Men's Club Book Group Monday, October 15 • 7 pm

This month, we will discuss Master of Ceremonies: A Memoir by Joel Grey. Born in Cleveland in 1932 as Joel David Katz, Joel started his acting career at the young age of 9 as a Curtain Puller at the Cleveland Play House. Over the next 70 years, he became one of the leading actors from Broadway to Hollywood. This book is the story of Joel the man, not the actor. It's a true-life story of love, ambition, and finding one's identity.

Free and open to all. RSVP encouraged to Harvey Wasserman (hpwasserman@sbcglobal.net).

D'var Torah: Return of the Clouds - Rabbi Andy Shapiro
Katz, Conservative Yeshiva Director of North American Engagement

The special Torah portion this week gives us a perfect opportunity to pick up where we left off last week. It deals with the giving of the Second Tablets and God forgiving Israel for the sin of the Golden Calf. Rashi (1040-1105) explains in his commentary on Shemot 32:1 and 33:11, that this event occurred on the 10th of Tishrei, thereby fixing that day forevermore as Yom Kippur, the national Day of Atonement. But why would this be the Torah portion read on Shabbat Chol HaMoed Sukkot?

The obvious answer is that line 34:22 mentions Chag HaAsif, another name for Sukkot, but I think the real reason is that this Torah portion calls attention to the connection between Yom Kippur and Sukkot. Shemot 34:5 reminds us that "God came down in a cloud" when talking to Moshe. It is as a cloud that God provided protection for the entire camp during their travels. When Bnei Yisrael sinned with the Golden Calf, the Clouds of Glory departed. This Torah portion is about Moshe's efforts to bring them back.

There is a well-known machloket (disagreement) in Tractate Sukkah 11b about the meaning of "sukkot" in the verse from VaYikra 23:42-43, "You shall dwell in sukkot for seven days...So that your generations will know that I made the Israelites dwell in sukkot..." Rabbi Eliezer says that "sukkot" means the Clouds of Glory, and Rabbi Akiva says it means "sukkot mamash" - actual sukkot - either the place called Sukkot or some kind of physical structure.

Later commentators raised additional questions on their machloket. If we hold like Rabbi Akiva that it means actual sukkot, why is that something so important that God would command us to know it? And whether we hold like Rabbi Akiva or Rabbi Eliezer, why would we do this in Tishrei, when both the dwelling in sukkot and the appearance of the Clouds of Glory happened in the spring, shortly after they left Egypt?

Many years later, the Vilna Gaon (1720-1797) gave a powerful answer: the reason we observe Sukkot on the 15th of Tishrei is that it was the day the Clouds of Glory returned! On the 10th (Yom Kippur), God forgave them and gave the Second Tablets. On the 11th, God told them how to build the Mishkan. On the 12th the people started to bring their donations of the materials, and this continued through the 14th when Moshe told them to stop because they had enough. And then on the 15th, the day that would become the holiday of Sukkot, they started to build the Mishkan and that is what made the Clouds of Glory return. So Sukkot commemorates both the Clouds of Glory, as per Rabbi Eliezer, and the Mishkan - an actual physical structure - as per Rabbi Akiva!

Read this way, the machloket between Rabbi Eliezer and Rabbi Akiva is really about whether the Sukkah is to supposed to remind us of what God did (the return of the Clouds of Glory) or what Bnei Yisrael did (building the Mishkan). Are we primarily commemorating/acting out what we experienced or what we did? That is a question worth asking about many holidays!

And now we can return (finally) to the idea from last week - that the progression from Rosh HsShanah to Yom Kippur to Sukkot to Shemini Atzeret reflects the water/cloud/rain cycle. During Rosh HaShanah/Tashlich we "gather" our sins so that we can cast them away from us into the depths of the sea. On Yom Kippur, we immerse ourselves in prayer, hoping the mikveh of God's mercy will dissolve the stain of our sins. We then rise above our physicality and ascend to God as pure souls, imitating how polluted water is purified through evaporation as it ascends to the heavens as water vapor.

The days following Yom Kippur are about coalescence. Our coming together to build Sukkot echoes Bnei Yisrael's building of the Mishkan, when they were unified and motivated by the opportunity to create a place where they and God could dwell together. And just as coalescing water vapor forms clouds, Bnei Yisrael's coalescing around the Mishkan caused the Clouds of Glory to return.

For 7 days, we enjoy the clouds/cloud-like Sukkah as protective shade-cover during the last days of summer, as confirmation that God has forgiven our sins and dwells with us, and as a promise of life-sustaining rain. And then on Shemini Atzeret, once Sukkot is over, it is time for rain. So we add "mashiv haruach u'morid hageshem" - the one who causes the wind to blow and rain to fall - to the second bracha of the Amidah.

As we approach the end of this intense period of personal and national growth, may we all merit to experience the rain of God's blessings!

Parashat Ha'azinu Self-Study

Vered Hollander-Goldfarb, Conservative Yeshiva Faculty

Following are questions for the special Torah reading of Shabbat Chol HaMoed Sukkot (Shemot 33-34) and Parashat Vezot Habracha that is read on Simchat Torah. This parashah, the only one read on a Chag (and not on a regular Shabbat), brings the Torah and Moshe's life to a close.

1) In the special Torah reading for Shabbat of Sukkot the name 'Sukkot' is not mentioned. Rather, the holiday is called 'the Chag of the ingathering' (Shemot, 24:22). That verse opens with 'you shall do the Chag of Shavuot [at the time of] the beginning of the harvest.' What aspect of Sukkot is stressed in this section? Why do you think that the Torah placed a holiday at the gathering of the harvest?

2) In the verses just prior to the mitzvot of the Chagim (holidays) the Torah gives a stern warning against worshiping other gods (34:12-17). Why do you think that this warning was placed here, in this context?
Chazak Chazak VeNitchazek!

May He who blessed our ancestors and is the source of all healing bless and heal those who are ill. May the Holy One Praised Be He mercifully restore them to vigor and lift the burden of anxiety from their loved ones and friends.

On this (Sabbath, Festival, Judgment or Penitence) day we pray that they be spared further pain. May God grant them health of body and health of spirit and mind. May we speedily be privileged to greet their return to good health by welcoming them once again into our midst. Let us say: Amen.

Anyone wanting to add a name to the list should contact Diane Shalom (216-831-6555 ext. 104 or dianeshalom@bnaijeshurun.org) by Thursday afternoon at the latest for inclusion in that Shabbat's program. We will also pause during the prayer for people to recite additional names from their seats.
