Jewish community for the generations to come.

B'Shalom,

Alexandra Hochman

WHAT IS A YAHRZEIT?

Meaning "Time of Year" in Yiddish, this anniversary commemorates the death of a loved one. It is symbolized by the recitation of the Kaddish prayer and reading of the names of those dearly departed in the Temple. At home, a candle is lit on the eve of Yahrzeit to represent the soul and burns for 24 hours. Tzedakah, a Hebrew word for righteousness and signifying charity, is offered to the family in the form of gifts, donations, or simply emotional support. In this way, we remember our beloved.

Yahrzeit Candles are available for a small donation in the main Temple office.
