Beineinu - Between Us

In June, we will honor Kenny & Amanda Kurland at our annual Tribute Dinner. Kenny & Amanda endear themselves to all they meet with their warmth and caring, and their passion for the synagogue, Jewish community and Israel. I hope you will join us as we honor them. It promises to be a very special evening.

As I write this, two embassies (US and Guatemala) have returned to Jerusalem. Why do I say returned? There were 16 embassies – of countries in Africa, Latin America and Europe – that were in Jerusalem from the 1950s until 1980. Most remained there until after the Yom Kippur War; the Dutch and Colombian Embassies were in Jerusalem until 1980.

What happened to them? They were victims of the Arab Boycott. The call by Arab countries to remove embassies from Jerusalem was a deliberate attempt to delegitimize Israel by denying recognition and access to Israel's capital and its governing institutions.

Israel is the only country in the world whose capital is not recognized. Can you imagine the US or the UN dictating where the capital of Saudi Arabia should be? Or Germany or France? Brazil or Venezuela? In the entire world, only Israel has suffered this unique form of denigration. Moving the US embassy to Jerusalem rights this historic wrong and sets the record straight for the world.

In moving its embassy, the US opened the door for other nations to follow. Guatemala was first. Paraguay has announced it is moving its embassy. Honduras, Togo, Cameroon, Rwanda, the Czech Republic, Romania and Slovakia have all indicated the possibility of making the move. Well over a dozen countries are talking to Israel about moving their embassies. On the day before the US Embassy opened, Israel invited the ambassadors of 83 countries to come to a reception honoring its opening. Ambassadors of 40 nations attended that reception.

The momentum will only grow. Many nations are beginning to recognize the absurdity of denying reality. For this reason, the opening of the US embassy in Jerusalem is a watershed moment in Israel's history, a dramatic step up in the world's recognition of the Jewish State. And that is something to celebrate.

President's Message

I need your help! As your new president of B'nai Jeshurun Congregation, my primary goal is to increase the engagement of our members, and that begins with you. My predecessors have already set the groundwork for this, as we have a wonderful community who truly support each other in times of need and who enjoy each other's company. Let's build on that.

I would like to see us strengthen the bonds of our community by increasing involvement with each other, whether at social events, religious services or activities we enjoy together. Some examples include participating in tikkun olam and social action initiatives, playing mahj, cheering for the Cavs on our big screen, celebrating holidays and life cycle events, attending Sisterhood Lunch & Learn sessions, being part of the Better Booze Club, preparing meals, taking part in daily minyan and Shabbat services, and of course, sharing meals together, at both the synagogue and each other's homes. (All of us like to schmooze over food!)

To provide some context, I am a native New Yorker who married a Clevelander and has now spent more than half of my life here. As a New Yorker, I still have a hard time believing this. However, Cleveland has proven to be an ideal place to raise our family, and our engagement at B'nai Jeshurun has played a key role in our lives. Over the years, we have benefited from terrific family programs, an outstanding religious school, wonderful clergy and a fabulous social network, including our chavurah, which is in its 14th year and still going strong.

So, come and join us more often in ways that are meaningful to you. Please share ideas regarding activities you would enjoy through B'nai Jeshurun, whether inside or outside the building, religious or social, educational or social action-oriented. You can reach out to me directly at president@bnaijeshurun.org or contact any of our clergy, officers or staff. There's lots to be done and lots we can accomplish together. Help us get started by you and your friends getting involved.

Gena Cohen

152nd Annual Meeting

From the Rabbi

Every week, I receive calls from our own congregants who cannot afford to feed their families. Hunger is not an issue only in the inner-city, for the homeless or farmers far away from us. Members of our synagogue, living on our streets, sitting in our row at shul every Shabbat, are faced daily with the choice of paying for prescriptions or making necessary repairs to their homes or putting food on their tables.

The Greater Cleveland Food Bank says the need is everywhere and it is not going away. Even as unemployment numbers decrease, the number of food bank recipients has increased, most especially in the suburbs. In Cuyahoga County alone, one in five is living with food insecurity; our Jewish community has the exact same rate.

In the Torah, manna fell from heaven and sustained the Israelites during their 40 years in the desert. Today, we are charged to be G-d's partners and share our bounty. We are obligated as Jews to care for our neighbors, "V'ahavta l'reicha kamocha - love your neighbor as yourself." (Lev. 19) We are commanded to leave the corners of our fields and the gleanings of our harvest for the poor and the stranger. This commandment is a clear expression of our collective responsibility for each other. We are not to judge those who are poor, nor should we assume to know the circumstances of their lives. No one deserves to be hungry.

I join MAZON: A Jewish Response to Hunger in calling for the protection of the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP, also known as food stamps) in the Farm Bill. As Jews, our primary mission is to care for the most vulnerable. I ask you to support our local Jewish and secular communal agencies fighting hunger including JFSA, Cleveland Chesed Center, Kosher Food Pantry and the Greater Cleveland Food Bank both by volunteering and donating. If you have excess food from a simcha or shiva, we can help find needy recipients including the men's shelter at St. Herman's House of Hospitality.

May we all join together to rid our world of hunger and do our part to help feed our neighbors and world.

Education & Youth

State of our Education

As each school year comes to a close, I like to take the opportunity to reflect on our Youth & Learning Center, and I am proud to report that energy is high and our students are immersed in Jewish learning and living as much as ever. Whether making a shofar to use on Rosh Hashanah, creating our own olive press to make oil for our hanukiyot, watching the evening news live at NBC Studios and discussing how Jewish values can help inform our decisions, or celebrating Shabbat together, our students are constantly engaged in Jewish activities.

This year, we began the work of bolstering opportunities for parents and families to join in the learning. We ran activities and programs for families on Shabbat centered around each holiday. We worked together to gather materials and build our own sukkot, learned with parents about the challenges of raising Jewish children in communities where many of their friends may be celebrating different holidays, and prepared our own fairy gardens in celebration of Tu B'Shevat. Many parents joined their teenage children on Yom Kippur for a powerful talk from Ricky Jackson, imprisoned for 42 years for a crime he did not commit, who spoke about how he has been able to forgive those who had wronged him.

Ultimately, regardless of where our students receive the bulk of their formal Jewish education, whether at our Bessie Hershey Religious School, one of our community's excellent Jewish day schools or anywhere else, without question the most important place where our students learn and grow as Jews is in the home. We can provide great teachers and experiences, but we rely on you to share with your children how important this work is, to celebrate Shabbat and holidays with them, to join in the learning and the experiences with them. We know that with your help, together with everyone who is a part of our community, they will always feel connected to Jewish life. No matter where their lives take them, our partnership ensures that our children will always be inspired to seek out Jewish experiences and make Jewish tradition and community a priority in their lives. Thank you for partnering with us in this sacred work.
