Beineinu - Between Us

Minnesota Congresswoman Ilhan Omar's recent tweet claimed that Jews control American policy on Israel. That is just plain false. The largest demographic in the US supporting Israel is evangelical Christians. What's more, AIPAC does not give money to candidates. AIPAC educates politicians on issues and helps organize Israel's supporters to make their voices heard. Congress listens to AIPAC largely because close to 18,000 voters show up in DC to lobby every year. That is democracy in action at its best.

Omar's charge against AIPAC labels Jews as traitors, unjustly manipulating the government to our own ends. By making this statement, she is saying that Jews alone of all Americans are not entitled to be a full part of our democratic system of government. We are not allowed to donate to politicians, organize voters or seek to influence US policy because we seek to use the US in some diabolical way for our own purposes against the interest and welfare of our fellow Americans. It is worth noting that her campaign received funds from several lobbying organizations. Leaving aside the hate she espouses, why is it that her supporters can organize, donate and lobby and Jews cannot?

Omar is not alone. Farrakhan recently said that he is not anti-Semitic, he is "anti-termite." Tamika Mallory and Linda Sarsour of the Women's March continue to refuse to condemn him for this. And on the right, white nationalist groups steeped in racism believe the Jews are conspiring to flood this country with non-white immigrants in order to destroy white Christian culture and the white majority. That is why, in Charlottesville, where the focus was on a statue of Lee and the issue of slavery and racism, the protesters chose to chant "the Jews will not replace us." We should be aware that for white supremacists, eliminating Jews is an underlying goal.

President's Message

Purim is my family's favorite holiday! From dressing up in costume to a short, family-friendly service to music and dessert ... what's not to love?! This year offers more than ever with nearly two weeks of celebration! Starting with the Purimspiel through the holiday itself, Purim offers something for congregants of all ages.

For family-friendly entertainment and good laughs, watch fellow congregants perform a Purimspiel on Sunday, March 10 at 7 pm in our David J. & Ruth A. Moskowitz Sanctuary. This year's Motown-themed musical promises familiar tunes and a new take on the Purim story.

On Saturday, March 16, ATID, our 20's and 30's group, is hosting a fabulous evening of fun for adults of all ages, 21+. Sing the night away and/or try your luck at our casino. $15 registration will include two drink tickets and entry to the karaoke room. For $30, you also get $25 in gambling chips (register by March 1). Chips will be sold for an additional fee as well, and coffee, non-alcoholic drinks, appetizers and dessert will be available throughout the night. We're hoping for a big crowd. Proceeds will support ATID's programming, which is an investment in our future.

Our Purim carnival begins at 11:30 am on Sunday, March 17. From traditional carnival games to giant inflatables, it offers something for children of all ages! Food and raffle tickets are available for purchase. Costumes are strongly encouraged. Bring your extended family for a fun day!

And, of course, last but not least, is Purim itself. On Wednesday, March 20 at 6 pm join us for Purimpalooza, a pre-party for young families, including free pizza and more. Pre-registration is required. At 7 pm, join the family-friendly megillah reading and costume parade or at 7:30 pm the traditional megillah reading. All converge afterward for hamentashen, music and dancing. See the staff in their themed costumes (my son's favorite part!) and watch the children enjoying themselves, too. There will then be a trivia event for teens at 8 pm followed by one for adults at 8:45 pm.

Come and engage during B'nai Jeshurun's Purim celebrations and bring a friend who might not otherwise attend. You'll be glad you did.

Gena Cohen

Cantor's Corner

This month, we will celebrate the joyous and festive holiday of Purim. One of the customs of Purim is to dress up in costume. This custom recognizes Esther who was a Jew in disguise while playing the role of a Queen.

During Purim, we have fun and are often confused by those who are in the disguise. The reality is this is a one-time exception where the practice is encouraged. Our sages teach our internal and external appearance should be the same. In other words, who we are publicly and privately are one and the same. We are not to hide our identity as Jews. We ought not to apologize or be embarrassed because we are different. This is not to say we should flaunt it or be elitist.

We are very blessed in our great country to practice our religion without recrimination. Every society influences behaviors and shapes people. When we look in the mirror we need to ask ourselves are we in disguise or are we transparent? We have an expression, "What you see is what you get." We should strive for this as long as it's channeled appropriately.

We cannot forget who we are or for what we stand. There are those who find religion to be a crutch and a sign of weakness. They are of the opinion each person should choose their own destiny and shape their own life based on their own initiative. This is not what G-d intended when he gave us the Torah.

There are so many opportunities with technology to study and grow closer to G-d. One can study online, take classes at our synagogue and come to pray daily. All of these endeavors will ultimately lead to enhancing our spiritual growth and connection to G-d. While holidays, as in Purim and other festivals, can catapult us, we should be focused on daily participation and activity. One can find much fulfillment in coming closer to G-d. During tragedy, as well as celebration, we can draw strength and perspective.

May we all be blessed with the fortitude and consistency to shine. Chag Purim Sameach.

Education & Youth

God's Presence in our Lives

This month, on March 9th, we complete the Book of Exodus, the second book of the Torah, reading Parashat Pekudei. We read about all of the gorgeous designs and ornaments that adorned the Mishkan, the Tabernacle, and Moses' finishing touches to complete the sacred vessel. When Moses finishes the work, however, we learn that "the presence of God filled the Tabernacle" (Exodus 40:34). It is not simply the outer beauty that gave the Tabernacle its holiness, splendid as it must have been, but rather God's presence within. The Torah continues to tell us that Moses could not even enter into the sight of the Tabernacle when the cloud of God had settled upon it. Think of how holy the Tabernacle must have been if Moses himself needed to wait until God's cloud was lifted before he could enter into its sight.

While we hope and believe that God is with us always, it often takes a transformational moment, perhaps a wedding or celebrating the birth of a child, for us to truly feel God's presence. Our challenge is to recognize God's constant presence in our lives. The Torah dedicates a lot of time (4-1/2 Torah portions in the Book of Exodus) detailing precisely how the Israelites built an object that would serve as a symbol of God's presence for them. Though the Tabernacle is no longer with us today, we continue to strive to find places for ourselves, whether inside a sanctuary or at the foot of a stunning waterfall, that will elevate our lives, reminding us of God's presence as we marvel at their sheer beauty.

Chazak, Chazak, V'nitzchazek. Be strong, be strong, and let us be strengthened. These are the words we traditionally recite upon concluding a book of the Torah. There is a praise and song from Sefer Chasidim (Book of the Righteous) that begins, "Bilvavi mishkan evneh...In my heart I will build a Mishkan to glorify God's honor, and in the Mishkan I will place an altar to acknowledge his splendor." As we complete the Book of Exodus, may we find the strength to build a Mishkan in our hearts, and to always recognize God's presence in our own lives.

The Power of Philanthropy

There is a proverbial phrase from the 19th century - "Shrouds have no pockets." To some, this may seem morbid or morose, but donors and philanthropists often find this inspirational and encouraging. After all, if we recognize that we "can't take it with us," we will be even more motivated to be generous during our lifetime and upon our passing.

As the synagogue's development director, my goal is to create ways in which our congregants and friends can express their commitment and dedication to our shul through meaningful, appropriate and varied giving opportunities. Whether you give an outright gift today or include the shul in your estate plans, whether you give $18 or $100,000, every donation strengthens our synagogue and helps to ensure that our congregation is here for our children and our children's children.

I am so grateful to be a part of such a generous community. As always, I would love to speak with you about our endowment, Mahar, or any of your philanthropic interests.

Appreciatively yours,
Kim

As we celebrate Purim this year, we should be mindful of the words of Haman to King Achashverosh: "There is a certain people, scattered and dispersed among the other peoples in all the provinces of your realm, whose laws are different from those of any other people and who do not obey the king's laws." (Esther). May we remain vigilant against those who seek to plant seeds of hate, and may we guard our rightful place within the workings of American democracy.

From the President

Shalom Congregants,

In preparation for the 2020s and in order to attract the next generation of Jews, I have decided to make this the year B'nai Jeshurun truly embraces modern technology. The clergy, board and I are therefore excited to present to you some new innovations that will be appearing at our services over the months ahead:

- Smart-Siddurs: Not only do they offer multiple sizes of text and versions of the Amidah based on your feelings about matriarchs and sacrifices, but they are equipped with auto-tune to help everyone get on the same key, because we all know the person sitting behind us needs it.
- The I-Yad: Gabbaim will become a thing of the past with this handy gadget, which prevents Torah readers from advancing until it hears them chant a given verse correctly. Precision can be adjusted with a donation to our Mahar campaign.
- Organic Shabbat handouts: These versatile sheets not only provide information on the exciting events coming up in our community, but they are entirely edible and can serve as a snack if the kiddush line is too long. If folded aerodynamically, they also can function as Bar Mitzvah candy.
- Magnetic tallits: Do you ever realize the Shema is about to start but you still have to gather all four of your tzit-tzit together in a matter of seconds? Worry no longer! Swipe the stripe and they'll snap together instantly, allowing you to focus completely on G-d's oneness.
- Adjustable kippahs: Can expand into larger sizes, if needed to fully cover one's bald spot. A great Hanukkah or Father's (or Mother's!) Day gift!

We hope these devices will make your synagogue experience more pleasant than ever, and of course we are open to feedback. Naming rights are available, so inquire today! If you'd rather support something else, fear not! Preparations for our big 160th anniversary celebration are already under way! See my next column for details.

Best wishes and prayers for continued precipitation until Pesach.

New Passover Guidelines

We have been notified by the National Rabbinical Council of Non-Rabbinic Rabbis that new Passover guidelines have been put in place this year. While we are still reviewing them, they do seem to be sort of ok, so here goes:

1. Passover will be 75 days long. We don't suffer enough with matzo for only eight days. However, bread is ok every other Tuesday night. And Wednesdays if you are in a Jewish bowling league.
2. There are way more than four questions but no more than 100.
3. The meal should be eaten first, followed by the seder. Food should always be priority one.
4. All seders must be held outside to assure that they are true to what happened. If it snows, bonus points will be considered at Rosh Hashanah.
5. Our historians now claim that there are way more than ten plagues, so please incorporate some of them. For example, no ESPN, how could our people survive without sports center? A time period with no Kardashians? Oh my. Yes, we suffered far more than we realized.

These are just a few; the full guidelines will be published on February 29, 2021.

Welcome to Hollywood, B'nai Jeshurun!

We are excited to announce that Hallmark Movies has chosen B'nai Jeshurun as the synagogue for all future Hallmark Hanukkah movies. That's right, every Hanukkah movie needs a synagogue and we are honored to be their choice. What does this mean? Let's count the ways:

1. Lots of non-Jewish actors will be on site, coming up with thousands of ways to mispronounce our name. B'nai what?
2. Fake rabbis, what will they do? As Hallmark's spiritual movie advisors, we know our clergy will guide them properly.
3. Lots more Hanukkah decorations, because it's festive.
4. Extras, extras, extras, every service has to be full. This is your chance to be a Hollywood star.
5. Romance, romance, romance – nice Jewish boy meets nice Jewish girl, they think they are falling for non-Jewish non-members, and then it's love. Oh my...
6. Kissing, but only at the very end of the movie...

Be the first to tell Diane Shalom what fictional movie couple lives at this address and win two free tickets to the Meal & Spiel dinner!
