Shabbat Rocks!

Fridays at 7 pm

April 12, May 17, June 21, July 19 and August 16

This season has been generously underwritten by
The Jan & Ron Moskowitz Family
Phyllis & Sidney Reisman and Jocelyn & Peter Saltz.

Bring your families to this wonderful evening, with a live band playing some of today's most upbeat Jewish music. You will find yourself tapping your toes, clapping your hands and dancing to these contemporary melodies. Multiple musical genres are woven through the service, highlighting text from each of the Psalms, which creates an energizing and engaging service. A special prayer book offers Hebrew, transliteration and English to make this service user friendly. Listen to and download tracks from our website. Services will be held in the Linden Family Courtyard, weather permitting.

D'var Torah: Intentions & Deeds

Rabbi Andy Shapiro Katz, CY Director of North American Engagement

At the beginning of the parashah, we read about the eighth day of the dedication of the Mishkan. But on the festive day in which God's honor appeared before the people, Aharon's two older sons and fellow priests, Nadav and Avihu, die inside the sanctuary and Aharon receives the bitter news in silence.

The Torah lists only one reason for their deaths: "and they offered before God strange fire that God had not commanded them." So it would appear that they were punished for deviating from the Torah's specific list of sanctioned sacrifices. Devarim 13 tells us: "Be careful to observe only that which I enjoin upon you: neither add (bal tosif) to it nor take away from it." But even so, it is hard to understand why they were punished with death. The person who violates bal tosif is only punished with flogging.

To better understand what happened, we need to delve deeper into religious consciousness. What motivates a person to bring a sacrifice - any sacrifice - is the desire to give oneself to the Creator, and in so doing, to come as near to God as possible. The fire represents one's love of God, and the sacrifice represents one's corporeal existence. In the truly religious person, one's passion for God should burn with enough intensity to consume one's entire being - "and you shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, all your soul, and all your might" (Devarim 6:5) - so that our souls can ascend, like the smoke from the altar, to God. We see in the Torah that the desire to sacrifice was fundamental to the human psyche. Cain and Abel sacrificed. Noah sacrificed. Abraham sacrificed. As the Psalmist wrote: "All my soul/breath will praise God." The soul that God breathed into us desperately wishes to return to God.

Reading the story of Nadav and Avihu this way, we can see that in fact there was neither sin nor punishment. This is why Moshe tells Aharon that God "showed himself holy through those close to him." (Vayikra 10:3) And this is why Aharon is silent: he knows that his sons ultimately got what they had wanted. Both they and the fire were doing their jobs.

The thing is, even though God wants our souls to burn with the desire to return, it is God who put our souls in physical bodies to begin with. Just like with the Akeidah, we want to give it all, but God stops us and says: "Hey not so fast! I put you here for a reason. I don't really want actual human sacrifice; I just want to know that you're willing. So when you have that urge, I want you to sacrifice a ram, or bull, or goat, or sheep, or pigeon, or grain - and then go back to your life. Only I, God, gets to decide when your time on Earth is over."

This may help explain the verse in 10:9-11 when Moshe tells Aharon: "Drink no wine or other intoxicant, you or your sons, when you enter the Tent of Meeting, that you may not die...for you must distinguish between the sacred and the profane, and between the unclean and the clean; and you must teach the Israelites all the laws which the LORD has imparted to them through Moshe." Traditional commentators interpret this to mean that Nadav and Avihu had messed up the sacrifice because they were drunk.

But I'd like to suggest that their impaired judgment was not about the technical details of sacrifice, but about the significance of their corporeal life. Nadav and Avihu got carried away and forgot that a priest not only brings sacrifices, but also teaches the people, and helps them distinguish between the sacred and profane. Filled with passion for God, Nadav and Avihu had forgotten about their responsibility to the living.

Parashat Shemini Self-Study

Vered Hollander-Goldfarb, Conservative Yeshiva Faculty

After 7 days of preparations, Aharon and his sons arrive at the Eighth (Shemini) Day - the final stage of becoming Kohanim. Following this, in chapter 11, we receive instructions about animals we may and may not eat. This is the 3rd Shabbat of special readings, this time we read about the red heifer in Bamidbar 19.

1) At the beginning of the 7 day preparation period, Moshe was the active player, while Aharon and his sons, and the community were passive. Now we have reached the 8th day. Aharon is told to take his sacrifices by himself, and the community is similarly instructed (9:1-4). What has changed and what is the significance of the change?

2) Moshe instructs Aharon to do his and the people's sacrifices. For the next 14 verses (9:8-22) Moshe is not heard nor seen, Aharon and his sons are performing all the sacrificial work. How do you think Moshe feels with this new situation? What might it teach the people? What might it teach Aharon and his sons?

3) After performing all the sacrifices, Aharon raises his hands to the people, and blesses them (9:22). Do you think that this was a spontaneous action? What is its significance for the people?

4) Nadav and Avihu, Aharon's 2 older sons, brought incense and fire and sacrificed it "before the LORD" without being instructed to do so (10:1-2). A fire comes out from "before the LORD" and consumes them, and they die "before the LORD." Why is it stressed that these events took place "before the LORD"?

5) The last chapter of this parashah (chapter 11) teaches about the pure and impure animals. This does only apply to the rules of eating animals (kosher), but also coming in contact with their dead bodies. Anyone who touches them will be impure until the evening. In the special Maftir read this week (Bamidbar 19) we are told that contact with a dead human body makes one impure for 7 days, and requires a special purifying ceremony. Why do you think that the rules are not the same for all dead beings? What might we conclude about purity?

We welcome your children in the Main Sanctuary!

May He who blessed our ancestors and is the source of all healing bless and heal those who are ill. May the Holy One Praised Be He mercifully restore them to vigor and lift the burden of anxiety from their loved ones and friends.

On this (Sabbath, Festival, Judgment or Penitence) day we pray that they be spared further pain. May God grant them health of body and health of spirit and mind. May we speedily be privileged to greet their return to good health by welcoming them once again into our midst. Let us say: Amen.

Anyone wanting to add a name to the list should contact Diane Shalom (216-831-6555 ext. 104 or dianeshalom@bnaijeshurun.org) by Thursday afternoon at the latest for inclusion in that Shabbat's program. We will also pause during the prayer for people to recite additional names from their seats.

Cub Scouts Open House
Tuesday, April 9 • 6 pm • BJC

Did you know that B'nai Jeshurun has a Cub Scout Pack? Pack 196 is one of only two Cub Scout Packs chartered by Jewish organizations in Northeast Ohio and is open to boys in grades K-4. We invite all boys and their families to come to our recruitment open house which will include a mobile climbing wall. Please contact Pack 196 Committee Chairman Benjamin Altose for more information at benjamin.altose@gmail.com. Pack 196 is just in its second year and meets on the 2nd and 4th Tuesday at B'nai Jeshurun from 6 - 7 pm.

Kiddush or Oneg Sponsorships

The mitzvah of a donation for sponsorship of a kiddush or oneg is a beautiful way to share the happiness of your milestone or remember a loved one with the congregation. Sponsorships are acknowledged in the Shabbat handout and in Tidings. The cost of a kiddush is $500 and an oneg is $250; partial sponsorships are available and they are tax deductible. Please contact Paula Botkin.
