It’s a little strange to say, but I always feel safe in a sukkah. Maybe not physically safe. I’ve had some bad luck structurally with sukkot in the past, but when I sit in a sukkah that has been made soundly, I feel safe. Content. Complete.

Perhaps this is because we have just come off this intense experience of Elul, where we spent time doing deep reflection of the past year, then into Rosh Hashanah with beginning to cast away our transgressions with Tashlich. We continued through the Eseret Yamai Tshuvot, the ten days of repentance, where we have poured out our souls, searching for forgiveness, and finally during Yom Kippur, beating our chest in confession – vidui. Following all that, Sukkot feels like a vacation and it should!

Sukkot is the real celebration of all that hard work you’ve done over the past month and a half. It is a festival of fulfillment, of gathering the benefits that come from repentance and forgiveness. Historically, it is also the festival of the harvest, another type of hard work fulfilled.

When we step into the sukkah, decorated with fruits, it is also open to the... moon at night and the sun during the day, also at its fullest, the holiday beginning at the full moon and celebrating the sun’s work growing the food we have harvested. In order to fully enjoy this holiday named z’man simchateinu, time of our happiness, we invite guests into our makeshift home, both physical guests and spiritual guests, imagining who we would like to sit with at our tables even if they cannot actually be there. This brings a completeness to our celebration. We are filled spiritually by the completion of our contemplation of growth for a new year and purified by our repentance. We are filled physically with the delicious food, maybe not from our personal harvest, but from apples, honey and other delicious foods that we eat in our sukkah as we are filled with joy by surrounding ourselves with friends and family and other special guests into our sukkah.

Which brings me to the feeling of safety. When King Solomon built the Temple in Jerusalem, he decided to dedicate it at the season of Sukkot. Every Israelite assembled to celebrate the dedication of the Temple and to hear Solomon say “But is it true that God will dwell on earth? – Here, the most heavenly of heavens cannot contain You; far less this house that I have built! Still, Lord my God, turn your face to hear the prayers of entreaty, the prayer of praise that your servant prays to You today – so that Your eyes may be open toward this house day and night” (I Kings 8). When we sit in the sukah, we are reminded that God is settling around us, and while the sukah cannot contain God, I believe God joins us for the celebration and makes it complete.

Request from Rabbi Blatt

Please keep us informed of significant events in your family life. It is our desire to be of help and service to you in times of special need. It is especially important that we know of those in the hospital, and assisted living or nursing homes, so that we can visit and they may be included in a prayer for recovery at Shabbat Services.

Have a Happy and Healthy Sweet New Year

Shanah Tovah From Mitch Weiss, Executive Director and Staff and Kol Yeladim Teachers.
Happy October,
Kol Ami!

As we turn the page from 5779 to 5780, there’s something that’s been on my mind that I want to share with you. Some of you may have heard that on Sunday, November 10th, we are co-sponsoring a lunch at the Straz Center prior to a matinee showing of Fiddler on the Roof. What’s the theme, you may ask? The answer…. “Let’s Make Beautiful Music Together.” Who are we sponsoring this with, you may ask? The answer… is Rodeph Sholom. Why are we doing this you may ask? The answer… is because it is the right thing to do and the right time to do it.

I have written before about the state of Conservative Judaism and it was not a glowing review. Our movement is clearly struggling across the country, so over the past couple of years, we have been trying to find the right way and right opportunity to work with our fellow Conservative synagogue south of Kennedy, and now is that time. I have heard there are reasons why we have not worked more closely together over the years, however, the past is the past. I know we have had and will continue to have joint programming with Rodeph Sholom when it comes to Selichot and Tisha B’Av and others; however, my vision, and that of Steven Haubenstock, my counterpart down south, and others, is that we are interested in building deeper bridges. Yes, we are religious institutions, and we should be doing religious programming, but “relational Judaism” is a bigger concept. It is about building relationships, and sometimes social gatherings are a great place to start.

Let’s be truthful, we do not exactly break attendance records at our joint religious events. So let’s try to find a way to meet people where they are and where they want to be.

Does this mean that our two kehillot are going to merge now? No. It is simpler than that. How many Conservative Jews are there on this planet? Instead of viewing each other as competitors, the time is right for us to see each other as allies. Wouldn’t it be great to have joint youth group functions together, to attend each other’s fundraisers, to study together? That does not happen until we begin to build relationships with each other. So I encourage you to join us for lunch at the Straz on November 10th at 12:30 p.m. so that we may break bread together. We would love to make beautiful music together and then go hear beautiful music together. For tickets, please reach out to Joanna at our office to get on the list!

I am concerned about the future of Conservative Judaism, and to me, a strong Rodeph Sholom means a strong Kol Ami. Perhaps, once upon a time we were competitors, but now… you guessed it, it is time for B’yachad.

Please join us for our next Howard Kanter Kiddush Fund Luncheon on Saturday, October 12. These complimentary luncheons are catered by Nosh Caterers and are also open to non-members in the greater Jewish Community.

Although members are not required to RSVP to attend, we do ask that any non-members who plan to attend contact the Kol Ami office at (813) 962-6338 to make reservations so we can prepare appropriately.

The Kiddush Fund, created by Kol Ami member Howard Kanter (z”l), provides one Kiddush Luncheon per month on a Shabbat that does not have a Kiddush Luncheon sponsored by members or another committee of the synagogue.

Your extra donations (in addition to your usual contributions to Kol Ami) help insure this effort for years to come.

We hope to see you on Saturday, October 12. Also, please be sure to mingle and introduce yourself to someone you don’t know at these wonderful opportunities to make new friends and enjoy fellowship with your Kol Ami family.

We had so much fun playing together! We celebrated the birthday of the world, did a lot of dancing, ate apples and honey (and other sweet foods just like you would at a birthday party), wrote wishes for a sweet new year for the earth, talked about ways we can grow and what we want to do better, and read about Lily’s Purple Plastic Purse, and how she said sorry when she said something mean to someone she loved.

We drew blessings for a sweet new year on apples and added to our apple tree.

Tashlich – We wrote down or drew pictures of things we wish we hadn’t done this past year and put them in water and watched as they disappeared.

We woke up Todah and then Todah woke us up with a shofar – it’s our wake up call each year to get ready for Rosh Hashanah.

If you wish to have a life cycle event included in the ChaiLites, please contact Joanna Paley at least 2 weeks before the 1st-of-the-month publication date at 813-962-6338 or email frontoffice@kolami.org.

Security Spotlight
By Jon Zimmer, Security Committee Chair

Thank you to all who volunteered their time during Shabbat services during the month of September! A hearty Yasher Koach goes out to: Jeff Gad, David Horwitz, Dan Ochman, Mario Rodriguez and Jon Zimmer.

While security at Kol Ami isn’t quite as secretive as Mossad, we definitely do have things that we want to keep under wraps, so our plans to make our shul as safe and secure as possible aren’t broadcast to the World Wide Web. I do want to let you know we are working on things “behind the scenes” to update security, we do have meetings internally and with our Hillsborough County Sheriff’s Office liaison, and are in contact with other law enforcement agencies. I do have disappointing news, unfortunately. This year, Kol Ami was not selected to receive any funding from the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) grant. It was made abundantly clear that there was no issue with the application and wording of the grant, which was a laborious task, but rather there were several organizations that received funding for the first time, so they received priority, as they never had any funding before. We are looking into other non-federal grants, and we will apply again for the DHS grant in 2021.

House Highlights
By Jon Zimmer, Security Committee Chair

Thank you to everyone who signed up at the Open House to be part of helping to maintain and beautify Kol Ami. A very special thank you to Darren Kasenetz for stepping up as the Chai Guys Liaison and assisting in projects at Kol Ami.

As I write this, new wall coverings are being hung in the ark in our sanctuary, our facility is safer with our newly installed lock-down system in the social hall and sanctuary, and we have freshened the paint around various areas in our building. The Chai Guys started this year off with a busy day outside on Sunday, Sept. 15th, trimming, weeding, and painting. The plants around the fence (viburnums), are looking great and we are all ready for the High Holidays. We have been receiving compliments on our landscaping; thank you to all who help make Kol Ami a beautiful place to be.

AMBASSADOR ALFRED H. MOSES
TO DISCUSS HIS BOOK "BUCHAREST DIARY"
AND HIS WORK LEADING JEWS OUT OF ROMANIA.

Join us as Ambassador Alfred Moses shares colorful stories contained in his new book, Bucharest Diary: Romania's Journey from Darkness to Light.

Bucharest Diary is the story of the exodus of Jews from Communist Romania to Israel. Ambassador Moses led the effort to get Jews out of Romania when it was controlled by Communist dictator Nicolae Ceausescu. In face-to-face meetings with Ceausescu, Moses established the right of Jews to freely emigrate.

Bucharest Diary has been acclaimed by American, Israeli and Romanian leaders who witnessed firsthand Moses' success. It is a testament as well to a key value of world Jewry "Kol Israel arevim zeh l'zeh." The people of Israel are responsible for each other. It also highlights the impact of one person on American foreign policy and on the course of history.

“Bloom where your seeds are planted”

What is Sisterhood? Don’t let the name confuse you. We are more than just sisters. Our purpose is to unite women to support our synagogue and to travel together on our Jewish journeys. This past month, women from Sisterhood teamed up to ensure that numerous events would take off.

On September 15th, Sisterhood worked with Jennifer Halls and the Kol Yeladim Religious School to make challahs. Jody Rappaport chaired this successful event. Thank you, Jody, for your wonderful recipe and your knowledge of challah baking. Special thanks to Cindy Korenaes for buying the materials and ingredients and Lisa Teblum for managing the kitchen. What a great team of bakers! The children all enjoyed making their creations. The annual challah baking with the school is always a favorite for all involved.

Chaired by Anita Altman, a few women from Sisterhood go to the Ronald McDonald House (RMH) at Tampa General Hospital and prepare dinner for the families who are staying there; this is an annual event for Sisterhood. Ronald McDonald House, Tampa Bay, provides a temporary home for pediatric families of hospitalized children from all over the world. In addition to cooking dinner there, several Sisterhood members also contribute to the RMH wish list; this is true “chesed.”

“Fashion Fun for Everyone” was our theme for this year’s Sisterhoods paid-up membership event. On September 22, over 80 women and 12 children came to have fun. Jen Zimmer featured her LuLaRoe clothes and everybody, both women and children, had fun walking down the red carpet and modeling their outfits. The food catered by the Sisterhood was terrific. The table centerpieces were fun. There were craft tables to entertain everybody as well. It was a great turn-out, and everyone enjoyed an afternoon featuring music, drinks and a dazzling fashion show.

Thank you to all the wonderful women of Sisterhood who donated so much of their time this month to cook, prepare and clean up at all the amazing events. And they prepared a great kiddush luncheon for Hayden Cross’s Bar Mitzvah! The women of Sisterhood truly impact the success of programs and events at Kol Ami.

Thank you for all your hard work.

I would like to present two new sections to the Sisterhood section in the ChaiLites: Sisterhood’s Kitchen and Meet a Sister of Sisterhood. I hope you enjoy our new additions.

My motto for Sisterhood is “Bloom where you plant your seeds.” We are always looking for new plants to grow with us. Contact Roberta Baer, your Sisterhood President, to start blooming.

Sisterhood Needle Workers meet weekly, every Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. in the Jaffe Board Room. It is open to everyone and provides crafters an opportunity to socialize, exchange information, and learn new techniques.

One of the current charity projects the group participates in is Warming the World, a local nonprofit organization that provides hats to newborns around the world. Hats can be knitted or crocheted; however, many of our group prefer to use a circular loom. Last year, the organization sent hats to six states (IL, TN, MS, AL, FL and MN), Puerto Rico, Ecuador, Brazil, Iceland, Guam, Burundi, Somaliland, the American Heart Association, several organizations that help mothers worldwide, and one organization that helps babies locally.

Meet a Sister of Sisterhood - Erica Stamps

Hello Sisterhood! I’d like to introduce myself. My name is Erica Stamps. As some of you might know, my dad is Mitch Weiss. On any given day, you can catch me running around chasing after my five-year-old son, Benjamin, who most of you have seen around shul. My husband Josh, Benjamin and I are huge Disney fans! We love spending our weekends at Disney World and exploring the different rides. My favorite Jewish recipe is definitely my sister Stacy’s charoset. The way she puts together and prepares the nuts, apples and wine is so delicious and tasty. This year I have made the choice to dedicate some time to helping out and joining the Kol Ami Sisterhood Board. I am so excited for all the events that are to come. I hope to see all of you at the Wine, Cheese and Chocolate Tasting on November 9th at 7:00 p.m. at Vomfass at Wiregrass Mall. I look forward to meeting everyone.

Sisterhood Needle Workers

This month’s recipe features Sylvia Richman’s Mandelbrot. The recipe comes from her mother-in-law, Cheri Richman. It’s a favorite of many Kol Ami congregants. Sylvia hopes we try her easy Mandelbrot recipe. Enjoy!

Ingredients

- 2 1/2 cups flour
- 1 tsp baking powder
- 2 eggs
- 1/3 cup almonds (sliced ones that I grind up)
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 tsp vanilla
- 1/2 cup oil (Canola)
- Cinnamon sugar for sprinkling

Directions

- Blend flour with baking powder
- Cream eggs, sugar, vanilla, oil and almonds
- Add flour mixture and blend till it forms a nice dough
- Make two long loaves
- Put them on a cookie sheet that is covered with foil and coated with some of the oil
- Bake at 350 for 20-25 minutes
- Take the sheet out of the oven and slice the baked dough
- Sprinkle with cinnamon sugar
- Place the slices flat on the sheet and sprinkle again with cinnamon sugar
- Return to the oven and bake for 5 minutes
- Do this again for the other side – sprinkle and bake for 5 minutes
- Can be stored in a metal or other container

Celebrating the Gift of Life

Even though we are instructed to celebrate the gift of life each day, I sometimes find it difficult to overcome the mundaneness of my daily routines and day-to-day activities. How about you? It is all too easy to take for granted this most precious gift that G-d has given us. Fortunately, as Rabbi Reuven Hammer explains in his book, Entering the High Holy Days, “Judaism has set aside these special days so that we can focus on celebrating life.” It is with this focus that I feel a renewed sense of commitment not only to celebrate life every day, but to be grateful for another year (I hope!) and another opportunity for teshuvah. As Rabbi Hammer further explains, “…we are called upon to open our eyes and see the world, to feel that we are part of G-d’s creative power. We are summoned to celebrate our lives and to ask, what have we done to be worthy of this gift?”

During these Days of Awe, I sincerely hope that you and your loved ones awaken and open your eyes to see the beauty and wonder of life, every day, that you celebrate life at every opportunity, and that you recommit yourself each day to being worthy of this sacred gift that Hashem has bestowed upon us. I will certainly be striving to do the same.

Over the next 6 weeks or so, Brotherhood will be focused on helping to prepare Kol Ami for the High Holy Days and Sukkot. The Chai Guys got to work on Sunday, September 15th, weeding, mulching, trimming, painting, and pressure washing to help clean up and beautify our beloved shul. I’d like to offer a special thanks to Amy Binder for volunteering to take the helm of the Chai Guys in the absence of our former fearless leader, Mike Korenvaes (z"l), who is especially missed at this time. Thanks also to Darren Kasenetz who has stepped up to work with Amy and to ensure that the Chai Guys continue to fulfill their mission of caring for and maintaining our beautiful grounds and campus. Last but not least, thanks to all of the Chai Guys who came out on Sunday to help – you guys are the greatest!

On Sunday morning, September 29th (Erev Rosh Hashanah) at 9:00 a.m., we moved chairs into the back of the sanctuary and social hall and replaced all of the siddurim with our High Holiday machzorim. I’d like to give a shout out and thanks to the young men from the AEpi fraternity at University of Tampa who came out to lend us a hand (which helped make the work go a lot quicker!). If you would like to help out but prefer not to do any “heavy lifting,” we are still in need of more volunteers to serve as ushers during our High Holiday services. We have a good number of 1-hour shifts (continued on next page) yet to fill, so please consider volunteering as an usher. It is a great way to wish all of our congregants and guests a Shana Tova and to help ensure that services go smoothly and without interruptions or distractions. If you have not ushered during High Holiday services before, there is no need to worry because it is really very simple, and we will tell you everything you need to know. So if you think you’d like to volunteer, please contact either me (at brotherhood.kolami@gmail.com) or Jon Zimmer (at jonzimmer3@gmail.com), or just call the front office at your earliest possible convenience.

On Sunday, October 13th at 9:00 a.m., we will be meeting outside (and behind) the sanctuary to once again build our sukkah. It is a great opportunity to work together, have some fun, and strengthen our friendships as we build our amazing and beautiful sukkah! It usually only takes a couple of hours, and refreshments will be provided, so please come and help out. You won’t be sorry you did. By the way, our sukkah will be the site of several fun events this year, including a Sukkot Music Program and Pizza in the Sukkah (for kids and families) on October 16, and Rock the Sukkah with live music, drinks and desserts on October 19. I hope to see all of you there!

We are very excited to announce that on Thursday evening, October 17th at 6:30 p.m., Brotherhood will be hosting its first ever Steaks in the Sukkah event. Our Chefs of Brotherhood will be grilling and serving delicious and well-portioned Ribeye steaks, along with a baked potato, a green vegetable, salad, and dessert. Of course, there will also be soft drinks, beer, wine, etc. I hope you will join us for a delicious dinner under the stars. Seating will be limited and on a first come, first served basis, so please RSVP early (by October 11) to reserve your seat. Tickets cost $30 per person for Brotherhood members and $36 per person for non-members. Please note that payment is required in advance so that we can purchase all of the food and drinks. You can mail your check (made out to Brotherhood of Kol Ami) to Barry Dvorchik, 19155 Coastal Shore Terrace, Land O’Lakes, FL 34638 or just drop it off at the front office. It is going to be a great night with great food and great fun that you will not want to miss.

After the High Holidays and Sukkot, we will be resuming our usual programming with several popular and worthwhile events. First, we will have our second annual Firearm Safety Training event, which will be held at Shooter’s World on Sunday, November 3rd (start time TBD). We will have a professional firearms safety instructor doing the training and rental equipment will be available at a very reasonable cost. For further details, watch for announcements in the Weekly Watch and Chai Lites or check the Brotherhood Facebook page in the coming weeks.

On Sunday, November 17th at 10 a.m., our Second Sunday Lecture series returns with a very special program featuring Eric Lynn from the Center for New American Security who will be speaking on U.S.-Israel Defense Relations. Mr. Lynn served as Senior Advisor to the Secretary of Defense, Special Advisor on Middle East policy at the Pentagon, and as a Defense Department representative to the State Department’s Israeli-Palestinian negotiations team. This promises to be a fascinating presentation, so we are expecting a large audience. Plus, a hot breakfast will be served. Stay tuned for further announcements and be sure to RSVP after the High Holidays (and before the November 4th deadline).

May you and all of your loved ones be inscribed in the Book of Life for a good, healthy, and sweet new year. L’Shana Tova Ti’kateivu v’Tekhateimu!

We thank you for your efforts and dedication to Torah study. Todah Rabbah!
L’Shanah Tovah! Abby and I are excited to bring in the New Year with great new programming and fun-filled activities both at our High Holiday Junior Congregation and within the religious school! Before we jump into 5780, let us look back at the end of 5779. We had our opening day for our first Academy classes on 9/8! In our 8th & 9th grade class, we will be focusing on the family and doing research on Biblical family trees and our own family trees. Rabbi Blatt had her first class with Kids’ Konnections By Jennifer Halls, Education Director our 10th-12th graders this year and I know they all came out of class feeling good about being part of our Academy program! We are excited to have 21 students enrolled! If you are interested in your 8th-12th grader joining our program, please email me and I will get you registered!

We were thrilled to bring back our Challah Baking with Sisterhood again this year! A big thank you to Jody Rappaport for volunteering to provide her recipe and her skills to make the most delicious challah, to our Sisterhood volunteers for helping in the kitchen, and to our wonderful parents who helped make the day special! Our PreK-2nd Grade class brought some of our freshly baked Challah to Weinberg Village for a program with the residents; it was such a great program!

This month brings in the New Year, and we are excited for our new programming this month! We have an amazing Junior Congregation program led by our USYers on BOTH days of Rosh Hashanah and on Yom Kippur! We look forward to seeing everyone enjoy the sounds of the Shofar and the taste of apples and honey. Don’t forget about the other Fall Holidays! We hope to see you join us for our Pizza in the Sukkah program and help us decorate the Sukkah and enjoy some pizza with all our friends. We will also have a great Simchat Torah program on Monday, 10/21 in place of school on Wednesday that week, which will be led by Rabbi Blatt! So much is happening here at Kol Yeladim and I can’t wait to see everyone around the Shul!

L’Shanah Tovah, Jennifer
Shalom Kol Ami Youth Families!

As we celebrate the Jewish New Year, our thoughts turn to new beginnings and finding the sweetness in life. For some that might mean making a new friend at a youth event, or trying something new, like learning to roller skate for the first time. For others, it might mean starting fresh by looking at ourselves and our relationships with fresh eyes – how can I be better this year? How can I show my appreciation for those around me who support and love me and make my life rich and full of meaning? How can I give back to those who give so much to me? Is there someone or something I may have taken for granted, and if so, how can I thank the person responsible?

This time of reflection and starting anew reminds us that enjoying life is all about pausing for a moment and giving just a little effort to appreciate all the people and things that make life wonderful. When we acknowledge the efforts of the people who support us and take the time to return the favor, we may suddenly find that those people bear a much greater impact on our lives than we realize day to day. It’s easy to get lost in the daily hustle and bustle, but the sweetness of life lies in those little moments of humble appreciation.

So how can we open our hearts and let that appreciation flow? Maybe we volunteer to return a favor that someone once did for us. Maybe we recommit to promises that we did not uphold to the best of our ability. Maybe we ask our community leaders, “how can I help this community which has helped me so many times?”

Our youth groups at Kol Ami provide many ways to get inspired and reinvigorated this new year. From joining a USY Committee or running for a position on Kadima Board, to making a new friend at a youth event, volunteering to house USYers for RGBW, or helping to lead Shabbat services, the possibilities for a fresh start are limitless! With that in mind, I thank you all for making our youth group community the special place that it is today, and I wish each and every one of you a very sweet and happy new year!

L’Shana Tova Umetuchah!
