Selichot: A Night of Renewal

Saturday, September 17

8:30 pm Havdalah; 8:40 pm Service; 9:45 pm Dessert

Join Rabbi Rudin-Luria and Cantor Rosenbaum for an interactive, inspirational, introspective and uplifting musical service. Selichot offers us an opportunity to mentally and spiritually prepare for the High Holidays. The Night of Renewal will feature traditional tunes led by Cantor and the BJC choir and contemporary melodies and readings to begin the new year.

Write your own note or prayer to be sent to the Kotel. Also on Zoom and stream.

See page 8 for the High Holiday services schedule.

From the Rabbi

To Begin Again Together

I am writing this column just days after dropping our older son at college for his first year. He sets off on a new path as do we as parents. The truth is that we each have undergone significant transitions and change in the last several years, and our congregation has as well. Rosh HaShanah and Yom Kippur offer us an opportunity to reflect on what is most important in our lives, where we came from and where we are going. The rabbis advise us to set aside time to reflect on the past year in order to recalibrate so we can literally begin again, reorienting our lives to move forward into the new year with purpose.

Rabbi Jonathan Sacks²¹ wrote that there is no precise translation of "Teshuvah" in English. It can mean both a physical act of return or a homecoming and also the spiritual act of a change of heart. As we engage in Teshuvah (repentance, self-reflection and self-improvement), we return to our true selves and strive to be better in order to begin again.

The holidays are a call to come home and we welcome the opportunity to gather together (in person and virtually) throughout the holiday season in a full range of services, programs and learning experiences for all ages. A few highlights from our schedule include our month long Elul classes, A Night of Renewal Selichot program, a special mindful Tashlikh presented by our new Wellness Initiative and a congregational conversation on Yom Kippur with exonerees from the Ohio Innocence Project.

May 5783 bring us all healing and renewal as we begin again together. Wishing you and your family a happy and healthy new year. L'shana Tova!

President's Message

As the High Holidays approach, it always brings back so many memories for me of High Holidays past. I think back several decades to the Kol Nidre service where I tried to keep my three little boys relatively quiet and stationary after struggling to get them dressed in what they referred to as "their gentleman clothes." Thirty years on I am happy to say that our shul has become a more welcoming environment for families with young children. We are very aware that our children and young families are our future. In addition to welcoming children in our services, there will be an array of programs and services designed especially for children and families.

On a very different note, our Neilah service has always been very meaningful for me. As I look out the windows of our sanctuary, watching the sunlight dim, we join together in our final prayers of repentance. I love our custom of inviting congregants to offer personal prayers before the open ark. When I stand before the ark, offering reflections and prayers, I feel a sense of transcendence and spiritually connected to Hashem, but also very much a part of our sacred community standing behind me. It is a very special moment. I am always amazed that, no matter the number of people in the very long line, the very last in line finish their prayers at the ark just as that service is ending.

During the past two High Holiday seasons, due to the pandemic, we have missed beloved experiences that were part of High Holidays past. This year, for those comfortable being in person, we return to David J. & Ruth A. Moskowitz Sanctuary and Gross Schechter Day School, our familiar settings for High Holiday services. (Both services will be streamed for those who want to remain virtual.) But this is also a time of new beginnings for our clergy team with Rabbi Rudin-Luria as our Senior Rabbi leading services in the sanctuary and Cantor Rosenbaum leading services at GSDS. I look forward to an exciting year of many new beginnings. At this transition time for our synagogue, we will now each be making new memories - may they be sweet! On behalf of my husband David and myself, I wish you a very healthy and happy new year, and very meaningful High Holiday celebrations.

Dr. Rebekah Dorman

Cantor's Corner

Even after five years of cantorial school and a lifetime of being a Jew, I still sometimes find myself surprised by the pages of our prayerbooks. At seminary, they teach about the push and pull between keva and kavanah. What are the fixed elements of our services and what are the intentions behind them? To put it in other terms: structure and substance. Body and soul. Both are critical in order to function properly, and they need balance.

Part of this surprise is because throughout my life, I grow and change - sometimes as a result of this, things will speak to me in a way they hadn't before. Another phenomenon that happens in everyday life is when you learn something new. Suddenly, you may start to see it cropping up all over/in unexpected places. Maybe it was always there, but it took learning about it or having a particular experience for it to become unlocked.

Another reason is that our prayerbooks are actually prepared for us to get creative with them whenever we choose - whether it's the translations, the historical and analytical notes next to the prayers, or the additional prayers/poetry on the opposite pages. There is such abundant beauty living on the margins of these pages we are accustomed to using every Shabbat, holiday, and day. How many times have we flipped right past them without giving the words a chance to speak to our hearts?

When the Holy Temple was destroyed, our ancestors needed to find a new way to draw closer to G-d, and they accomplished this through prayer. Over time, they developed the words we use today, but there are the words on the page, and equally, the words in our hearts. We need both in order to find the closeness we seek. As we head into our Yamim Noraim, our Days of Awe, I encourage you to look to the margins to find the kernels of wisdom and beauty you may have overlooked in the past, and look inward to see what might speak to you in a way you hadn't considered before.

Education & Youth

The Torah is not in heaven, that you should say, "Who among us can go up to heaven to get it for us, that we may observe it?"...No, it is very close to you, in your mouth and in your heart... (Deut. 30:12-14)

These words, read on the Shabbat immediately before Rosh Hashanah, remind us that the Torah is not meant to be on a pedestal; it must be interpreted anew every generation, so that it can speak to us and guide us, providing meaning in our lives.

In a story from the Talmud (BT Bava Metzia 59b), scholars are busy in debate. While most agree on a particular point of law, Rabbi Eliezer remains convinced they are wrong. He debates every point but to no avail. Finally, he exclaims, "If I am right, let this carob tree prove it!" Amazingly, the carob tree uproots itself and moves 100 feet. The scholars respond, "Nothing can be proven from a carob tree."

"Let this channel of water prove that I am right," and immediately, the channel of water begins flowing backwards. "Nothing can be proven from a channel of water," they respond.

Finally, in despair, Rabbi Eliezer declares, "If I am right, let heaven prove it," and sure enough, a divine voice calls out from heaven, "Why are you arguing with Rabbi Eliezer, he is correct!"

Rabbi Yehoshua, the leader of the scholars, stands up and protests, "The Torah is not in heaven! We don't pay attention to the divine voice because You wrote in Your Torah, 'we must follow the majority'."

As the Talmud tells us, a rabbi who later met Elijah the prophet asked him, "What did God do at that moment?" Elijah answered, "God laughed with joy, saying, 'My children have defeated Me!'"

While it may seem arrogant for Rabbi Yehoshua and the scholars to ignore so many miracles, this story makes clear that indeed, 'The Torah is not in heaven'. With the Torah comes the ability to choose how we live our lives with it. We should not be expecting a heavenly voice to guide us on our path; rather, to live a life filled with Torah we must interpret for ourselves and within our community. As we approach Rosh Hashanah, I wish all of us the strength to find new meaning in the sacred texts of our tradition.

The War in Ukraine and the Fate of its Jewish Community

Wednesday, September 14 • 7:30 pm • Zoom

Ukraine was for centuries a major center of Jewish life, but also a center of pogroms and anti-Semitism. With the fall of the Soviet Union in 1991, a new chapter in Ukrainian Jewish history began, culminating in the election of Ukraine's Jewish president, Volodymyr Zelensky. On the eve of the Russian invasion, there were an estimated 100,000 Jews in the country, with a diverse and active communal life. How has the Ukrainian Jewish community fared during the war and what are its prospects for the future? We are delighted to welcome JTS Prof. David Fishman to speak about this important topic.

Free and open to the community. Donations encouraged to Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society (HIAS), Doctors Without Borders or World Central Kitchen. Register at <https://cutt.ly/JewishUkraine>.

Co-sponsored by B'nai Jeshurun Congregation, Park Synagogue, Congregation B'nai Israel of Toledo and Tifereth Israel of Columbus.

Run, Hide, Fight Training

Tuesday, September 13 • 7 pm

As we return to the building, we need to consider security issues in our current world. While some of our members attended security training prior to the pandemic, it has been over two years since there has been any in person training. As both a refresher and for those who have never attended these sessions, the Pepper Pike Police Department will be providing Run, Hide, Fight training for those interested.

This training will be in person at the synagogue and provide valuable information to handle emergency situations. Register at <https://cutt.ly/RunHideFight>. Please contact Jay Ross with questions.

Memorial Plaques & Golden Book of Remembrance

A beautiful way to honor the memory of a loved one is with a memorial plaque or listing. Plaques are displayed on the Memorial Wall at the rear of the David J. & Ruth A. Moskowitz Sanctuary. During the week of yahrzeit, your loved one's name is also highlighted in the center section of the Wall. The Wall is an adjustable, alphabetic memorial. The Golden Book of Remembrance is on permanent display in the case outside Nickman Chapel.

Orders are accepted at any time, but dedications are made only at Yizkor Pesach and Yom Kippur. The deadline for dedications in time for Yom Kippur this year is Tuesday, September 6. The price of a memorial plaque is $600 and a Golden Book listing is $200. Please contact Diane Dronzek to place an order or to learn more.

Lulav & Etrog Sets

Blessing the lulav and etrog is the Jewish way of thanking God for the blessings of the earth during Sukkot. To purchase your own lulav and etrog set, please contact Diane Dronzek by Friday, September 16. Late orders may not be able to be filled. Deluxe sets are $45 each and student (smaller) sets are $40 each.

Borrowing Mahzorim

If you would like to borrow a mahzor for the hagim this year, please contact the synagogue office.

Giving Opportunities

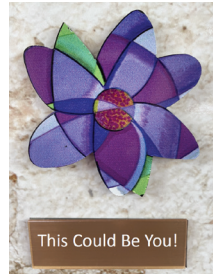

Mahar

The days leading to Rosh Hashanah mark the time of year when we launch our Mahar campaign to support the operating costs of the synagogue. This campaign continues to be critical to the health and vitality of our synagogue. Your Mahar support will defray the increased costs of maintaining our building, the continued updates to our technology and the virtual and in-person programming that bring us spiritual support and community.

We urge you to make a Mahar pledge for 2022- 2023. Whether you give $18, $36, $50, $100, $1,000... any size donation goes a long way toward making B'nai Jeshurun the vibrant community that we have come to love. Thank you so much for your ongoing support. Please contact Lorna Siegal (lornasiegal@bnaijeshurun.org or 216-831-6555 ext. 132) to learn more about this special giving opportunity.

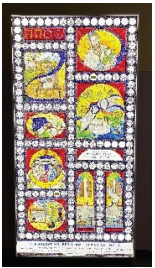

Endowment Fund Donor Wall Dedication

Sunday, September 18 • 4 pm

We will be honoring the donors who are listed on the new Endowment Fund Donor Wall. If you are an endowment fund donor at the $10,000 or greater level and did not receive an email invitation, please contact Development Director, Lorna Siegal. RSVP by Wednesday, September 7 to Lorna Siegal. Remarks will begin at 4:20 pm; light appetizers will be served.

B'nai Jeshurun endowment funds generate long-term, ongoing annual revenues that help support numerous programs, scholarships and operating expenses. If you would like to receive information on our endowment fund program, please contact Lorna Siegal (216-831-6555 ext. 132 or lornasiegal@bnaijeshurun.org).

Beth Am Simcha Wall

Thanks to the generosity of donor Harvey Madvid, we are pleased to report that the Beth Am Simcha Wall has been restored and is now proudly hanging in the Simon Gathering Area, fondly known as "The Pit". Please stop by to see it!

Ner Tamid Society

There has been a significant increase in Ner Tamid involvement this year. We have eight NEW Ner Tamid donors and eight existing Ner Tamid supporters who have increased their donor participation levels. Contact Lorna Siegal to learn more.

Social Justice/GCC

Our committee is expanding our efforts beyond GCC. We held House Meetings in March and people mentioned 14 potential social justice areas. Then, we did a follow-up survey in July to select the areas we will pursue and to identify participants and leaders for those areas. We received 22 responses to our survey. Thank you to those who responded.

Here are the preliminary results. The areas with the most interest (top tier) are Abortion, Food Insecurity, Climate Change and Health Care. The second-tier areas are Gun Safety, Immigration, Voting Rights, Wrongful Conviction and Education. The third-tier areas are Housing and anti-Semitism.

Over the next month or two, we will decide which of these areas we will pursue, form teams for those, and identify team leaders. BJC will sponsor some teams (those determined to be the best fit by clergy and leadership), while other teams will work on their own. For some areas, we may have another BJC committee take the lead, we may partner with another BJC committee, or we may partner with another congregation. We will continue to support the GCC-led criminal justice initiatives: Bail Reform (now called Pretrial Justice), Juvenile Bindover and the Crisis Diversion Center.

In upcoming Tidings, we will let you know which areas we decide to pursue. Any BJC member will be able to join any of the teams.

We value service just like you do...

When you have lived a Jewish life, you should have a Jewish funeral. We customize funeral services for your family. Our services are not based on templates from a corporate conglomerate. We believe funerals should be personalized to your family and seal your loved one's legacy.

We are the ONLY Jewish owned and operated funeral home in Cleveland.

WATCH ME

As a lifelong Clevelander, I am grateful to serve the Jewish Community of Cleveland that has meant so much to me throughout my life. This is truly where my heart is!
