Beineinu - Between Us

This month, we welcome back the arts of thanksgiving, an exciting interfaith and intercultural festive evening celebrating the blessings in our lives through the fine and performing arts. Originally launched by B'nai Jeshurun as a part of InterAct, the arts of thanksgiving (the t in thanksgiving is intentionally lower case out of deference to our Native American friends) has become a Cleveland tradition that draws people of all backgrounds from across our entire area. We are proud that B'nai Jeshurun has been the lead organizer and host for this extraordinary event.

The first hour of the evening will feature displays of all types of art from different cultures and a chance to meet the performers. There will also be children's activities and food available. The last two hours feature a lively mix of dance, music and song from every background, representing Christian, Jewish, Muslim, Buddhist, Sikh, Native American and Hindu traditions, and more. Watch our sanctuary come alive with the sounds and colors of the world and see some of the finest performers Cleveland has to offer.

It is especially important that we as hosts have a good turnout so we send a clear message of our commitment to interfaith work and our engagement with the broader community. Be sure to invite your friends, neighbors and co-workers to join us as well!

The Israeli government archives from the Camp David peace talks have just been opened and our Weingold Guest Scholar, Dr. Ken Stein, has been busy translating the documents from Hebrew to English and analyzing their significance. Much of what he has found may surprise you as he offers us insights into Israel and the Middle East today and prospects for peace. Dr. Stein will also reflect on the Six Day War's impact on Israel today and he will discuss the legacy of the Oslo Accords. Finally, Dr. Stein will address the growing challenges of anti-Semitism and the BDS movement on college campuses today. I hope you will join us for what promises to be an extraordinary weekend.

Naomi joins me in wishing you a joyous Thanksgiving!

Rabbi Stephen Weiss

President's Message

There are so many ways to engage at B'nai Jeshurun, many of which I have mentioned in previous Tidings columns or in remarks from the bima. We offer Shabbat and holiday services, educational programs, socializing opportunities and so much more. Yet what truly makes us such a wonderful community is the way we help and support others in need, both within our B'nai Jeshurun community as well as those in the greater community.

--Did you know we have an active Chesed committee that prepares frozen meals to deliver to congregants when they need help, whether they are sick, taking care of family members in the hospital or just going through a hard time? Our Chesed committee also organizes a group each month to volunteer at the Kosher Food Bank, to help assemble and bag food that is later delivered to residents in the Jewish Cleveland Community. Our next date to volunteer at the Kosher Food Bank is Sunday, November 18th.

--Did you know we have an Inclusion committee that is working hard within our own synagogue to make sure everyone feels welcome, including those with disabilities of all kinds?

--Did you know we offer programs to educate our congregation and community on issues affecting the community? For example, join us on Thursday, November 1st for Freedom Song, recovering Jewish addicts sharing their stories of struggle. Sponsored with community partners, we are hosting this performance and discussion from Los Angeles-based Beit Teshuvah Partners in Prevention.

--Did you know we are a member of GCC, Greater Cleveland Congregations, a non-partisan coalition of faith communities and partner organizations in Cuyahoga County working together to build power for social justice?

--Did you know we host the annual arts of thanksgiving event that brings together people of different faiths and cultures for an evening of music, art and dance? This year, it is being held on Monday, November 19th.

If any of these pique your interest, to either attend, participate, help or support, please get in touch with Shani Kadis. And don't forget to be a Connector and recruit a friend or family member to join you. There are so many ways to engage at B'nai Jeshurun.

From the Rabbi

The Power of Yet

Last month, I attended the second retreat with my Rabbis Without Borders cohort, which focused on Positive Psychology, Character Strength Assessments and Innovative Design Theory.

Delving into our own character make-up, we identified our signature strengths (mine include fairness, kindness and forgiveness) and learned how these manifest themselves in our work and our relationships.

Rabbi Elan Babchuck, CLAL's Director of Innovation, led the seminar on Innovation, beginning with the famous Wizard of Oz quote, "We're not in Kansas anymore." In 2018, the concepts of community, affiliation, religion and connection are changing rapidly. Across all denominations and religions in America, affiliation rates are down, loneliness levels are rising and yet, surveys show there is an incredibly high level of Jewish pride (94% of Jews surveyed by Pew are proud to be Jewish). Rabbi Babchuck led our group through exercises and discussions, teaching us how to better shift to embrace these changes; to frame them positively as new opportunities for Judaism and our community.

We watched Dr. Carol Dweck's TED Talk, "The Power of Yet," and studied the concept of a fixed mindset vs. growth mindset. In her talk, she describes two children being given a difficult 3D puzzle to solve with few instructions. The first child gives up after only a few minutes saying, "I'll never be able to figure this out." The second child takes out all the pieces and starts experimenting with which fit together as he says, "I love a challenge!" Our seminar taught us to continue to embrace the challenges and opportunities of our ever-changing community and world by being open to new possibilities - to have a growth mindset for our congregation and my rabbinate.

I hope you will join me in seeing the exciting opportunities we have by using "The Power of Yet." Yet is my new favorite three-letter word that offers us hope and inspiration for today and tomorrow. I am working on a few new programs that we have not done YET. I'd also love to hear why you initially joined B'nai Jeshurun and what would excite you that we have not done "YET."

Treasure in our Community

There is an old Jewish tale about Isaac and his family in a small town in Poland who had very little. One night, Isaac dreamt there was a treasure of riches buried under a specific bridge in the far-off city of Prague. He paid little attention to the dream at first, but as he continued to have the same dream night after night, he started to wonder....could it be true? He told his wife, who tried to tell him it was only a dream, but finally he became convinced there was a treasure out there. So, he undertook the long and tiring journey to Prague, only to find that the bridge from his dream led to the royal palace and was heavily guarded. He spent days plotting how he might get under the bridge and finally a guard came up to him and asked, "What are you doing here?"

Not sure what else to say, Isaac shared his dream. The guard listened and laughed, "You came all this way just because of a dream!? How silly! I've been having a dream myself about a Jewish man named Isaac and his family in a far-off town in Poland who have a treasure buried right under their stove, but it's just a dream!" Isaac heard the guard's words and rushed home. He immediately started digging up the floor right under his stove and sure enough, there was a treasure buried underneath!

Sometimes, we get so busy with our lives and working to move forward that we miss those treasures which are right in front of us. I invite you to join me the weekend of March 1-3 in University Circle to take a break from our everyday routine and celebrate two of our greatest treasures: Shabbat and Community. Our first-ever "Shabbat on the Circle" provides us an opportunity to spend time with friends, make new friends and celebrate Shabbat together. Stay tuned for more information and I look forward to a wonderful weekend with our community!

We are grateful to be bringing back this inter-religious, multicultural event featuring visual and performing artists from all faiths and cultural backgrounds in a joyous expression of gratitude to God for the many blessings in our lives. This program has become a "shining gem" in our community. From 5:30 – 6:30 pm, you will be able to meet the artists which will include crafts, a drum circle and henna art. Our sponsors will also have tables on site. Performances will run from 6:30 - 8:30 pm. We are excited to have Djapo Cultural Arts Center, Dance Israelil, and Yin Tang Dance Company returning along with many new performances. For more information, visit facebook.com/artsofthanksgiving/ or contact Shani Kadis.
