Confirmation 2020 Perspectives

During the Confirmation year, we discussed Jewish identity and our teen years. One of our times together via Zoom, we learned about the story of Daniel Pearl, a journalist who was captured and murdered in Pakistan following 9/11. His final words were: "I am a Jewish-American. My mother is Jewish. My father is Jewish. I am Jewish." His last words have inspired many across the world to write their own statements about what it means to be a Jew. We were asked to write a paragraph to answer one or both of the following questions: Why am I a Jew? What does being Jewish mean to me? Below are our words, thoughts and feelings.

Abigail Berman

I am Jewish because I make that choice every single day. Being Jewish for me means that I am proud of who I am and what I believe. The celebrations and reflections of our Jewish history are very important to me in order for me to keep learning and growing. I am going to choose to live being Jewish until I die. I say these three words "I am Jewish" a lot and I never knew how powerful it was until today.

Ethan Dobres

As a Jew, I am part of a much greater community. We look out for each other, even those we don't know or who live far away. We are connected, even if we don't speak the same language or live in the same place. We all have an obligation to Tikkun Olam, to repair the world, and leave the world a better place than we found it. This is what it means to be a Jew; a member of the worldwide Jewish community that has lasted thousands of years and will last thousands more.

Cole Ettinger

I think what being a Jew means is something important to who I am as a person. It's something that has shaped me over the years and has made me the young man I am today. Being Jewish has made me realize things that I could not before; it is important and means a lot to me and my family. The community and how close everyone is made me into who I am today. Community is something that I value. I spend a lot of time making friends and meeting new people. Being a Jew helps me feel connected because community and togetherness are part of Judaism. We are all connected as a whole.

Perry Gelwasser

To me, being Jewish means in some way making the world a better place. We were all created in Hashem's (G-d's) image. We should all try our best to make the world like Hashem mentioned and in accordance with the Ten Commandments. By following the Ten Commandments, keeping Judaism alive and by not giving into anti-Semitism, we are doing our duty as Jews to make the world a better place.

Lawrence Huston

There is a saying that almost everyone knows, "The Good, the Bad, and the Ugly." Each of these categories has happened at some point in my life. The community is the Good. Whenever I think about the community, I feel a place of belonging, not only at the synagogue, but during my time at Agnon (Mandel JDS) as well. When I left Agnon and started at Orange, I lost my community. That was the Bad.

Then, after leaving Agnon, I began a search for a new community through sports and hobbies. I was a part of the Orange High School Band; I became a part of the basketball organization as the team manager; and I became a part of the baseball team as a catcher. However, I never truly felt like I was a part of any of these communities, despite having made some friends along the way. That was my freshman year.

During my sophomore year, I started going to USY conventions. I had begun to feel a little more at home. Additionally, I was working out with the baseball team most days. I finally felt like I was becoming part of the community. There were conventions coming up, Spring Training was being planned....And then the Ugly - the pandemic. School was cancelled. Spring Training was cancelled. Convention was cancelled. My world, my community, was turned entirely upside down. Even my Confirmation is being held on Zoom. My community is crashing down around me again, and I don't know when I'll get it back. So, when asked what being Jewish is to me, I honestly cannot say at this time. My community is what being Jewish is to me. It is my home, and it is currently in disarray.

Yehonatan Hyer

My Judaism means more than being born into it and having to follow my parents' rules. It means that I believe that one should stand up for what they believe in. There are many people who show the world that they are not scared or afraid to share their religion. I know I am Jewish because I would stand up for what I believe in anytime. I am Jewish.

Eli Jacobs

Being Jewish to me means friendships and memories. I went to Gross Schechter Day School for 11 years and every summer, I would go to a Jewish overnight camp. Because of Schechter and Camp, I have made special friendships that I know will last throughout my lifetime. Judaism is also an important part of my family life. Every year my extended family gets together for Passover at my aunt's house. That is my favorite holiday, but I have special memories for every holiday including Shabbat. Judaism is a part of who I am and it has brought me closer with my family and friends and has given me incredible experiences and memories.

Sadie Meyer

To me, being a Jew means to support others and help others in need. It means to offer your assistance to others, and volunteering out of the goodness of your heart. For my family, it also means to keep our Traditions alive for generations; and being able to give up the unnecessary things in your life to try to help someone else have another chance.

Samuel Polikoff

I think what it means to be Jewish is to stand out in a crowd of people. It can also mean to be just as good as everyone else; because there may not be any differences between people other than our identity. Lastly, I think it means being there for others because you want them to see you as a good person and then that leaves a positive image about Jews.

Ethan Smith

Being Jewish to me means a lot. It means that I am not afraid to be different and to stick out of a crowd. It means that I am not afraid to stand up for what I believe in. It means that I try as hard as I can to continue the Jewish heritage in my family. It means to be able to connect with many people across the world, and to share stories of my experiences, and that those people might be able to connect to my experiences because they are Jewish. Being Jewish could mean many different things to many different people, but we all share one thing in common, and that is "They are all Jewish."

Hailey Weisberg

Keeping Kosher and attending Shabbat services; are these the things that make someone Jewish? Maybe, but these are only the physical aspects. I think being Jewish has to do with believing. The Jewish people believe in miracles and the power of community. We want to repair the world, "Tikkun Olam". The Jewish people are one, and we strive to work together to do better for ourselves and the community.

Isaac Zabarsky

I am Jewish. This is a sentence that deals with a responsibility. Judaism is the responsibility of watching out for other people and connecting with them. It is easy to relate to other Jews because we all share a small feeling of pain relating to the hardships Jews have faced in the past. One can say, "I am Jewish," once they have embraced their culture of Judaism with others through gatherings and prayers. Not to be confused, the prayers and celebrations are not a direct stem of being Jewish. It is the commitment of when you spend time and help and connect to others that you can truly express that, "I am a Jew."

Daniel Zomber

I'm lucky and happy to be a Jew because I'm part of a very cultural and very holy religion. I think Judaism played a big role in growing up from a kid to a bar mitzvah boy and so on into my teenage years, and I'll be forever grateful to be able to call myself a Jew.

Virtual Inclusion Shabbat Friday, June 12 • 6:30 pm

This 30-minute service is led by Rabbi Foster and uses a special, colorful siddur with shortened prayers. Everyone is encouraged to participate, at their own level; there are parts in Hebrew and in English. This service allows everyone to enjoy the warmth of Shabbat. Open to the entire community, the service is geared toward those who are mentally and physically other-abled (and their families). The siddur will be available online soon. Zoom in at <https://zoom.us/j/6954312474>, Meeting ID# 6954312474.

Virtual Canine Shabbat Friday, June 12 • 6:15 pm

Welcome in Shabbat and bring your 4 legged friend too! We'll join together as we share, sing and celebrate with our dogs. Every dog will receive the "Barking Blessing" and we will also light the candles and say the kiddush. Everyone is welcome! Those without dogs can join us too and since this will be online, all pets are welcome. Please send a photo of your dog (or pet) to Shani Kadis by June 5. Join us on Zoom at <https://zoom.us/j/93167231632> .

Meeting ID: 931 6723 1632.

ALL prayer services are available by live stream and Zoom. For live stream, visit <https://www.bnaijeshurun.org/streaming> and click on the appropriate box. Friday night and Saturday morning and afternoon will appear in the window for the David J. & Ruth A. Moskowitz Sanctuary. All other services will appear in the window for Nickman Chapel.

Service Schedule:       Weekdays : 7:15 am, 6:00 pm
                                  Saturdays: 9:00 am, 6:00 pm
                                  Sundays: 8:00 am, 6:00 pm

PDF copies of the prayer book can be downloaded from the Rabbinical Assembly website (<https://www.rabbinicalassembly.org/form-download-e-siddur-0>). We will use the Sim Shalom prayer book for weekdays and Saturday afternoon. We will use the Lev Shalom prayer book for Friday night and Shabbat Morning.

The minyan will always have a minimum of ten participating by stream. Rabbi Weiss has ruled, based on rabbinic and halakhic sources, that – on a temporary, emergency basis, and not as a permanent change – a minyan may be comprised of ten Jews at different locations linked over the internet. Therefore, the services will still include those parts that require a minyan and will fulfill that obligation. This includes the mourner's kaddish.

Kosher Food Pantry

The Kosher Food Pantry is open and Wednesday afternoon pick-ups are available for those in need. The pantry is located at 1980 South Green Road. Text 845-558-1529 in advance with your name and they will have a box ready for you. Please share this message!

May He who blessed our ancestors and is the source of all healing bless and heal those who are ill. May the Holy One Praised Be He mercifully restore them to vigor and lift the burden of anxiety from their loved ones and friends.

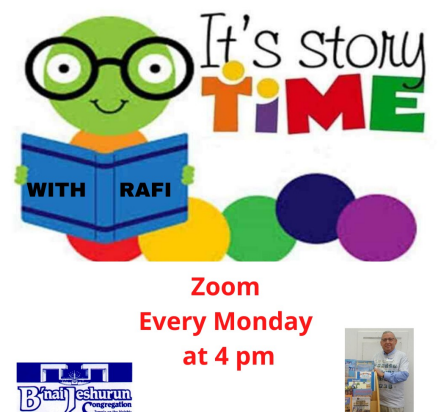

On this (Sabbath, Festival, Judgment or Penitence) day we pray that they be spared further pain. May God grant them health of body and health of spirit and mind. May we speedily be privileged to greet their return to good health by welcoming them once again into our midst. Let us say: Amen.

Anyone wanting to add a name to the list should contact Diane Dronzek (216-831-6555 ext. 104 or dianedronzek@bnaijeshurun.org) by Thursday afternoon at the latest for inclusion in that Shabbat's program. We will also pause during the prayer for people to recite additional names. from their seats.
